COLLAPSE OF BRIDGE.

Of the 92 Men at Work Only 14 Escaped With Their Lives.

Buffalo's McKinley Monument—Four Deaths in Auto Wreck—15 Killed in Trolley Collision—Death of Richard Mansfield—Erie Dividends Deferred 10 Years.

A section of the new bridge across the St. Lawrence river five miles below Quebec collapsed Thursday, carrying scores of bridgeworkers and mechanics into the water. It is estimated that the loss of life is at least 75 and may exceed that number. The bridge was about a mile and a half in length and half of it, from the south shore to midstream, crumpled up and dropped into the water. Ninety men were at work on this section of the structure and the whistle had just blown at 5:30 for the men to quit work for the day when there came a grating sound from the bridge and midstream. The men made a rush shoreward, but the distance was too great for them to escape. The fallen section of the bridge dragged others with it, the snapping girders and cables booming like a crash of artillery. Terror lent fleetness to the feet of the frightened workmen as they sped shoreward, but only a few of them reached safely before the last piece of ironwork on the south shore was dragged into the river. Near the shore the wreckage of the bridge did not go below the surface of the water and eight workmen who remained above water were rescued and taken to the hospital at Levis. The steamer Glenmont had just cleared the bridge when the first section fell. The water thrown up by the debris came clear over the bridge of the steamer. The small boats piled backward and forward over the sunken wreckage for half an hour but there was no sign of life. The twisted iron and steel held its victims in a terrible deathgrip. All the men drowned were employees of the Phoenix Bridge company of Phoenixville, Pa., and sub-contractors of Montreal and Quebec. Work on the Quebec bridge was begun about seven years ago and it was to be finished by 1909. Subsidies for the work had been granted by the federal and provincial governments and the city of Quebec. The estimated cost of the work was $10,000,000. The Quebec bridge was remarkable, being the longest single-span cantilever bridge in the world, the length of the span in the center being 1,800 feet, or 200 feet longer than that of the Fifth of North bridge, at present the world's longest single bridge span. There has been no bridge across the St. Lawrence below Montreal. At Quebec all traffic was ferried across the river. This expense being held responsible for the failure of Quebec to grow, a number of the city's leading citizens secured a charter from the Dominion government to bridge the St. Lawrence. A subsidy of $1,000,000 was secured from the Dominion and another of $500,000 from the government of the province of Quebec, while the city of Quebec gave a grant of $300,000. The promoters put up $650,000, and the Dominion government guaranteed their bonds up to $7,000,000.

Dedication of McKinley Monument.

Governor Charles E. Hughes will be the guest of honor and the principal speaker at the ceremony of the dedication of the McKinley statue at Buffalo on Thursday of this week, while Harlan J. Swift, department commander of the G. A. R., will speak for the veterans, among whom the martyred president was so deeply loved. Forming at 2 p. m. on North and East North streets, with the right resting on Delaware avenue the procession, composed of the United States regulars from Fort Porter and Fort Niagara, the 65th and 74th regiments, the 7th and 13th regiments of Canada, will move down Delaware to Tupper, to Main, to the Terrace, to Delaware avenue, thence to Niagara square. Immediately before the square is reached the ranks are to open and Governor Hughes and party will ride through them to the stand which has been erected on the west side of the monument. The troops will then be dismissed, allowing those who desire to enter the square and mingle with the throng of citizens gathered to witness the ceremonies. Of these the chief features will be the presentation of the monument to the state by Mr. Butler, representing the commission, the acceptance of it by Governor Hughes, the address of Judge Swift and the unveiling of the shaft by Mrs. Trueman G. Avery, representing the Daughters of the Revolution.

Four Killed in Auto Collision.

Three women and a Rochester physician, who was driving an automobile near Canandaigua, were instantly killed Wednesday afternoon in a collision between the machine and a Rochester & Eastern trolley car. Witnesses of the accident say that as the automobile approached the trolley tracks it was seen by the motorman. The motorman made a signal. It is said, and Dr. Waldron slowed up. Then apparently thinking that he could cross before the car reached him, he started on again. It is thought that the automobile did not respond readily to the levers and it was caught on the track and the occupants thrown in various directions from it. The bodies were frightfully crushed.

CAR MEN ATTACKED.

Railroad Employees Opened Fire in Self-Defense.

Motorman Wounded One of His Assaults in the Leg—Inspector Shot Man Through the Groin—Men Who Did the Shooting Arrested—Arrested Rioters Released.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The labor union parade resulted in the shooting of two men by employees of the United Railroads. The car men were attacked by the paraders and in self-defense opened fire. The trouble started at Ferry, where it is stated a Sutter street car broke through the line of parade. A mob of labor union men followed the car and at the junction of Sutter street the members attacked the car. The motorman, seeing that his life was in danger, opened fire and wounded one of his assailants in the leg. A block further up an inspector was attacked by the mob. He was suddenly struck in the face and ran from his assailants. They followed him to the corner of Sutter and Montgomery streets, where they overtook him. He drew a pistol and aimed at a burly labor union man who carried bricks in his hands. The inspector opened fire and shot the man through the groin. Six shots were fired. A riot call was sent in to the police and fire departments and a force of police and firemen were soon on the scene. The men who did the shooting were arrested but several rioters who were seized by the police were released. The labor union men who were in the parade evidently thought that they had the right of way over the streets of San Francisco, for when the cars of the United Railroads attempted to break through the procession there was trouble. What had been an orderly parade turned into a riot. The cars of the United Railroads had stopped while the parade was in progress, but when the marchers began to disperse the cars began running. There was a dense crowd at ferries and the union resented the attempt to run the cars. The two wounded men were removed by the police to the harbor police station. When the police jumped in to quiet the riot a number of them as soon as they made arrests were set upon by the labor union paraders and mobbed. One policeman said afterward: "It took 20 officers to make a single arrest."

Charges of Malfeasance.

Charges of malfeasance in office against D. B. King, treasurer of Broome county, preferred by Lewis K. Rockefeller and H. LeRoy Austin, examiners and accountants of the bureau of municipal accounts attached to the office of the state comptroller, were transmitted to Governor Hughes by State Comptroller Martin Glyn. It was announced at the executive chamber that a hearing would be given by the governor on these charges Sept. 9 at 2 p. m. The charges are the result of an investigation which he has conducted of the accounts, books and vouchers in the office of the treasurer of Broome county.

Erie Dividends Deferred 10 Years.

Payment in cash of dividends on the preferred stock of the Erie Railroad company was deferred for 10 years by the action of the board of directors of that company. The directors voted to declare a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. on the first preferred stock and an annual dividend of 4 per cent. on the second preferred stock, both dividends to be payable in 1917. They announced that application will be made to the public service commission of New York to issue dividend warrants to stockholders in the meantime. The warrants will bear interest at 4 per cent.

J. G. Obermeyer, clerk of the Ohio supreme court at Columbus, Ohio, has received a mandate from the supreme court of the United States in the case of Reuben L. Martin, a railway mail clerk, versus the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railway, which the court has decided against Martin under the famous servant law. This means that Martin gets nothing for the injuries which he received in a wreck on that railroad on June 24, 1901. He asked for $25,000.

Night Rates for Messages Cancelled.

Officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in New York city say that the order cancelling night rates and charging day rates at all hours on all the company's lines throughout the country was made necessary by the congestion of traffic which occurred when the night rates took effect. DEATH TO BLACK HAND.

Shoemaker Shoots One of Three Men Who Demand Money.

Blairsville, Sept. 3.—The first known effort of the Black Hand to carry on its nefarious practices in Blairsville resulted in the death of one man, the serious wounding of another and the arrest of a third.

The victims are: Giuseppe Guisafio, dead; Frank Cieplino, stabbed in the back and breast; unknown Italian, in jail at Indiana. Cieplino is a well-known shoemaker, who has been a resident of Blairsville for many years. The dead man and the prisoner had been employed by a local agent for a brewery, and little is known of their antecedents. Late Saturday night as Cieplino was about to close his shop three men entered and demanded a sum of money, the same amount which has been demanded, it is said, in letters signed with the conventional Black Hand marks. Cieplino refused to comply with the demands of the intruders, at the same time seizing a revolver from under his counter and opening fire. As he pulled the trigger his assailants closed with him, one of them sticking a knife into his breast. The shoemaker saw one of his would-be slayers fall; then he started for the yard in the rear of his shop and tried to scale a fence. As he did so one of the pursuing Italians stabbed him again. Then they fled. A crowd was attracted by the shooting, and after hearing Cieplino's story started out in chase of the Black Hand men. One of the two escaped, but the other was arrested and hustled to Indiana on a freight train. The man at liberty was recognized as an employe of the beer agent and efforts are now making for his capture. The crowd was ugly after the capture of the unknown and for a time it looked as though efforts would be made to mete out summary punishment. However, the sight of the officers' revolvers had a quieting effect, and without mishap the prisoner was escorted to the railroad and hustled away. Cieplino is in a serious condition, but will probably recover. He was not totally unprepared for the attack, as he had received several Black Hand letters, all demanding money, and all of which he had ignored.

Graham volunteered to ride to Sheridan with the dispatch and return with him while the battle was in progress. Graham started on his ride to notify Sheridan, and before he reached him the cannonading could be heard. He frequently described the famous ride of 20 miles as the general's escort.

Lumber Shippers Win Case.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 3.—Judge Emory Speer rendered a decision in the famous lumber rate case of the Georgia Sawmill association against the Southern and other lines of the Southeastern Tariff association, in which it was held that lumbermen who have suffered from the extra 2 cents per 100 pounds on Ohio river points and the West are entitled to recover such sums from the lines as they have been forced to pay under the increased tariff. There will be more than $1,000,000 involved.

Greeks Coming in Multitudes.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Greek immigration to the United States is increasing by leaps and bounds. Vice Consul H. J. Woodley of Patras makes the report that during the half-year ending June 30 the volume of emigration from that part of Greece to the United States has more than doubled. The number of emigrants sailing by direct steamers from ports within this consular district for the six months was 9,419, against 3,347 during the same period of 1906.

Marysville, O., Sept. 3.—In its first trip Sunday a mammoth New York Central engine jumped the track and rolled down an embankment. The fireman, Albert Weider of Delaware, O., was fatally injured. Charles McGuire, the engineer, remained at his place and escaped with trivial injuries.

Scalded by Steam.

Sharon, Sept. 3.—Not aware that F. Hughes, a labor boss at the Carnegie Steel company, was working in a pit at the plant, another employe turned scalding hot steam into it. Hughes had presence of mind to grope his way to a ladder and climb out, although seriously scalded about the face, neck and hands.

Laudanum Causes Child's Death.

MAN CRAZED BY TAKING GAS.

Attacks the Dentist, Who Strikes Patient With a Hammer, Fracturing His Skull.

Washington, Sept. 3.—George W. Bowers, an engineer, went to the Washington Dental Parlors to have an aching tooth extracted, and a few minutes later was carried to the Emergency hospital with a fractured skull and the affected molar still firm in his mouth. In the meantime he had wrecked the dental parlor and caused a commotion which required a squad of policemen to quell.

Bowers insisted on taking gas against the advice of Dr. R. B. Leonard. When it was administered Bowers started in to break up the furniture and to attack the dentist. Two assistants and a colored porter came to his rescue, but Bowers had them all down and out in quicker time than "it would have required to extract the tooth.

Finally in defence of his life, Dr. William H. Winter seized a hammer and struck Bowers on the head with it, fracturing his skull. This floored the man and strangely enough brought him back to consciousness. He explained that in his delirium he thought the doctors were attacking his wife. When he reached the hospital he had forgotten all about his fractured skull. Dr. Winter is held in $1,000 bail to await the result of Bowers' injuries.

Dr. Winne had been missing from his home on Livingston avenue, where he lived with his mother and sister, since Sunday afternoon. The body was found by the sexton of the church.
