Friends Say Russian Government Wants to Americanize Shipbuild-

Pittsburg, Oct. 1. - The announcement from St. Petersburg to the effect that the Russian admiralty is engaged in plans for the reconstruction of its navy has caused a renewal of the reports here that Charles M. Schwab has been requested by the Russian government to lend a helping hand in reorganizing the steel works of Russia, so as to enable the admiralty to construct a fleet in Russia.

It is said that Mr. Schwab has been asked to aid in financing the reorganized Russian steel plants with American capital and to engage sufficient American skilled labor to hustle the work along, which the Russians seem unable to do themselves.

Last year Mr. Schwab visited Russia, ostensibly for the purpose of getting orders for guns and ships. Mr. Schwab's friends here say, however, that he was requested to visit Russia in an advisory capacity and to assume the financial management of the rehabilitation of the Izhor steel plant. Within the last few days it has been announced from St. Petersburg ident of Meadville, Pa., was shot and that the latter concern and other uilding plants to be constructed

The memorial was built by contribu tions from hundreds of thousands of nersons in this and other countries and was erected under the direction of the McKinley National association. President Roosevelt arrived at 10:15 over the Pennsylvania road. He was at once escorted to the gathering of school children in front of the Central high school. Here there was a human flag of children and "America" was sung. He was then escorted to the reviewing stand on West Public Square. The paradé started past this reviewing stand at 10:45 a.m. Later it passed in review before the military commanders and their staffs at the

"McKinley, Terminals on Four State Lines.

The Indiana Pipe Line company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil, made a profit of $4,091,022 in 1903 on a total investment of $2,228,758, according to the company's figures produced by George Chesbro, controller of the National Pipe Line company, who appeared as a witness in the federal suit against the oil combine. Mr. Chesbro testified that the Indiana Pipe Line company was a common carrier and engaged only in the transportation of oil. From balance sheets of the company Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the government's case, sought to show that the Indiana company was making excessive profits and that it maintained a high schedule of tariffs to prevent shipments of oil by independent oil producers.

Mr. Chesbro testified that the Indiana company transported practically only the oil of the Standard company. The counsel for the government allege that it will be shown that the profits made by the pipe line company have been in some cases 26 times the actual cost of operation. Calvin N. Payne, who, with H. C. Folger, Jr., owns the Corsicana Refining company of Texas, under examination stated that the tanks and receiving stations at the end of the pipe line of the New York Transit company, also called the National Transit company, at Unionville, N. J., and at the terminals of the pipe line of the National Transit company at Center Bridge, Pa., and Fond Grove, Pa., were built the year the Hepburn law went into effect.

Mr. Payne was stating that he sup-posed there was some legal reason for building these receiving stations on the state lines of New York and New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New Jersey and Pennsylvania and Maryland, when John G. Milburn, chief of the defendant's counsel, interposed and said he gave the advice.

tached to Iron Mountain train No. 5. Discussing the possibility of President Roosevelt again becoming a candidate, he said: "President Roosevelt will not he the candidate of the Re publican 'party. He has made a plain statement to this effect, and even if he desired he could not afford to accept a renomination. It is true that from many sections of the country there are coming requests that the president allow his name to be presented to our next national conven-

Amherst W. Belcher of Kingston, N. Y., charged with robbing the Cornell Steamboat company's machine shops, of which he was superintendent, was indicted and after pleading guilty was sentenced to Dannemora state prison for not less than 18 months or more than four years. Belcher had been prominent in the social, business and religious life of the city. His stealings covered 13 years, during which time it was alleged he sold construction material from the shops amounting to more than $30,000. He is a brother of former Mayor Bel-

Dr. Bolin told his captors that he was connected with the staff of the Mt. Sinai hospital, but the hospital authorities deny that they know him. SENATOR BORAH'S TRIAL.

Prosecution Confronted by Task of Connecting Senator With Fraud.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 1. - The second week of the trial of Senator Borah, charged with complicity in the Idaho land frauds, began yesterday before Federal Judge Whitson, with the government attorneys still confronted by the task of connecting the defendant with the alleged unlawful combination.

During the first six days of the trial the name of Senator Borah was seldom heard, and the evidence adduced in behalf of the government had to do mainly with the activities of former Governor Steunenberg.

It seems to be the policy of the de fense to admit for the purpose of Senator Borah's case that conspiracy did exist, but to contend that Senator Borah know nothing of its formation or existence and that he acted in good faith as attorney in handling land matters. Senator Borah continues to express confidence that he will be com pletely exonerated.
