Yet the general outline is maintained—with all the added touches of gracefulness and refinement that comes from the minds of those who create for us. BALTIMORE OLD HOME WEEK.

Maryland is sending invitations to her sons and daughters scattered everywhere to come to a grand reunion, and is making extensive preparations to give them when they come, a week of right royal entertainment.

New Baltimore, sprung Phoenix-like from the ashes of the fire of 1904, will make of Old Home Week, October 13 to 19, one continual round of patriotic and civic display.

There will be an electrical pageant, a magnificent military and naval display, a gathering of patriotic societies, a parade and ball by the fraternal orders, a big concert, and a night carnival.

There will be also a special pilgrimage to Annapolis on "Peggy Stewart Day," Saturday, October 19, when visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the magnificent new buildings of the United States Naval Academy and the remodeled State House, so full of historic associations.

The Homecomers will have the advantage of specially low railroad rates. The Pennsylvania Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Baltimore, October 12 to 14, good for return passage until October 21, inclusive, from all stations on its lines north and east of Shrewsbury, Principio, and Port Deposit, at a considerable reduction from the regular fare.

Every former Marylander, whose address is known will receive a special invitation, issued by Governor Warfield, and the whole week will thrill with the hospitality for which the Old Line State is so famous.

DANGER SIGNALS UP

Manufacturers Send Warning to Pennsylvania Republicans.

FEAR OF TARIFF TINKERING

Capital and Labor Seriously Concerned Over Agitation of "Iowa Idea" of Revision in the Stronghold of Protection.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 8. A committee of manufacturers of this city has started a movement to impress upon the citizens of Pennsylvania their direct and vital interest in the maintenance of the protective tariff policy of the national government.

Following up the formal action taken at a recent meeting of the Manufacturers' club, when vigorous resolutions were adopted in opposition to any "tinkering with the tariff," influential men, prominently identified with the industrial interests of this state, have inaugurated an educational agitation to awaken the voters of Pennsylvania to the danger confronting them from the development of sentiment, in the west and elsewhere, in favor of a revision of the tariff.

The assistance of Chairman Wesley R. Andrews and his colleagues of the Republican State committee, has been sought to further the campaign for a "stand pat" policy on the tariff issue.

Manufacturers Are Alarmed. The manufacturers admit that they are concerned over the persistence of the tariff revisionists, and they look to Pennsylvania Republicans to come to the front, as they have done in the past, and emphasize their continued fealty to the principles of a protective tariff.

The tariff revisionists have been sending tons of literature into Pennsylvania for the purpose of breaking the lines of the protective tariff Republicans, and they have been banking upon cutting down the vote of the Republican state ticket at the coming election and thus weaken the voice of the state in the councils of the Republican party of the nation.

The enemies of protection are making a great play to have delegates elected to the coming Republican National convention who will favor the insertion of a plank in the platform calling for a revision of the tariff.

The manufacturers who have started in to combat this proposition realize the gravity of the situation and look to Pennsylvania to block the game of the revisionists.

Chairman Andrews' Call to Action. After a conference with some of the leading manufacturers interested in the movement, which means so much to the industrial and business interests of this state, Colonel Andrews today said:

"Pennsylvania's industries are endangered by the agitation for a revision of the tariff, and none can appreciate what I say better than those who have their capital invested and who depend upon the protective tariff to shield them from ruinous competition from the products of the poorly paid labor of foreign countries.

"There must be no tinkering with the tariff, either before or after the presidential election, and Republicans of Pennsylvania must be alive to the situation. If any move shall be made to change existing tariff schedules, even in the slightest degree, it will inaugurate a period of doubt and uncertainty which would be reflected in the utter demoralization of Pennsylvania's manufacturing interests, and there could be but one result, a condition that would bear heavily upon the farmers and wage workers of our commonwealth, and seriously embarrass the capital employed in vast fields of commercial activity.

"Pennsylvania will not lose an opportunity at the coming election to proclaim to the other states in the Union that she has no sympathy with the 'Iowa idea' for a scaling down of the tariff.

"In no more effective and solemn manner can the Republicans of Pennsylvania meet this issue than by registering at the November election their emphatic decree that by no act of theirs shall the bars be let down which now exclude foreign competition with American labor.

"The contest this fall is but the skirmish of the great presidential battle of next year.

"If Pennsylvania shall roll up a pronounced majority for the cause of Republicanism in November, the state will continue to wield a potent influence in the national councils of the party.

"If, as the result of indifference and of paying heed to the shallow and sensational charges of the opposition, the Democratic candidate for state treasurer should be elected, of which, in my judgment, there is not the remotest chance if Republicans perform their full measure of duty, the shout would go up all over the land that the Republicans of Pennsylvania were indifferent as to the continuance of the tariff, and thereby greatly weaken the influence of the Republicans of Pennsylvania in the next Republican national convention.

Necessity For Action.

"The consequence of such a state of affairs would be illustrated by a cessation of all industrial enterprises within our borders, with the inevitable result that the workman and the farmer would in the end bear the brunt of the disaster.

"Face to face with these conditions

A Certain Cure For Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and through they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

and with the full knowledge as to the embarrassments that would follow, all Republicans are appealed to as members of the great party of protection and prosperity to recognize the necessity for earnest, active, and patriotic work in order not only to bury the opposition beyond the hope of resurrection, but to strengthen the position of our great state at next year's Republican national convention in the battle that must inevitably be fought there for the preservation of the protective policies which have made Pennsylvania the keystone of the industrial arch of the federal union. None should be deceived by those who affect not to see disaster in Republican indifference, but all should go to work at once with a will to discharge their full measure of duty.

"Every Republican committeeman should work to circumvent the designs of the Democrats to obtain possession of the state treasury, which by the way, they will attempt to accomplish by the circulation of false statements and by aspersions upon the honesty of the Republicans of Pennsylvania. Their unsavory methods should inspire every Republican heart with the resolve to defeat their machinations by vigorously supporting the Republican candidate for state treasurer, Hon. John O. Sheetz, whose name is a synonym for integrity, and who enjoys to the fullest extent the confidence of the party from one end of the state to the other.

"In consideration of the approach of an important presidential campaign," said Chairman Andrews, "Republicans of Pennsylvania should set the pace by rolling up a large majority at next November's election to accentuate their fealty to the principles of the Republican party and their adherence to the policy of 'leaving well enough alone,' a matter of vital importance to the manufacturers, farmers and wage earners of Pennsylvania, and also to emphasize their approval of the progressive policies of the national administration."

FLOOD OF HOT METAL.

Four Men Killed and 20 Fatally Injured by Explosion.

Butler, Oct. 8.—An explosion caused by the upsetting of the metal pot in the No. 1 cupola of the Standard Steel company here late Saturday night caused the death of four men, fatally injured 20 and seriously injured 10 others. Nearly all the men were foreigners.

The large wheel plant, 150 by 100 feet, was demolished, causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

The condition of the 30 men injured is pitiable. The features of a majority are mutilated beyond recognition. The hot metal was showered over them, causing horrible injuries and the physicians attending them said that at least 20 would die.

The explosion was caused by the upsetting of a metal pot in the cupola which contained 5,000 pounds of molten metal ready for casting. A span in the pot broke, allowing the liquid iron to spill over the wet sand. An explosion followed so quickly that none of the workmen in the building had a chance to escape. Streams of the burning metal poured out on the workmen, some of whom were engulfed and literally cooked. Twenty men near the cupola had every shred of clothing blown off by the force of the explosion. Many were buried under the wreckage and were not rescued for an hour after the catastrophe.

Buildings in the city, from the force of the explosion, shivered as if shaken by an earthquake and people rushed from their homes, panic-stricken. When flames shot from the burning works, fully 10,000 people rushed to the scene, blocking streets and interfering with fire companies and ambulances.

The car-wheel plant was finished last year at a cost of $200,000. The wrecked cupola alone cost $30,000. The car works proper, costing $3,000,000, was in danger of destruction, but the fire department soon had the blaze under control.

Troopers After Black Hand.

Brownsville, Oct. 8.—Thirty-three Italians were rounded up here by Sergeant Adams and four other members of the help of the local police and deputized citizens. One by one the foreigners are being put through a sweating process at the Brownsville lockup, with a view to picking out those who may be connected with the Black Hand. Those whom it is thought worth while to hold will be taken to the county jail at Uniontown. Many residents of Brownsville and nearby boroughs have received threatening letters recently, one merchant, R. Frediani, being threatened with death unless he gave $10,000 to the Black Hand society. Another Italian was attacked in daylight because he refused a demand for money.

Death at Sunday Game.

Altoona, Oct. 8.—A fatal football accident occurred Sunday at Portage, Cambria county, when Thomas Bertram of Altoona received injuries that caused his death. Bertram, who is a member of the Altoona Athletic team, was playing against the Portage team, when he was kicked in the head during a scrimmage and a doctor pronounced his injuries slight. He died at the Brant House, this city, a few minutes after being taken from the train. Bertram was 20 years of age. His death will probably result in prosecutions against those who played Sunday football.

rector of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, died at his home here. Mr. Fox was active in the organization of the road and first elected a member of the board of directors of the company by councils to represent the city's interests as a stockholder. After the railroad took over the stock held by the city he was continued a director by a vote of the stockholders. He was president of the Northern Liberties Gas company of this city and a director in half a score of banks, trust companies and other corporations.

Child Choked by Candy.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 8.—A little piece of candy, lodged in the throat of 21-months-old John Lindley Harte, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harte, caused his death Sunday night. An operation was performed, but it was too late. The mother, who had recently undergone an operation, had been brought home from the City hospital, and as a reward for being good the child had been given the candy.

Happy at 114 Years.

Niles, O.—For the first time in years Niles is experiencing a shortage of skilled and unskilled labor. Many manufacturing plants are behind in their orders. Contractors face the same trouble.
