Closing Out Sale of CARPETS AND RUGS

A Remarkable Offering to Cash Purchasers. $20,000.00 Worth of Dependable Floor Coverings of Highest Grades to be Closed Out. Actual Cost no Consideration.

An inventory taken of our Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums and Mattings since the recent change in management of this department reveals a state of affairs which calls for immediate and drastic treatment. Piece after piece of Brussels, Velvet, Axminster and Wilton Carpets and bale upon bale of Rugs of all sizes and qualities have been brought out from our surplus stock room. These had never before seen the light of day. The burlaps and other wrappings were on them just as they were when shipped from the different mills. We figure that there's at least $10,000 worth more than we should have, so we propose to unload that amount and are prepared to take a good liberal loss in accomplishing this end. So for a week or two there'll be a selling of floor coverings here such as was never known before. It is not a question of price or value with us, but of transforming this great surplus stock into cash.

If you have not the money handy, it will pay you to borrow it. A chance like this does not present itself every season.

President, JOSEPH SEEP.

Vice President, GEORGE LEWIS.

H. R. MERRITT.

Harrisburg, Oct. 22.

Just two weeks from today the voters of Pennsylvania will be called upon to go to the polls and decide whether they shall be enrolled as members of the party of Republicanism, the party of Roosevelt and the party of Prosperity, or be enlisted with the Democracy, the party of Bryanism, Hearstism and uncertainty and demoralization in governmental and business conditions.

The verdict of Pennsylvania, given on Tuesday, November 5th, will be a verdict that will be fraught with national significance, that will mean much in its bearing upon the great presidential contest which will begin immediately after the result of this election shall be announced, and which will determine whether Pennsylvania is to be a potential factor in framing the policies and in selecting the neminee of the next Republican national convention

The greater the majority for the nominee of the Republican party, the greater will be the emphasis with which the voters of the state will herald to the world their continued fealty to the administration and the cause of Republicanism in the nation.

While reports of the most encouraging character are being received by Chairman Andrews at the Republican state headquarters, it is also a fact that great danger is apprehended from a feeling of over confidence which exists among the great rank and file of the Republican voters. The fact that the party is united, that there is no fusion movement in any county in the state and that the organizations of the Lincoin Party and other independent elements have disintegrated, naturally gives a feeling of security to the county and precinct committeemen of the Republican party.

Danger In Over-Confidence, But it is just such a condition of affairs that lends old-time campaign managers to be concerned about the polling of the Republican vote. Taking it for granted that victory was assured, has resulted in many a defeat. A great faling off of the Republican vote, even though the candidate for state treasurer shall be elected, would, from the standpoint of national polities, be a Republican defeat in Penncvivenia this fall.

Within the last 10 days there have been undoubted signs of a revival of interest in the Democracy.

The Democratic state committee has, from some source or other, been supplied with emple funds with which to make an aggressive campaign. Their candidate for state treasurer is addressing meetings nightly and a corps of spellbinders are at work in every county in the state lining up the Democratic voters for what they insist is the skirmish of next year's presiden-

Democrats Are Looking Ahead. These Democratic orators are telling their followers that the Democrats of the nation are getting together, that they have bright hopes of winning the presidency next year and that the Republicans are divided upon the tariff issue and upon other questions that will give the Democrats an opening in the coming national contest.

Colonel James M. Guffey, who announces that he is a candidate to succred himself on the Democratic national committee, is showing his interest in the national phase of the situation by rounding up nic lieutenants in the several congressional districts of the state and getting them to pick out men for delegates to the national convention who will vote for his re-election as national committeeman. Guffey wants Pennsylvania's Republican majority to be cut down this fall so that he can then announce that the party is divided upon the tariff and that even in Pennsylvania, the citadel of protection, there is a large constituency among the Republicans who agree with the Republicans of the western and eastern states, who are advocating the "lows idea" for scaling down the tariff schedules

Workingmen of Pennsylvania, manufacturers of Pennsylvania, business men of Pennsylvania and farmers of Pennsylvania who have become happy and prosperous under the Pennsylvania idea of a protective tariff, it is predicted, are not going to shirk their duty this fall, they are not going to give the tariff revisionists a slogan with which to go to the next Republican national convention proclaiming that the Republicans of Pennsylvania are at odds, that there is a large element in favor of the "Iowa idea," and that the result of the election, the falling off of the Republican vote ond the reduction of the Republican majority, means that there is dissatisfantion with existing conditions and that there is a demand for a change in the policies of the party.

PROCLAMATION OF GENERAL

Whereas, In and by the act of the Gen-eral Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled "An Act to amend the tenth section of an act, entitled 'An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers, requiring certain tion of public officers, requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections," approved the 25th day of June, A. ## Big Game Birds.

The capercalizie, or "black game bird of Norway," is one of the largest species of game birds in the world, being very hardy and frequently attaining a weight exceeding fifteen pounds, but when the birds are young they are easy prey of hawks. The birds are what are known as "rangers" for the reason that while in quest of food they cover a wide expanse of territory. During periods of heavy snowfall they burrow into the snow and remain until the storm subsides before venturing out again. Their food in winter consists chiefly of birch buds, and in summer they catch mice and other small animals. They are rated as members of the grouse family and in habits are much like the partridge.-Forest and
