Dunn & Fulton Pharmacy

A poor dressmaker can make an ugly gown from good material. The cutting is as important as the goods.

Eaton's Highland Linen

Is not only the most beautiful of writing papers, but the cutting of the sheets and envelopes has given it a style and "smartness" which appeals to the discriminating buyer of stationery.

May we not show you this celebrated paper? 35c and 40c.

—The M. Wile Co. clothing is sold exclusively in Tionesta by Hopkins, and the same is a guarantee of the superior quality of every garment. Never fear to buy a suit or overcoat carrying the brand of M. Wile Co. None better in the world.

—The young folks will enjoy a Halloween masquerade party at Bovard's hall, tomorrow evening. Warren's Troubadour orchestra will furnish the musical inspiration, and all participants are expected to wear appropriate costumes.

—Among the most acceptable holiday gifts you can bestow upon a friend is an engraved calling card, and it is not too early now to place your order for them, because of the rush later in the season. The REPUBLICAN is prepared to furnish the very latest in this line at the most reasonable prices. Call and see samples.

—Monday evening as the members of Adam Sibbles' family, on German Hill, were eating supper the discovery was made that their house was on fire. By the prompt and energetic efforts of Mr. Sibbles and his son a ladder was secured and the roof of the house, from whence the blaze was issuing, was reached and with a few pails of water the fire was extinguished. Happily the damage was small and is covered by insurance. A spark from the chimney caused the blaze.

—John Rock has leased the Canfield farm at the top of the river hill, in Tionesta township, and is rigging up this week to drill a well on the place. This farm lies near the McKee farm, on which G. H. Lowe, of Jamestown, N. Y., has a fine production. Here's hopin', John.

—A case of infantile paralysis has developed in the family of W. W. Curll, who lives on German Hill, two miles from Tionesta. His little daughter, aged about four years, is the victim and is under the care of Dr. Bovard. At last accounts the child was doing well and is expected to recover.

—O. L. Sigworth, of President, came here Tuesday afternoon and Dr. Bovard amputated the little finger of his left hand at the second joint. Mr. Sigworth is engineer on the Grand Inland Lumber Co.'s railroad and while working short-handed and trying to couple some cars, got his finger pinched and badly crushed.

—The old reliable insurance firm of C. M. Arner & Son has established a branch office at Kellettville, which will be in charge of Lewis Arner. Any one in that vicinity wanting fire insurance in none but first class companies, will do well to call on Mr. Arner, and will find him an agreeable gentleman to transact business with.

—The counting of the number of pieces of mail matter originating in the several postoffices of the country and the revenue derived therefrom has recently been completed. At the Tionesta postoffice there were mailed during the week ending Oct. 19: letters 1,714, postal cards 641, total of all classes 3,352. The revenue derived from these was $43.73.

—Wm. T. Scheide, one of the oil region's best known citizens, died suddenly of neuritis of the heart at his home in Titusville, Saturday evening at nine o'clock. He was one of the first to engage in pipe line enterprises, and as manager of the United Pipe Lines was prominent for many years throughout the Pennsylvania oil fields. He retired from active business several years ago.

—The first quarterly conference for this year will be held in the M. E. church at Nebraska, beginning Friday, Nov. 1st. Rev. W. E. Davis, of West Hickory, will preach at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at 7:30 p. m., sermon by the Presiding Elder, Rev. D. A. Platt, followed by the quarterly conference. Sunday at 10 a. m., love feast; at 11 a. m., sermon by the Presiding Elder, followed by the Holy Communion.

—George W. Brady and Fred Dieckraeger, of Starr, have purchased from J. T. Brennan, of Warren, the timber on what is known as the Sinclair tract, lying between Mr. Brady's farm and Tionesta creek, in Kingsley township. The tract is estimated to contain 100,000 feet of pine, oak and chestnut saw timber and 1,500 railroad ties. They will probably put in a mill to saw the timber and Mr. Brady has an ad. in this paper for tie makers for the job.

—Harry Head, son of E. B. Head of West Hickory, met with a serious accident while employed on the Siggins mill, near Rockwood, on the 19th inst. He attempted to loosen the saw, which had become fastened, by kicking it. In doing so the saw suddenly started catching young Head's right foot and nearly severing it. He was conveyed to his home where he is slowly recovering, and it is thought he will have the full use of his foot when the wound is healed.

—According to a recent decision of the Department of agriculture, dealers will no longer be allowed to sell as ice cream any product which contains gelatine or eggs or any artificial stiffening. It is said this decision, if enforced, will practically drive ice cream out of the market, and the stores will have to advertise and sell it as "frozen pudding" or as "iced dessert."—Titusville News. Being just about to enter the chilly portals of winter we can allow this matter to go over until next June.

—As will be seen by notices published in this issue of the REPUBLICAN the State Highway Department is moving in the direction of road improvements in this borough. Sealed bids are solicited for the construction of road covering the distance between the Tionesta township line at Tubbs run to the east end of the river bridge, 7.248 feet. Bids for both macadam and brick paving will be asked, and it is expected a large portion of this proposed road will be of the latter sort. The successful bidder will be in position to begin work early in the spring.

—Aaron Fenstermaker, one of Tionesta township's well known farmers, living on the Tyersburg road five miles from here, was considerably bruised about the head and face last Thursday by being thrown out of his buggy, while driving to town. In coming down the hill the breaching of the harness broke allowing the vehicle to strike the horse's feet causing him to run away. The horse was caught as he was running up Elm street and seemed to be none the worse for his escapade, and Mr. Fenstermaker was getting along all right at last accounts.

—All Halloween occurs tomorrow, the last night in October, and the occasion will doubtless be celebrated with the customary frivolity. An improvement, however, has been noted in the few years past in this regard, the usual vandalism having in a large measure disappeared, much to the credit of a community. Innocent pranks, grotesque performances and parades have taken the place largely of lawlessness, and masqueraders have often furnished much fun and amusement for those who have grown beyond the years when they could with propriety indulge in the sport. Have a good time, ye young folk, but avoid lawlessness and general cussedness.

—Last evening at the Salvation Army quarters a farewell service and reception were given, in honor of Lieutenant (Miss) Campbell, who has for the past several months been assisting in the work of the Army here. The lady during her stay in Titusville has made warm friends and her departure will be sincerely regretted. Orders were sent her from Philadelphia to report there for duty the latter part of the week and though loath to leave her work here, she will obey the behests of her superior and depart for the Quaker City to reach there at the time fixed. Her sister, Miss Campbell, of Utica, N. Y., is in the city to spend a few days visiting with the lieutenant. The latter young lady is a professional nurse.—Titusville Courier. The Misses Campbell are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Campbell, of Clarion.

—A very pretty entertainment is booked to take place at the Presbyterian church next Saturday evening, when the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Tionesta will present a picture of their late lamented National President, Miss Frances E. Willard, to each of the teachers of the borough school to be placed in the several school rooms. The pupils of the school will render a program which will include songs and recitations, a short sketch of Miss Willard's life, presentation and acceptance speeches, etc. The public is cordially invited to be present and enjoy this pleasant occasion. No admission nor collection will be taken.

—The Burgess at Butler sent a man to jail for five days for inducing another who had been sober for six months to break over and go on a spree. His Honor ought to have made it five years. Of all the despicable, low-down characters that walk the earth, those who tempt a weak fellowman to break over when he is trying his level best to do right are the meanest.—Freepost Journal. Yes, and next to this fellow comes the one who will buy liquor for the man who is shut off at all the bars. We have many such here, and they seldom get into the law's clutches, principally because of their sneaking characteristics. More's the pity.—Franklin News. Has Tionesta any of this kind? Has she?

—Just what we claimed: had President Roosevelt come to Forest county, instead of picking away down into the Louisiana canebrakes, he'd have had a better time, less trouble and expense, and secured a mighty sight nicer bear. Last week Harry McDowell, of Reno, went into camp out near the old Porter farm, in Howe township, eight miles from Marienville, between the headwaters of Blue Jay and the branches of Salmon creek. On Wednesday, after following the trail of bear a few hours he came upon the chop, and with one shot from his Winchester brain lay a corpse at his feet. He was a fine fellow, weighing nearly 300 pounds and "rolling fat." That's the kind we propagate up here.

—Local parties, who are taxpayers in Cranberry Township, have complained to State Highway Commissioner Hunter, at Harrisburg, about the substitution of galvanized corrugated steel in place of cast iron pipes for culverts and drains along the state road in the vicinity of Salem. It is claimed the specifications call for cast iron pipes which are said to be more lasting than the comparatively thin stuff with the ridges and grooves. Any person who has driven over the road must have noted the shell-like stuff being utilized and wondered thereat. Possibly this is a matter to which the County Commissioners should give some attention.

—Oil City Blizzard. This we believe, is the kind of culvert material used in all roads which the state assists in building, and it is claimed answers the purpose as well as cast iron.

—Three Oil City men, James Austin, Henry Stoddard and John Camp, participated in the slaughter of a wildcat in Forest county on Friday night. The Oil City men, together with Harry Snell, of Franklin, have been painting the count house at Tionesta and accepted the invitation of Charles Weaver and Robert Stroup to go "coon hunting." After a short chase the young men treed a coon and had little difficulty in bagging it. The trail of another animal was soon found by the dogs and the beast took refuge in the top of a tall chestnut tree. Aiming at its eyes, which reflected the light of the torches carried by the hunters, Stroup wounded it with a small caliber rifle and the "coon" fell to the ground, where it was killed by the dogs. It was not until after it gave up its life that the hunters discovered that it was a wildcat.—Derriek. Since the boys got their bounty for the cat "sculp" it is scarcely worth while to note that it was the longest tailed wildcat ever bagged in this neck of woods.

—Hon. Thomas Wilson of St. Paul, Minn., and Rev. John A. Wilson of Allegheny left for their homes yesterday, following a visit to Titusville. These men were born over near Nelltown. In their young days they were playmates with Hon. Joe McCrum and other embryonic great men. Mr. McCrum said yesterday that they picked up potatoes (and potato bugs) in the same field, frequented the same old swimming hole and lived the boy life together. Thomas Wilson went to Minnesota when the country was new. He grew up with it. He became a lawyer, a president judge and finally a member of congress. He is now living a retired life in St. Paul. His brother became a preacher and is at present a member of the faculty of Allegheny Theological seminary. They came out here to look after the graves of their parents, who lie buried in the old Concord cemetery. They spent several days visiting among former friends and exchanging reminiscences of a period that is history to the present generation.—Titusville Herald.

—Stephen Haslet, a widely known farmer of Oakland township, died at the home of his son, Brooks Haslet, Central avenue, Oil City at 10 o'clock on Sunday night from the effect of injuries received in a runaway accident in that city on Friday at noon. The deceased was driving a spirited team on Central avenue, near the corner of West Fifth street, and in turning, the wagon was upset. Mr. Haslet was caught between the doubled wheels and the horses and dragged for several squares, receiving some bad lacerations in the head and face from the iron-shod hoofs of the animals. His arm was broken and his leg cut, and as it afterwards developed, he sustained internal injuries of a fatal nature. On Friday night he relapsed into a stupor, from which he never fully rallied, although at times he was able to recognize his wife and his son. Mr. Haslet was in his 71st year, and was born and reared in Oakland township, most of his long life being spent on the farm he owned at the time of his death. Besides his wife he is survived by one son, Brooks Haslet, well known in Tionesta. The deceased was a brother of the late Samuel H. Haslet of this place.

Quincy, Sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quincy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

—Dr. August Morck, the Oil City Optician, came up Saturday morning to try the fishing once more ere the fall inclemency set in and spoiled the sport. We didn't learn how he fared, but being in company of John Bush when last seen we apprehend the genial Doctor would not go home with an empty creel.

—Perry Whitman, of Ackley, Warren county, was a visitor at the home of his brother, S. P. Whitman of the borough, last Saturday. He gave the REPUBLICAN a friendly call while in town, and reports his father, "Uncle" Selden, enjoying good health and as chipper as a young robin, at nearly 90 years of age.

—Mrs. Julia Holeman departed Friday for her new home in Vineland, N. J., bearing with her the good wishes of a host of friends for her future happiness and welfare. Mrs. Holeman has been a resident of Tionesta for more than 25 years, and finds it no easy task to break away from the friendships and associations formed during so long a period. Her friends will look for her return visits with pleasurable anticipations.

—Mrs. L. Fulton departed Saturday for Johnstown, Pa., where she will be the guest of her sister for two weeks, after which she will join her husband, who is located at Danbury, Connecticut, where they expect to make their home. A number of social functions were given in Mrs. Fulton's honor previous to her departure, and keen regret is felt amongst her many lady friends at her leaving Tionesta, where she has enjoyed the best of all for the past 25 years.

—The marriage of Miss Patience McCre's to Frank Richards, at Orangeville, Ohio, October 23, 1907, mention of which was made in the REPUBLICAN of two weeks ago, was a quiet but very pleasant affair. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCrea, at 8 o'clock a. m., the officiating clergyman being Rev. Mr. Stoneham, pastor of the M. E. church of Orangeville. The families of the contracting parties and a few invited guests were all that witnessed the pretty wedding. The house decorations were pink and white crysanthemums, and the bride's bouquet was a charming creation of pink and white roses. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, consisting in part of linen, silver, cut glass, pictures, etc. The groom's present was a lovely bracelet, and included in the list was a silver tea set from the parents of the bride. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple departed on a short wedding trip which included Pittsburg, Washington and Harrisburg, and they are now "at home" to their many friends at Mayburg, Pa.

Clothes THE CLASS OF 1907

The best clothes made are the cheapest—always. They last until you are actually tired of them. Cheap clothes are a constant source of annoyance and the money invested in them is wasted.

Real economy lies in buying the best of everything. Our lines are selected on the above basis. You'll see lower price tickets than ours, but every time you buy a garment here you have the standing of the house to guarantee its quality, and quality means everything—it is the true road to economy.

Autumn styles—the world's noted lines—are all here, subject to your approval.

Suits range from $10 to $25.
Overcoats range from $15 to $35.
Raincoats range from $10 to $25.

Stetson Hats.

An inspection of the new models will convince the "doubter" of their superior quality. Worth $3.50 to $8. Other hats $2 and $3. Also new Gloves, Underwear and Ties, and Manhattan Shirts.
