and Satisfaction

Prominent Characteristics of Our Gloves.

The Smart & Silberberg policy has worked admirably in gloves. The care we give in selecting, buying and fitting has built up a splendid business. It wasn't all easy at first, but we kept at it persistently and conscientiously until the gloves business measures up to all of our requirements.

Our glove success is based on satisfaction. We refused to be satisfied with anything that did not satisfy our patrons. Tried a good many makes before we settled on Fownes' and Perrin's as the mainstay of our stock; but we were just as particular in selecting the other members of the family.

Our glove lines are now large enough to comprise every want a woman feels. There are no better gloves made than we sell. We safeguard our customers in every possible way, and in consequence our glove business grows larger and more successful every day, Republicans Cautioned of Danger in Over-Confidence.

MUST GET OUT THE VOTE

Even a Reduction In the Majority Would Be Hailed as a Victory By the Enemies of the Party of Pro

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 29. Predictions of a sweeping victory for the Republican party in Pennsylvania at next Tuesday's election are all based upon reports from the various countles that the rank and file of the organization is going to get out a large percentage of the Republican vote.

Much will depend, however, upon the activity of the party vigilantes, and warning messages are being sent out from Philadelphia headquarters to leave nothing undone to get Republicans to the polls.

While former independents are proclaiming their loyalty to the Republican nominee, the party leaders appreclate the danger that lurks in the feeling of security that exists among Republican committeemen. They realize that the Democrats are looking forward confidently to next year's national election and are going to poll a big vote to encourage the members of their party to line up for the coming presidential contest.

No State "Issues" This Year. There have been absolutely no state "issues" developed by the present campaign in Pennsylvania.

following the action of the Republican majority in the legislature, brought about indictments in the state capitol cases and removed that issue from the political canvass, and the record of John O. Sheatz in public and private life prevented criticism of the Republican candidate from the outset of the

Upon every hand, however, the political contest in this state has been regarded as the skirmish of next year's presidential battle, and Republicans familiar with the situation are concerned regarding the result of the balloting on Tuesday next,

They are fearful that a feeling of over-confidence will lead to a laxity among the party workers and that proper efforts will not be put forth to get the voters to the polls. "If Pennsylvania is to take her proper place at the head of the procession of Republican states on Tuesday next." said Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee today, "the Republican voters must be alert. They must go to the polls and register their continued adherence to the principles and policies of the party, and by so doing emphasize the sentiment of their great state in favor of the party of progress and prosperity. The Democrats are going to put their best efforts into the work of getting their men out to vote, and in order that they may record one of their old-time ringing majorities. the Republicans must be wideawake and active from the hour of the opening of the polls until the last ballot shall be deposited. They must take nothing for granted, but act upon the principle that a battle is never won until it is over and the enemy is cap tured or routed. "Pennsylvania is the greatest industrial state in the Union, and Democratic triumph, which a reduced Re publican majority would mean, would be disastrous to wage earners and capitalists alike.

Must Not Falter.

Tuesday next, the enemies of the protective tariff would have reason to result of the election as an indication dies. that the so-called tariff reformers are growing in strength in our state, and that the 'lowa idea' for a scaling down of the tariff is spreading even into Pennsylvania, the very citidal of protection.

"The consequence of such a state of affairs would be illustrated by a cessation of all industrial enterprises within our borders, with the inevitable result that the workingman and the farmers, the mechanics and the mill owners would in the end bear the brunt of the disaster.

"I sincerely trust that the Republican voters of Pennsylvania will not be deceived by those who affect to see no danger in Republican indifference, but that they will go to work at once and discharge their full duty to the party and to their state."
