Note the new ad. of Wm. P. Dechant, Tionesta's expert tailor, in this issue. Mr. Dechant is ready to guarantee all his work. He is permanently located in Tionesta and it is only fair that he should receive the patronage of its citizens when in need of anything in his line. Give him a trial order he'll make a permanent customer of you.

Edward Dunkle, a P. R. R. freight conductor, of Oil City, and a former Tionesta boy, had both bones broken in his right arm midway between the wrist and elbow, at Struthers, last Sunday afternoon. He was setting up a hand brake when the engineer suddenly applied the air, his arm being caught in the brake wheel and broken.

Joseph M. Critchlow, son of Rev. J. M. Critchlow of Tionesta, died at Albuquerque, N. M., on Monday, from tuberculosis. He was aged 24 years. He had gone to New Mexico several months ago hoping that the change of climate might save his life. His brother, Frank, was killed in a wreck on the P. R. R. near Kittanning last August.

A Cornish editor recently appealed to his subscribers in this unique way: "If you have frequent headaches, dizziness, and fainting spells, accompanied by chills, cramps, epilepsy and jaundice, it is a sign that you are not well, but are liable to die any minute. Pay your subscription a year in advance, and thus make yourself solid for a good obituary notice."

Jesse Carson, of Tionesta township, was taken to the Oil City hospital on Monday evening, having been taken sick on Sunday. Tuesday morning he was operated upon for an acute case of appendicitis. Dr. J. B. Siggins performing the operation, assisted by Dr. George Siggins, of this place. Should no complications arise the physicians think he will recover nicely. Mr. Carson is doubly afflicted in his home, his little seven-year-old son being seriously ill, and they will have the sympathy of the community.

Augustus Rhodes, residing at Starr, but employed at the kindling wood factory at Kellettville, got his right hand mixed up in some of the machinery and had the little finger taken off back of the first joint last Thursday. The injury was a painful one, but it is healing nicely now.

Capt. George Stow Relief Corps will give an oyster stew at Corps Hall on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 20th, at 8:30 o'clock, to which all are cordially invited. The price will be 25 cents. At this time the handsome quilt on which the Corps ladies have so long and so assiduously toiled, will be disposed of. Don't miss it.

Congressman Wheeler has recommended L. C. Wright for appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the postmaster at Youngville, Warren county, some months ago. There was at first quite a scramble for the place, the contest finally narrowing down to two, and the successful applicant seemed to develop the greater strength with the business men of the town.

The Herald recalls that it was eight years ago Monday morning that Chief of Police Daniel McGrath was shot to death in Titusville by a band of thugs. Patrolman W. J. Sheehan was badly wounded and one yeegman was killed. Later Frank Major went to the gallows for the crime and Frank Woodward is now serving a thirty-four-year sentence in the Western penitentiary.

Last Wednesday while Charles Bovard and Arthur Stroup were driving along the road leading from Mayburg to Whig Hill, they saw a huge black bear crossing the road about a hundred yards ahead of them. They had a big revolver with them, but of course it had gotten into the most inaccessible place, in an overcoat pocket and that serving as a cushion to sit upon. So brin escaped without so much as a scar.

The W. R. C. ladies of this place are interested in a worthy cause, helping those in the Brookville Memorial Home, and on Thursday, Nov. 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m. will receive donations of groceries, canned fruit, jellies, muslin, toweling, long table cloths, and anything that will be of benefit and use in that institution. Please do not forget "donation day." The ladies will pack the barrel at Hopkins store, where all donations should be left.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a market in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church next Saturday afternoon, November 16th, at two o'clock. As the society is anxious to liquidate a debt which is resting upon it, it solicits the liberal patronage of the members of the church and congregation. Many appetizing dishes for the evening dinner will be on sale. Meat rolls, potato chips, baked beans, pies and cakes, with many additional tidbits. Come and buy.

The regular quarter sessions court for November convenes next Monday. The civil list does not embrace a great many causes, but some of them are of more than ordinary importance and will take considerable time in their disposal. A few minor criminal matters will be disposed of. The decorators who have been at work on the court room for some time, expect to finish this week, and the large room will present a much more cheery and inviting appearance than heretofore.

Geo. B. Armstrong was lucky in regaining possession of the money, forty dollars, he lost on the 2d inst., note of which was made in the REPUBLICAN last week. Kenneth Haslet and Parker Flick, bright little lads of our town, were passing the creek bridge when they espied the four ten-dollar gold certificates which had been scattered some distance along the path at the side of the road, they having evidently been the first to pass that way after the currency had escaped from the owner's pocket. The boys brought their find home and awaited some word from the owner, which came through the medium of the next issue of the REPUBLICAN. Mr. Armstrong rewarded the boys handsomely, giving them a five dollar gold piece.

A timber deal involving over $3,000,000 was closed a few days ago in Olean. The purchasers are Olean, Portville, Weston Mills, North Tonawanda and Michigan parties. The tract embraces 31,000 acres of redwood and is located in Humboldt county, Cal., with a stumpage of 1,500,000,000 feet. After the option was taken and a forfeit of $20,000 paid, the holders of the option were offered $400,000 for their bargain. The Dusenburys and Wheelers, of Portville, and W. W. Weston of Weston Mills, are carrying a large block of stock in the company. The purchasers anticipate that within 10 years this tract will sell for $20,000,000, and it is one of the very largest and finest tracts of redwood on the Pacific coast. It was owned by San Francisco parties and is located about 10 miles north of San Francisco, on the coast—Bolívar Breeze.

In front of The Blizard sanatorium window, tied to a telegraph pole, stands a poor shivering horse the general appearance of which is suggestive of dejection, discouragement,—a condition similar to that of a man who realizes that his life has been a failure and who is calmly waiting for the signal to cross the river. The use of the tie-strap is evidently superfluous and wholly unnecessary, as there is no doubt whatever but that the poor beast will stand, very meekly and quietly, so long as permitted to do so; there is absolutely nothing in his appearance to justify a suspicion that he would do anything else. Quite the contrary. All the evidence points to a longing for quiet and rest. Even his hair points in this direction, the wrong one to indicate anything approximating life or animation. His drooping ears and half-closed eyes indicate dejection, while the dirt caked hard and scabby on his legs establishes an alibi for currycomb and brush. His ribs resemble rungs in a ladder, over which his whip tanned skin undulates like a dirty carpet hung on a fence for beating. There is evidence of hard usage, want of care and inadequate substance, the whole serving as an index to the character of the owner, whoever he may be. The man who will deliberately starve and maltreat so faithful an animal as a horse richly deserves the same kind of treatment from his fellowmen.—Oil City Blizard.

A slight such as here so pathetically depleted would not be hard to find from any sanatorium window as the fall and rough weather comes on. We hear of "bands of mercy," but what are they doing?

Anything in the line of winter togery, whether for the head, foot or body, is here to be found at right prices. Hopkins.

—Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser, of Franklin, attended a Free Methodist conference at Tidouste Saturday, while Mrs. Z. visited at the home of the Reverend's father here.
—The members of the Epworth League "showed" Mr. and Mrs. Linas Shriver Monday evening, presenting them with a handsome rocker, as well as many other useful household articles.
—Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, of Nebraska, were Tionesta visitors Wednesday, and the REPUBLICAN is indebted to the former for a call and a substantial "reminder" while in town.
—Bert Emminger of Duhring, Charles Nelson of Brookston, and J. C. Welch of Balltown, all return judges from Howe township, were among the REPUBLICAN's friendly callers last Wednesday.

New Members of the D. A. R.
Mrs. Frances Augusta Kelly and Mrs. Susan Hardy May Sharp were received into the Tidouste Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, last Friday afternoon, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Henry H. Cumings, the hostess of the occasion.
Mrs. Kelly's and Mrs. Sharp's applications for membership in the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at Washington, D. C., had been accepted by the board of management and their names placed on the roll of members. They made their applications through their great-grandfather, the Rev. Eleazar May, who was pastor of the Congregational church at Haddam, Connecticut, from 1756 to 1803. He was a "true patriot" during the Revolutionary period. When Israel Putnam sent out an alarm urging the minute-men in Connecticut to march to the aid of Boston, a large number responded, among them being a hundred men from Haddam, who "animated by the Rev. Mr. May, the religious leader of the township, and encouraged by his patriotism, eagerly joined the forces." There is a reference to Rev. Mr. May in the poet Brainerd's genealogy, which says:

"How did the aged pastor light his eye,
When to his flock he read the purpose high
And stern resolve, whatever the toil may be,
To pledge life, name, fame, all—for liberty."
Cold is the hand that penned that glorious page.
Still in the grave is the body of that sage,
Whose lips of eloquence and heart of zeal
Made patriots act and listening statesmen feel."

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Sharp also made "supplemental application" through their great-grandfather, Mr. Hezekiah May, and they are entitled to additional recognition through their great-grandfather, Mr. Benjamin White and other ancestors, who were true patriots.

Nebraska Boy Killed by Cars.
Edward G. Hunter, aged 21 years, whose home was at Nebraska, this county, was crushed to death beneath a P. R. R. freight engine near the Center street crossing, Oil City, about 1:20 o'clock on Friday afternoon last. He had started for the roundhouse to inquire as to the time he was expected to report for duty and passing the string of cabooses on the siding between Duncumb and Center streets, stopped in one to visit some of his fellow employees of the P. R. R. He swung from the platform of the caboose just as the Lake Shore passenger train was being backed from the union station on its way to the junction and he ran around this train onto a parallel P. R. R. track directly in front of a freight engine that was being backed to the roundhouse. He was struck and knocked down by the tender and dragged several rods. When the locomotive was stopped he was breathing faintly, but died soon after the arrival of the surgeons who had been called. When the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of the R. G. Koch & Co. and prepared for burial it was found that there was a fracture of the skull, 10 scalp wounds and that his neck had been broken. Although one shoe had been torn off none of the bones of his body below his shoulders had been fractured. The young man had made his home, while in Oil City, with his aunt, Mrs. F. A. Withersall, of No. 113 East Fifth street. The deceased was born at Nebraska, September 22, 1888, and had been in the employ of the P. R. R. for about five months. Fate seems to have been against him for during that time he was in two wrecks, one was a rear end collision near Allegany, N. Y., in which his engineer, Clinton Santmire, was killed and the other a head end collision about two miles from Salamanca, N. Y., in which no one was injured. He was of a genial disposition, energetic and industrious, and was well liked by all who knew him. The funeral was held on Sunday, the body being laid to rest in the Zuendel cemetery, German Hill, Rev. W. O. Calhoun conducted the services, which were largely attended by sympathizing friends.

In connection with this shocking death Frank E. Hunter, of Green township, father of the young man, requests us to return the thanks of the family to the friends who so kindly rendered assistance on this sad occasion.

—George M. Zahniser, of Fredonia, and J. M. Zahniser, of Jackson Center, both prosperous Mercer county farmers, were welcome guests here a few days of the past week of their brother, H. M. Zahniser.
—Mrs. O. C. Stroup left for Kinzua Monday morning to visit her mother a week, while Orlo shouldered his gun and took the opposite direction, going up into Howe township where he will join Ed. Gerow in a bear and deer hunt.

—Mrs. G. W. Warden, of Endeavor, who is the delegate from Forest and Elk counties, is attending the National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which has been in session at Nashville, Tenn., during the past week.

H. O. Taft and M. E. Abbott were pleasant callers at the REPUBLICAN office Wednesday. Mr. Taft, as judge of the election in Hickory township, brought down the returns of his precinct, which made a fine showing for the Republican ticket.

M. E. Abbott has been appointed postmaster at East Hickory to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. P. Crouch, who has held the position for the past 12 years. Mac is popular with the people of his community and will doubtless please them in the capacity of postmaster, as did his worthy predecessor.

Mrs. J. D. W. Reck and Mrs. Thomas Snodgrass were called to Bradford, Pa., during the past week on account of the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. J. J. Neal. Mrs. Neal was visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Skinner, and last week was taken ill with pneumonia. Her advanced age, 85 years, makes her recovery extremely doubtful.

Mrs. F. A. Keller and son Frederick were guests of Mrs. J. P. Grove over Sunday. The Keller family has moved from Pigeon to Fredonia, N. Y., during the past week, the move being made necessary by Mr. Keller's business interests. Many friends will be sorry to lose them as residents of our county, but will wish them prosperity and happiness in their new home.

—Hon. N. P. Wheeler was circulating among Tionesta friends a few hours Friday. Mr. Wheeler will take his seat in sixtieth Congress on the first Monday of December, and is now busy shaping his business affairs, so as to give his entire time to the duties of his office. There is strenuous work ahead for this session of Congress, which will probably last until quite well into the next summer.

—Hon. Peter Berry, ex-assemblyman and prominent oil operator of Compliant township, was married to Miss Mary Mundt, of Oil City, on Wednesday, at the rectory of one of the Episcopal churches of Buffalo. Mr. Berry is a well known and popular local oil man and his bride has a wide circle of friends here, where she has made her home with her brother, H. C. Mundt, counsellor and contractor. —Derrick, 12th.

A congenial bunch of hunters came in from Meadville on the Monday evening train and are enjoying themselves in the surrounding woods this week. Game is scarce, but they are not calculating the sport alone by the number of birds they bag, but by the mountains scaled and the appetites gained as well. The party comprises such notable sportsmen as R. A. Hayes, F. G. Prenatt, J. Park Jackson, Geo. Scowden, and last but not least by any means, J. McKnight Spear.

The YZ club, composed of fourteen young ladies, surprised Miss Nellie Davis at her home last Friday evening. The gathering was unique in that each of the ladies was costumed to represent some famous song and to assist in the entertainment each was required to sing the song she represented. The young ladies also provided refreshments and spent a very enjoyable evening. Those present were, Misses Bessie Sigworth, Hazel Siddle, Bortha Scowden, Mildred Overlander, Hazel Stitzinger, Iva Emert, Josie Wolcott, Margaret Haslet, Beulah Clark, Clara Henry, Hazel Fones and Nellie Davis.

—Edith Pearl Walters, wife of Noice Steele, died at the home of her brother, Henry Walters, in this borough on Friday night Nov. 7, 1907, aged 18 years, 9 months and 11 days. Some weeks ago she left her home at Siverly to make a short visit to her brother here, and soon after her arrival was taken down with illness which resulted in her death. Besides the husband she is survived by a son aged about two years and a baby daughter aged about three weeks. Funeral services in her memory were held on Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. O. Calhoun, and the interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Old Soldiers Looked After.
That Congressman Wheeler is looking assiduously after the welfare of the old soldiers of his district is evidenced by the following list of pensions which he has secured for them since the first of October:
Hiram Tously, Cherry Grove, $12.00 per month; Geo. A. Dewood, Franklin, $12.00; Samuel Landis, Scroggrass, $12.00; James Fox, Oil City, $12.00; Walter Waldorf, Tionesta, $15.00; John R. Neill, Fairmont, W. Va., $15.00; Philip Zeigler, Franklin, $10.00; Eliza A. Merven, Endeavor, $8.00; B. K. Solihday, Jamestown, N. Y., $12.00; Henry K. Thorpe, Greenville, $12.00; Geo. B. Bates, Youngsville, $15.00; Jas. C. Long, Chicago, Ill., $12.00; Jonas Pierce, Sharpesville, $12.00; David Hammond, Rousesville, $15.00; Oliver Houton, Cherry Grove, $20.00; John L. Carl, Newmansville, $12.00; Nancy A. Andrews, Cochranston, $8.00.

Neck Broken by Overtaken Wagon.
Alarmed by the long absence of his son James, who had started for Tidouste for a load of coal on Wednesday, Adam Stroup of Pineville, started a search for him at daybreak Thursday. He found the dead body of his son lying under the overturned wagon, buried in the coal, and with his neck broken. M. Bergin, who had accompanied James, was nearby, in a dazed condition, with one eye out. He was unable to give any account as to how the accident occurred. The fatality occurred about three miles from Tidouste. The wagon road approaches a bridge down a grade and there is an embankment about five feet high on one side. The ground indicated that the wagon had gone over this and tipped over, pinning the men underneath. The deceased was about 30 years of age, and was a brother of Wm. Stroup, who resides on the Hopkins farm, three miles above Tionesta. The coal on the wagon was only a part of the load carried, and was intended for use on the Pineville lease of J. D. W. Reck, of this place.

Kellettville.
Mrs. M. Andrews and Mrs. Gillooly spent Wednesday in Warren.

Lawrence Zuendel, who is attending school at Clarion, visited his father, Geo. Zuendel, a few days last week.

The Queen Esther Circle met at the home of Lela Daubenspeck, Nov. 5th, and elected the following officers: Mary Sizie, president; Lela Daubenspeck, vice president; Nelle Detar, corresponding secretary; Clara Jenkins, recording secretary; Bessie Porter, mime box secretary; Blanche Hendricks, supply secretary; Mae Porter, treasurer; Julia Lohmeyer and Clara Jenkins, organizers.

Ralph Deellis visited friends in Buffalo last week.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Johnson and daughter Edna are visiting at Harrison Valley.

Mrs. Nash, of Pigeon, is visiting her son, Frank Nash, at present.
L. E. Thompson, of Pittsburg, was in town Saturday.

W. C. Sizie, wife and little daughter, Ruth, visited Mrs. Sizie's sister, Mrs. Chas. Bauer, in Warren, last week.
Mrs. Lizzie Mahle, who spent the summer on her farm near Fryburg, returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Y. Detar, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cohoon and Harry Bean spent a few days in Warren and Endeavor, last week.
Maud Berlin, of Mayburg, spent Thursday evening with Blanche Hendricks.

Mrs. J. A. Livermore and sons, of Crown, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Daubenspeck.
John Marbach is visiting at Fryburg.
F. S. Merchant, of Tyersburg, is visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Chester Pope is on the sick list.
On the cordial invitation of Mrs. J. F. Ray, eight of her young lady friends presented themselves at her home, Thursday evening, where they were regaled by an elaborate dinner. It was a delightful occasion and all enjoyed the evening hugely.
The Queen Esther Circle will give a bow tie social at Andrews' hall, Wednesday evening, Nov. 13th. All are cordially invited. Proceeds will be donated to the M. E. parsonage fund.

Mr. and Mrs. David Detar, of Fryburg, are visiting their sons, Dr. C. Y. and Wm. Detar.
A large bear was killed in the forest near here, Nov. 10th, by A. C. Beeson.

Mayburg.
Roy Berlin is home from Clarion on a short vacation. According to his report, all our boys and girls from this vicinity are "making good."
Miss Ethel Richards is home from attending her brother's wedding in Orangeville, Ohio, and visiting friends in Meadville, Oil City and Warren.

The Cook Lease is putting a flooring on the new railroad bridge, in order that teams may cross.
A slight collision on the switch near the planing mill, on Thursday last, resulted in slightly disabling the engines and a decided "shaking up" of the crews.
Brown's Band has been very busy during the past week, Monday evening serenading Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Richards, who that day returned from a two weeks' honeymoon to Pittsburg, Washington, Philadelphia and Harrisburg, and are now busily engaged in furnishing their new home in this place. Thursday evening the band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Marchant, who have just moved into their newly furnished home on the "hill." The band boys are anxious for life events every week where they are so royally treated.

Maud Berlin was a visitor in Warren, Saturday.
Mrs. John Suter is quite ill.
Stephen Steele visited friends in Hickory last Sunday.
