—Come and get your fortune told at the bazar.
—Smiles cost less than electric lights, and they make the home brighter.
—Don't forget the bazar in Bovard's hall tomorrow night.
—Lost, a pair of ladies' wool mittens. Finder please leave at this office. It
—Bring your contributions for the bazar, to the hall, between 12 and 2 o'clock.
—One of those Maish Cotton-Down Comforts will please any woman. Sold by G. W. Robinson & Son. It
—R. O. Carson's No. 5 well on his farm at Neiltown was finished and shot the last of the week, but was dry. He is at work on No. 6.
—It's a little early to talk holiday goods, but we'll have them all beaten as usual when the time comes for opening up the display. Hopkins.
—Stop worrying and use photographs for Christmas presents. Think of it! Thirteen nice presents for the price of a dozen photos. At the Zuyver Studio, Tionesta.
—If still unsettled about that new suit come here and be fitted out in one of the M. Wile Co. brand. None better in the world. Hopkins, exclusive dealer in this section.
—The first "runner" vehicle of the season was seen on our streets yesterday. It was a bob-sled driven by Joseph Mong, of the Township, and carried a good sized grist to the Lanson mill.
—Picture frames of all kinds made to order at the Zuyver Studio, Tionesta. Also a nice line of framed pictures in fruits and flowers and American historical scenes.
—The "Union Dabot" at Bovard's hall last night was a hummer from start to finish, and considering the very limited time the young folks had for rehearsal, it was a double hummer. Everybody enjoyed the play to the limit.
—The new method of using the telephone is to place the transmitter against the chest and talk in the ordinary tone of voice. The person at the other end of the wire will hear you perfectly. It is not necessary to hold the transmitter to the lips. Try it and see.
—Evidences of tramp sneak thieves have been noted in town within the past week or so. Be on your guard with a "warm reception" for this class of skunks. The town has been quite free from such scallawags for a long while, and the time is about ripe for a visitation.
—Among the most acceptable holiday gifts you can bestow upon a friend is an engraved calling card, and it is not too early now to place your order for them, because of the rush later in the season. The REPUBLICAN is prepared to furnish the very latest in this line at the most reasonable prices. Call and see samples.
—Through the efforts of our energetic Congressman, Hon. N. P. Wheeler, a large number of new pensions and increases have been granted within the past month. Among the list we note the following of local interest: Capt. Wm. McCann of Nebraska, S. N. Flowers of the borough, and Mrs. Mary E. Hoover, widow of the late J. C. Hoover, of Tionesta township. Mr. Wheeler is wide awake to the interests of the old soldier, and before the expiration of his present term will have a better record of securing pensions for them than any Congressman that has ever represented this district.

—Keep in mind the bazar to be held in Bovard's hall tomorrow, Thursday, evening, by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. Very many useful articles will be on sale and there will be many amusing features to keep the patrons wide awake all evening. Oysters and coffee will be served. Make it a point to be there.

—According to the Derrick's report of operations in the Pennsylvania oil fields for the month of November, 652 new wells were completed. At the close of the month 702 rigs and drilling wells were under way. This is a decrease of 51 wells, and 66 less in new work from the previous month. The new production shows an increase of 371 barrels.

—Charles "Deacon" Phillip, one of the old reliable twirlers on the Pittsburgh baseball team, was a visitor in the city today. He was en route home to the Smoky City from a 10-day hunting trip to Forest County with a party of friends. He had a nice string of birds and squirrels, but stated it had been many years since he found the birds so scarce.—Blizzard, 29th.

—Judge Thomas, of Crawford county, held argument court here Friday, at which time the attorneys, in the case of T. D. Collins and others against L. S. Clough argued the question of a motion by the plaintiffs for a new trial. This case was tried at the September term of court and resulted in a verdict for the defendant. Judge Thomas took the papers in the case and will give his decision later.

—It is not too early to admonish Christmas shoppers to begin now on the selection of their gifts. They will not only get the cream of the selection, but they will also relieve the clerks of the tremendous pressure which too often comes in the last hours of the holiday shopping. And besides all this they will have ended a good deal of worry that is bound to come and destroy much of the holiday cheer.

—The case of James Strail, the slayer of his wife in Oil City last September, was placed on trial in the Venango court at Franklin yesterday. The entire oyer and terminer jury panel was exhausted and a number of talesmen were called before a jury was selected, requiring over two hours' time. It is composed of nine farmers, one carpenter, one teacher, and one boarding house keeper. The case will probably occupy the entire week in its disposal.

—On Thanksgiving day a beautiful 200-pound buck was slain by two hunters of Mayburg, and up to this hour the only one reported killed in this county during the deer season of fifteen days. H. J. Van Guilder and A. M. Van Marter caught the splendid forest ranger out near the Beaver meadows, in Jenks township, after a long chase, and when they brought their trophy home they were easily accounted the heroes of the hour, for it is seldom that such a feat is accomplished in this day and age.

—The sale of some seven hundred acres of timber, referred to in these columns several weeks ago as a clipping from a Kittinging paper was made by James Haskell and son P. W. Haskell, of East Brady, who have been doing business under the name of The Haskell Lumber Co. The final transactions in this deal were made here last week and the property turned over to the new owners, Reed, Fisher & Newton, of Oil City and Buffalo, who will soon begin operations.—East Brady Review.

—At the hearing at Warren last Wednesday in connection with the bank cases Commissioner Shawkey failed to find any evidence that would justify him in holding Mr. Jamieson, and he was promptly discharged. At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Shawkey said he would take more time to consider the matter as to his course in the cases of the other gentlemen, and on Friday advised the counsel for Messrs. Landers and Wyman that he had concluded to hold them and would fix their bond at the former sum. Mr. Bowman had already given bail for his appearance at Pittsburg.

—December, the happiest and holiest month of the year, came in with appropriate vestments of snowy white, feathery snowflakes suggestive of the goose-picking to which our grandmothers likened such snowfalls in the long ago, poetical remarks the Oil City Blizzard. No matter how erratic the seasons may have been, this good old world of ours turns true, bringing at the appointed time the Christmas cheer, the holly, the mistletoe and the tender recollection of the days that are no more. It is a time for retrospection and cogitation, the weird, magical influence of the gently falling flakes being most conducive to thoughtfulness.

—Last Friday afternoon while two of our local sports were out in the woods in an endeavor to close up the hunting season in some sort of respectable shape they came across a rather pathetic sight. A handsome English setter dog had met death at the hands of some one who had evidently been "laying" for him. A rifle ball had pierced the canine's heart, passing entirely through the body back of the shoulder, and the dog had dropped dead in his tracks, there being no evidence of any struggle or movement. The dog was white with lemon ears and a large lemon spot on top of the back between the shoulder blades. Some sportsmen is doubtless mourning the loss of his handsome and apparently well bred dog, unaware of his fate.

—Mrs. Eliza A. Funk, widow of Capt. A. B. Funk, died at her home in Chicago, Ill., on Saturday. The body will be sent to Titusville, her former home, for interment beside those of her husband, who died in 1864. Mrs. Funk was born in Westmoreland county, Pa., March 31, 1817. In 1852 her husband, who had been engaged in building Ohio and Allegheny river steamboats and operating them, purchased a large tract of land in Triumph township, Warren county, and removed his family there. He was engaged in lumbering when Drake discovered oil near Titusville, and Captain Funk engaged in the business as an operator and in 1860 completed the famous "Fountain well," said to have been the first ever drilled to the third sand formation, and which had an initial production of 300 bbls. per day. He and his wife built a church in Triumph, which is still in use and known as the "Funk church." They continued to live there until 1853, when they removed to Titusville. They were also active in building the first M. E. church in Titusville, the captain contributing $1,000 towards the project.

—A case in which John Passauer of Tionesta twp., was the plaintiff, and Jacob Wagner, also of the Township, was defendant, was arbitrated before Samuel D. Irwin, Esq., D. W. Clark and R. M. Herman on Saturday last. The case had been appealed from the decision of a justice of the peace, and involved a disagreement as to the amount due the plaintiff for sawing some yellow pine lumber for the defendant, the latter claiming an offset on account of the lumber becoming weather stained, etc. The arbitrators rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $102.54.

—Swift justice was meted out to the murderer of police captain Meehan, the brave officer who gave up his life in the discharge of his duty on Saturday, Nov. 23d. The young Austrin, Holka, who stealthily slipped up behind the policeman and shot him four times in the back while he was marching two of Holka's countrymen to the lockup, was convicted of murder in the first degree in court at Franklin on Friday last, just one day less than a week after the commission of his bloody deed. It is hardly likely that anything will intervene to save the fellow from the gallows, as the evidence of his guilt and premeditation to kill his victim was clear and convincing.

—Bears are the only large game now in season and reports coming in would indicate that there are still a few left. Otto Rudolph, of Otter Creek, Hickory township, was in town Monday and said that the tracks of a large bear were seen Sunday morning a half mile above his home. Several weeks ago a bear visited the premises of Mrs. John Hinderer, in Tionesta township, on different nights. Once he came close to the house and attempted to carry off a young pig and had gotten it quite a distance away when the pig managed to escape. Aside from having its back hurt the pig was all right. One of the boys got a shot at the bear, since which it has not been seen. The bear is supposed to have come up from Piney run.

—As the Seneca Kicker sees it: Without a doubt the Austrian who shot to death a native American, while in the discharge of his duties in the city of Franklin, did find it possible to procure by some method that which made him more of a fool or a brute than when he left his native land. This is rank injustice to the foreigners who come to this country to better their condition and also to the American. It should be made impossible for any foreigner to procure intoxicating things in this country, especially the intoxicating things called fire-arms, for when you combine whiskey and revolvers in one suit of clothes, you have allowed a little more personal liberty than can be measured by the rule of common sense.

—Rev. James A. Humes, one of the best known residents of Pleasantville, passed away at that place Saturday morning, death being due to a complication of diseases. The deceased, who was a life-long resident of this section was aged about 85 years, the past 15 of which were passed in Pleasantville. In 1870 he was ordained to the Methodist ministry and for many years he preached in various churches of this section, one of his charges being at East Hickory in the early 80's, and he is well and favorably remembered by many of our readers. At Pleasantville he was thrice elected justice of the peace and was serving in that capacity when he died. He was a veteran of the civil war, a captain of a company of the 150th Pa. Bucktails. His widow, who was Elizabeth J. Luper, one brother and one sister are the only surviving relatives. The funeral was held on Sunday and on Monday the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Harmonsburg, Crawford county.

—Comparatively few people know what it costs to hold a teachers' institute, and how the revenue is obtained. Superintendent Morrison informs the Marienville Express that the next session will cost him $420. There are ninety teachers in the county, and if every teacher attends full time, he will receive $1 from each, and one dollar for each three days attendance, from the county treasury. The balance must be made up in admissions or he loses. If all the teachers attend full time they will draw the sum of $900 from the various districts. This makes the total cost to the county $1500; the cost to the community $100. At this rate, an institute ought to do a whole lot of good; but it cannot do so unless the teachers attend, and are eager to gather material to help the pupils under their instruction. If this total cost were divided by the entire school population of the county it would amount to more than fifty cents for each pupil in the schools of the entire county.

Kellettville Man Crippled for Life.

Shortly before midnight Monday of last week two pushers collided near Ott's Siding, on the P. & E. Railway, a mile and a half east of Warren. The cause has not been explained, but the most lamentable circumstance was that Andrew M. Forbes, fireman for Engineer Will Gleason, was caught between the cab and tender of his locomotive and crippled for life. Forbes did not realize his peril until a moment before the impact but he jumped sufficiently to clear his body. The right leg was cut off at the ankle and the left one was crushed badly between the ankle and knee. He was pinned fast and it was more than an hour before he was extricated, although the wrecking crew worked with all possible speed. Under the most excruciating pain, the unfortunate man bore up without scarcely a tremor, and when he was released he was taken to Emergency Hospital. The attending physician states that he will endeavor to save one of the limbs, but is not certain what the results of his efforts will be. Fireman Forbes is 25 years of age and is unmarried. His home is at Kellettville, Forest county, where his mother and a sister reside.—Warren Mirror.

Clarion State Normal.

Book-keeping, Business Arithmetic, Stenography and Typewriting are the special studies at the Clarion State Normal School for the Winter term beginning December 31. The cost to students over seventeen years of age is little more than three dollars and fifty cents per week.

G. A. R. Doings.

At the regular meeting of Stow Post on Monday evening, Dec. 2, 1907, the following officers for the year 1908 were duly elected: Commander, Leonard Agnew; S. V. Com., Solomon Fitzgerald; J. V. Com., J. Byron Eden; Q. M., S. Criswell Johnston; Chaplain, Chas. A. Hill; O. D., Geo. W. Robinson; Post Surgeon, John S. Dunn. Delegate to State Encampment, Samuel D. Irwin; Alternate, Geo. W. Robinson. The Encampment meets at Erie, Pa., next summer.

The following named comrades were appointed a committee of three to confer with the W. R. C. committee concerning the installation early in January, next: C. A. Hill, S. D. Irwin and Geo. W. Robinson. Dept. Com. Wm. T. Powell, in General Order No. 6, says: Open installation of officers has been most beneficial in results, and urgently suggests that whenever possible that this be observed; that every one should be active in the work of our beloved order. Persevering efforts command success.

The following information is given: That the legislature of the state of New Jersey passed a law authorizing the making and presentation of medals to every soldier who served in New Jersey regiments during the war. New Jersey comrades take notice and write to R. Heber Breintnall, A. A. General, Trenton, N. J., who will forward them a blank to fill and they will receive the medal early in January, next.

Brother Brown Recovers His Pants.

Last Friday while Dorothy, the young daughter of James Blissell, was playing around the barn and noticed a pair of suspenders under the washing platform outside, on pulling them out she found a pair of trousers and took them to the house, telling her mother that her papa had changed his clothes at the barn. Mrs. Blissell seeing that they were not her husband's put her hand in the pocket and discovered the keys with John F. Brown's name on the ring. The trousers were the ones taken by the burglars a few weeks ago from Mr. Brown's room. The pockets were intact except the small change, about $1.50, which was taken. Mr. Brown is pleased to have his trousers, mileage books and keys once more. Miss Dorothy received the reward of $5.00 offered for the return of the keys.—Clarion Republican.

When to Go Home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the whole household." To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.
