—Mrs. Emma Everett accompanied her aunt, Miss Sarah Wertz, to her home in Greenville, Pa., last Friday, and will visit relatives in Mercer and Crawford counties for a month or two.

—Adam Sibbie, of German Hill, who never allows his bills to accumulate, had the label on his paper dated another year ahead while making a pleasant call at the REPUBLICAN office last week.

—Prothonotary Geist is entertaining his son, P. H. Geist, of Cedar River, Mich., who is making his first visit to his father since going west ten years ago, where he has been profitably employed in the lumber regions.

—Augustus Rhodes, of Starr, substantially remembered us in a pre-holiday visit, at which time he took occasion to send the REPUBLICAN as a New Year's gift to his son Frederick, who resides at Monroeville, Clarion county.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gallup and daughter Katherine, and Misses Dorothy Hahn and Hazel Babcock, of Youngsville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gerow over Sunday, Misses Katherine and Dorothy remaining for a longer visit.

—Miss Edna Agnew, accompanied by her mother, left on Thursday last for Denver, Colorado, to spend the winter in the hope of improving her health, and in which hope all her many friends join. Mrs. Agnew will return as soon as Edna gets comfortably located.

—Mrs. Martin Carlson, of this community, has received the sad word of the death of both her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sven Svenson, which occurred in an unusual manner at their home at Ramshult, Kristanopol, Sweden, on November 28. They were both taken sick the same day and died a week later within one-half hour of the same time. Their ages were respectively 85 and 75 years, the cause of death being old age.

—The students home for the holiday vacation are: Joseph Weaver, Allegheny college; Charles Imel and Thomas Fulton, State college; Curtis Proper, Misses Marie Dunn, Maud Canfield, and Sara Carson, Clarion Normal; Glenn Henry, University of Pennsylvania; Dallas Reek, Franklin college, New Athens, O.; Miss Genevieve Douth, Beaver college.

—Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Hatch, of Jamestown, N. Y., were guests over the Sabbath at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Arner, having come down to see their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Swanson, who are visiting Mrs. Swanson's parents. Mr. Hatch is a member of the Evening Journal staff at Jamestown, and naturally drifted around to the REPUBLICAN printery while here.

—The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant visit from Dr. Gordinier one of the interesting instructors and lecturers at the recent county institute, and Supt. O. J. Gunning of Warren county, who also spent a day or two in town during institute week. Prof. Gunning taught school in Tionesta many years ago, but finds few of his former pupils of those days, time and matrimony having carried them to other fields and spheres.

—The following personal mention from the Olean, N. Y., Times, will interest many of our readers at Endeavor and vicinity, where Mr. Aylesworth was a prominent resident for a number of years: "Word has been received by J. P. Aylesworth of Tompkins street from his son, Ray W. Aylesworth, who was operated on several days ago for appendicitis, in a hospital at Oshkosh, Wis., that he is recovering rapidly, and will be able to leave the hospital in a few days."

—Mr. Charles A. Zahniser and Miss Marie Matha, two of our popular young people, went to Franklin yesterday, where they were united in marriage by Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser, brother of the groom. We unite with their many friends in extending congratulations, with best wishes for a long and happy married life. They will make their home here, having secured apartments in the home of A. M. Douth. Mrs. Zahniser resigned the Jeffries school in Barnett township, her sister, Miss Dora Matha, taking her place.

—Tidoute News: Dr. and Mrs. George Siggins of Tionesta were of the Christmas guests in town.—Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fehman and son of West Hickory were with relatives for Christmas.—Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fuellhart and son of Endeavor were with Mrs. Chas. Fuellhart Wednesday.—We were glad to welcome home Harry Turner, who arrived in West Hickory last week. He has had a large and varied experience in his two years and a half absence over a wide expanse of country, reaching from British Columbia to Mexico. He is well and hearty.

—A letter from our young friend, Will L. Craig, under date of Los Angeles, California, Dec. 28, though not written for publication, contains some items of local interest, and so we take the liberty of quoting them: "I believe my subscription expires Jan. 1st, and as we (no doubt like many others 'away from home') could scarcely get along without the paper every week, I want to assure myself of its coming for the next two years. Helen Smearbaugh came up from the beach and stayed with us over yesterday, Christmas, which, by-the-way, was a nearly perfect day, bright and fine, temperature 70° to 71°. She perhaps felt less far from home with us and we were mighty glad to have her. She and Daisy lunched today with Mrs. Kory Heath and Mrs. Nettie (Giering) Goebel, and stopped in here [Mr. Craig's office] on their way home. Just left a few minutes ago. Helen looks fine; says she feels well, and is growing heavier every week."

Committed Suicide.

Zabin Wright, aged 23 years, a resident of West Hickory for the past two months, where he lived near the Carter farm lumber mill and was employed by Putnam Bros., the stockers, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid last Sunday at Sugar Run, Warren county. According to reports he was a man of violent temper and there were frequent domestic disturbances at his home in Hickory, culminating in his abusing his wife a few weeks ago and for which he was in turn chastised by a neighbor, into whose home he had followed his wife. In the light of recent events it is only charitable to suppose that he was mentally unbalanced. Wright, whose home is at Quaker Bridge, had gone with his family to spend Christmas and the holiday season with his father-in-law, S. Morris, at Sugar Run, and it was there the tragedy occurred. He was found unconscious in the barn by his brother-in-law and died before medical aid could reach him. It is reported that he attempted to secure the acid in Sugar Run, and failing to get it there, bought it at Kinzua. He is survived by his wife and infant son. He is the fourth of his family of five to die from a violent death during the past year.

Muzette.

Freddie Briggs is the happiest boy in town. Charley and William Dotterer and Ira Shoop, of the Clarion Normal, visited their parents over Christmas. William Bradybaugh has moved his family from Spruce avenue to Main street. L. G. Stover, wife and daughter Florence came up from Oil City to spend the holidays with friends in this place. A large audience greeted the second Christmas entertainment held at this place, under the instruction and management of the teacher, Miss Nellie McElroy, which gave entire satisfaction. The interest which the teacher is taking in her pupils will no doubt bring good results, and we have reason to believe that from her theory of teaching and general management as an all around teacher, the school at the end of the term will be one that has accomplished much. After songs were sung by the pupils, Miss Florence Stover gave a recitation on the birth of Christ, after which L. G. Stover gave an excellent address, his subject being the first Christmas tree and Santa's object to please the children. ONE WHO WAS THERE.

Buzard-Watson Nuptials.

One of the prettiest functions that has taken place in the social annals of Tionesta in many months was the marriage on Thursday evening last, of Miss George Anna Watson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Watson, to Mr. Lawrence Armstrong Buzard, of Lamson, Alabama. The scene of the splendid occasion was the beautiful home of the bride's parents, which had been in the hands of a professional decorator and his art was shown in the elegant and perfect harmony of the profusion of graceful festoons of smilax, tropical palms, asparagus, ferns and cut flowers, the predominating colors being white and yellow roses and white and pink carnations. Promptly at the hour of seven o'clock the strains of the wedding march, by the Troubadour orchestra of Warren, announced that the bridal procession had started from the head of the winding staircase, which had been entwined with smilax leading to the reception hall, thence through the living room to the rear parlor, where, before a huge bank of palms, the bridal party was met by the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. O. Calhoun. First came the groom and his best man, Mr. Fred V. Brown, of Clarion, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Josephine Smearbaugh, gowned in a pretty chiffon and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses; then the pretty bride leaning on the arm of her father. She wore an elegant gown of imported white satin, en train, trimmed with heavy lace, a beautiful veil, and carried a great bouquet of white roses. The effect was charming. The simple but pretty ceremonial of the Methodist Episcopal church, with ring, was employed in the joining of the hearts and lives of the popular young couple, at the conclusion of which they were showered with congratulations and good-wishes by the more than a hundred guests present.

The dinner was an elaborate one, consisting of three courses, the production of caterer Mrs. Meacham of Warren, who brought her own assistants and served the same in elegant style. The bride's table, where covers were laid for six—the bride and groom, Miss Smearbaugh, Mr. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun—was handsomely decorated with white and yellow roses, palms, asparagus and yellow candelabra.

The wealth of gifts to the bride was a sight for the gods, a more magnificent display having perhaps never been seen at a Tionesta wedding, and included cut glass, two chests of silver, many solid silver pieces, pictures, and a great variety of other costly and useful articles. The groom's gift to the bride was a ring set with a cluster of five large and eighteen smaller diamonds. Among the most highly prized gifts was a drawwork handkerchief made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. B. Root, now in her 78th year and residing at Portland, Oregon. This the bride carried as one of her pretty adornments during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Buzard departed Friday morning for an extended trip through Texas and Mexico, and after February 1st will be "at home" at Lamson, Ala., where Mr. Buzard is extensively interested in lumbering industries.

The out-of-town guests present were: Mrs. Margaret Buzard, Miss Buzard, Miss Mary Buzard, Miss Margaret Buzard, Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buzard, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bradshaw and daughter Gertrude, Marion, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slocum, Mr. Walter Dunham, Mrs. Humphrey Downing, Mrs. M. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. George Klinefister, Jr., Kellettville; Miss Margaret Gutelius, Millinburg, Pa.; Mr. Horton Johnson, Ridgway; Dr. Pryor, Sheffield; Mr. F. N. Kreitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cook, Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. George Klinefister, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Orion Siggins, West Hickory.

Refused New Trial.

In the matter of the application for a new trial in the case of T. D. Collins and others against L. S. Clough and T. B. Bradley tried last September court, and resulting in a verdict for the defense, Judge Thomas of Meadville, before whom the cause was tried, refused a new trial to the plaintiffs and filed the following opinion: "We are not persuaded that this was a case which should have been taken from the jury. The facts to be found were so dependent upon the testimony of witnesses, whose credibility was for the jury, that we could not have taken it from them. Nor are we persuaded that, when we come to consider section 2 and 8 of the Act of April 8, 1780, 2 Sm. L. 317, there was reversible error in our charge with reference to what we said about the numbers of the respective warrants. It was earnestly urged that we erred in submitting to the jury the question as to which warrants were first located. We do not believe that, in view of what was found on the ground, and what the surveyors testified to with reference to the meaning thereof, this was a question solely for the Court. Being of opinion that the questions involved were ones of fact for a jury, and not being persuaded that the jury might not, as reasonable men, have reached the conclusion they did, the rules are discharged and a new trial is refused." The case now goes to the Supreme Court.

Bad Stomach Trouble Cured.

Having been sick for the past two years with a bad stomach trouble, a friend gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They did me so much good that I bought a bottle of them and have used twelve bottles in all. Today I am well of a bad stomach trouble.—Mrs. John Lowe Cooper, Maine. These tablets are for sale by Dunn & Fulton.
