DENATURED ALCOHOL,

Dr. Wiley Says It Can Be Made From Damaged Vegetables.

Miss Vanderbilt a Countess-Rockefeller Helps Unemployed-Henry G. Davis to Wed - Tariff Agreement With Germany - Life Insurance Fraud-No Fight With Hughes.

Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, reported to the house committee on agriculture the results of experiments conducted by the bureau to determine the poisonous effect on the human system of such drugs as borax, benzoic acid, benzoate of soda, sulphate of copper, sulphur dioxide, formaldehyde and salycilic acid, when contained in foodstuffs.

Dr. Wiley said that the expulsion of those and kindred drugs from the body is performed almost entirely by the kidneys, and that he is satisfied the term of American life would be lengthened if the use of such drugs in foods were wholly discontinued. He said he was convinced that kidney disease, so prevalent among Americans, is partly the result of constant introduction into the system of such preservative substances as benzoate of soda carried in foods. Discussing sulphur diozide and its injurious effects, Dr. Wiley told the committee of a discovery just made by him that salt solution is a perfect substitute for sulphur in the whitening and drying of fruit. He exhibited samples of apples dried experimentally by the bureau. The sulphured fruit was not so white or tender as the salt cured The committee was informed by Dr. Wiley of plans to teach the farmers of the United States to make denatured alcohol. Next August he proposes to erect a still at the bureau of chemistry and operate it himself for two or three months, producing denatured alcohol daily from damaged fruit and vegetables such as can be bought cheaply in the market. He has invited the agricultural college of each state and territory to send a representative to Washington to observe his still and master the process of distillation.

Tariff Agreement With Germany. President Roosevelt has transmitted to the United States senate and the house copies of the tariff regulations negotiated some time ago between the United States and Germany, together with a proposed amendment to the customs administrative act putting the same in force as a statute.-In the senate the message aroused lively discussion in executive session when it was taken up. The remarks were not addressed to the message so much as the policy of considering it in executive session, as well as the policy of the president in connection with the agreement. His course not only in negotiating that instrument but in proclaiming it to the world, as he did last July, was sharply criticised.

It was declared that the agreement makes changes which are equivalent to legislation and it was pointed out that all legislation affecting the tariff must, under the constitution, originate in the house of representatives. Stress was laid on the fact that the president had not only negotiated the treaty but that he had given it out as a complete performance without referring it to the senate for Its action

Taft and Fort Graduates From Bench.

Secretary of War Taft was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Yale Alumni association of Essex county at East Orange, N. J. Secretary Taft did not touch upon politics unless his allusions to the future of China may be construed as such. He predicted for America a great and growing influence in China. Referring in a complimentary way to Governor Fort, the secretary recalled that when last the two met both were occupants of the bench. At that time the conversation drifted to matters judiciary and they discovered that they were of one mind on the proposition that a man who had attained the position of a jurist was a fool to seek any other place. The secretary added that Governor Fort and himself, apparently, had since agreed, though without say ing so, that the bench was a good place to find executives. This provoked a general laugh

"MANIC-DEPRESSIVE"

Insanity Is New Name For Thaw's Mental Disorder.

Testimony of Abraham Hummel to cution Begins Its Rebuttal Today and Case Should Go to Jury Soon.

New York, Jan. 28.-The Thaw defense closed its case with "manicdepressive" insanity as the explanation of the death of Stanford White at the hands of the young Pittsburg millionaire. Today the prosecution began its evidence in rebuttal and the case should go to the jury by Wednesday night or Thursday noon.

District Attorney Jerome will apply for the appointment of a commission to take the testimony of Abraham Hummel, the disbarred and convicted lawyer, who is confined in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island and who is said to be too ill to appear in court.

Mr. Littleton of the defense said he would oppose any such action, whereupon Justice Dowling announced that if necessary he would go to the island himself tonight in company with the defendant and his counsel to preside at the taking of Hummel's testimony.

The jury, it was stated, would not be compelled to take the night trip across the river. Thay seemed delighted at the prospect of the outing -even to the grim shores of New York city's penal colony-and smiled broadly at the court's suggestion. District Attorney Jerome disap pointed a crowded court room when he refrained from his tactics of las year in baiting the expert witnesses for the defense, three of whom-Drs. Wagner, Evans and Jelliffee-declared that Thaw at the time he killed Stanford White was suffering from such a defect of reason as not to know the nature or quality of his act or that the act was wrong.

The prosecuter contented himself with drawing from the alienists the fact that last year they swore it was during a "brain storm" that Thaw committed the homicide. He also read from the affidavit made by Dr.

Wagner before the lunacy commission last year giving conversations had with Thaw in court which tended to show that the defendant had a distinct recollection of occurrences on the roof garden immediately preceding the tragedy.

Justice Dowling Asks Questions. It was left to Justice Dowling to Three months ago he wrote that he ake a most important inquiry of th alienists. He desired to know the exact nature of "manic-depressive" in sanity, and if the attacks were likely to recur. He also asked if a person suffering from this form of insanity would be likely to commit assaults. He learned that it was a recurrent form of mental disorder, the attacks coming suddenly and without warning, a period of insanity being followed by a maniacal outburst, then by a period of complete depression and then by another lucid interval. It seemed that the presiding judge was securing information upon which to predicate judicial action in the event of a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity or of a straight acquittal. Even in the latter event, it was pointed out, Justice Dowling during the excitement, though a numwould have the right to have Thaw ber of the marchers will nurse sore committed for examination English Physiclan a New Witness. An English physician, one of three foreign men of medicine who testified, first gave the name of "manicdepressive" or "sub-acute mania" to Thaw's mental condition. Dr. Sydney Russell Wells of London made the diagnosis during an outbreak by Thaw in London in 1899, when with normal temperature Thaw demanded that the walls of his rooms in a nursing home be torn down so that he might have air and that twenty tons of ice be put in the apartment to cool it. Mr. Littleton's question, which was answered by the three experts, was a complete resume of the evidence, with the exception, as District Attorney Jerome pointed out, of the testimony of James Clinch Smith, brotherin-law of Stanford White, who talked with Thaw for fifteen minutes just before the shooting on the roof of Madison Square Garden. The question contained some 16,000 words.

RAILROADS ASK DELAY? in Enforcement of Law as to Hours of Tower Employes.

Washington, Jan. 28 .- Conferences of importance to all railroads of the country were held by the operating vice presidents of 12 or 15 great lines of American railways with President

Receivelt, and subsequently with the interstate commerce commission Be Taken by Commission Which The railroad officials presented to Goes to Blackwell's Island-Prese. The president, and subsequently to the interstate commerce commission, a request that an amendment be recommended to congress to the act "to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by limiting the hours of service of employes there-

> The delegation reminded the president that the act would become effective March 4 next. It limits the hours of duty of employes engaged in transmitting train orders. The act is known as the nine-hour law. One of its provisions is in effect that no employe doing work pertaining to train movements shall be required to be on duty more than nine hours in any 24 hour period in all towers, etc., continuously operated night and day, nor for a longer period than thirteen hours in all towers, etc., operated only during the daytime, except in case of emergency, when the employes may be permitted to remain on duty for four additional hours in a twenty-four hour period on not exceeding three > days in any week." The delegation presented to President Roosevelt arguments in support of an extension of the time when the law should go into effect. After some informal discussion the president referred the committee to the interstate commerce commission, that body, under the law, apparently having the necessary authority to accede to the wishes of the committee, if the wishes were deemed proper.

Later the delegation conferred with Chairman Knapp and Commissioners Prouty and Cockrell, the only members of the body now in the city. No definite proposal was submitted to the commission, but the subject was discussed in an informal way. The commission took the matter under consideration came the bride of Count Laszlo Jeno Maria Henrik Simon Szechenyi, a young Hungarian noble of ancient lineage and comfortable fortune.

Both the prominence of the bride's family in the social and financial life of this country and the romantic circumstances of her choice of a husband, lend to the ceremony an unusual degree of public interest. Last summer Miss Vanderbilt became of age and under the provisions of her father's will entered into possession of her share of his great fortune, estimated at from $12,000,000 to $15,000.

Count Laszlo is a handsome man of 28, slender and straight, his bearing betraying his military training and devotion to out-of-door sports. He is not even the head of his family, being the youngest of the four sons of that Count Emerich Szechenyi who was for many years the Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Berlin and who played an important part in the negotiation of the German-Austrian alliance and was one of the limited circle of diplomats who enjoyed the close friendship

Rockefeller Helps Unemployed. To aid the large number of the un-

Rockefeller sent word from the South to the superintendent of his estate at Pocantico to lay off all foreigners and give employment to needy residents. In addition Mr. Rockefeller has given permission to those in want to go into his woods and cut wood to warm their homes. Mr. Rockefeller was appealed to by ministers and the wives of men out of employment and he decided to relieve the laboring men. There were hundreds of Italians working on the Rocksfeller estate and they were dismissed. Several manufacturing plants in Tarrytown are working half time and others have shut down. Three hundred unemployed men were put to work on the Rockefeller estate today. Married men are given the preference for work.

Davis to Wed Miss Ashford.

Announcement was made in Washington of the engagement of Miss Maud Ashford and Henry Gassaway Davis, former United States senator from West Virginia and Democratic candidate for vice president in 1904. The engagement has been announced and denied several times before, but last week Miss Ashford consented formally to announce the fact.

There has been current ever since the engagement was rumored a story that Mr. Davis' two daughters, Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, wife of the senator from West Virginia, and Mrs. Arthur Lee, oppose the marriage of their father, who is 85 years old. Miss Ashford is about 40. It is still said that Mrs. ...kins re-

Coal Mines May Stop Work.

Carbondale Ill., Jan. 28 .- At a conference of the coal operators of the Southern and Southeastern Illinois in this city it was decided, unless affairs assume a more encouraging aspect within the coming week, to suspend temporarily operations at all their mines. The demand for coal at this season has usually taxed the coal mines of this district to their capacity, but this year they have been in operation little more than half time and yet have an overproduction. The operators attribute present conditions to the financial panic and to unusually warm weather.
