Oil market closed at $1.78.
You can get it at Hopkins' store.
Hopkins' big reduction sale is cutting a lot of ice these days.

Go to the court house Saturday evening and hear the Kellettsville concert band.

The school board has elected Mrs. C. A. Childs as a substitute teacher for the borough school.
These are the days of cut prices and great bargains at the Hopkins store. Too many winter goods, all new but they go at about cost.

Friday morning last was by odds the coldest of the present winter, thermometers in town indicating a temperature of 10 to 15 degrees below zero, according to location.

Hats, caps, blankets, and a great variety of wool goods, all new, but they're yours at wonderful reductions in price. Call while the assortment is yet large, Hopkins.

Leroy Conners, a driver for the Urey livery, got his left ear torn in an upset and runaway up Hunter run, Monday morning. The sleigh and horse were not damaged. Dr. Bovard dressed the young man's injuries.

All persons wishing to promote and continue the Forest County Summer School are invited to meet in the council room, Friday evening, Feb. 7th. The school was such a success last year that it is hoped it may be continued from year to year.

Passengers on the Pennsylvania railroad will hereafter dig down into their pockets for the extra half cent a mile, the rate on the first of the month having been increased from 2 cents to 2 1/2 cents per mile. And you are expected to smile and look pleasant about it, too.

A fine black bear, weighing 200 pounds, is on display at Harry R. Robinson's market on West Central avenue. He brought the bear from some Forest county parties and arrived in town with it Saturday morning. It is harmless, being quite dead.—Titusville Herald.

The Allegheny river closed with ice at this point on ground hog day, the second inst., and at this writing the ice bridge has every appearance of staying awhile. The ice harvester is also made happy over the prospect of getting his crop safely garnered if he attends promptly to his business.

While Rev. J. J. Ginader, the Free Methodist minister, was engaged in tearing down a building at Byrontown, he fell about seven feet and struck the small of his back on a board standing on edge. He had a very narrow escape from serious injury but we are happy to say he is recovering.—Clarion Democrat.

Postmaster D. S. Knox desires to call attention to the practice of some patrons of rural delivery of placing loose coins in their boxes each time they desire to dispatch letters instead of supplying themselves with postage in advance of their needs. This practice imposes undue hardship on rural carriers in removing loose coins from boxes and delays them on the service of their routes. The postmaster, therefore, urgently requests that patrons of rural delivery provide themselves and keep on hand a supply of stamps consistent with and in advance of their needs. It is also very desirable that rural patrons place in their mail boxes small detachable cups of wood or tin in which to place coins, when necessary, in purchasing supplies of stamps.

Subscribers, Take Notice!

A new ruling just promulgated by the Postoffice Department means that newspapers extending credit to subscribers will be denied the use of the mails at the usual newspaper rates. Subscribers to all newspapers and periodicals will be affected by this ruling and will be obliged to pay their subscriptions promptly or be taken off the list. The REPUBLICAN will have to enforce the rule, not from choice, but because the matter is compulsory, and in the course of a few weeks subscriptions that are not paid up will have to be discontinued, so don't blame the publisher if your paper should suddenly stop coming. But the better way for all to know themselves to be in arrears is to pay up at once. Don't put it off. We have no choice in the matter, but must obey the mandates of the postoffice department.

THE PUBLISHER.

The ground hog saw his shadow without doubt if he had the temerity to stick his nose out on Sun'ay, the roughest and most blustery day of all the year. There shall be six weeks more of stern winter weather now if we can rely on his hogship's prognostications, and he's about as reliable as the rest of the prophets.

G. W. Osgood's weather report for January, 1908, is as follows: Rainfall during month 21 inches. Snow 19 1/2 inches. Zero days—10th, 5 degrees below; 9th, 2 below, and 31st, 10 below. For the same month in 1907, there was a total rainfall of 4 1/2 inches; snow, 20 1/2 inches, and 6 days on which mercury fell below zero.

The McNeal gas company, composed of citizens of Kane, Sheffield, and Forest county, recently brought in another huddling gas well on their property in Jefferson county, where they have several thousand acres under lease. This latest strike is said to be good for 3,000,000 feet a day. They already had a production of more than 5,000,000 per day.

A teacher in a neighboring town who sent a pupil home with a suggestion that his mother give him a thorough bath and clean clothes, as he smelled too bad to attend school, found the boy back again next morning unfumigated and with a note which read: "To the teacher: Willie ain't no rose. We didn't send him to school to be smelt; we sent him to be leart."

Carl Swanders, the well known base ball catcher of Titusville, was badly burned last week in an accident in the Dunkirk Steel works, and is now in the Brooks hospital in that city, and while his condition is not serious, he is suffering much pain from his injuries. He was lifting a crucible of melted steel from a furnace and the crucible burst, allowing the molten metal to strike one of his legs. It was terribly burned.

Miss Sena Kemble, sister of Druggist W. G. Kemble, fell down the cellar stairs at the home of W. G. Wilkins on East Main street Wednesday night. She suffered a cut an inch and a half long on the back of the head and her left arm and wrist were badly bruised and sprained. Just how the accident occurred is not known but in some manner she slipped as she started to descend the stairs and fell to the bottom, striking on her head.—Titusville Herald.

Emmenton Herald: "Under its proper heading will be found the announcement of Hon. N. P. Wheeler as a candidate for member of Congress. Representative Wheeler seems to be growing very popular in this district. In the short time since he assumed the duties of office he has secured a warm hold on the affections of the people. This is apparent to any one who has noted the tone of the contemporary press or listened to the comments of individuals."

Country roads have been drifted so badly during the past few days as to make travel well nigh out of the question. On Monday Rural Route Agent S. C. Johnston was obliged to turn tail and come home, being unable to get through the drifts, and the Tylersburg mail failed to reach here on the same account. Tuesday conditions were somewhat better, but still there is trouble enough along many of the country roads which are buried under four to six feet of snow.

According to the Derrick's report of operations for the past month in the eastern oil fields, which embrace the developments in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, there were completed 817 wells in January, of which 212 were credited to the non-productive list, while the new production amounted to 10,871 barrels. Compared with the last month of the old year, there was a decrease of 176 wells completed, 2,026 barrels production and 13 dry holes.

A nice musical treat is in store for the people of Tionesta and vicinity next Saturday evening, when Kellettsville's celebrated concert band will give an entertainment at the court house. This is one of the finest organizations in this part of the state, consisting of 30 well trained musicians under a most competent band master, and they will render a fine program on that evening. Turn out and enjoy the occasion. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Remember the date, Saturday evening, Feb. 8th.

Mary Weant, aged about 60 years, died at the County Home, on a Saturday evening last, from a second stroke of paralysis. She was a daughter of Dietrich and Marie Weant, and was born in Green township, this county. Her mother, who is upward of 90 years of age survives, also one brother, Nicholas Weant of New Wilmington, Pa., and two sisters, Mrs. Jacob Smith of Tylersburg, and Mrs. Bert Luscher of Watson Farm, Forest county. The remains were taken to Tylersburg yesterday, where the interment will be made.

The REPUBLICAN acknowledges receipt of Hon. A. W. Smiley's book entitled "A Few Scraps, Oily and Otherwise." As the name implies the book is a compilation of the author's reminiscences of the stirring days of the early oil excitement, and carries the reader back to periods in that nervous, bustling epoch when fortunes were made and lost in a single day. Many short stories are told in a most entertaining and off-hand way by the versatile author, making it one of the most readable little publications to which oil country folk have had access in many years. It is an invaluable addition to the history of the oil business by one who was on the spot and helped make it. Mr. Smiley will send the book post paid, to any address for $1.00, which barely covers the cost. Address, Foxburg, Pa.

An exchange asks: Why are there so many people prone to attach a sinister motive to any misfortune that overtakes a man or woman? This is a very hard question to answer, but it is nevertheless true. Let misfortune come and there are those who take delight in forming and circulating all sorts of stories which tend to put the victims of bad luck or misfortune in ill repute. Why can't people be more charitable and see the good things in every one's life instead of the bad? How much happier we could make our lives and those of others if we could do this.

A lady prophetic of Titusville, who is a close observer of weather conditions, furnishes the Herald with this information for the benefit of ice men and citizens generally: "There will be four changes of the moon during the month of February, all of them cold and one of them extremely cold. If ice is not good now the harvest may be delayed, as much ice weather will be experienced during the present month." February is usually an ice maker and if the present month scores up with its predecessors of years ago the lady has made an easy guess, and our ice men will be happy accordingly.

The Bradford Era tells of a tall angular man of that place who was recently walking down a steep hill when a piece of ice under the snow caused him to lose control of his feet. He began to slide and was unable to stop. At a crossing half way down he encountered a large, heavy woman and before either realized it a collision ensued and both were sliding down hill, the thin man underneath, the fat woman on top. When the bottom was reached, and the woman was trying to recover her breath and feet, these faint words were borne to her ears: "Pardon me, madam, but you will have to get off here. This is as far as I go."

Men who carry concealed deadly weapons have to pay pretty dearly for the offense when taken before Judge Reed of Jefferson county. Frank Liber, of Big Run, was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for sixty days when caught with the goods. Judiciously applied this sort of administration of the law would tend to lessen crime considerably in all communities. There is no need for every Tom, Dick and Harry in the country going about armed to the teeth with revolver and dirk in these times of peace, and the class of persons that persists in doing so is not the most desirable in the community.

The State authorities have granted the city of Meadville until May 1st to present some definite form of disposing of their sewerage besides emptying it into French creek, and at that time a representative of the State department will visit that city to confer with the proper officials on the subject. This will be good news to all those "down the creek" who ride on the water wagon.—Franklin News. But how about the denizens on down the river farther who are obliged to "take their thirst with Franklin sewerage?" The state authorities have a huge job on their hands when they tackle sewerage systems of the Commonwealth. It's a big job but the southern race problem, we think.

Messrs. Beck & Ott of Warren, who have the contract for the new MacAdams road and street paving in this borough, are taking advantage of the fine sleighing to get the heavy material on the ground. They have several teams hauling and distributing stone for the Telford foundation along the way from the mouth of Tubbs run down to where the paving is to begin. A team can haul more than double the load on good sleighing than on wagons, and it is probable the contractors will save fully half in the expense by getting these stone in now. They are doing the same with the brick which will be used in paving, several car loads having already arrived and are being distributed along the route. The wide-awake contractors will be ready to begin active work as soon as the weather is settled in the spring, and will rush it through to completion as fast as possible.

Few people are aware that there is a law of the state requiring every business man to place a sign giving the name of the proprietor and the character of his business in front of his store. The purpose of the law is to enable the mercantile appraisers to ascertain with as little trouble as possible the name of its business, its location and the character of its business. In many instances the appraisers have found considerable difficulty in locating the proprietor of a store or in discovering his business. Instructions have been issued to mercantile appraisers in the several counties to see that these signs required by law are put up. The fine for disobeying the law is $10 for each offense and the appraisers are to enforce the law. Merchants who have neglected to put out signs as required may get busy and hang them out. Otherwise there is the alternative of a possible $10 fine for each offense.

Extra Number on Lecture Course.

Miss Bess Edith Barton, Dramatic Reader, has been engaged to give an entire evening's entertainment in the court house here on the 11th inst. Miss Barton has had long and successful experience in this work. The program will consist of selections from Shakespeare, Tennyson, Longfellow, Field, Riley and other writers embracing the drama, comedy, child impersonations and pathos. Admission, 20 cents; school pupils, 10 cents. Those presenting Lecture Course tickets will be entitled to their reserved seats and be admitted at half the above prices. This is in reality an additional number on the lecture course, but the funds on hand are not sufficient to pay the whole of the additional cost.

On Feb. 13th the third regular number of the course will be R. S. Kellerman's an illustrated lecture, "Around the World." The Imperial Concert Co. can not appear until the date of the March number. This necessitates a change of attractions but not of dates.

Skin Disease of Twenty Years' Standing Cured.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. I have cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty years' standing. I have been treated by several smart physicians as we have in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.—Mrs. Fannie Griffen, Troy, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by Dunn & Fulton.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Fox, of Eagle Rock, Feb. 21, a son.

Mrs. Sallie Jackson, of Warren, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. J. Hopkins.

Mrs. Frank Swanson, of Jamestown, N. Y., is visiting relatives and friends in town.

C. H. Lawrence, of Tionesta, spent Tuesday here with friends.—Clarion Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis and son Shelton, of Oil City, spent Sunday with relatives here.

T. L. Hill and W. H. Brazeo, of Kellettsville, were Tionesta visitors over Monday night.

Charles Inel came home from State College last Wednesday for a week's visit with his parents.

Mrs. David Edwards and daughter, of Sharon, are here for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Clark.

Misses Marie Smearbaugh and Belle Jamieson of Tionesta spent Tuesday with Miss Sarah Morrow.—Tidionette News.

Richard Scott, of Clarkburg, W. Va., is here with Mrs. Scott who has been visiting friends for several weeks.

C. M. Arner and family went up to Kellettsville last Thursday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Arner. Miss Kate Arner remained there over Sunday.

W. M. Wolcott returned Tuesday from New York City, where he had gone to see Wm. D. Hunter, who has been under treatment in a hospital there since January 23d. He found him somewhat improved.

George W. Warden, upon whom devolves the whole management of the extensive lumbering industry at Endeavor while Mr. Wheeler and his secretary, Mr. Evans, are in Washington, was a business visitor at the county capitol Friday.

In a letter from Mrs. W. A. Shewman, Jr., Portland, Oregon, to one of her Tionesta friends, she said Mr. Shewman left that city on Jan. 23d for San Francisco, to join Mr. G. F. Watson and party on a trip through California.

At the annual meeting of Tidionette Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held in the rooms of the Conewango club, Warren, Pa., Jan. 30th, Mrs. Sue Evans Warden of Endeavor, was chosen as delegate to the D. A. R. Congress which meets in Washington, D. C., in April.

C. W. Sigworth, one of the well known citizens of Washington township, Clarion county, and who for a number of years conducted a store near Lickingville has moved with his family to Philadelphia, where he expects to make his future home. The many friends of "Wes" will wish him prosperity in his new home.

Among the relatives present Sunday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Philip Gloss, were, Jacob Gates, of Rockland, Pa.; Mrs. George Gates, Finley Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Allison, Mrs. Jennie Kerr and Mrs. Madge Ferringer, of Salem, Pa.; Mrs. Harriet Lamb and Miss Smith, of Rousseville, Pa.; and G. W. Jamieson, of Lebanon, Pa.

Our old friend Wm. R. Hasselback, of Fall Creek, Pa., is the champion paid-advance subscriber on our list, his latest check sending the date on his label up to 1914, six years in advance. Thanks, "Billy," and may you live to read the "old rag" at the end of that period and a score or two of years to boot. A wish in which we know your many Forest county friends will join heartily.

Samuel E. Elliott of Pittsburg, was a visitor to Tionesta a day or two of last week. He is remembered here as the son of Rev. Wm. Elliott, a former pastor of the Presbyterian church, and who removed from here in 1881, when the son was but five years of age. Mr. Elliott is employed with an auditing company in Pittsburg as an expert accountant, and while doing some work in his line in this section concluded to stop over and renew old acquaintanceships.

Here are a few pointed tips from an exchange: "Why didn't you put my visitors in the paper?" asked a friend. Truth to tell we did not know you had visitors. You should have told us. We do not mean to say that everybody whose visitors are mentioned has handed in the items themselves. We see a good deal ourselves. But we can't see everything and it will do no harm if you give us some news once in awhile. In fact we will be glad to have you do so.

Kellettsville.

Dr. C. Y. and Wm. Detar visited their father at Fryburg, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Watson and Ozie Pierce spent Wednesday in Warren.

Protracted meeting is in progress at the M. E. church.
Mat. Cunningham met with a serious accident Friday. While working in the cutting room of the kindling wood factory, a splinter was lodged in his eye. A visit to Dr. Ball, eye specialist, of Warren, resulted in its removal. He was getting along nicely at last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bauer, of Warren, are visiting relatives in town.

Lawrence Marbach and Myrna Detar visited friends at Fryburg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Whitten, of Tionesta, visited the former's sister, Mrs. A. Bauer, over Sunday.

A. L. Weller met with an accident last week which might have proved serious. He was driving his team of spirited horses down the road, when a cow chased by a dog tried to cross the road. The cow jumped into the sled and knocked Mr. Weller out of the sled on the other side, but luckily he escaped without injury, except a few slight bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hendricks made a business trip to Warren, Thursday.

A number of our town girls gave a leap year sleighing party last Thursday evening. Each young lady invited a gentleman friend. They left town about eight o'clock, drove to Minister, where an elaborate supper was served by Mrs. Stover, after which the time was spent in playing games. Every one enjoyed the occasion immensely and the boys say they will go again if they are invited. Who says the Kellettsville girls are slow?

We have a special shoe bargain counter that will interest you. Excellent goods that they get at less than cost while they last. Hopkins.

Death of Mrs. Phillip Gloss.

Mary Ann Gates was born Dec. 21, 1828, at Holman Flats, on the Allegheny river, three miles south of Tionesta, and died very suddenly of heart failure at the home of her son, Quintain Jamieson, Tionesta, Pa., Jan. 30, 1908. On March 18, 1863, she was united in marriage with Gilbert Jamieson, who died Sept. 19, 1891. To this union one daughter, Kate, was born, and who died as she was entering upon the threshold of young womanhood. In 1902 the subject of this sketch was united in marriage with Phillip Gloss, of Elk City, Clarion county, and on March 23, 1907, by the death of Mr. Gloss, she was again left a widow, after a brief but happy married life of about five years. Since then she had made her home in Tionesta with her eldest son, J. W. Jamieson.

When ten years of age the deceased united with the Methodist Episcopal church, and to the day of her death remained a faithful, loyal member of that organization. In all the walks of life she exemplified the true Christian spirit. Coming into the home of her first husband when his three boys were yet quite young she took up the cares of the household and to these little ones became the idolized mother of after years, and was rev-erenced and obeyed by them throughout her remaining days. Mrs. Gloss was a woman of most noble traits of character. Blessed with a superior intellect she found great comfort in the study of her bible and could always give a reason for the faith that was in her. Though of a quiet disposition, not given to much talk, she was yet a most interesting and entertaining conversationalist and loved the companionship of those who could converse intelligently upon the sterner realities of life. In her domestic life she was most loving and devoted, and it is doubtful whether she ever fully recovered from the shock occasioned by the death of the sweet young daughter in whom her life seemed wrapped up. Beloved and respected by all who knew her she will be greatly missed and mourned by them, and the community will long cherish her memory.

The deceased is survived by three stepsons, John W. and Quintain Jamieson, of Tionesta, and Gilbert Wilson Jamieson, of Lebanon, Pa. Also by an adopted daughter, Mrs. Charles Banks, of Chambersburg, Pa., one brother, Jacob Gates, of Rockland, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. Maria Lamb, of California.

Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Gloss were held at the home of Mr. Jamieson Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. O. Cahoon, officiating. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery. The pall-bearers were her three sons and three grandsons.

Porkey.

D. W. Downey was called to Oil City last Tuesday by the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary Ellen Downey, which occurred on Monday afternoon at the Oil City hospital, where she was taken for treatment about two months ago. Her body was conveyed to Corry, Pa., for burial. She was aged about 75 years.

Miss Nora Stover, of Minister, visited her cousin, Mrs. F. A. Littlefield, on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Lore was numbered among the grip victims last week. Mrs. Jas. Mansfield and two children, of Warren, spent last week as a guest of her sister, Mrs. L. A. Littlefield. Mrs. A. L. Lightner and son, of Youngsville, Pa., visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. E. Gillespie, a couple of days last week. John Littlefield was a Sheffield visitor on Thursday.

O. E. Rupert spent several days at Mayburg last week.

Miss Myrtle Durnell was a guest of Kellettsville friends a couple of days the first of last week.

Mrs. J. W. Littlefield and daughter, and Mrs. Jas. Littlefield and son visited Mrs. John Goodard at Lynch on Thursday.

Mrs. Ben. George, of Sheffield, and Mrs. Wm. Herrington and two children, of Kellettsville, were guests of Mrs. Ed. Gillespie on Friday.

J. A. Lore and wife were Sheffield visitors on Saturday.

Nathan Burdick, of Hastings, spent Saturday and Sunday at "The Orphanage."

Al. Marbaugh, of Kellettsville, called on friends in town on Saturday between trains.

Miss Tenia Zuendel, of Ross Run, is spending a couple of weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ben. Weller, at the Weller boarding house up Porkey Run.

Misses Lottie Bloss and Katharine Hepier were Warren shoppers, Saturday.

Muzette.

When the thermometer "joked to 12 below," the mill at Guebuck suspended operations for a few days.

Messrs. Alex. Bell and Amos Walton are right down to business in the way of putting logs to the mill.

Mr. Hood, of Tionesta, while on a business trip through this section, took dinner at the Shoup house recently. He made an inspection of the Muzette school, which he reports from an educational standpoint, under the instruction of Miss Nellie McElravy, as doing excellent work this winter. The line of work is worthy of commendation in this community.

We are not as yet able to report an Illinois oil field, although we can safely say that, while operating one of the abandoned wells at Guebuck, they bailed a barrel or two of the crude from the well, which showing is evidence that we are handy a good pay streak. The well would make a small producer.

Miss Florence McCartney, teacher of the Guitonville school, passed through town last Saturday on her way to Marionville.

In giving an account of the killing of a huge wildcat, in our last letter, it should have read Roy Hulings, instead of Walter Hulings. A mistake of the correspondent.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.
