The prohibitionists ought to give hearty support to the scheme to develop a great system of waterways.

The California judge who decided that pedestrians need not dodge autos must have a friend or to in the undertaking business.

Gov. Johnson of Minnesota refuses to be interviewed on his candidacy. Mr. Bryan will be puzzled by this prompt introduction of the noiseless gun.

SOME of the European countries are inspecting their schoolhouse exits. A calamity like that in Cleveland touches a chord that responds everywhere.

THE Pure Oil Company gives the credit for increased dividends and brighter prospects to President Roosevelt's course against predatory wealth. In a letter to the stockholders the company says, in part: "We wish to impress on all of our stockholders and all others wishing to engage in legitimate business enterprises the importance of upholding, in every honorable way, the present policies of our chief executive as regards federal control of transportation." There is no question but that President Roosevelt has opened the eyes of many by his policies.

New County Committeemen.

Republicans of the county must not overlook the matter of electing in each voting precinct a member of the County Committee, and in order to get the names of the candidates on the regular ballot it is necessary to file with the County Commissioners a petition containing the names of ten Republicans in the district on or before the 21st inst., which will be next Saturday. If this matter has not already been attended to it should be seen to at once.

A "LIFE-LONG DEMOCRAT" writes to a Hartford Democratic paper to say that "A galvanized corpse can beat Bryan. Bryan can beat a drum." Some of the Democrats are getting mad on the subject of the third licking.

AS THE hand and voice of the anarchist are against every one, it is natural and necessary that society should take up the challenge with that understanding. It is easy to foresee that the treatment will be thorough.

THE meaneast paymaster in the world is Uncle Sam. The architect who designed the National Library has just died without getting his pay. There are millions in the Treasury received on account of the French Spoilation and the Alabama claims to which the government has no just title, but which it refuses to pay out. Contractors hate to work for Uncle Sam, because he is always finding fault and cutting down payments. Because there are a few grafters after the national purse is no reason why the Nation should be persistently and continuously unjust.

THIS is sarcasm from the Philadelphia Inquirer: Senator Tillman has his pitfall out after the New York banks. He thinks they are loaning money for use in speculation. This is an outrageous libel. The idea that the banks loan money to men engaged in speculation in stocks is enough to shock anyone. Of course, it isn't so. We don't deny that there is a tremendous amount of speculation going on in New York and that in active times about fifty million dollars a day are used in tossing stocks back and forth, but the money is dug up out of old stockings and vest pockets for the purpose. No self-respecting bank would lend itself to any such thing as speculation. We are surprised at the guileless innocence and the rank suspicion harbored in the Tillman breast. The bankers themselves say that they are only aiding business and that ought to settle it. A rose by any other name smells a good deal sweeter during a Congressional investigation.

THE jury in the first capitol conspiracy cases at Harrisburg has returned a verdict of guilty against the four defendants, John H. Sanderson, contractor; William P. Snyder, ex-auditor; W. L. Mathews, ex-state treasurer, and James M. Shumaker, ex-superintendent. The trial has been in progress since Jan. 27, and the verdict was rendered on Friday last after the jury had deliberated several hours. Immediately upon the announcement of the verdict counsel for each defendant made motions for new trials. The maximum penalty in each case is two years' imprisonment and $1,000 fine. Other trials will follow these and there will be no excusing of any who are guilty. As the Franklin News puts it, the Republican party suffered because of the shortcomings of some of its prominent men, but it has now kept its pledges and is entitled to full credit as a party for its uniform integrity in managing the affairs of the Commonwealth. No organization can wholly escape the troubles incident to dishonest employees, but an organization that does its best to give good government and which punishes those who do wrong is entitled to the confidence of the people. It was freely predicted by the opposition organs that the men guilty of graft would be allowed to escape. This has been disproved. The Republican party does not stand for any dishonest course and those who do wrong find no protection from the organization.

Missionary Policyholders.

The following from the Pittsburg Post on the subject of life insurance strikes us as sensible and quite to the point: Although there are comparatively few men who have taken out life insurance on any of the commonly established plans who are not enthusiastic believers in this form of investment, savings, and safeguarding combined, yet the ratio of insured to uninsured is surprisingly small, and the cost of getting new business even with economies recently effected in all of the larger companies is yet very high. Most life insurance companies are now on a mutual basis.

This suggests that the satisfied among the insured, and these are legion, are not doing their whole duty by their fellow men who are not insured, or they would more fruitfully tell them how good insurance is. They are not doing their duty by themselves, or they would work to reduce the ratio of expense by such missionary endeavor. All life insurance nowadays is devised so that a man doesn't have to die to win. With liberal loan and surrender values, with ample facilities to get one's policy extended or commuted, even if he isn't able to keep up payments, there is no all-around means of putting the savings of the average small wage-earner where they will be better available for a wide variety of contingencies better than good life insurance. A man with a goodly sum invested in well chosen life insurance is better off, and his family also, than he had it tied up in property. For while it doesn't always bring in an income, it affords protection against want if death strikes the mainstay of the family. It affords collateral that is good for a loan on fair terms in the tightest of times, and it cannot depreciate or be destroyed.

Mrs. Maud Berlin certainly deserves much credit for the efficient manner in which she has conducted our school the past two terms. Last term Mrs. Berlin's school carried off the honors of the entire county, and again this year her pupils won two scholarships, being the maximum number allowed any one school.

By-the-way, we most heartily endorse the work of our primary teacher, Miss Alice McCrea, who has given us most excellent work and has completely won the hearts and affections of our little folks, and nothing would give us greater pleasure than to see our "mams" back with us another term. Erie is being flooded with counterfeit half dollars, and the keen search which is being made for the spurious, and the agents distributing it has produced interesting developments. It is now believed that the counterfeit money was shipped to this part of the state alone for circulation.

After living in supposed lawful wedlock for five years Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Reutta, of Westland, Washington County have just learned they simply secured a marriage license but had no marriage ceremony performed. They had just arrived from Italy at the time and were not accustomed to American laws.

Discovery of a freak supply of natural gas on the farm of D. L. Frazee, in Amwell Township, Washington County, has caused excitement among land owners. Recently gas was noticed escaping from the ground and when a well was sunk four feet sufficient gas was found to light and heat the Frazee house. A five-foot well in the yard of the Lone Pine school has produced gas to heat the school room.

FORTIFICATIONS BILL

As Reported From the Committee Carries Only $2,210,611.

Washington, March 17.—The fortifications bill, carrying a total appropriation of $8,210,611 instead of the $38,443,945 asked for by the war department, was reported to the house committee on appropriations by Chairman Smith of the sub-committee on fortifications. The sub-committee fell, aside from other considerations, that to recommend an appropriation of $38,909,000 for fortifications at this time would be an action which might be very seriously construed by Japan as an official declaration that the United States was preparing against a war with that nation.

The amount recommended by the committee is larger than any which has been annually appropriated since the Spanish-American war. The cutting down of the department's estimates by $30,233,334 means, among other things, that the committee has recommended practically nothing for continental United States and has appropriated mainly for the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands.

The committee has turned down entirely the department's proposal for the fortifications of Manila harbor by the construction and fortification of an artificial island and nothing is carried for Subig bay.

The only points in continental United States appropriated for in the bill as revised by the committee are Deception Pass in Puget sound; at Charleston, S. C.; Pensacola, Fla.; Mobile, Ala., and various points where expenditures are required for the installation of range findings apparatus. For the Hawaiian Islands practically everything is allowed that was recommended by the Taft board excepting the fortification of Pearl harbor. Provision is made for the fortification of Carabal Island in Manila bay.

Neglected Colds Threatened Life.

[From the Chicago Tribune.] "Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Dunn and Fulton.
