Call for Committee Meeting.

To the Members of the Republican County Committee of Forest County:
In compliance with the rules governing the party in the county, which requires the committee to assemble at the Court House within thirty (30) days after the spring primary for the purpose of organization and to elect a Chairman, you are hereby notified that the date of such meeting has been set for Friday, May 8, 1908. All members are urged to be present or to send properly executed proxies according to article 9th of the party rules, J. C. DENN, Chairman.
Tionesta, Pa., April 27, 1908.

It is noted the expense accounts of the candidates at the recent primary election last week as filed at the Prothonotary's office in this county, the REPUBLICAN stated that the account of W. E. Rice, candidate for President Judge, had not yet been filed. This may have been misleading to some extent. It seems it is necessary for district candidates to file their accounts in the county in which they reside only, and this provision Mr. Rice had already complied with by filing his expense accounts covering the district with the clerk of the court of quarter session of Warren county.

The Republican State convention was held at Harrisburg a week ago today and partook largely of the nature of ratification meeting, that is, ratifying Pennsylvania's choice for President. Senator Knox was given the most flattering endorsement in resolutions that have no uncertain sound, and that he will be supported by the solid delegation from this state at the Chicago convention goes without saying. Judge William D. Porter was re-nominated for Judge of the Superior Court without opposition. Thirty-four Presidential electors were named, and a strong platform was placed before the voters. Senator Penrose was endorsed for re-election, and the administrations of President Roosevelt and Governor Stewart were warmly commended. Col. Wesley R. Andrews was unanimously re-elected chairman of the State committee.

Our good brother Smith, of the Punxsutawney Spirit, who, we regret to say, went down in the recent battle of ballots for Congressional honors in his district, has already forgotten the sting of defeat and turned his attention again to writing good things and sensible for his paper, which, by-the-way, is quoted the world over. One of Br'er Smith's favorite topics of discourse is man's perverted appetite, and many a good lecture has been written on dietician economy, and so it is that when we find a good thing in his paper we always like to reproduce it and thus give it a good circulation. Here, for instance, is a paragraph worth reading:
It is generally admitted that the greatest cause of ill health is overeating. Man's stomach is the furnace that supplies the power to run his physical and mental machinery. He clogs it with food because of the sensual pleasure of eating and drinking. A locomotive fireman who would use as bad judgment about throwing fuel into the furnace would be discharged for incompetency in a week. Now, every sensible reader will recognize the truth of this statement at a glance, but will it do any good? Would you be surprised to find the writer of it seated at a table devouring a platter of frog legs high enough to hide behind, with another loaded with French-fried potatoes as a side dish, and nothing but a pot of coffee strong enough to float a goose egg to wash it down with? We wouldn't—because we've seen it in our day and generation. Oh, the "foolishness of preaching!"

Concerning Third Terms.

An Associated Press dispatch to the Herald says that between 300 and 400 letters are received daily at the White House urging President Roosevelt to run again. These letters come from all parts of the country, it is said, from members of all political parties, and in them various arguments are used by the writers to induce Mr. Roosevelt to again accept a nomination.
The letters have increased in volume in the last two weeks and some of them are said to be almost tragic in their earnestness. The writers argue that the President is in the thick of his campaign for the establishment of complete government control over interstate commerce and other reforms; that it is impossible to transfer this work successfully to another, since Mr. Roosevelt's personality is a powerful factor in achieving this success; that the Republican party cannot afford to nominate any man who is not sure of election, and that the President is the only Republican who would be certain to defeat any other candidate.
In all of his replies to such letters the President simply reminds his correspondents of his former declarations on the subject and reiterates that his position is unchanged.

In this it is pretty well understood that he simply means to stand like adamant by the principle laid down by Washington and Jefferson, that two terms should be the limit of any president's incumbency.

In taking such a stand Washington was influenced by weariness and advancing age, while Jefferson dared not stultify himself. The former also feared that the unanimity of previous elections would be followed by a bitter contest, while the latter arranged with Madison and Monroe for a continuance of his policies, and virtually made them his successors.

So, strictly speaking there are holes in the precedent; while Mr. Roosevelt was elected only once, as President.

Nevertheless, the people have come to regard two terms as enough for any man, as even General Grant was compelled to discover, despite Roscoe Conkling's brilliant leadership.

What Washington would have done had the people demanded that he retain office, we do not know. That Jefferson would have regarded such a call as mandatory, there can be no doubt.

But all this is merely academic. President Roosevelt has said emphatically that he will not run again. The Republican party has plenty of men competent to conduct the presidential office with an eye single to the honor and glory of the country.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Neighborhood Notes.

—Most men with swelled heads wear awfully small hats.

Joseph Donahue, aged 25 years, of Titusville, met death by drowning while canoeing on the creek at Mystic Park, near that city Sunday afternoon.

While tearing down an old barn at Clarksville, Mercer county, on Tuesday, workmen came upon a glass jar containing $500 in gold. No one has as yet put in a claim of ownership of the treasure.

G. L. Morlock, who has been cashier of the Sheffield National Bank since it opened, resigned May 1st. He is succeeded by A. H. Bailey, who for many years has been auditor and general passenger agent of the Tionesta Valley Railroad.

Pearl Snyder, aged 19, committed suicide by drowning herself in a pond within a few yards of her home at Mosier-town, Crawford county, Friday morning. Her action is supposed to have been induced by ill health, which had extended over a period of more than two years.

A report sent out from Brookville, Jefferson county, is to the effect that Frank Swineford, a farmer, living near Knoxdale, Saturday night shot and killed an unknown tramp who had forced his way into the house by kicking down the door. Swineford fired three times to frighten the intruder, who continued advancing upstairs. Swineford then killed the robber with the last shot in his revolver. The dead man had entered and robbed three other nearby houses earlier in the evening.

Rabies Kills Friend of Dog.

Scranton, May 5.—Frank Hill, aged 44 years, who was a great friend of dogs, died at the Hahnemann hospital after suffering eighteen hours from hydrophobia in its worst form. Hill had a habit of patting on the head every dog he happened to meet. Three weeks ago he was playing with one of these chance acquaintances, permitting it to lick his hand, on which there was a small scratch sustained while Hill was at work in the mines. Dr. John F. Snyder says Hill thus became infected with the disease.

Four Laborers Killed in Sewer Trench

Altoona, Pa., May 5.—Four Italian laborers were killed and three seriously injured Saturday by the caving in of a trench which was being dug for a sewer in this city. The trench, which was ten feet deep, was supported by timbers, but recent rains loosened the earth and the timbers giving way suddenly tons of dirt fell upon the workers. Three of the men were dug out alive, but the other four were dead when uncovered.

Treasurer Sheatz Inducted.

Harrisburg, May 5.—John C. Sheatz took the oath of office yesterday as state treasurer for the term of two years, succeeding William H. Berry. The induction of Mr. Sheatz was without ceremony. Mr. Sheatz will personally direct affairs of the department. He has named six new attaches of the department, Joseph P. Gates of Bedford county being the new cashier, succeeding B. F. Measy of Ridley park.

Plucky Girl Pursues Burglar.

Butler, May 5.—At the home of William Crawford in Butler township Sunday night, Miss Mary Crawford awoke to find a stranger in her room. She screamed for help and pursued the man as he ran downstairs. Her brother leveled a shotgun at the burglar and fired but his aim was poor and the fugitive escaped.
