Summer Millinery

Now is the Object of Utmost Attention.

Monday and Tuesday were our Summer Millinery Opening Days. Come! See the splendid preparations we have made for your benefit! Look around to your heart's content! Try on the beautiful new hats! That's the one and only way to know positively the lengths we have gone to in our determination to give our customers the prettiest, the most novel, the most charmingly attractive summer hats. The latest vagaries of the fashion originators are revealed here this week.

69c for Matting Rugs. 39c for Porch Cushions.

Two items for porch furnishings which merit attention just now. The rugs are 36x72 inches and are sold in all the large cities at $1.25 apiece. We bought a lot of them from an importer at our own price. The porch cushions are just as cheap in proportion.

New Wash Skirts for Summer are Handsome and Inexpensive.

For all women who favor cool, stylish and practical skirts for summer wear, the garment section has a message of moment today. Concerns a nobby line of Wash Skirts which we are showing for the first time this season.

For inexpensive garments they are revelations of attractiveness and utility. Think of linen, shrunk cotton or lawn skirts fully twice as handsome as you have known in past seasons, which may be bought for less money than hitherto, and you will have a correct idea of the importance of this announcement.

$1 Rough Silks at 59 Cents.

We have all colors, both light and dark.

BAWDEN'S CHAIR VACATED.

Did Not Resign as Demanded by President Dabney.

Cincinnati, May 28. — The resignation of Professor H. H. Bawden from the chair of philosophy in the University of Cincinnati not having been presented as demanded by President Dabney, that chair has been formally declared vacant by the university trustees.

In a statement issued today the trustees explain that their action was taken on unanimously for the following reasons:

"1. Professor Bawden came here under false pretensions, having been dismissed from Vassar college on substantially the same grounds as mentioned under number 2. He acknowledges this in his letter of May 3, published in the newspapers.

"2. His manner of life, as well as his teaching, is destructive of the family, the foundation of human society.

"3. After receiving the president's letter asking for his resignation Professor Bawden came to the president's office and threatened him with publication of his story and his opinions on the subjects if he did not withdraw the letter. This he afterward did, to the scandal of the university and the violation of public decency and good morals."

A Divided Answer.

The country mind sometimes works slowly, although with an enviable weight and accuracy, but the country mode of expression is usually to the point. Even its pauses serve their turn. They are always of rhetorical value. An old fisherman sat by the sea wall skinning eels which were that forenoon to be packed in ice and sent to a city market. A young woman, a visitor in town, stood by watching the unusual occupation and quite fascinated by the ease and dexterity with which it was carried on. At length she felt the necessity of "making talk."

"What do you get for eels?" she asked. "Nothin'," returned the old man emphatically, stripping off a skin. Then with the same precision and lightning like haste he "peeled" another and another, leaving his visitor to wonder at the eccentricity which prompted him to take so much trouble unwarded. It was only after she had given up the question as a bad job that he calmly finished his sentence—"to what I'd ought to."

How Sleep is Brought.

Just how sleep is brought about is one of the unsolved problems that have been before science since the earliest times. There are three general explanations of sleep. They are called the circulatory, the chemical and the histological theories. The first two have subdivisions. The histological theory is now pretty well accepted. The nervous system is made up of thousands of nerve cells. These are connected like a huge net by nerve elements, little branching fibers. Each nerve element is structurally interdependent, but functionally dependent. Neurologists tell us that the fibers become disconnected in sleep—that is, each nerve cell is separated from its neighbors by the elements, or connecting fibers, becoming disconnected. The nerve cells build up themselves while separated, as they have no messages from the body to bear to the brain. As the sleeper regains consciousness the nerve fibers unite and once more begin their duties.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Taken at His Word.

Master Walter, aged five, had eaten the soft portions of his toast at breakfast and piled the crumbs on his plate. "When I was a little boy," remarked his father, who sat opposite him, "I always ate the crumbs of my toast." "Did you like them?" inquired his offspring cheerfully. "Yes," replied the parent. "You may have these," said Master Walter, pushing his plate across the table.—Harper's Weekly.

Mark Twain's Mean Man.

"The meanest man I ever knew," said Mark Twain, "lived in Hamblint. He sold his son-in-law the half of a very fine cow and then refused to share the milk with the young fellow on the ground that he had only sold him the front half. The son-in-law was also compelled to provide all the cow's fodder and to carry water to her twice a day. Finally the cow butted the old man through a barbed wire fence, and he sued his son-in-law for $50 damages."

DEATH OF A VENERABLE PHYSICIAN.

In November last death claimed one of the venerable physicians of Western New York, Dr. Alonzo Witse of Delavan, Cattaraugus County. Mr. Witse had been a practicing physician for seventy years. A peculiar circumstance in connection with his life is the fact that thirty years ago he was stricken with Bright's disease and after a thorough examination and consultation by eminent Buffalo physicians, his case was pronounced incurable and he was advised to prepare for the closing of his earthly career.

Returning to his home with such sad information he was spurred to make a desperate analysis and study of Bright's disease, with the result that he formulated a remedy which completely cured him and gave him an additional lease of thirty years of life, or until the age of 94 years, as mentioned above.

Mr. Witse in his practice thereafter used the remedy with great success. The mixture can be obtained at any local drug store at a nominal cost, and the complete formula will be mailed, post-paid, on receipt of twenty-five cents by addressing the Empire Type Foundry, 809 Morgan Bldg., Buffalo, N. Y., enclosing 25 cents in stamps or coin. The Empire Type Foundry is one of the largest anti-trust type makers and is given a rating by Dun's Commercial Agency of $20,000, with high credit.
