The catalogue for the coming school year of the Pennsylvania State Normal School at Indiana, Pa., is one of the most complete books of its kind that has come to our notice. It is a splendid specimen of artistic arrangement and printing. One cannot be otherwise than impressed that this school is a model institution of learning. The beautiful grounds and commodious, well arranged buildings are shown in a profusion of half-tone illustrations and the various departments and equipment all described at length in a most interesting way. Write to the school for a copy of this catalogue.

Argument court convened Thursday and owing to the absence of President Judge Lindsey a recess was taken till July 30th. Associates Kretler and Hill appointed F. F. Whittekin, artist, and M. N. Gilbert of West Hickory, and Herman Blum of German Hill, viewers to view a proposed bridge at the mouth of Otter creek, in Hickory township.

T. C. Hawkey has been busy this week plugging abandoned wells on what was once Tidoute island. He plugged five, all he could locate. The work was done to see if it was possible to exhaust the fresh water in the wells on the Cullen farm and get back the oil. In the old days there were many holes drilled on the island whose location are now in the river bed and can never be located.—Tidoute News.

It is seldom that in the first three days of the Chautauqua Institution such a group of brilliant speakers and educators is brought together as Professor Tyler of Amherst, Miss Addams of Hull House, President Frost of Berea College, President Bryan of Franklin, Dean Vincent of Chicago, and Bishop John Vincent. These educators will be there during the first three days, commencing July 2.

Will D. Hunter, who recently came home from New York city, where he had been receiving treatment at a hospital, was on Friday taken to the State hospital at North Warren by Commissioner Agnew. Will's actions for some time past have been such as to cause apprehension on the part of his friends who deemed it best to place him where he could receive careful and proper treatment, and so, at the request of his father this step was taken. Many friends hope for his speedy restoration to sound mental and bodily health.

A current crop item presents a very optimistic view of the outlook throughout this section. It says: Fruit of all kinds will be a bumper crop, potatoes are in bloom. The wheat looks exceptionally good and is already coloring, about two weeks earlier than usual. The straw is of unusual height and thickness. Oats are looking good and many of the farmers are already commencing to cut their hay. Timothy seeded early and not in years has the yield to the acre shown such a large average. Farmers are cutting clover and expect to have a double crop this year and some of the more optimistic expect to reap a third crop for next year's seed. A large amount of buckwheat is being sowed.

Sixty-two young men and young women received their diplomas last week at the Clarion State Normal School. The commencement exercises closed Wednesday morning with an address to the graduating class by Dr. William Baxter Owen of Lafayette College. The features of the week's exercises were the principal's reception to the Senior class, the annual contest between the literary societies which was won by the Franklin Society, the baccalaureate sermon delivered by the Rev. Cornelius Woeifkin of Rochester Theological Seminary, campus pageant, concert by the Music Department, class day exercises, special reunions of the classes of '88, '89, '98, '06 and the alumni banquet which was exceptionally well attended.

M. E. Church Contract Awarded.
The bids for the construction of the new Methodist Episcopal church in Tionesta were opened here Saturday evening by Messrs. T. D. Collins, G. F. Watson and Judge F. X. Kretler, and the contract was awarded to Corrin & Wilt and Theobald & Thomas of Franklin, Pa., constituting the Franklin Contracting and Building Company, their bid of $23,988 being the lowest received. There were five bidders for the work, the others being H. W. Long, of Franklin, Pa., J. H. Groves, of Kane, Pa., Hyde, Murphy & Co., of Ridgway, Pa., and J. A. Nixon, of Titusville, Pa., and the bids ranged from $20,000 down to that of the successful firm. The contract price covers the cost of the building complete with plumbing and steam heating apparatus, excepting however the pews and windows. We are informed that the contractors expect to begin the work next Monday morning and that it will be pushed with all possible speed. The building is to be of solid Hummelstown brown stone from the grade up, the foundation to be of native stone. The interior finish of the church proper is to be white oak stained golden oak. The basement will be finished in yellow pine, stained or finished natural. Altogether it will be a beautiful piece of architecture and one in which our town can take great pride.

The Local Oil Field.
G. H. Lowe & Co.'s No. 2 on the Robinson tract, in the McKee field, was finished and shot last Thursday. It is a good producer. They are at work on another well.
G. H. Lowe & Co.'s second well on the Clapp tract, in Hickory township, was drilled to the third sand last week and was dry. They have abandoned the lease. S. T. Carson is drilling a well on the Whitney tract, on Cropp hill, Green township, for Mr. Swab of Bradford.

Proper Bros. are at work on a well on the C. Burhenn farm, on the Jug Handle road, in Kingsley township.
Len Snyder is rigging up to drill a well for Jacob Wagner on his own farm in Tionesta township. The first three wells drilled by Mr. Wagner were on the Geo. Allio farm and only one showed any signs of making a producer.

In the West Hickory field Orion Siggins finished and shot No. 2 on his farm, Monday, and it is showing up for a fine producer. The last ventures of Carson & Morrow and the South Penn Oil Co. were dusters.
During the second storm on Monday night of last week lightning struck a hundred barrel stock tank on the farm of R. O. Carson, at Neilltown, and it was burned, together with about fifty barrels of oil. Some drilling tools, etc., stored near the tank, were considerably damaged by the flames.

ROBBED MAIDEN LADY AT PITHOLE
Miss Eliza Copeland is Victim of Thieves Who Rob Her of $130, and Other Valuables.
F. R. Barnes, aged 52 years, and John Warren, aged 18 years, were arrested in the Keystone Hotel, Franklin, this morning about 4:30 o'clock, just as they were arising from bed. They are now in jail and have been charged with robbery by District Attorney Goodwin.
Wednesday afternoon, at Pithole, the two men arrived at the Copeland home—stead about 2:50 o'clock. They entered the yard and requested Miss Eliza Copeland, aged 57 years, to give them a drink. She complied with their request, and the men seated themselves in a chair and entered into conversation with her.
Barnes asked many questions concerning the early days of Pithole and seemed familiar with many of the famous oil wells and the operating firms. He inquired if Miss Copeland was acquainted with the Nortons, who formerly conducted a hotel, and when she replied in the affirmative they talked for some time about the family. Miss Copeland went into the kitchen to continue the work she had stopped when the men arrived, and they followed her, Barnes keeping up his talk of the old town.
Miss Copeland, during a lull in the conversation, turned to look at the men and found Barnes standing close by, covering her with a revolver. She was told to keep quiet and no harm would come to her if she told them where she kept her money. She refused to answer them and tried to brush the revolver aside.
The men then seized her by the shoulders and proceeded to tie her hands with a piece of clothesline one of them produced from his pocket. Taking a long towel from the wall Barnes placed it about the woman's head and started to drag her up stairs. The boy followed and when Miss Copeland would hang back he would shove her along.
When the trio arrived up stairs Miss Copeland was thrown on a bed and the men started to search for money. Barnes the pilot of tracing paper on the mantel they found $130 in bills. This seemed to satisfy them and the search was discontinued. Taking the remainder of the clothesline they bound Miss Copeland's feet, and moving her arms above her head, tied the end of the rope to the head of the bed and left her.
She was found by Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCalmont, at 6 o'clock, when they returned to the house. Mrs. McCalmont is a niece of Miss Copeland and the couple made their home with her.
Barnes and Warren, on reaching the first floor of the house, confiscated a Winchester rifle, a revolver, a supply of ammunition and a couple of knives. It was about 4:30 o'clock when they left the house and they evidently walked to Rousseville, going via Plumer. At Rousseville they boarded a trolley car and came to Oil City.
When the robbery became known they were tracked from Rousseville to Duncon street, where they left the car and walked to the Oil Exchange corner. Here they boarded a Monarch Park car and stopped at the park for some time. Later they proceeded towards Franklin, leaving the car at Cochran station.
The Franklin police started on their trail, assisted by Detective Dempsey, when it was known they had left Monarch Park. Dempsey and Chief Shaffer walked along the P. R. R. tracks, searching box cars, but later returned to town.
They learned that two persons, answering the description of Barnes and Warren had gone into the Keystone Hotel at a very late hour. Arousing the proprietor they found they had been given a straight tip, and in a few minutes were asking admittance to the room. Barnes and Warren surrendered without any trouble. Beneath a pillow on the bed was found $87 and two revolvers. In one of the men's clothes was found $45. The rifle was also found.
This morning Miss Copeland went to Franklin and identified the men, also the stolen property.
The Warren lad states he met Barnes a short time ago in Warren, that he did not know he was going to commit robbery when the stop was made at the Copeland homestead. He says Barnes is a criminal and has served time in the penitentiary on the charge of counterfeiting. The Police say Barnes looks the part.
Barnes and Warren would no doubt have been apprehended by the Oil City police had word been received at an earlier hour of the robbery. It was not until the men had passed through here that a message arrived stating the robbery had occurred and asking that the men be arrested. No description was given of either man and it was not until inquiry was made that any clew was secured of what Barnes or Warren looked like. It was then learned the men had arrived here from Rousseville and departed on a Franklin car going via the park. This information eventually led to their capture when it was communicated to the Franklin police.

This afternoon Barnes and Warren were taken before Alderman McVey for a hearing. They were charged with assault and robbery and were held for court. Both gave Pittsburg as their place of residence.—Oil City Blizard, 25th.

Miss Copeland is well known in Tionesta and throughout this section, where she was once a successful school teacher, and a number of her relatives still reside in Forest county. She was born at Braintree, Vt., in 1851, and is 57 years old. She came to Pithole with her parents in 1856, where the family resided for many years. At the death of her parents she inherited the old Copeland farm of 100 acres and all the personal property. At one time her father, Mr. Copeland, was offered $750,000 for the Copeland farm. On account of this wife being unable to get from Vermont, where she was visiting, in time to sign the paper, the deal was declared off. Miss Copeland was educated at the Elmhor State Normal School and is a lady of rare intellectual attainments. Six years ago Miss Copeland gave up teaching and is now living a retired life on the homestead.
