Remnant Sale Prices in the Cloak Room and Millinery Department.
Time was when we sold only remnants at these sales. Now the Cloak Room and Millinery Departments are included, and whatever items are on sale will be marked just as cheap as though it was a remnant of Calico or Gingham. Salespeople have been busy the last two weeks measuring up and ticketing the remnants.
A ticket on every remnant with the yards, former price and Remnant Sale Price plainly marked. The price for the entire remnant is marked in red ink.
If there's the usual big Remnant Day crowd and you can't get immediate attention, just make your own comparison between the plainly marked regular price and the remnant sale price marked in red ink. That will tell you whether or not the remnant's cheap.

REMNANTS
of Silks, Dress Goods, Damask, Crash, Flannel, Outings, Curt in Goods, Dress Linings, Persian Lawn, India Linen, Longcloth, Cambric, Nainsook, Sheetings, Pillow Muslin, White Wistings, Percals, Gingham, Prints, Colored Lawns, Ribbons, Laces, Embroideries, Dress Trimmings, and Shirt Waist Linens.

500 Lace and Embroidery Remnants.
Remnants of Silk up to 16 yards.
Remnants of Wash Goods up to 15 yards.
Remnants of Damask up to 3 1/2 yards.
Remnants of Curtain Goods up to 12 yards.
Remnants of Dress Goods up to 8 yards.
Remnant of Silks—Great many of our choicest silks are bought in Waist and Suit lengths. These will be out with the remnants marked as remnants.
Dress Goods—Never cut up so many yards of Dress Goods in a spring season, consequently there's more Dress Goods remnants than ever.

White Goods Remnants—Every one knows how this store has been selling Lawns, Nainsooks, Longcloth and Persian Lawn since March 1st. Well, this leaves us with more White Goods remnants than ever before, so it's not likely they will all be sold in the first several hours of the sale as heretofore.
Dress Trimmings—Separate counter for Dress Trimmings as there are so many of them. Braids, Appliques and All-overs.
Important Notice—Many of the Silks, Dress Goods and Wash Goods remnants contain enough for Waist or Skirt, some enough for an Entire Suit.

LOOK BUT ONE BALLOT
Bryan Had 221 Votes More Than Enough to Nominate.
Names of George Gray of Delaware and Governor Johnson of Minnesota Placed in Nomination—John Worth Kern of Indiana Nominated For Vice President by Acclamation.
William Jennings Bryan was Friday morning nominated for president of the United States by the Democratic national convention at Denver. The nomination was made at 3:40 o'clock amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm. The vast assemblage breaking on masses into frenzied demonstration of intensely dramatic tribute to the chosen leader.
The only ballot gave Bryan the commanding and decisive total of 92 1/2 votes, or 221 more than enough to nominate, with Gray 59 1/2 and Johnson 46.
The speech placing William J. Bryan in nomination awakened a whirlwind of demonstration rivaling in intensity and duration the record breaking tribute of Wednesday.
The names of George Gray of Delaware and Governor Johnson of Minnesota were also placed in nomination with demonstrations of approval from their limited followers.
The platform committee was not ready to report when the evening session began, and after listening to political oratory the rules of procedure were suspended and the convention proceeded with the speeches placing the candidates for president in nomination with the understanding that the usual vote would be deferred until the platform had been adopted.
A small American flag had been placed on every delegate's chair prior to the beginning of the evening session. This was the unmistakable evidence of the nominating session of the convention and heightened the interest of the spectators who early

SEMI-ANNUAL REMNANT SALE!

Friday, Saturday and Monday, July 17th, 18th and 20th, 1908.

Twice a year this store has a Remnant Sale. One in February and one in July. Always wait till after our Semi-Annual Sale is over, then gather up the remnants from that sale and with those that have accumulated during the six months since last Remnant Sale, we have a Remnant Sale that surpasses anything of the same character held in this section of the state. Always several thousand remnants, but the Remnant Sale price is so small a fraction of what they are actually worth that we never fail to dispose of them during the three days of the sale.

Never Before so Many Remnants as We'll Have for this 1908 July Remnant Sale.

That's because we've cut up a great many more thousand yards of goods since last February than in any six months of this store's history.

Every side counter on the left clear back to the Corset Section, the three counters on the right, and every centre aisle table piled high with remnants. The fact that there are more remnants and just three days to sell them, requires that prices be cut deeper than ever.

No Remnants or Other Merchandise Selling at Remnant Sale Prices Will be Charged.

We want the cash that's tied up in this immense lot of Dress Goods remnants, so we'll mark the red ink price so low that there won't be one here when the store closes on the last remnant day.

White Goods Remnants—Every one knows how this store has been selling Lawns, Nainsooks, Longcloth and Persian Lawn since March 1st. Well, this leaves us with more White Goods remnants than ever before, so it's not likely they will all be sold in the first several hours of the sale as heretofore.

Dress Trimmings—Separate counter for Dress Trimmings as there are so many of them. Braids, Appliques and All-overs.

Important Notice—Many of the Silks, Dress Goods and Wash Goods remnants contain enough for Waist or Skirt, some enough for an Entire Suit.

Remnant Day Prices in the Cloak Room.
Fiscal effort to clear the Cloak Room racks and shelves and boxes. Been cutting prices up there since the first of June. No matter how great the reduction in price, the remnant sale price will be less in every instance. The remnant sale price is the lowest price this store ever employs.
Red Tags—Instead of red ink, you'll find things in the Cloak Room marked with red tags.

SKIRTS.
At $3.50.....$6.50 and $7.50 Cloth Skirt.
At 5.00..... 9.00 and 10.00 Cloth Skirt.
At 6.00.....12.00 Skirts.

15.00 Petticoats..... 7.00
16.00 Petticoats..... 7.75
EVENING COATS.
Two $45 Evening Coats of best quality Broadcloth, satin-lined throughout, beautifully trimmed, at $10.50.
A $55 Evening Coat, at $14.50.

LINGERIE SUITS.
Lot very handsome White Persian Lawn Lingerie Suits, tastily and quite elaborately trimmed with Val Lace and Insertion; all with a red tag and a price that will quickly make you forget that these are a trifle mussed from handling.
Millinery.
Everything in the Millinery Department during the remnant sale is half price except Trimmed Hats and Untrimmed Hats. They are away less than half.
Lot $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3 Untrimmed Hats, 25c.

Trimmed Hats as Follows:
All Trimmed Hats that sold up to $7.50, now $2.75.
All Trimmed Hats that sold up to $12, now $3.75.
All Trimmed Hats that sold upward of $12, now $4.75.
Ribbons, Flowers, Foliage, Wings, Plumage, Children's Hats and Ornaments at half price.
5c, 10c, 15c and 25c Table. 50c and $1.00 Table.
A feature of all our remnant sales. The "Odds and Ends" from all over the store. Stuff we would almost rather throw away rather than have lying around. As this advertisement is written a week before the sale, we can't at this time give full details of the items, but anything on either table will be half price or less.
Handbags, Kimonos, Soiled Corsets, Quilts, &c.

Sale Starts Friday Morning, July 17th, at 8 o'clock.

POINTE PARAGRAPHS
Summary of the Week's News of the World.
Monday.
Aroused by the protests of American manufacturers, President Roosevelt telegraphed the war department to do everything possible to cancel the contracts for English coolie made uniforms in the Philippines.
Tuesday.
A cable message from Manila said that in Northwestern Mindanao a band of fanatics, whose leader claims divinity, are menacing the people of the coast towns.
J. C. Gould, a cotton merchant of Liverpool, who arrived in New York from Japan, said that country is poverty stricken and that her credit is based upon fictitious values.
William H. Taft will exclude political visitors this week in order to finish his speech of acceptance.
W. K. Vanderbilt's three-year-old colt Sausick II, bred in France, won the $20,000 President of the Republic prize at Maisons Laiffite.
William J. Bryan declared he would make publicity of campaign contributions one of the chief topics in his appeals to the country for support.
The body of an unknown woman, later identified as Hazel I. Drew of Troy, her skull crushed as if from a blow, was found in a lake near Troy.
Wednesday.
American naval officers announce strategic danger in Japan's possible purchase of Brazil's new warships.
The Roosevelt, on which Commander Peary will go north in an effort to reach the pole, started on her journey.
A pontifical decree removes Great Britain, Holland, Canada and the United States from the jurisdiction of the Propaganda.
Twelve thousand men are reported to have been slain during a series of battles at Tabriz between the troops of the Shah of Persia and the revolutionists, says a dispatch from Teheran.
Boston dispatches stated that Secretary Taft, while at the head of the war department, had the khaki for 'Philippine soldiers' clothes bought from English manufacturers and made up by Chinese coolie labor.
Thursday.
Bishop Potter continued to gain strength despite the hot weather.
The Atlantic battleship fleet left San Francisco on its long trip home by way of the Orient.
Brazil admitted her new battleships may be sold to the highest bidder, according to information received by naval men.
Richmond Pearson Hobson, in a plea at Denver for a big navy plank, declares a great war with Japan is imminent.
President Roosevelt with his family and friends at Oyster Bay inspected the Roosevelt, in which Robert E. Peary will again seek the North Pole.

made a rush for the galleries, filling them to overflowing.
On the call of states Alabama yielded to Nebraska, and L. J. Dunn of Omaha spoke for the Nebraska delegation.
When Mr. Dunn declared that his candidate was the choice of the militant Democracy of the country, the convention broke in with wild cheers.
The ever-ready flags were tossed aloft and a roar of applause swept through the hall. While the cheering was at its height a white dove was let loose from the gallery, and it flew across the convention hall, while the delegates hailed it with great enthusiasm and cheered as long as it was in sight.
A few minutes after the cheering began, an immense oil painting of Mr. Bryan was lowered from behind a monster American shield which had reposed over the chairman's desk ever since the convention began. The appearance of the picture raised the pitch of the outburst to a veritable pandemonium. The delegates poured from the convention floor onto the already overcrowded stage. Many of the New York delegates stood and cheered with the others, but the majority remained seated.
The Democratic national convention at Denver concluded its labors late on Friday afternoon by the nomination of John Worth Kern of Indiana for vice president, completing the ticket on which William Jennings Bryan was made the nominee for president during the early hours of the morning.
The nomination of Kern was made by acclamation amid the resounding cheers of delegates and spectators. No ballot was necessary, as the tide of sentiment had set irresistibly toward the Indiana candidate, state after state registering their delegations in his favor and all other candidates withdrawing before the universal demand for his nomination.
The convention, after adjourning at daylight with the nomination of Mr. Bryan, resumed its session at 1 p. m. with a powerful undercurrent already in motion toward the nomination of Kern for second place. On the call of states Indiana presented the name of Kern; Colorado through former Governor Thomas placed in nomination Charles A. Towne of New York; Connecticut presented Archibald McNeill, and Georgia Clark Howell.
The names of Judge George Gray of Delaware and of John Mitchell of Illinois were not presented, owing to the explicit requests of those gentlemen not to have their names go before the convention.
For a time it looked as though a ballot would be required. But the steady line of states which joined in endorsing Kern's nomination soon made it apparent that the chances of all other candidates had been extinguished. Mr. Towne in person was the first candidate to recognize the decisive nature of the Kern movement, and in a ringing speech he withdrew his name from consideration and pledged his support to the ticket of Bryan and Kern. Withdrawals quickly followed from the supporters of Howell of Georgia and McNeill of Connecticut, leaving the Indiana candidate alone in the field.
The withdrawal of the Connecticut candidate was accomplished by a motion that the nomination of Kern be made by acclamation. The motion was carried with a deafening shout, and the great assemblage broke into clamorous demonstration on the accomplishment of its work and the completion of the Democratic national ticket.
Another Possible Guinness Victim.
The sheriff at Hillsdale, Mich. telephoned Sheriff Smutzer at La Porte, Ind., that he had captured a woman supposed to be Mrs. Belle Guinness and was holding her pending advice from the local officials. The sheriff refused to send an officer to Hillsdale, declaring that Mrs. Guinness lost her life in the flames which destroyed her home. The sheriff's office received an inquiry from C. A. Lindboe, Norway, asking for information regarding his son Olaf, who came to Chicago from Norway in 1904 and then to La Porte to work for Mrs. Guinness. Since he went to work for Mrs. Guinness he has disappeared.
