THEY WERE ANCHORED

Protest Against English Team's Spiked Shoes in Tug-of-War.

A serious controversy has arisen between the American athletes and the British Olympic association. The trouble arose over the tug of war. The Americans, in wearing ordinary shoes, naturally believed that the teams representing the United Kingdom would do the same, particularly as the rule under which the contest was being conducted was made by the British association. Their disappointment, therefore, was all the greater when upon the Liverpool police appearing it was noticed that they were wearing enormous shoes, so heavy in fact that it was with great effort they could lift their feet from the ground.

The shoes, or boots, were enormous calf affairs that could not by any stretch of imagination be called ordinary shoes. Heavy boots were worn in the British navy, but these were greatly exceeded in weight by the footgear of the Liverpool athletes, which in addition had steel rings around the heels.

The facts in the case were reported to the American committee and James E. Sullivan, the American commissioner, preferred a formal protest to the British Olympic association, who turned it over to the officials of the Amateur Athletic association. As these officials already had decided in favor of their own team, the protest of course was not allowed.

AMERICANS WIN AGAIN

Their Colors Raised Three Times For Victory In Finals.

Several Hundred Americans Near the Royal Box Gave an Exhibition of Cheering Which Suggested an American College Crowd—Continued Absence of Sunshine is Depressing.

London, July 21.—The second week of the Olympic contests began with the first day devoted principally to field sports such as Americans are accustomed to witness. The track athletes were the stars and the program contained many fast and exciting events. The American and British runners and jumpers gathered in the lion's share of the laurels as usual but the Americans exceeded even the expectations of their supporters.

Several hundred Americans, mostly tourists, with many ladies, who were massed together in the seats next to the royal box, gave an exhibition of cheering which suggested an American college crowd and immensely amused the foreigners. The attendance at the games was fair, but the weather in the afternoon was gloomy and threatened rain. The competitors from the United States are exploring the continual absence of sunshine, under which they can do their best work.

Close and Stirring Finishes.
The spectacular features were the seventeen trial heats of the 100 meters sprint and the eight trial heats of the 800 meters. These furnished several close and stirring finishes. In the sprints America captured eight heats and Great Britain four. J. A. Rector of the University of Virginia was the particular star, for he beat quite handsily E. G. MacLeod of Cambridge, the holder of three varsity blues, who never before was beaten, and in doing so he equalled the Olympic record for the distance of 10.45 seconds.

The names of Sheppard, Halstead and Beard, Americans, went up on the black board as the winners of their heats in the 800 meters race. This event proved a disappointment to England, which was counting upon more than the two heats which it took. The German, Braun, much to the surprise of Englishmen, outran Holding, who was one of their main stars. Lunghi of Italy beat H. L. Coe of the University of Michigan in the excellent time of 1:57.1-5, and he and Just, the Cambridge half-mile champion, who captured the sixth heat in 1:57.4-5, will give the Americans a hard tussle in the final.

C. J. Bacon, Irish-American, captured his heat of the 400 meters hurdle race in 57 seconds, winning by 25 yards, while Coe distinguished himself by defeating Densham, the former British champion, although he had just contested a hard 800 meters against Lough.

The British won six and the Americans three of the nine heats in the hurdles, but the majority of these were unexciting because they were a walkover.

The American colors were raised to the flagpole three times, signifying victory in the final in the 100 meters swimming, the standing broad jump and the bantam catch-as-catch-can wrestling, but these triumphs did not inspire such thrills as the track performances because few spectators in the vast Stadium could see them.

Daniels Won 100 Meters Swim.
C. M. Daniels, New York Athletic club, the American champion, was expected, won the swimming event in the first time of 1:05.3-5, which equals the Olympic record. He was closely followed to the tape by De Halway of Hungary, with Julius of Sweden third, L. G. Rich, Brooklyn Swimming club, who was second to Daniels in the semi-finals, finished fourth in the final.

The standing broad jumping contest was practically an American event, although no notable records were made. Ray Ewry, the American champion, being considerably behind his own record made at St. Louis. His greatest distance was 100 feet 11 inches. Tsioltris, the Greek jumper, won second in this event, with 10 feet 7 1/2 inches, one quarter of an inch better than Martin J. Sheridan, Irish-American. C. J. A. Biller, Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., Platt Adams, New York A. C., and F. L. Holmes of Chicago and the English champion, Bender, were only a fraction of an inch behind Sheridan.

George H. Mehnert, National Turnverein (American) took the final in the bantam wrestling, while George W. Galzick, Chicago A. A., won his heat in the high diving competition. France won the medal for fencing; the many bouts were almost monopolized by Continentals.

The results of the day added three wins to America's score and one to France, the other nations not improving their positions. In the field events America added six points, while Greece, the only other nation to increase its score in these contests, picked up three. America is now only eight points behind the United Kingdom, the score reading: United Kingdom 54, America 45.

TO REGULATE AIRSHIPS.

Florida Mayor Has Ordinance Fixing Balloon Limits.

Kissimmee, Fla., July 21.—For modernity Kissimmee may safely and boldly challenge comparison with the entire municipal universe. Neither in France, where Santos Dumont and Henry Farman are already carrying passengers by the air route; nor in Ohio, where the Wright brothers are said to be incorporating an air glide company; nor in Germany, where a syndicate of powerful capitalists is now organizing a gigantic airship company for the inauguration of freight and passenger service between the European capitals, has any attempt yet been made to regulate airship traffic by appropriate municipal legislation.

Mayor T. M. Murphy has prepared an ordinance designed to regulate all airship traffic, the passage of which he will immediately recommend to the council in a special message. It is entitled, "An ordinance regulating the status and the employment of airships within Kissimmee City."

Section 1 says: "For the purpose of this ordinance, the boundaries of the town and the boundaries of the airship limit of the town shall be held to extend upwards in a vertical direction to a distance of twenty miles in the sky, and the area of the airship limit of the town shall be the same as that of the fire limit of the town."

Another section provides that the marshal shall have an aeroplane to chase offenders, while another provides for a license tax on all styles of air machines. Ninety days in jail or a fine of $500 is the penalty for infractions.

LINDEN MOTHS.

Many Acres in the Catskills Defoliated by the Pest Last Summer

Albany, July 21.—State Entomologist E. P. Felt said that the numerous small white moths so abundant about the electric lights in Albany, Troy, New York and Brooklyn, and presumably other cities in the state, are known as "Snow white Linden moths." Insects which in earlier years were most destructive pests to shade trees.

"The caterpillars producing these moths," said Dr. Felt, "are dark brown measuring-worms about two inches long when full grown. They display a marked preference for linden, though they feed readily upon a variety of trees, such as elms and maples, and in forests they thrive upon beech.

"Many acres in the Catskills were defoliated by this pest last summer, and the same work is being continued the present season. Residents of cities have little to fear because the English sparrows feed readily upon the moths and will doubtless prevent the insect from becoming abundant enough to cause serious damage."

POSSE PURSUES WOMAN'S ASSAILANT.

Essex, Mass., July 21.—One hundred enraged farmers, with Chief of Police John Gilbert of Essex, are scouring the hills and woods on the edge of the town in search of a man who assaulted Mrs. Josiah Low, in her home here, and then began to rob the house. Mrs. Low is in a serious condition as the result of having been struck several times on the head with a club. The stranger was ransacking the house when Mrs. Charles Harding, Mrs. Low's daughter, who was in the yard and heard her mother's screams, interrupted him. He dashed out of the house and disappeared in the woods. Mrs. Low, who was working in the fields, was called. Mrs. Low was given medical aid but her condition is critical.

PROHIBITION OF CATTLE IMPORTATION.

London, July 21.—Sir Edward Strachey, member of parliament for the South division of Somerset and representative of the board of agriculture in the house of commons, dashed the hopes of those who have advocated the importation of Canadian cattle by stating definitely in the house of commons that the government had no present intention of proposing legislation removing the prohibition of such importation.

CANOISTS DROWNED IN MONTREAL RIVER.

New Liskeard, Ont., July 21.—Three young men, Oswald E. Newberry of Eign Mills, Harold Dowsley of Kings-ton and Bryce M. Black of Toronto, were drowned when their canoe upset while shooting a rapids on the Montreal river. Will Cameron of New Liskeard is the sole survivor of the party, who were on a camera expedition.

DIED WHEN SHE SAID SHE WOULD.

Jamesstown, N. Y., July 21.—Mrs. LeRoy Noble some time ago prophesied that she would die on June 28. On the date named she died. Yesterday the coroner announced his findings of a chemical analysis of the woman's stomach. She had poisoned herself with strychnine and fulfilled her prophesy.

ROJESTVENSKY DEAD.

Succumbed to Heart Disease at Bad Macheim, Germany.

Bad Macheim, Germany, July 21.—Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the ill-fated Russian fleet which was annihilated by the Japanese in the Sea of Japan in May 1905, died here last night from heart trouble. It is believed that the heart affection resulted from injuries received by Admiral Rojestvensky in the battle of the Sea of Japan.

Sinovi Petrovitch Rojestvensky was about 60 years old and for many years bore the reputation of being one of the most coolheaded and scientific naval officers in the Russian service. He distinguished himself in the Russo-Turkish war in 1877 and rose rapidly in the naval service.

During the late war between Russia and Japan, the latter country having scored great advantage on land, Admiral Rojestvensky was ordered early in August, 1904, to have his squadron in readiness to proceed from the Baltic around to Vladivostok. This proved to be one of the most remarkable voyages ever made and resulted in the annihilation of the Russian Baltic fleet in the famous battle of the Sea of Japan.

A naval court of inquiry later presented an indictment against Admiral Rojestvensky for surrendering to the enemy, but the admiral was acquitted on the ground that he was not in his full senses (he was found unconscious from his severe injuries by the Japanese) and therefore was not accountable for what happened at the time of the surrender.

AUTO WENT OVER 12-FOOT BANK.

Bellingham, Wash., July 21.—A heavy automobile stage coming in from Lynden last night was wrecked and its fifteen passengers injured. The seriously injured are: Judge J. R. Crites, internal injuries, probably fatal; Rev. Joseph E. Williams, collar bone and ribs broken, internal injuries, probably fatal. Both are of this city. A tire stripping from one of the wheels was thrust into the steering gear, causing the machine to dash squarely across the road and turn a somersault over a 12-foot embankment.
