No BRYAN crowd ever wild over the returns in November. There's method in making the noise in July.

Mr. BRYAN proceeded to sound Mr. Hearst, by the aid of Mr. Gompers, and Mr. Hearst's reply is a scorch.

"Mr. GOMPERS," we are informed by an exchange, "got all he asked for at Denver," which is a whole barrel more than Col. Jim Guffey got.

The determination of the Democratic Committee to accept no campaign contributions in excess of $10,000 will shut out quite a lot of us, pathetically remarks the Blizard.

OREGON furnished the first political straw of the year by giving a large Republican majority. Vermont and Maine will come next, but the Democrats insist that they don't count.

On the morning of November 4 Mr. Guffey will remind the Democrats that he called Bryan "the most impudent, domineering, devastating boss the Democratic party has ever known."

Just now the Democratic newspapers are full of ecstatic accounts of Democrats claiming to be for the ticket. This is extracting comfort from a mighty slim source, but it's something.

An American in Panama who vigorously objected to washing windows with an American flag was chased across the border by a lieutenant general in full uniform and several policemen. It may be that our marines at Panama will be needed to prevent the natives from getting too gay.

The Democratic newspapers that opposed Bryan in 1896 are still against him and many of those that support him are evidently not hopeful. As to the future he has simply said that he expects to be good for four or five more campaigns. The lot of a Democratic newspaper since 1896 has not been a happy one.

The Prohibitionists, at their convention held at Columbus, Ohio, last week, nominated Eugene W. Chaffin, of Chicago, for President, and Aaron S. Watkins, of Ada, Ohio, for Vice President. Both are also candidates for Governor of their respective states, but will decline to serve as such, no doubt, in case they are elected to the first named positions.

With his weather eye turned Bryanward the editor of the Punxy Spirit remarks that the American people—at least a great many of them—love to be humbugged. A political fakier who will flatter them, cater to their whims, excite their discontent, and prescribe quack specifics for all the imaginary diseases of the body politic, can fool a whole lot of them. But we trust not a majority of them.

A SPECIAL sent out Saturday from Canonsburg says Alonzo McConnell, of Houston, was arrested by State Fish Wardens A. J. Ross and M. P. Maitland for violating the state fish laws. McConnell was taken before Justice T. M. Reese, where he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs. On April 18 last McConnell secured a number of black bass which measured from one and a half to seven inches from the Charters Creek and placed them in an aquarium which he had constructed in his front yard.

THE City of Cleveland has decided to stop private exhibitions of a patriotic nature on the Fourth of July and may give a grand exhibition for the whole public under conditions which make for safety. There is much merit in this proposition. The display will be better than private persons could afford and the public may enjoy it without being worn out for several nights previously. It is an example that this city might follow.—Oil City Blizard. The suggestion is a mighty sensible one. At any rate the sale of all explosives to individuals should be strictly prohibited, and the setting off of anything in the nature of dangerous fireworks by any except those expressly authorized to do so, should be severely punished.

Hot Stuff From Hearst.

A cablegram has been received from William Randolph Hearst in reply to a message transmitted to Mr. Hearst from Samuel Gompers, stating that in view of the Democratic stand for labor it would be "an act of the greatest patriotism for the Independence party to endorse the Democratic platform," and urging him not to run a third ticket, as it would elect Mr. Taft. Mr. Hearst's cablegram follows:

"Tell Mr. Gompers that I am not authorized to speak for the membership of the Independence league, but according to my personal standards, a purer patriotism consists in laboring to establish a new party which will be consistently devoted to the interest of this citizenship and particularly to the advantage and advancement of the producing classes. I do not think the path of patriotism lies in supporting a discredited and decadent old party, which has neither conscientious conviction nor honest intention, or in endorsing chameleon candidates who change the color of their political opinion with every varying hue of opportunism. "I do not think the best benefit of laboring men lies in supporting that old party because of a sop of false promises, when the performance of that party while in power did more to injure labor than all the injunctions ever issued before or since. "I have lost faith in the empty profession of an unregenerated Democracy. I have lost confidence in the ability, in the sincerity, and even in the integrity of its leaders. I do not consider it patriotism to pretend to support that which as a citizen I distrust and detest, and I earnestly hope the Independence party will give me an opportunity to vote for candidates that are both able and honest, and for a declaration of principles that is both sound and sincere. (Signed) "William Randolph Hearst."

RECENT DEATHS.

PETTIGREW. The subject of this notice, whose maiden name was Jeanette Kerr, was born April 5th, 1834, and became the beloved wife of A. H. Pettigrew, May 27th, 1856. She departed this life at East Hickory, Pa., July 15th, 1908, aged 74 years, 3 months and 10 days. Beside a sorrowing husband of more than 52 years devotion, three children are without a mother, Mrs. Rudy of Tylersburg, Pa., Mrs. Kern of Kelleysville, Pa., and John K. at home. She is also survived by four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Uriah Keister of Marienville, Pa., Mrs. White of Tacoma, Washington, Mrs. Stanley of Tylersburg, Pa., Mrs. Moody of Olean, N. Y., and W. L. Kerr of Marienville, Pa. Three children passed over the years gone by. One brother, John H., was a member of Company G, 83d Reg't Pa. Vol., and died at Hall's Hill, Va., October 26, 1861. Another brother, James D., went through the war in the same company and died a few years after his return home as the result of his army service. Our honored and highly respected citizen, A. H. Pettigrew, and his beloved companion toiled together for more than fifty years and by their united, honest efforts gathered somewhat of this world's goods about them; besides they possessed one of the most beautiful homes in Hickory, but at last, like a shock of ripened corn, the companion and mother is gathered into the Father's garner above. Mrs. Pettigrew for many years past was a devout and consistent member of the Baptist church, on July 17th, at 2 p. m., appropriate services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Davis of West Hickory, assisted by Rev. J. F. Scherer of Endeavor. The remains were followed by a large assembly of friends who came from far and near to pay their loving respects to the departed and to the bereaved family. In the cemetery at East Hickory the body awaits the resurrection call. God comfort the bereaved, is the prayer and wish of their many friends.

Neighborhood Notes.

The Clarion county lawyers are having their annual vacation. It runs from July 1st until August 1st. It is reported the plant of the Standard Chair Company at Union City will resume operations within a few days. After running five days, Bradford's Chautauqua adjourned sine die after its promoters had heard Senator Dolliver and made up a deficiency of $89. Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, Friday morning destroyed the plant of the Elk Tanning Company, at Everett, Pa. The damage is estimated at $350,000. The Westfield Republican says: Last year grapes were only in full bloom on the Fourth of July. This year the berries are as large as peas, and are making a fine growth. The Commissioners of Mercer County, through their attorney, J. R. W. Baker, have brought suit against 29 companies holding policies on the burned Court House. They will be sued separately. The story about black diphtheria being epidemic at Summerville, Jefferson county is pronounced a hoax. Only one woman has died of the disease, and her daughter, who contracted it, is getting better. After lingering for nearly seven weeks Fred Lockard, of Painesville, died Wednesday night, June 12 he was playing base ball and in making a "slide" for second base struck his head against the knee of the baseman injuring his spinal cord causing partial paralysis which in turn caused his death after he had been operated upon.

Samuel Swanson, who murdered Chas. Axelson, of Chandlers Valley, last February, is still in jail here. Swanson was adjudged insane and steps are now in progress that will undoubtedly result in his being deported. The process is rather a long and complicated one, as various government forms must be completed with.—Warren Mail. Joseph Nolan, aged 22 years, met death by drowning while swimming in Tionesta creek, near Clarendon, on Saturday evening. He was unaccompanied, and the details are not known, but it is supposed that he was seized with cramps while in deep water and sank. His body was found in about six feet of water late in the evening. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nolan, he leaves surviving, three sisters, all of Clarendon.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one cured disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Tough Stories by a Bad Tough.

It develops that the fellow, Barnes, who, with a boy named Breckenridge, robbed Miss Eliza Copeland at old Pithole on the 23rd of June last, is none other than the notorious Adam Ruth, well known in this section where his father resided many years ago and where the boy grew to young manhood. Sheriff Sawyer arrested him at the station at this place Feb. 25, 1889, at the instance of Oil City officials, for robbing and brutally assaulting an old man at that place. For this offense he got ten years in the penitentiary. Ruth has confessed to the Pithole robbery, and says that he was released from the penitentiary on the 10th day of June, having on that day finished a term of imprisonment on another charge. He is a degenerate of the worst grade, it would seem, and has spent a good share of his life in the penitentiary. He now comes forth with startling stories to the effect that he knows who murdered Mrs. J. S. Everhart and her mother, Mrs. Gillilan at Lickingville in 1890, and City Treasurer Blevins of New Castle in 1898. Little stock is taken in these stories by those who know Ruth and his history. The Blevins story is already exploded by men who have interviewed the prisoner, whose knowledge of that noted murder mystery seems to have been gained by what he has read in the newspapers. The case of the Everharts is familiar to Ruth because he lived in the vicinity of the tragedy shortly after it occurred, and heard much of the idle talk and speculation of those days. The Kiser murder is also familiar to him, no doubt, on account of the locality in which it was committed with all of which he has knowledge. In his story he implicates one Dan Wilder, alias Forester, of Bradford, Pa., who he also implicates in the Pithole robbery, claiming that Wilder laid the plans and sent the boy and him to execute them. Wilder has been taken into custody by Sheriff Williams of Venango county, and has been held for trial on a charge of conspiracy in connection with that offense. Of this man Wilder a dispatch from Bradford under date July 18, says: "Some years ago he was arrested on the charge of being a counterfeiter. A woman was the chief witness and she became insane before the man's trial took place. Through lack of evidence he was not convicted. He followed the ostensible business of a peddler. Wilder was gone from this section for several years and then he returned. When he came back to town he had a new name—it was Forester—and he wore colored glasses when on the street, presumably to give himself a different appearance. Many stories are told of his snavery and his apparent honesty. Yet all the time he was suspected by those who know of his movements. He recently ordered a large number of 'appeals for charity from a cripple,' which he used in tramping about the country from house to house. Last winter he jumped from a burning hotel at Little Valley and was considerably injured. He afterwards used his infirmity, it appears, to excite sympathy and get donations, the printed appeals being handed out to help things along. As to the truth or falsity of the charges made in Barnes's confession, one opinion is as good as another. But there is good reason to believe that Dan Wilder has 'a past' and a mysterious one."

The Franklin News of Saturday contained this reference to Mrs. Wilder: "Wilder's wife, who insists that her name and that of her husband is Forester, arrived in the city this morning to see her husband. She was accompanied by her 4-year-old son. They would have been here yesterday had not Mrs. Wilder gotten off the train at Tionesta, where she thought her husband was in jail. The woman is considerably younger than her husband, being not more than 30, while Mr. Wilder is 59. Mrs. Wilder says there is positively no truth in the allegations which Barnes makes against her husband. To her knowledge Wilder has never been south of Warren. She says she has known Barnes for eleven years and only two of that time has he been a free man. He is a crook with a long record and he has told these stories against her husband for no other reason than to get him in jail because he himself has been trapped. Mrs. Wilder saw her husband twice to-day and left this afternoon for Bradford."

The whole matter will probably wind up by Barnes, or Ruth, serving another long term in the penitentiary, and his young pal, Breckenridge, will doubtless go with him, but unless Ruth's stories concerning Wilder are well corroborated a jury is not likely to place much credence in them.

—The August number of The Ladies' World is given up chiefly to fiction—and excellent fiction it is, so good, in fact, as to restore our belief in the short story, and there is variety enough to suit every taste. As a collection the illustrations are remarkable, and typographically the magazine is, as always, a delight to the eye. Beside the stories—eight in all—there are the usual departments, which take up timely matters of household interest, all treated in a sane, practical way, which gives the impression that the writers know what they are talking about. To sum up, this number is up to the usual high standard of the publication.—(New York: Fifty Cents a Year.)
