MR. KERN says Indiana will surely go Democratic this year. Was it an accident that Indiana voted twice against Bryan, and twice against Kern when he ran for governor.

IRA D. SANKEY, the sweet singer of "Moody and Sankey" fame, died at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., Thursday night last. He had been totally blind for more than five years, but had kept up his song writing during most of this period.

WHILE SENATOR La Follette admires Mr. Bryan, and entertains for him great personal admiration as a man, he declares that he is a Republican and will vote for Judge Taft. And in this the Senator voices the sentiments of many thousands. —Blizzard.

THERE are seven candidates for President of the United States in the field—Taft, Bryan, Cahan, Watson, Higen, Debs and Preston. They are the candidates respectively of the following parties: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Populist, Independence, Socialist and Socialist Labor. If you don't paste this in your hat you won't be able to name them in two hours from now.

THOMAS WESTWORTH HIGGINSON, a life-long Democrat, declares for Taft, not because he agrees with Mr. Taft upon all questions, but because he regards him "as a man personally far superior to his opponent and incomparably more to be trusted in the presidential chair." This is the judgment of reason. The thought expressed has already reached the minds of the sober and considerate people of the country.—Philadelphia Press.

THE reports of the State Health Department show that over 3,000 people were taking treatment at the State's county tuberculosis dispensaries throughout the Commonwealth at the close of the last report for the month. Of this number 396 were registered at the Allegheny county dispensary, 344 in Luzerne, 317 in Philadelphia, 278 in Delaware, 219 in York, 122 in Lackawanna, 148 in Dauphin, 59 in Cumberland. In Cambria the number jumped from 83 to 129 in the month, a dozen and a half of the cases being reported from one small town. Some of the dispensaries are becoming too small to accommodate the applicants. Butler is one example.

AN erroneous impression appears to have obtained currency regarding the proposed constitutional amendments which are being advertised in the REPUBLICAN and other newspapers throughout the state. The idea seems to prevail that they are to be voted on at the November election, but such is not the case. The amendments are published in conformity with Article XVIII of the state constitution. They were passed by the last legislature and must be advertised for thirteen weeks prior to the next election. If the coming legislature, which will convene on the first Tuesday of next January, shall pass the amendments, they will be submitted to the voters for action at the November election of 1909, when each amendment will be voted upon separately.

Another Fake Issue.
Mr. Bryan says that the chief question in the nation today is, "shall the people rule?" The statement is characteristic of the man. There is no such issue in the United States and never has been. The people rule whenever they care to and they always have ruled and they always will rule as long as the republic endures. His remark is of the kind that the demagogue is perpetually resorting to and in every age uses as his chief plea. That creature is always pretending that the people are deprived of their rights. He is professing zeal to open the way to liberty, to reform, to good times and general happiness. He is usually the most dismal of failures in administrative work.

To tell the people of the United States after their experience of more than a century of self-government that their problem is still one of whether they rule or are ruled is going far toward insulting popular intelligence. On other days this year Mr. Bryan has put other questions to the front than that of popular sovereignty. He has laid great stress on the need of money for his campaign. The hat has been the biggest thing in his eyes once or twice during the summer. In his statement of important things made not long ago there was no allusion, in the seven points recited, to the subject of the rule of the people. In fact, Mr. Bryan is just as shifty, uncertain and vacillating as ever. He is making the final fight of his life and he cares very little what argument he uses so that he may catch votes thereby.—Buffalo News.

Should Associate Judges be Abolished?

This question is being agitated in the columns of the Middleburgh Post, of Snyder county, the editor stating truly that in twenty of the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania Associate Judges still exist. This happens by reason of the ancient law of our commonwealth, that every county should have a President Judge and two Associates, the latter of whom need not be learned in the law. Since then new judicial districts have been established, and a law passed that each county which contained 40,000 inhabitants should be an independent judicial district, and in such counties the Associate Judges were abolished. The philosophy of this is that the President Judge was supposed to reside at the county seat where he was most wanted, in a vacation, or at times between courts. The same doctrine holds good with regard to Associate Judges as their duties in vacation are many and quite important as servants of the people, as all officers are, or are supposed to be. The citation of a single case, where Associates undertook to alter and tamper with an opinion filed by the President Judge and overruled him in Snyder county, is not a sufficient argument for the abolition of the office of Associate Judge when we consider that many President Judges of repute have made awful mistakes and errors. That is why supreme and superior courts exist—to review and correct their errors and be a check on abuse of power, or ignorance, if we understand the nature and character of our legal jurisprudence—no better argument for doing away with the Associates than the President Judges. The mistakes of Associates are more noticed, and the people for years have made the butt of jokes and sarcasm, calling them such choice names as "mutton heads," "wooden judges," "cabbage heads," and describing a bench composed of a President and two Associates as "1 judge and 2 cyphers." So in our opinion the objection vanishes. The question of salary as an objection is without merit, in our opinion,—that salary is paid by the state. Their usefulness to the people and the bar, in vacation in particular, is great, as every lawyer knows, to approve all kinds of bonds, preventing oppression, arresting criminals on bench warrants, etc. In fact they are of more value to the public in vacation than on the bench, we candidly admit.

Among the many duties which they may perform are these: To enlarge time under rules of courts for affidavits of defense. To approve bail, to stay executions to prevent fraud or oppression. To grant habeas corpus, fraudulent debtors' act, dissolve attachments, grant licenses to hotels and peddlers, approve insolvent bonds, grant rules to take depositions and lengthen or shorten time. And scores of other duties could be mentioned.

The Golinza Picnic.

The first annual picnic of the Golinza Memorial Association was held at Golinza, the old home town of most of the principals, Friday, August 14th, 1908. Golinza, the beautiful little village situated in the midst of the picturesque hills of southern Forest county, contained about one hundred and fifty inhabitants in 1905, when the giving out of the timber necessitated the removal of the mill by the owners. On the 26th of September, 1905, the last log (a great pine one that had been preserved for the occasion) was sawed and the mill whistles pealed forth the news that Golinza was no more. A basket picnic was held on the above date, after which the machinery of the mill was taken out, the houses of the employees torn down and all the lumber in the yard sold or removed to Kellestville, most of the employees coming to the latter place to work in the new hand mill erected at Kellestville by the Salmon Creek Lumber Co., the principal member of this firm being identified with the old firm at Golinza.

Last Friday a special train of three cars and engine conveyed some two hundred old residents back to the still beautiful place to spend the day in a home coming picnic. The train stopped at Nebraska to take on board Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Watson, Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Calhoun, and Dr. J. C. Dunn, who had driven up from Tionesta to be among the merry-makers. One car of the train was devoted to the dinner baskets and it is no idle boast that little more could have been carried on this car. Arriving at Golinza the crowd disembarked and the hour before dinner was spent in wandering around the old place and thinking of old times and associations. Dinner was announced at twelve o'clock and a half hour was spent in enjoying the good things the ladies had prepared.

After dinner the people listened to a very interesting talk by Rev. Mr. Calhoun, who spoke for some time on past memories, also of the present gathering, and then Dr. J. C. Dunn followed with a few well chosen words, both speakers receiving loud applause from the jolly gathering.

A meeting was then called to order with H. H. Watson as chairman, at which meeting it was voted to make the picnic an annual affair as long as was possible. An organization was effected with the following officers elected: President, H. H. Watson; vice president, G. F. Watson; secretary, E. E. Daubenspeck, and treasurer, Mrs. G. F. Watson.

A few pictures were taken by photographer John Brennan of Kellestville, showing the crowd in different ways, after which the train returned to Kellestville. Not one far ascertained but that enjoyed the outing to the fullest of his or her perception.

Question in Arithmetic.

Here's one for your boys:
If the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint, and one paint goes twice as far as another, how much are those two paints worth?
If Devoe is worth $1.50 or $1.75 a gallon, how much is the other one worth?
How much is a gallon of paint worth anyway?
The answer is: Depends on the paint.
The reason is: paint isn't always paint.
There are true and false paint and short-measure.
How much is a short-measure gallon worth? How much is false paint worth? How much is Devoe worth?
There are millions a year in the answer to this one.

Grandin Mill at Eagle Rock Again Burned.

For the second time within three years the extensive lumbering plant of Grandin & Co., at Eagle Rock, eight miles below Tionesta, on the Allegheny river, was destroyed by fire, the first conflagration having occurred August 21, 1905, and the latest on Saturday afternoon last. The fire was discovered shortly before 1 o'clock and the spread of the flames was so rapid that in a few minutes the entire main structure was a mass of flames. The fire broke out in the boiler house, which is directly beneath the saw mill and in which there is generally a large quantity of sawdust. Seeing their inability to cope with the fierce flames the mill men appealed to the Mayor of Oil City for help, and in less than an hour a big steamer, several hundred feet of hose, and a dozen members of the fire department were on the ground, and doing good work in saving the company's property. Before this however, the saw mill, the planing mill, the general store and ice house had succumbed to the elements. Several hundred thousand feet of lumber that had been piled along the runways were saved, as were also the large boarding house and a number of other buildings, by the effective work of the firemen.

The loss is estimated at $25,000, and the insurance is $23,000. The loss to the company is lightened somewhat by the fact that they expected to finish operating on their tract of timber—once the Clapp lands—with the next month. C. P. Bucklin, one of the owners of the plant was notified by telegraph at his home in Tidoune when the fire broke out, and started to the scene in his automobile immediately. The distance is 26 miles, which he covered in 35 minutes over rough country roads. It is doubtful whether this record will be equalled in many years.

The mills and all the buildings were owned by Geo. H. Hyde, of Ridgway, and were leased by the Grandin Lumber Co. The company's loss is confined to the burning of about 500 ties and the consequent delaying of operations. We understand a portable mill will be installed to saw out the timber remaining on the tract.

Clarington.

Mrs. Hess and daughter, of Foxsaw-tawney, are visiting Mrs. W. D. Shields, Miss Mohney, of DuBois, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gray.

Our ball team has been redeeming itself, having trimmed Sigel and Redclyffe. The strong team of Marienville came down and they got stage fright, cold feet or homesick. Clarington was at bat in their half of the second inning and had a man on third base. The batter sent one down past third base and the umpire called it a fair ball. The visiting team, or just a few of them, took stage fright, gathered up their outfit and got out of town as fast as they could. They wouldn't wait to talk the affair over, so we claim the game 1 to 0. The result was our team had to eat the chicken supper prepared for the visitors at Hotel Henderson.

Van Shields met with an accident playing ball at Sigel, fracturing a bone in his foot. It is giving him some trouble.

Mrs. Frantz is visiting at Franklin and Titusville, Pa.

The farmers are busy harvesting and the noise of the threshing machine is heard.

The Y. P. C. U. held a social at Mrs. Gray's, Saturday night, which was well attended and netted them a nice little sum to get started. The society was organized a short time ago.

Irvin Motter of Blue Ridge has been having a serious time of late. He was operated on for some intestinal trouble by Dr. Hess of Marienville and Dr. Hess of Fryburg, and is getting along all right.

J. T. Cook has put out his hotel sign and is improving his property by weather boarding. He expects to be in shape to take care of all who call.

Neighborhood Notes.

According to a new directory estimate of its population Erie has grown to be a city of 70,000.

Meade R. Smyers, of Johnsonburg, Pa., was taken to the State Hospital for the Insane at North Warren, Wednesday. He is 24 years of age and was an inveterate cigarette smoker.

George P. Keener, charged with larceny, and Charles Paske, charged with breaking and entering a sealed freight car, escaped from the Clarion jail Sunday night. Sheriff Best offers a reward of $50 for their capture and return.

Bishop J. M. Thoburn, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was retired from active work upon his own request at the last quadrennial conference of his church, held in Baltimore this summer, and has taken up his residence in Meadville.

James Winkler, the aged Wetmore citizen who was lost while picking berries nearly three weeks ago, returned last Friday. He stated that he had been wandering about in the woods ever since and was in a very weakened condition.

Charles Ayling is ill at his home at Hemlock, above Warren with what his physician has diagnosed as smallpox. He was working at Warren when taken ill, but as no evidences of the disease are found there it is puzzling to know how the man contracted it.
