OCTOBER

Calendar grid for October 1908 with dates 1-31.

His game in Africa will suffer if the Roosevelt marksmanship proves to be as good as in Oklahoma.

They may buck and kick as much as they will, the people are back of Roosevelt still.—Oil City Blizzard.

The firm of Bryan and Haskell begins to think that the latest and highest explosive should be called Hearst.

Mr. Bryan supposed his superficial smartness would shine by challenging the president in letter writing. Bryan is involved in a sea of old troubles and making new ones for himself.

It was President McKinley who persuaded Mr. Taft to resign a place on the bench and take charge in the Philippines. Mr. Taft has had the favorable opinion of some of the best judges of men this country has ever known in high places.

"PUT MR. Taft's deeds against your words," writes the president to Mr. Bryan. "I ask that Mr. Taft be judged by all his deeds, for he wishes none of them forgotten. I ask that you be judged both by the words you wish remembered and by the words that seemingly, you and your party now desire to have forgotten." The test proposed is a fair one to apply to any candidate.

"I am going to be elected." This statement was made a few days ago at Omaha, Nebraska, by Judge Taft, and it sums up in a word what the Republican candidate thinks of the effect of his speech-making tour thus far. Mr. Taft says that he has no doubt that he will get the electoral vote of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska—the States which the Democrats have been claiming as doubtful or likely to go for Bryan, all of which is the sheerest nonsense.

CONGRESSMAN Nicholas Longworth, who was in Cincinnati Monday, enroute East, where he will continue his speaking tour, denounced as a campaign lie the widely published story that in a speech at Rock Castle, Ill., he proposed that after Judge Taft had served two terms as President, that President Roosevelt would again be a candidate for the Presidency. Of course, any one with a thimble full of brains would know such a lie on sight without any denial.

WHILE some of our Democratic friends are decrying the action of President Roosevelt in his public utterances through the press, claiming that it lowers the dignity of the great office, we fail to see any harm in his so doing. President Roosevelt believes in taking the people into his confidence and as a result the great mass of American people believe in him and his policies and are going to vote for the man who is best fitted to carry them out.—Sheffield Observer.

TAFT can also swing some vigorous language when necessary. For instance, he smashes an old, shelf-worn stock tie that has been in use in every campaign for the past 20 years in this way: "Some ordinary, cheap, common liar has devoted himself to the business of running around the country and saying that I am in favor of paying a laboring man a dollar a day and that I have said that that is enough. I was at the head of the Panama Canal for four years and we pay steam shovel men down there $250 a month. As I figure that out it makes a little more than one dollar a day. Anybody that says that I ever made that remark is a liar and the man who believes him is a fool. Why under heaven I should say that I cannot understand, or in what connection or under what circumstances."

ACCORDING to Seth Bullock, an old cowboy friend of the President who resides in Sioux City, Iowa, the way to make votes in the West is to hand out something hot. "I've written the President a few doleful letters," said Seth, "urging him to pass the Tobacco. Well, he's done it, and what's the result? Why, hell! Bryan hasn't the chance of a feather in a cyclone out in this part of the country. Let him keep hitting at the President. We're hoping he calls him all the names in the Democratic dictionary. He says that every time he opens his mouth Roosevelt he's making a mistake. I might just as well be here. When anybody says that Roosevelt, we feel personal insult. He says he's one of us, and

John C. Geist.

Mr. Geist is the Republican nominee for Prothonotary of Forest county, a position which he has most ably and efficiently filled for nearly two terms. Our candidate is so well and so favorably known to the people of the county that it seems scarcely necessary to say anything in his behalf at this time. But to some who might argue that "John has had enough" we desire to say a word: Do you like to have a man attend to your business in whom you have every confidence that it will be attended to in the very best manner possible, and who understands every detail thoroughly? You are aware that Forest county never had a more capable man in that office than is Mr. Geist. You know that when you take an instrument to his office to have it recorded you can go home resting easy that it will be attended to promptly, carefully and in accordance with the law. Would you care to discharge a faithful, competent employe for no other reason than that "he has had enough"? We think not, and this principle applies right here in this case. Mr. Geist did not urge his candidacy, but a host of people urged him to again submit his name, and after much hesitancy he consented, and the Republicans fairly renominated him. Mr. Geist is a man of absolute, unflinching rectitude, in whose honesty the people have implicit confidence, and whose courtesy and kindness to all is known and spoken of from one end of the county to the other. No man has ever found John Geist in a sulky or petty mood in his official dealings at the Prothonotary's office, but on the contrary those who have had occasion to transact business at his office have found him always the same pleasant, affable gentleman, ever ready to attend their every want in a cheerful good-natured way. Every man gets a "square deal" from Mr. Geist, regardless of politics. The Democrat, the Prohibitionist, or whatever his political faith is shown the same kind, courteous treatment that one of his own political faith receives. When you go to the Prothonotary's office to transact business you don't have to take a lawyer with you to "hunt it up." Mr. Geist's large experience enables him to give you any information desired without costing you a cent, and it is always cheerfully given. The Republican party presents for your consideration an honest, capable man for the office of Prothonotary, and it has every confidence that you will reelect him to an office the conduct of which means so much to the people of Forest county.

Sharp R. Maxwell.

One of the excellent, level-headed and honorable candidates on the Republican ticket this year is our worthy townsman S. R. Maxwell, the nominee of the party for Sheriff. He was born in Clarion county thirty-nine years ago, and has been a resident of Forest county for more than seventeen years, his first home here being at Nebraska, where he was employed at large building for several years, afterward moving to Tionesta, where he has borne a reputation for honesty and integrity second to none of our citizens. "Sharp," as he is familiarly called by his friends and neighbors, has been a hardworking laboring man from his youth and deserves the earnest, loyal support of his fellow workmen in this campaign. As constable of this borough for three years he discharged his duties with promptness, fairness and impartiality and displayed his efficiency as a public official in a high degree. "To the office of Sheriff he will bring the same high degree of efficiency, and we predict will win the high opinions of the people he serves. Mr. Maxwell's nomination was won at the primaries last spring after a fair and honorable contest, which left no bitter feelings, and we have every reason to believe the Republicans throughout the county will stand by him to a man at the election on the third of next November. There would be no possible excuse for doing otherwise for he is a clean-handed, honorable citizen, against whom no word of reproach can truthfully be uttered. A vote for Sharp Maxwell is a vote for a deserving man who has earned his livelihood by the sweat of his face.

Well Known Hotel Keeper Uses and Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "I take pleasure in saying that I have kept Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family medicine chest for about fifteen years, and have always had satisfactory results from its use. I have administered it to a great many traveling men who were suffering from troubles for which it is recommended, and have never failed to relieve them," says J. C. Jenkins, of Glasgow, Ky. This remedy is for sale by Dunn & Fulton.

RECENT DEATHS.

MERVIN. Died, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Osgood, at Endeavor, Pa., Sept. 28th, 1908, Mrs. Eliza A. Mervin, widow of the late Samuel Mervin. Mrs. Mervin was born in Chautauqua county, N. Y., Nov. 27th, 1832. Her maiden name was Littlefield and in 1852 and 1853 she taught school in East Hickory. On July 2, 1856, she was married at Tionesta to Samuel Mervin and for fifty years lived happily until Comrade Mervin answered the final roll call, Feb. 7th, 1906. To them were born eight children, four sons and four daughters, and one step-son, who on account of trains failing to connect at Oil City arrived after the casket was lowered to its last resting place, Sept. 29th. The children were all present except one daughter residing in California. Truly another mother has left us, yet we humbly bow to the will of Him who can do no wrong. Suitable services were rendered by Rev. J. F. S. S. of Endeavor. The W. R. C. contributed their respects to the sorrowing friends as well as their love to the departed mother who left us, but not for the want of love or care by those left behind. J. A.

PARKER. Mary Parker, daughter of John Moll, and wife of Henry C. Parker, died at her home at Gonzola, Pa., Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1908, at ten o'clock. On Sunday morning she was operated upon for strangulated hernia and rallied nicely, her recovery seeming certain, but complications arose, and her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends. She was born in Russellburg, Pa., Oct. 7, 1852, at her death only lacking one day of being 56 years of age. The day of her death was the twenty-seventh anniversary of her marriage. She is survived by her aged father, her husband, two sons, George and Chester, one brother, T. T. Moll of Russellburg, and six sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Russell of Russellburg, Mrs. F. Gulton of Titusville, Mrs. Wm. Anthony of Cleveland, O., Mrs. John Klakely of Youngstown, O., Mrs. John Muenzenberger of Chicago Heights, Ill., and Mrs. Rena Fourer of Orrville, O. She had been for many years a member of the M. E. church and was a consistent christian, respected and loved by all who knew her. Funeral services will be held at the home on Thursday, Rev. W. O. Calhoun officiating, and the burial will be in the Washington cemetery, near Newmansville.

Gave Up Waiting.

A young man who was anxious to secure a job as a railroad-brakeman wandered into one of the local yards the other day and came across a bunch of railroad men who were sitting in a shanty. He made known his ambition, and one of the men, who is quite a joker, asked him a few foolish questions. The youth answered them and then asked: "How long before I'll get a job?" "Sit down and wait," said the joker. "There's ten or fifteen brakemen killed here every day and you can't tell how soon we will need you." The young man's ambition seemed to fade and he remembered that he had an engagement elsewhere.—Albany Journal.
