OCTOBER

Calendar for October 1908 showing days 1 through 31.

COL. BRYAN is the father of all of the issues of the day, but he has forsaken each of them at the first convenient opportunity.

VOTE the straight Republican ticket—it is by long odds the best in the field. No possible excuse for any Republican to split this year.

TRAVELING men are taking many orders to be filled in case of Taft's election, and most of them think such sales are as good as the best.

A CONTEMPORARY says Bryan follows Taft and answers him. Not at all; Bryan just follows Taft and talks. To answer him he would have to say something.

THE late President Cleveland's secretary of state suggests that it might be safe to make Bryan President and then tie him fast through Congress. But that, even would be taking desperate chances.

A WRITER asserts that Europe could land an army of 100,000 on our coast more quickly than we could assemble a like force at the same point. But what would happen to the invaders? The statement is valuable in suggesting the speed with which foreign goods could be poured into this country if Bryan and his free traders let down the bars.

WILLIAM E. RICE, Esq., of Warren has practically a clear field in his candidacy for President Judge of this district, composed of Warren and Forest counties, and his election is among the certainties. It is fortunate that it is so, for the district, which has been peculiarly blessed with able and righteous Judges, will continue in its good fortune in this respect. Mr. Rice will bring ripe legal ability, grace and dignity to the bench and the district's reputation for electing only able and upright Judges will be fully sustained.

AGAINST the maintenance of the gold standard, for one year or forever, the Democratic party has arrayed itself." So said Mr. Bryan in a speech at Asheville, N. C., September 10, 1896. He continued: "We have commenced a war of extermination against it—a war that will not cease while there is any party, or any considerable number of men, attempting to fasten this foreign yoke upon an independent people." Here is a perpetual declaration of war. What objection can the Bryanites have to quoting the words again?

We would like to have Mr. Bryan, or any of his crowd who have been, like "Billy," going up and down the country telling the people how the Democratic party is going to regulate and right all wrongs, sniff at this little squib from the New York World, the only Simon pure Democratic paper in this good land of ours:

"All efforts of the World to have the law (anti-trust law) enforced met with sneers, jeers, and open contempt from a Democratic Attorney-General. The first effort to enforce the law was made by Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican President."

In this terse fashion the Washington Post puts the case squarely up to the voter and there is no chance for equivocation: The questions to be decided in this campaign are whether the policies and purposes of Republicanism, as conceived by and exemplified in Theodore Roosevelt, are to be endorsed, and whether William H. Taft is to be empowered to carry them on for four years longer. Are the seven years of Roosevelt's reforms and regeneration to be repudiated, and the man who inspired them contented? Shall there be a vote of confidence in Taft and a continuation of these advanced Republican doctrines, or shall they be superseded by Bryan policies and Bryan as leader? No amount of discussion or crimination and recrimination can beg the issue and confuse the voter. The people are alive to what it is and what it means. There is no man or men who have more at stake than the President himself, for his ideals, his energies for his country's good, are being weighed in the scales of public opinion—he and the issue are inseparable. He must realize that the defeat of Taft means a rejection of his cherished principles, a setback for all he has hoped to see done in the name of his party, and a rebuke to him as the leader. The election of Taft will vindicate his ideals and add greater honor to his name as statesman, administrator and moralist.

This is a picture of the Democratic nominee for president that is being circulated upon a postal card throughout Pennsylvania:

"William Jennings Bryan. "A permanent presidential candidate. "A statesman who never wrote a statute. "A soldier who never fought a battle. "A farmer who never plowed a furrow. "A peerless leader, under whose leadership and teachings the number of states controlled by his party has dwindled from twenty-three to thirteen; its senators from forty-eight to thirty-one, and its congressmen from 220 to 164. "Shall the People Rule." (Bryan, 1908). "In the north, and south, the east and west, and in the 'middle west,' and the 'enemy's country,' Democrats and Republicans in mighty numbers again united as in 1896 and 1900, and for the third time ruled him out on Nov. 3, 1908. HISTORY."

John M. Zuendel.

The Republicans of Forest county have as their nominees for County Commissioner two level-headed, careful and conservative farmers. One of these is John M. Zuendel of Kingsley township, born and reared on the farm and a lifelong resident of the county. Mr. Zuendel's reputation for honesty, probity and square dealing is so well known to the people of his county that it need scarcely be mentioned. By economy, thrift and hard toil he has made a success of his business, and though enjoying what comforts are to be had about farm life, is not wealthy, as all who have followed farming in the ordinary way in this country can readily understand. He is a man of ripe experience in official capacity, having held about all the offices of trust in his township and has never failed to discharge the duties thereof with fidelity and to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers and residents whom he served. He is exceptionally well qualified for the office of County Commissioner and will guard the interests of the county in a manner that will prove eminently satisfactory to the people. Those who know John Zuendel know that he is all right.

William H. Harrison.

Another of the nominees of the Republican party for County Commissioner is Wm. H. Harrison, well and most favorably known to the people of the county as a careful and efficient business man. He, too, has been a lifelong citizen of Forest county and a farmer. He has been tried in official position and rendered good satisfaction, his three-year term as county treasurer bringing him in close contact with the taxpayers whose needs he knows and will look carefully after. Mr. Harrison has had many years' experience in public work, and while attending his farm, which is located in Green township, he superintended the making of many of the roads in his community, being looked upon as the best and most practical road-maker in the county. By experience and education he is well qualified to fill the office for which his party has nominated him, and will give a good account of his stewardship. It would be difficult to find better timber for county commissioner than Harrison and Zuendel, and with two such men in that office the people may rest assured that the affairs of the county will be handled with great care and efficiency. Give them your vote at the November election. You will not regret it.

Gompers Can't Control Labor.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.

Samuel Gompers, who has been trying to swing the labor vote to Bryan, got a severe jolt when he read an official circular issued by T. L. Lewis, the national president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Bryan managers have been claiming a big following among the mine workers, but President Lewis has made it clear that this organization shall not be used to pull the chest nuts out of the fire of men who seek to work union labor in politics to advance their own aims.

In this letter, sent out a few days ago by President Lewis, among other things says:

"We are in the midst of a political campaign. Every method known to political managers will be used to secure votes for their respective candidates. This is especially true in the attempt to obtain expressions from those holding official positions in labor unions.

"I am in receipt of hundreds of letters from men of all shades of political beliefs and from all parts of the United States, asking for my opinion of the different candidates, or my views upon the issues involved in the political campaign.

"The United Mine Workers did not elect me international president to influence your political preferences, or how you should cast your vote on election day. You have elected me to direct the affairs of the United Mine Workers. The success of the United Mine Workers and the welfare of its members are and will receive my first and only consideration as long as I have the honor of representing you.

Not Taking Sides.

"I am not responsible for interviews appearing in the newspapers, alleged to be from me, that I favor any particular candidate. I have declined to express or to give any statement publicly for or against any candidate or issue, nor do I intend to do so. This letter will be my answer to all who ask me for any advice along political lines.

"I have the honor to represent an organization of nearly 200,000 members of every known nationality and different political views. We have among our members Prohibitionists, Populists, Independents, Socialists, Democrats and Republicans. From what I know of our members you are fully competent to decide for yourselves how you will vote on election day.

"All my time is required to look after the interests of the United Mine Workers. Those interested in the subject matter of this letter will please refrain from writing me in connection with politics if they hope to get an answer.

"The United Mine Workers as an organization has been in existence for many years before this political campaign, and we all wish that it may live many years after the present campaign has passed into history, and until every wrong of which the mine-complains is honorably adjusted."

W. C. T. U. State Convention.

One of the delegates to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention held at Sharon, Oct. 1 to 6, of which we made mention last week, sends us the following items of interest to all W. C. T. U. women in Forest county:

The convention had nearly 400 delegates and a notable feature was the absence of "fuss and feathers." All the women were plainly gowned and an earnest, business like spirit was evident at all of the sessions. There is a membership of 20,000 in Pennsylvania and 20,000 in New York, but one woman in every 48 in Pennsylvania belongs.

Forest and Jefferson are grouped together for National delegate. The boys and girls of Sharon held exercises Saturday afternoon, the boys in particular doing some fine singing. One chorus was, "We coming fathers have much to do; We coming fathers must be strong and true."

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Irwin and her son, Rev. Irwin, who has been in Forest county as a speaker, held a Sunday school rally in which over 1,000 children took part.

Sharon being on the Ohio line, great enthusiasm was felt as the reports of counties voting were brought in.

An immense poster showing Pennsylvania as the only state in the east having no local option law, was hung in a prominent place. Some of the head lines were as follows: "Local Option is Personal Liberty." "Only Six States in the Union Have Not this Personal Liberty to Vote for or Against the Saloon." "Should Pennsylvania Voters be Disfranchised?" The convention pledged itself to work for local option and the following verse was often sung:

Pennsylvania's going dry, Pennsylvania's going dry, Praise the Lord who helps us, Pennsylvania's going dry.

Forest county was on the honor roll, winning three ribbons: Nebraska Union, red ribbon, for double membership; Kelleysville, a blue ribbon, new union; West Hickory, blue ribbon, new union.
