DARING ROBBERY NEAR CLARION.

Morris Snyder, of Fryburg, shot and robbed in Broad Daylight.

A daring robbery was committed yesterday morning on the public road between Fryburg and Clarion, about 5 miles from the latter place. Morris Snyder, proprietor of the Eisenman Hotel at Fryburg, was driving to Clarion and when he reached a lonely spot in the road known as Hain's bridge he was met by two men, neither of whom was masked, who with drawn revolvers demanded his money. Not responding readily one of the men fired at him, the ball entering the forehead just above the eye, rendering him unconscious. When he regained consciousness he was lying in the road and his horse and buggy were a short distance from him. His pockets had been rifled and $250 in cash and a check amounting to about $50 were gone. Mr. Snyder made his way back some distance to a farm house and the folks there brought him back to Fryburg. He is in a critical condition but it is thought he will live. The men were dressed in working clothes and he thinks he could identify one of them, but the other was an entire stranger to him.

The road on which Snyder was driving was not the main road, but is often used as a short-cut. The highwaymen must have known that he intended going that morning and the route he would likely take. No clues have been discovered.

Tionesta Boy in Bad Predicament.

Leroy Connor, aged 18 years, and for a year or more past employed by Liveryman Urey, and Sigworth & Hepler, has gotten into a serious predicament by forging and negotiating several checks at Oil City. Connor arrived in the city Monday of last week and it seems proceeded at once to negotiate the checks which he had forged. One was cashed by the Monarch Clothing Co., for $30 when he made a small purchase; another for $10 was cashed by Carlson Bros., where the youth bought a four-dollar pair of shoes, receiving $36 in change, and a third was passed upon M. Snyder for $15. The fourth was drawn for $150 and was turned down by the Oil City Trust Co., where the lad presented it for payment. This check was drawn in favor of M. C. Willings, endorsed by the same name, also by "Mr. Q. Jamieson, from Tionesta." All the cashed checks had been returned to the Oil City banks by the Forest County National bank of Tionesta upon which institution they were drawn. It was then that the authorities got after Connor, who was placed under arrest when he returned from a drive into the country, having hired a rig from one of the city liverymen. In his possession was found the $150 check which the bank had turned down, $24 in money, two new suit cases well filled with new garments, and wearing a new outfit of clothing.

The checks were all made out on blanks of the Pioneer Creamery Co., formerly located near Newmansville and long since gone out of business, two leaves containing three blank checks each having been abstracted from a book belonging to Liveryman J. L. Hepler, in whose employ the lad had been for several months past.

Young Connor is about six feet tall, is not quite 18 years of age, and has the appearance and manner of an innocent and inoffensive stripling of a boy, and his escape comes as a surprise to many in Tionesta who looked upon him as a boy of good principles and no bad habits. The blizzard says he "talks in a rambling manner and with the simplicity of a school child. He does not appear to realize the seriousness of the crime with which he is charged, and when asked if he did not know he would be caught and punished for forging the checks, replied he "supposed he would."

At the hearing young Connor was held for his appearance at court in Franklin in the sum of $450. Being unable to furnish the same he was placed in jail to await trial.

Former Tionesta Lady Insane.

Mrs. Charles L. Black, a former resident of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., worried by the desertion of her husband several months ago, has become insane. On Thursday morning she placed boards and a plank on the track of the P. R. R., in the Siverly yard, as train No. 63 was pulling into the city. The engineer saw the obstruction and put on the emergency brakes and when the train slackened its speed she waded her shawl and threw away her pocketbook. The woman was taken to the lockup and will probably be sent to the State Hospital for Insane at Warren to-day. Last night when the janitor, Guy Shaffer, went into the woman's cell to give her her supper, she became violent and attacked him with a chair, driving him outside. She then smashed all of the electric light bulbs and the porcelain insulator at the turnoff switch, leaving the room in darkness. Chief of Police Reid was notified, overpowered her and locked her in a cell. Mrs. Black heard that her husband had located in Kennard, Pa., last spring and came here in search of him. She brought with her cards printed in that city offering a reward of $50 for the return of her husband and made a personal search for him throughout this section without results and her present mental condition is apparently the result of that desertion and constant worry. She has a brother in this city, Samuel Hepler, of Cornplanter avenue, and a daughter, Mrs. Bert Sigworth, lives in Lickingville, Clarion county.—Oil City Derrick, Friday.

Mrs. Black, who was formerly Mrs. Kinch, is well known in this community, where she resided for many years. Friends sympathize deeply with her in this deplorable matter. It has been necessary to remove her to the State hospital at North Warren.

This remedy is for sale by Dunn & Fulton.

RECENT DEATHS.

ALBAUGH.

Mrs. Emily Albaugh, wife of George Albaugh, former residents of Tionesta, died at the home of her daughter, at West Hickory, on Monday morning of this week, after a short illness of pneumonia. She is survived by six children, Willis, Horton and Edward Albaugh, Mrs. George Arnold of West Hickory, Mrs. Jack Jaystrum of Jamestown, N. Y., Mrs. Augusta Beckville of Pittsburgh. Deceased was aged 61 years. The funeral was held yesterday, Rev. W. E. Davis officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at East Hickory.

HALL.

Joseph Hall, for many years a highly esteemed citizen of Barneet township, died at his home at Redcliff, Pa., Wednesday night October 21, 1908. He was born in Butler county, Pa., May 23, 1848, and was a son of Cornelius and Susan Hall, deceased. Joseph was reared and educated in Butler county, and came to Forest county in 1866, settling at Redcliff, where he followed lumbering and farming, and where in 1867, he was united in marriage with Miss Harriet Huling, who survives him. Seven children blessed this union, and all are living except one daughter. Mr. Hall was an industrious, energetic Christian gentleman, who was held in great esteem in the community in which he spent the greater portion of his life. Socially he was a pleasant, companionable man with whom it was a pleasure to meet and converse. During his life time he had held nearly all the offices of trust in his township, always discharging his duties with fidelity and honor. From early manhood he was a member of the United Brethren church and his faith in the Christian religion never wavered. For upward of a year his health had failed and about two months ago a stroke of paralysis prostrated him and he was not again able to leave his bed. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. R. Miller, were held on Saturday morning, with interment in the cemetery at Redcliff.

ERR.

With many friends the REPUBLICAN regrets very greatly to learn of the death of Joseph B. Erb, of West Hickory, which occurred on Saturday evening last at 9:30 o'clock, at Kane, Pa., where he had gone a short time ago to visit James Montgomery, a relative, and at whose home he died. The cause was pneumonia, and his illness was of but a few days' duration.

Mr. Erb was aged 55 years, being born, we believe in Center county, this State, where he resided most of his life. Thirty years or more ago he came to the oil regions of this section, and had been ever since connected with that industry ever since. Besides his son, Grant, well known to the people of this community, and who is now at Bridgeport, Ill., he is survived by another son living in Kansas City, and a daughter residing in Salt Lake City. For the past 18 or 20 years the deceased had made his home at West Hickory, near which place he was interested in an oil lease. His frequent visits to Tionesta made him well known figure here where he had many friends. Possessed of a remarkable memory, and having been a great reader before his sight failed him, he was a veritable storehouse of information, making him a very interesting conversationalist, and his visits to the REPUBLICAN office will be greatly missed. We are without particulars as to funeral arrangements, but understand the remains will be buried at Pine Grove Mills, Center county, beside those of his wife, who preceded him in death many years.

Oldest Woman Dead.

Elizabeth Freeman, in her 115th year, died at her home at Red Bank, Pa., where she has lived for more than 50 years, on Saturday afternoon, at 12:07 o'clock. She was undoubtedly the oldest resident of the state.

She was born near Connelisville, Fayette county, Pa., October 4, 1794, her maiden name being McKnight. She was married in Fayette county, and her husband was one of the first men employed in the smelting furnace at Red Bank, owned by McCullough & Reynolds and established in 1850. Her husband died some 30 or more years ago, dropping dead at his home, from heart disease, after completing his week's work.

Mrs. Freeman, until after she had passed the century mark, was active in mind and body, capable of doing her own housework and had a vivid remembrance of past affairs and was well posted on current events. Annually, since she celebrated her 100th birthday, 14 years since, hundreds of people throughout that section of the state have called upon her, on October 4, to offer their congratulations and found her mind unimpaired and herself ready to chat and recall past events and her previous birthdays. Three years ago she became blind but never suffered any serious illness.

She was able to eat three meals a day and also enjoyed her pipe of tobacco, although of late she restricted herself to one smoke a day.

An apple tree in Mrs. J. G. Dale's yard is attracting considerable attention by coming out in a new dress of blossoms this fall, after having borne its usual quota of fruit in season. And here it is less than a week till election day.

The dwelling house of Wm. Fitzgerald, located on his farm on the hill near Cooksburg, this county, was destroyed by fire on Thursday last. We are without particulars as to the cause of the fire, or the amount of Mr. Fitzgerald's loss.

Of all the ideal fall days of the past month Sunday took the palm, being as rare as the proverbial June day. The liverymen were well patronized, and almost everybody "stroled out" for awhile to enjoy the clear bright sunshine and balmy air.

"Fid" Wentworth, whose farm is located on John's run, Tionesta twp., raised a fine crop of apples this season, and remembered the printer with a supply of "northern spies" that beat anything we've ever seen in that line. Not even the tropics could produce such fine favored or better sized fruit.

Dr. Morrow of West Hickory had about an inch of the index finger of his right hand nipped off one day last week while assisting in the disposal of some coal which was being hauled to an oil lease in which he is interested. The sharp edge of a large lump caught the finger and severed it near the first joint.

Great flocks of wild geese were hovering over this section Monday night, one reliable party reporting that not less than a hundred of the big birds lit in the eddy at Trunkville where they stayed until daylight yesterday morning. Hunters fired many shots at them, but the pellets were too small to penetrate the heavily feathered honkers and none were bagged.

The street work in Tionesta is practically finished and contractors Beck & O'Neil are shipping their machinery home. The steam roller is packing the limestone on the Macdonald road on the Tubbs run and this week, and that will complete their contract. There is no fault to be found with their work in this borough, but on the contrary there is much praise bestowed upon it.

Selling cold-storage eggs as "strictly fresh" or as "fresh" is against the pure food laws and a man in Washington who did it was fined seventy-five dollars. Eggs kept at the farm may be sold with a rather larger freedom, for no one can say that the sale was made with a deliberate attempt to deceive. But eggs from the farm are seldom kept long, the cash market being preferred.

The Clive... body being first... morning, but it is not known just when the rash act was committed, and the cause is unknown. He was aged 31 years.

When a splinter has been driven deep into the hand, it can be extracted without pain by steam. Nearly fill a wide-mouthed bottle with hot water, place the injured part over the mouth of the bottle, and press tightly. The suction will draw the splinter down, and in a minute or two the steam will extricate the splinter and the inflammation will disappear.—November Woman's Home Companion.

Wednesday evening Elmer Stearns, residing on the Wilson farm between Gresham and Breedtown, Crawford county, killed a black bear weighing about 150 pounds. Mr. Stearns was hunting for a bee tree when he discovered the bear in his potato field. He ran to the house for a rifle and during his absence his dog chased the bear into a tree and Mr. Stearns brought brum to the ground with the third shot.

Decrees to prevent pollution of the streams of the State have just been issued by the state Department of health. Two western Pennsylvania towns, Cambridge Springs, Crawford county, and Cliftonville, Venango county, have been refused State permission to construct sewer systems which would go into the Allegheny river watershed and have been informed that they must first provide sewage disposal plants.

Captain J. M. Gayetty, accompanied by Harrison McDowell, of Reno, has gone to the big woods in Forest County at the head of Blue Jay Creek, where they will go into camp and make a preliminary hunt for bear. They expect to return home and cast a vote at the Presidential election. On their return they will be joined by G. B. Kiser and E. M. Kiser for their regular fall hunt for big game, which Captain Gayetty has enjoyed for a number of years.—Oil City Blizard.

If you think you're wise and well-informed, says an exchange, just see if you can answer these questions: You have seen hundreds of white horses, why do you never see a white colt? Why does a horse eat grass backwards and a cow forward? Why does a hop vine twine to the left and a bean vine to the right? Why does a horse staked out to a rope unwind it while a cow winds it up into hard kinks? Why does a horse get up on his front feet and a cow on her hind feet?

Hallowe'en occurs next Saturday, the last night of the month. This wiered festival is becoming one of the most notable in the calendar in the larger cities, and the approaching occasion will perhaps be no exception to the rule. Less vandalism is practiced than in years past, and the night is given over to real merry-making, which is much more rational and sensible. There's real sport in the modern hallowe'en, and we hope young and old alike will enjoy the approaching event.

Fire in the woods back of Dawson station, Wednesday afternoon, spread very rapidly and required hard and persistent work by a large force of men all night and far into the next day to prevent damage to valuable property. Back-firing alone saved the property on the Baird and other leases in that section. Several thousand acres of woods land were burned over and the wonder is that more damage was not done, the area covered being from the river hill back beyond the Fogle farm, and from Dawson run north to the Hickory road. The fallen leaves in the woods are dry as tinder and flare up like gasoline when ignited.

A serial story that promises remarkably well begins in the November number of The Ladies' World. It is called Hearts Inurgent, and the author is Grace MacGowan Cooke, whose name alone guarantees excellence. Beside this there is a quantity of short fiction by Harriet Rowland, Catalina Paz, Bessie R. Hoover and others that is more than usually interesting. The special articles on The Holy Land, The Boy and His Parents, and What Women Can Do to Earn Money are continued, and in excellent time, there are several pages of suggestions for Christmas gifts to be made at home by grown-ups and children.—[New York; Fifty Cents a Year.]

An exchange gets right down to the truth of an important subject when it says: Newspapers are blamed for a lot of things they cannot help, such as using partiality in mentioning visitors, giving news about some people, leaving others out, etc. We simply publish the news we find. Some people inform us of such news, others do not. An editor should not be expected to know the name and residence of all your uncles, aunts and cousins even if he does see them get on and off the train. Tell us about it. It's news that makes the paper, and every man, woman and child can sometimes furnish news. Tell us. If we have no news about you this issue, who is to blame?

Rev. D. A. Platt of Franklin, Rev. W. O. Calhoun of Tionesta, and E. L. DeWoody of Golins, while hunting rabbits on Hall Ridge, above Nebraska, last Wednesday afternoon, routed out three bears in one bunch and for a time there was considerable excitement, the average hunter becoming excited at sight of one, to say nothing of seeing them in droves. The hunters had with them a small dog which ran into a clump of brush and in a moment out came a full grown bear followed by two about two-thirds grown, the larger one jumping clear over the dog. The animals started at full speed down an old road, followed by the men. Five charges of bird shot were sent after the bears, the only result being to bring growls from two of them. They finally distanced the hunters and made their escape in a dense thicket.

The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys.
