KAISER'S BAD BREAK.

Chancellor Von Buelow's Authority and Prestige Weakened.

How the Emperor's Recent Interview Escaped Scrutiny of Foreign Office Officials—Radical, Liberal and Socialist Journals Utilize the Event to Urge a Demand for a Ministry Responsible to Parliament Instead of to the Crown Alone.

Chancellor von Buelow's position at Berlin appears to be almost untenable. Far and wide throughout the empire the newspapers of all parties discuss with varying degrees of mockery, amazement and regret the government's explanation of how what purported to be an enormously important utterance of the emperor, affecting three great powers, passed through the hands of the chancellor and a long line of foreign office officials seemingly without having been considered by any of them or even read by most of those responsible for the delicate foreign relations.

The emperor fully condones Prince von Buelow's part in the affair, but the chancellor's authority and prestige with the country have been so shaken that he may again ask the emperor to relieve him.

All the Radical, Liberal and Socialist journals utilize the event to urge upon the country a demand for a ministry responsible to the parliament and the people, instead of the continuance of ministerial responsibility to the crown alone.

In addition to the semi-official accounts already published, it is learned that the emperor handed the manuscript of the interview which appeared in the London Daily Telegraph and the authorship of which is still undisclosed, to Baron von Jenisch, who was attached to his entourage while the emperor was absent from the capital a short time ago, as the representative of the foreign office, with the direction to send it to Prince von Buelow.

The chancellor described the note from von Jenisch, which accompanied the manuscript, as referring to the enclosure as an article, not as an interview, so that the chancellor did not consider it necessary to give it his personal attention. The manuscript consisted of a number of small flimsy-like sheets, the handwriting being difficult to decipher, and the chancellor referred it to Herr von Maeller, the minister at The Hague, who was acting as the chancellor's private secretary.

The latter, in his turn and without examining the document, sent it to the foreign office, where in the absence of Herr von Schoen, the secretary of foreign affairs, it was read by the subordinate officials, who did not attach importance to its contents, and it was returned through the proper channels without further examination until transmitted by one of the imperial secretaries to England, where, as the Tagliche Rundschau, one of the newspapers that is read in court, aristocratic and military circles, described it, "it emerged gayly into the world, infuriating the French, Russians, Dutch and Japanese, chilling the British, exciting bitterness and nervous irritation on the part of our own people, and undermining our neighbors' belief in our reliability."

BAER SOLE MONARCH OF COAL.

Head of Reading System Decreases What Consumers Must Pay.

George F. Baer, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. and the Reading system, is the man who fixes coal prices, according to testimony adduced at the resumed hearing of the government suits against the so-called anthracite combination in the federal building at Philadelphia.

Robert J. Montgomery, general sales agent of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, and other railroad officials, were examined by MacReynolds and Todd, special assistants to the attorney general. Mr. Montgomery denied that he had anything to do with fixing the price of anthracite coal.

"Who does fix it?" Mr. MacReynolds asked.
After a moment's pause Mr. Montgomery answered: "George F. Baer, president of the Reading Railway company, always fixes the price himself. When he wants to make a change he sends a schedule of rates to his sales agent. He sent them to my predecessor, and when he wants to make another change I presume he will send one to me. I have nothing to do with the rates."

$10,000 For Two Days In Jail.

Five thousand dollars a day was the remuneration allowed Harry Hughes by a jury in Judge Brentano's court in Chicago for the time he spent in the county jail on what the jury decided was a false charge of embezzlement. The decision is against the Interstate Shirt and Collar company and J. O. Eaton, its president. Eaton swore out a warrant for Hughes and the latter was placed in jail Dec. 15, 1906. He remained in jail two days in default of bonds, and ultimately was acquitted of the charge in Municipal Judge Newcomer's court. He sued for $25,000, but the jury decided that $10,000 was sufficient recompense.

CONVICTED OF BRIBERY.

Contractor Blake Hired Juror to Vote to Acquit Ruff.

Standing in the shadow of the penitentiary at San Francisco, last week, with sentence about to be passed upon him and having seen his young wife just led from the court room hysterically crying "No, no," E. A. S. Blake, a contractor, convicted of attempting to bribe John M. Kelly to qualify on the jury to try Abraham Ruff, and vote for Ruff's acquittal, made a full confession in court.

Blake said that after he was arrested on a charge of bribery, Frank J. Murphy, Ruff's associate counsel, came to him and promised him $10,000 and provision for his wife, and that notes for $10,000 purporting to be signed by Ruff were delivered to a third party, to be paid to Blake immediately after he was sentenced if he were convicted of bribery. Besides this amount, Blake declared, his wife was to receive $100 a month while he was in the penitentiary.

When Blake was called on to rise and receive sentence his wife cried "No, no, that," and began to cry hysterically. She was led from the room. After motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment had been denied, Blake said that he had a statement as a reason why sentence should not be pronounced. This came as a surprise to his attorneys, who were permitted to withdraw their case.

MRS. WILLIAM ASTOR DEAD.

For Thirty Years Was Regarded as Social Leader of New York.

Mrs. William Astor, who for thirty years has been regarded as the social leader of New York, died Friday night of heart disease at her home on Fifth avenue. For nearly four weeks Mrs. Astor, who was 82 years old, has been in a critical condition.

There is no name in the American social register that is so well known as that of Mrs. Astor.

It was Mrs. Astor who established the famous "400," her visiting list originally being confined to that number of names.

William Astor, who died in Paris in 1892, took little part in the social activities of his wife enjoyed. Mrs. Astor was Miss Caroline Schermerhorn, a daughter of Abraham Schermerhorn, a well-to-do merchant. She was married to William Astor on Sept. 23, 1853. John Jacob Astor was their only son. There were four daughters. Two of them, Mrs. Ogilvie Haig and Mrs. Orme Wilson, are now living. The eldest daughter, Miss Emily Astor, who married James Roosevelt some years ago, as did Miss Helen Astor, who married James Roosevelt-Roosevelt.

CONVICT MONTGOMERY AGAIN

His Pecuniations in the Two Cases Said to Amount to $613,000.

William Montgomery, cashier of the Allegheny National bank at Pittsburgh until the discovery of a shortage in its funds of over $1,250,000, early last summer, necessitated closing the institution, was for the second time last week found guilty of embezzlement and abstraction of funds, his pecuniations in the two cases amounting to $613,000.

The case just concluded involved the abstraction of $144,000 worth of the bank's bonds, and as in the first case Montgomery offered no testimony in defense.

Every effort has been made by the prosecution and the bank's directors to learn from Montgomery what became of the money abstracted or who besides himself received the money, but the cashier has steadfastly refused to involve others, and it is generally believed that it was to prevent the possibility of others being dragged into the case that no defense was offered in the two cases.

Commission Secures a Settlement.

The New York Central and Hudson River R. R. announced to the public service commission in the Second district its willingness to pay to the Gleason Cold Storage company of LeRoy a so-called repatriation claim for $4,044. It appears the railroad company made an excessive charge on shipments of apples. The claim is one of the largest of its kind satisfactorily settled since the commission announced it would receive complaints involving such claims. The commission has ordered the New York Central Railroad company to reduce the weighing charge to the Buffalo Foundry and Machine company from 50 to 25 per cent, loaded or empty.

Direct Flight For 20 Miles.

Henry Farman for the first time gave a practical demonstration of the possibilities of the aeroplane by flying direct from Mourmelon, in France, to Rheims, a distance of twenty miles, without mishap. The aeroplane ascended at 9 p. m. and an hour later a telegram was received from Farman announcing his safe arrival at Rheims. The time of flight was twenty minutes and the height reached was between 120 and 150 feet. The course was literally as the crow flies, over trees, fields and streams.

PUT BODY ON DUMP

Confession Made Near Spot Where Corpse Was Found.

Identified by Several People as the Teamster They Had Seen With His Wagon in the Neighborhood Last Sunday—Brother's Wife, He Said Helped Him Put the Body in the Dump Wagon—Haunted by Victim's Face Since the Murder.

Detroit, Nov. 3.—John Kurka, a teamster, made a dramatic confession of how he killed his half-brother, Anthony Schultz, a week ago and then hauled the body in his dump wagon across the city to the spot in the western outskirts where it was found. The confession was made near the spot where the body was found.

The police had dressed Kurka in the clothes he wore on the morning of the murder, mounted him on his wagon and had him drive across the city from the Schultz home to the woods, to permit several persons to identify him. If possible, as the teamster they had seen in the neighborhood last Sunday.

After he had finished the grousesome task and had been identified by several people, Kurka broke down and admitted that he killed his half-brother. He said that Schultz and his wife were quarrelling and when he interfered Schultz attacked him.

CHAS. A. HENGERER GOES OVER FALLS.

Waded Into the Rapids and Baffled Effort to Save Him.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Charles A. Hengerer, son of the late William Hengerer, and former vice president of the William Hengerer company, one of the largest department stores in Buffalo, committed suicide here yesterday by jumping into the river and going over the falls.

Hengerer was seen wading into the river at a point about seventy-five feet above the brink of the falls by Edward King of Walden, Mass. King rushed to the place where Hengerer went into the river and tried to save him. Hengerer threw himself forward into the swift current and was swept over the falls.

Hengerer left an overcoat on the river bank and a card found in one of the pockets led to the identification. E. L. Hengerer, treasurer of the Buffalo department store, came here in the afternoon and identified the coat as one belonging to his brother.

Deer Leaped Into Mill Rollers.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 3.—A frightened deer today leaped into the rollers of the steel mill plant which were in action and as a result 1,000 men were idle for some hours. A buck and a doe appeared wandering around the railroad tracks. A yard engine scared the buck into the river but the doe dashed in the direction of the mill and leaping over the heads of the startled workmen landed in the steam rollers. The animal was so badly injured that it had to be killed.

Yawn Dislocates Jaw.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—Lawrence Pitschki, 19 years old, of Perryville road, Ross township, yawned so hard yesterday morning that he dislocated his jaw and was unable to close his mouth until surgeons at Allegheny General hospital pried his jaws back into place. Pitschki remained at the hospital all day and was able to return home at night.

Fair Weather in All but 11 States.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Fair weather in all but eleven states is the forecast for election day by the weather bureau. Moderate temperature will prevail in all states. Showers are indicated for Tuesday in Georgia, Alabama, Western Florida, Mississippi, Eastern Louisiana, the mountains of Tennessee, the Carolinas, Washington, Oregon and Northern Idaho.

Commission Secures Better Service.

Albany, Nov. 3.—Owing to improved passenger train service by the Erie Railroad company, the public service commission, Second district, has closed on its records the complaint of residents of the villages of Friendship, Cuba and Belmont, Allegany county, against that company. This action was taken on advice of complainants.

Tobacco as a Drug.

I know that many are of the opinion our northern niggers are weak, imperfect, not so well connected, of such force, as those in southern parts, not so fit to be used in physic, and will therefore fetch their drugs afar off—seneca, cassia, out of Egypt, rhubarb from Barbary, aloes from Socotra, turpentine, gamboge, hermodactyls from the East Indies; tobacco from the west—Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy."

KICKED NEARLY TO DEATH.

Fellow Prisoner Says He Remembers Nothing of Attack.

Beaver, Pa., Nov. 3.—In a blood-spattered cell of the West Bridgewater lockup Policeman Samuel Scott found Victor Swanson, 60 years old, lying on the floor unconscious and terribly beaten, while his cell mate, James Dugan, 35 years old, regarded the prostrate man dazed and frightened.

At midnight Swanson, who lives in West Bridgewater, and Dugan, whose home is in Pittsburg, were arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The borough lockup has but two cells and as one was already occupied the two prisoners were locked up together. The men in the adjoining cell saw Swanson and Dugan quarrel and soon began to fight. Swanson was knocked down and kicked into insensibility. The older man begged for mercy and the other prisoners pleaded in his behalf, but no attention was paid to them.

Swanson was kicked and beaten until he was almost unrecognizable and every stitch of clothing torn from him. Two ribs were broken and the man's whole body was a mass of bruises and cuts.

Dugan, it is said, did not cease his frenzied attack until he had kicked off a sole of one shoe. He declares he can remember nothing that took place. Swanson was taken to the hospital, while Dugan is being held to await the outcome of the other's injuries.

MURDER LEADS TO QUICK ARREST.

Policeman Two Miles From Scene Arrests Fugitive.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—Because a father objected to a married man, whose wife lives in Italy, calling on his pretty 20-year-old daughter is alleged to have been the cause of a murder at No. 4 Hall street, Northside, at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night. Mike Cominer, aged 35, of No. 5 Langtry street, whose wife lives in Italy, was shot and killed by another Italian alleged to have been Guy Marnell, aged 47, of No. 4 Hall street.

Word of the shooting and a description of Marnell was sent to Central police station and Policeman Harry Myers was the second officer to call up after the description was received. He called from Sixth and Wylie avenues. The description was read to him and he said:

"There is a man standing here answering that description who just asked me how to get to Carrick."

The stranger was arrested and taken to Central station, where he is alleged to have confessed to the killing. He told the police Cominer was a married man and that he had objected to him calling on his daughter. Cominer threatened to kill Marnell and, according to Marnell, called at his house twice and told him he would kill him. He called a third time, started to quarrel and Marnell, believing him to be armed and intending to carry out his threat, shot and killed him.

Marnell has a sister living at 913 Soles street, McKeesport, a brother also in McKeesport and a son in Carrick. Three other Italians are said to have been in Marnell's house when the shooting occurred, drinking beer, but all escaped.

Cominer was arrested a month ago, according to the police, and held a grudge against Marnell for this, laying the blame on him for his trouble.

Awards in International Balloon Race.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Aero club of Berlin has awarded officially the prizes in the international race for the Bennett cup, which was started from this city Oct. 11. The Swiss balloon Helvetia is given first prize, the English Banshee second and the Belgian Belgica third prize. Up to the time of this announcement the Banshee had been regarded as the winner of the race.

Trampled to Death by Mules.

York, Pa., Nov. 3.—George Shenberger, aged 65, was trampled to death by a drove of mules at Lauder's stockyards here. The animals stampeded while the aged man was going across the yard. He was knocked down and cut and bruised from head to foot by the animals' sharp hoofs.

Don't Want Dry County Drinkers.

Bucyrus, O., Nov. 3.—Bucyrus saloon keepers caused surprise by announcing an agreement to close their places every Sunday between 9 a. m. and noon and after 6 p. m. The purpose is to keep Wyandotte and Marion counties, both dry, from sending their habitual drinkers here.

CHAFIN'S PREDICTION.

Entire Face of Nation's Politics Will Change Before Another Four Years.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 3.—Eugene W. Chafin, the Prohibition candidate for president, closed his campaign last night in Milwaukee, speaking in his native state to an audience which included the Phantom Outing club, of which he is a member.

"On the edge of election," he said, in his address, "I make this prophecy. The party that goes down to defeat tomorrow will never again put a candidate for president in the field. The entire face of the politics of the nation will change before another four years are passed."

"The entire Prohibition ticket tomorrow will receive the largest vote it has ever been given by tens and tens of thousands, and the old parties will wake up on Wednesday morning to the realization that there is something more than a body of what they call fanatics backing this anti-liquor party."

"The old parties will realize that the political battles of the future will be waged over this question, and that this liquor issue will be the great issue until the day when the saloon is abolished forever. Then, and not until then, will we stop our fight for the wiping out of the liquor traffic."

BONES FOUND AT MT. VERNON

Murder Mystery Develops on Estate Once Held by Washington.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Through the finding of the skeleton of a man on the historic Mount Vernon estate, at one time the home of George Washington, the authorities of Fairfax county, Va., have to solve what appears to be a murder mystery.

Gatekeeper Vickers, employe of the estate, discovered the skeleton, together with the dead man's clothes, a gold watch, a bottle of whisky and a calendar, in a patch of woods near the entrance to the grounds. Upon the calendar the name "Antonio" was written, and a bullet was discovered among the bones.

The theory of the police is that an Italian workman, employed two years ago in the construction of a road near the point where the skeleton was found, was shot by one of his fellow workmen.

Coroner Morey blames Mrs. E. R. McKane, the operator at Lyons Falls, deciding that the collision was due to her mistake in copying a train order. The coroner adds that the railroad company should employ only competent operators.
