On Friday evening the members of Rev. Mr. Bailey's congregation planned and very successfully carried out a fruit shower for the family, and then gave the popular domine and his amiable spouse a friendly call, most of the visitors being masked. The occasion proved a most pleasing one to host, hostess and guests; one long to be remembered by those who participated in the happy event. A guessing contest was one of the funny features of the program the prize being a half dozen doughnuts. In this connection Rev. and Mrs. Bailey desire through our columns to express their hearty appreciation of and many thanks for the abundance of good things with which their larder was stored, and the good people of the congregation will be held in grateful remembrance for this generous trest.

ville, died in that place Saturday morn ing, Oct. 31, 1908, at 9:45 o'clock, after an illness of short duration, stomach trouble which baffled the skill of the physicians, being the cause. Mr. Reyner was aged nearly 26 years, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Reyner, for many years residents of Marienville. He was one of the most promising young men of his community, of pleasing address full of energy and popular with all who knew him. Morally his character was above reproach. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and a leading member of its choir, and the community in which he was reared from early childhood has sustained a serious loss in his death, and he will be missed for many years to come. About thirteen months ago Mr. Reyner was united in marriage with Miss Ellen Carlson, who survives him, together with his parents and three sisters, namely, Mrs. LeRoy Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harry Covert, and Miss Clara Reyner. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, the services being conducted by his pastor, Rey. H. F. Earseman, and the odd Fellows Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, had charge of the ceremonies at the grave.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS. Richard H. Marshall Commits Suicide While Despondent.

The residents of this community were report of the finding of the body of Richard H. Marshall, in the woods land of F. L. Reib, on the the west bank of Tionesta creek, about a mile and a half from Tionesta. The discovery was made shortly after one o'clock by Mr. Reib, who was taking a stroll up the bank of the creek, He burried to town and gave the alarm and Coroner C. Y. Detar, of Kellettville, was notified. Upon the arrival of the coroner he appointed a jury composed of J. W. Jamieson, J. W. Landers, L. L. Zuver, G. W. Osgood, Daniel Walters and Fent Kiffer, and after viewing the body ordered its removal to Haslet's undertaking rooms. The inquest was held Sunday evening, in the Sheriff's office, at the court house, and after examining the body, and Wm. P. Dechant, F. L. Reib, Chas. Sanner, Wm. Wanzor, Ezra Grubbs, Sheriff A. W. Stroup, Norman Sandrock and R. A. Fulton as witnesses, the jury rendered a verdict of which the following is the substance: "Do say on their oaths that after having heard the evidence of the witnesses, who were duly sworn, that the said R. H. Marshall, deceased, came to his death by his own hand some time unknown to the jury between Oct. 27 and Nov. 1, 1908, on the banks of Tionesta creek, about two miles east of Tionesta, on the F. L. Reib farm, as follows: That the said R. H. Marshall died from the effects of poison taken and administered by his own hond, as all the evidence taken and the view of the body discloses this fact."

Mr. Marshall came to Tionesta from in the factory of the Standard Casket Hardware Co. About a month ago he went to Youngstown, Ohio, returning to Tionesta about two weeks ago, and was making his home temporarily with the family of Wm. Dechant. Tuesday morning of last week, after making a very careful toilet, he told Mrs. Dechant that he was going for a long walk and started up the creek road, as was his usual custom. About 4:30 that evening Sheriff Stroup and Eza Grubbs passed him on the road a short distance from where his body was found. He spoke to them pleasantly and they did not observe anything unusual in his actions. At 5:30 the same evening Wm. Wanzor, who was working on the Randall larm across the creek, saw him walking up and down the road near the same place. This was the last time he was seen alive. When found bank. His clothing was not disarranged and there was no sign of a struggle, death having evidently come to him suddenly from the effects of a powerful poison. He was neatly dressed in a grey overcoat, black coat and trousers, brown vest, light shirt, white tie and stand-up collar. pliable. A black derby hat was laid carefully at -Miss Kittie Hepler and Miss Aita his left hand. At his left side lay an uncorked two-ounce bottle in which remained a small amount of liquid. At his right side was found a similar bottle nearly full of liquid. He was known to carry these bottles in his pockets at all times. Just what they contained or what he used to commit the desperate deed has body was in a good state of preservation bout the time of his death; many tending that he could not have lain dead in the woods since Tuesday evening, but the fact remains that he was not seen after that night until the finding of the body. In his pockets were found a pair of gloves, a gold watch chain, a silk watch fcb, a package of letters, key No. 24 of the Colonial Hotel, Youngstown, O., a bunch of five keys, a lead pencil, a comb, and a 5A Blankets Are pocketbook containing some papers A seal ring with the initials "R. H. M." was on the third finger of his right hand. No

When Mr. Marshall went to Youngs town he was known to have over $500 in money and he was penniless when he returned. He stated that $135 of this had gone to pay a lawyer for services toward securing a patent for electro-plating of which he was the inventor, and the balance he knew not where. In this condition, penniless, out of work and with no home, he became despondent and probably concluded to end his life. He had never made any threats to this effect, except that he said to Mr. Dechant on Monday evening: "It will be all up with Dick in the morning. Dick will be on his feet again and will be square with everybody," or words to that effect. When he did not return inquiries were telephoned to Nebraska, Kellettville and Tylersburg but he had not been seen at those places. Several persons had made a search and a large searching party was preparing to go out Sunday when the news came of the finding of his body. As evidence of his premeditated self-destruction, we copy the following contents of an undated and unsigned note, in his handwriting, found by the coroner in an unsealed en
