members of the W. C. T. U. to meet at her home on Thursday afternoon, November 19th, at two o'clock, to make comfort bags for the soldiers and sailors. Each lady is requested to bring enough "cotton" to make one bag—about one-half yard. The occasion will be of social interest, and it is hoped there will be a full attendance.
—S. S. Canfield, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Maude, arrived home from Rochester, Minn., on Saturday having withstood the long journey very well.
His horse, John Burns, came with him but returned the same day. Mr. Can-field is still having some stomach trouble, but it is hoped this difficulty will pass off with returning strength and the building up of his constitution generally.

...The early closing in of winter without the semblance of rain or flood preceding it is another of the strange freaks of nature this season, but old timers predict that it will not last, and that we shall have the usual supply of water before the actual setting in of winter. Owing to the low stage of water and lack of current the Allegheny river has closed with ice at several places between here and Olean. A boat flood is badly needed to move the barges and boats at Nebraska and Hickory, the accumulation of several months' building being still moored at those places.

—Further particulars of the death of Hon. Henry Brace, mentioned in our last issue, are taken from the Tidoute News: Death came very suddenly at his home at Santa Clara, Cal., on Nov. 23.
"Mr. Brace had gone to his stables and his man was preparing to drive him to the station, as he had planned to go to Oakland. He complained of a pain in his heart, and lay down on a cot, while the man hastened into the house for assistance, but when help came, Mr. Brace had ceased breathing." The News further states a fact which is patent to all who knew the deceased in this community: "As sheriff many an unfortunate man will remember him gratefully. Liberality itself, Mr. Brace often gave of his means to save the property of the unfortunate."

—William Helm, aged 66 years, and a former resident of Tidoute, died of asthma at his home at Colorado Springs, Colo., on Friday morning, Nov. 6. Since going to Colorado 10 years ago, Mr. Helm had been actively engaged in the development of Cripple Creek mining properties.
He was also interested in Pennsylvania oil fields. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Miss Clara Helm, of Colorado Springs, and Mrs. E. C. Beatty, of Oil City, Pa., and a son, J. C. Helm, of Colorado Springs, Mrs. P. C. Blocher, who has resided for many years in Tionesta township, is a surviving sister of the deceased. Mr. Helm is well and very favorably remembered by many friends in this community, where he was largely interested in real estate for a number of years and was a frequent visitor.

—Death came very suddenly to William Austin, for the past 23 years station-agent on the B. & O. R. R. at Marienville.
Last Friday evening about 4:30 o'clock, not feeling well, he had gone to the office of Dr. Hess for consultation, and finding the doctor absent called him on the phone. The doctor responded at once, but before he reached the office Mr. Austin had expired, the cause being diagnosed as neuralgia of the heart. He had not complained of feeling unwell until that day. The community in which the deceased had so long resided was greatly shocked by the announcement of this sudden taking off of one of its best known and most highly respected citizens. Mr.
Austin was aged 45 years, and is survived by his grief-stricken wife and two children, Edith and John. The funeral was held yesterday, the interment taking place at Knox, Pa., his former home.

—The catalogue of the Ellsworth Business College, Pittsburg, Pa., is before us and we note that one of the proprietors is C. H. Rodgers, son of W. G. Rodgers of Tylersburg, well known to many of our readers. Mr. Rodgers, the younger, is the business manager, also teacher of bookkeeping, penmanship and mathematics of this flourishing institution, which is rapidly forging to the front as one of the leading business colleges of the State.
It occupies three floors of a fine building at 408 Smithfield street, and is thoroughly equipped for carrying on the work of fitting young men and young women for business callings. The proprietors make it their business to find situations for their graduates, and the school is constantly being drawn upon for stenographers, typewriters and bookkeepers and many very desirable positions have been secured by students. Write to the college for catalogue and information, which are freely given.

—The telephone is becoming perniciously active in aiding and abetting criminals in their nefarious undertaking. At Erie a robber sent a fake message to a meat market, asking the man in charge to request a clerk, in a grocery across the way, to step over to the market and take an order. While the clerk was "taking the order" the thief was taking the contents of the grocery till. In different localities, before making raids, crooks have telephoned residences and learned from domestics that the residents were away from home. Such methods are about on a par with telephoning false news items to a newspaper.—Blizzard.

—Mrs. Jacob Cosper died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Olive Reed, on Kinross avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, aged 71 years. Deceased has been ill for some time, and her husband died two or three weeks ago. She is survived by seven children: Messrs. W. B.
Cosper, of Kane; F. L. Cosper, of Chaffee; Edward Cosper, of Muncie, Ind.; Mrs. W. B. Long, of Corry; Mrs. William Blaisdell, of Sackett; Mrs. Reed and Mrs.
McFarland. The funeral was private and was held at the home of Mrs. Reed this afternoon.—Kane Republican, 13th.

—The new issue of postage stamps, which were put on sale in the United States yesterday, are in denominations of 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 13, 15 and 50 cents and $1.00. The sale of the $2 and $5 stamps will be discontinued after the present supply is exhausted. On the one cent stamp is the head of Benjamin Franklin in profile from Haddon's bust. All the other denominations bear the head of George Washington in profile from Haddon's bust. The border designs of all the denominations are identical, the head bearing an ellipse on and with laurel leaves on either side. Above the head are the words "U. S. POSTAGE" below it the denomination. The size of the stamps is the same as that of the stamps now on sale.

—One of the perils of the fall which science understands better than it did a few years ago is the timid surrender to the weather which is still too common when the winds begin to bite and the storm clouds are dark and menacing, says the Cleveland Leader. It is dangerous to try too hard to escape exposure to harsh climatic conditions. At this time of the year it is easy to fall into the habit of shunning what is called exposure to the weather. Indoor life seems far more comfortable than the open-air kind, when rain is falling and the wind is almost violent enough to make a deep-sea sailor admit that there is a storm. In the late autumn, therefore, the need is greatest of keeping upon intimate terms with the outdoor world and living close to nature.
That is the way to carry a good stock of vitality and health into the winter and be prepared to meet all the rigors of the severest season, in the best possible condition for health and safety.

will conduct the annual inspection of Stow Relief Corps this evening.
—Sheriff-elect Maxwell has been confined to his bed for several days with what appears to be an attack of appendicitis, but he was some better yesterday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Saylor are receiving congratulations over the arrival of an eight pound daughter which made its appearance Saturday.—Ridgway Advocate.

—Hon. A. R. Meehling of Clarington, Forest county's newly elected member of the Assembly, was shaking hands with friends in this end of the county a few days last week.
—George B. Armstrong returned last week from an extended trip through the Pacific coast states. His son, Andrew, who accompanied him west, remained at Portland, Oregon.
—Mrs. T. B. Cook and little son William, of Cooksburg, are the guests of Mrs. Walter W. Wilson.—Mrs. A. M.
Cook, of near Cooksburg, and daughter Goldie, were Clarion visitors last Tuesday.—Clarion Democrat.

for appointment as postmaster at Marienville, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his son, J. D. Reyner, who had entered upon his duties in that capacity but a few weeks when overtaken by fatal illness.

—We join our condolences with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. L.
Pickens on the death of their infant son who was born and died last Tuesday morning. This is especially sad as this is the second son who died in the same manner.—Clarion Democrat.
—Mrs. George Voekroth, of Erie, who has been visiting relatives in this vicinity, was taken seriously ill last Thursday, since which time she has been at the home of A. F. Ledebur, here. Her husband was summoned and the family physician, Dr. E. T. Gifford, of Erie, arrived here Tuesday. It was decided to remove Mrs. Voekroth to the Hamot hospital, Erie, for an operation, and she was taken there Tuesday afternoon.

Alta May Ledebur.
Alta May, daughter of Frederick C. and Dorothea (Blum) Ledebur, was born on German Hill, Green twp., Forest county, Pa., May 22, 1890, and died at the home of her parents, in Tionesta twp., Nov. 15, 1908. The serious illness of Miss Ledebur had heretofore been mentioned in the REPUBLICAN, her ailment being typhoid fever which assumed a serious aspect prior to her death. Miss Alta was one of the bright young teachers of our county having just entered upon her profession when overtaken by illness. When still a pupil in the public schools she won one of the scholarships at the Clarion Normal, and attended the spring term of that institution. She was a good Christian girl, having united with Mt. Zion Lutheran church, German Hill, May 21, 1905, when 15 years of age, under the ministrations of Rev. Paul D. Schillinger. Her's was the second death to take place in a family of sixteen children, the oldest son dying in childhood. The brothers and sisters surviving, besides the parents, are as following: Mrs. E. E. Zuenkel, William, Mrs.
J. M. Zuenkel, Mrs. H. O. Davis, Mrs. Geo.
Childs, Maude, Walter, Alice, George, Benish and Virginia, all living in this community and at the homestead; Mrs. Ed Whaley, Tenino, Wash., Mrs.
Roy Davidson, Meager, Oregon, and Conrad, of Argenta, Montana.
Impressive funeral services, conducted by Rev. H. J. Reimann of Oil City, were held at Mt. Zion church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the body was laid to rest in the cemetery connected with the church.

November Court Minutes.

The regular session of November court opened Monday morning with President Judge W. M. Lindsey and Associates F.
X. Kreitzer and P. C. Hill on the bench.
There being no criminal business to occupy the attention of the court, the Grand Jurors had been notified not to attend. The constables' returns were received and showed that there was nothing seriously at fault throughout the county. Constable Jonah Gadley of Barnett township returned a bridge across Maple creek, in that township, as being unsafe.
The present term of court is the most important held in this county in recent years, on account of the number of large cases to be tried.

Two courts are now in session. In the Sheriff's office Judge Lindsey is presiding in the case of G. G. Snowden et al.
vs. Edmund Peignot et al., which went to trial Monday afternoon and will not likely be finished before tomorrow. The case is one for $10,000.00 damages for alleged breach of contract and grows out of the transfer of a valuable oil property at Trunkville in 1900.
Judge J. W. Bouton, of McKean county, is presiding in the court room, where the ejectment suit of L. S. Clough vs. J.
C. Welsh came to trial Tuesday morning.
It will probably consume several days in its trial. The case involves the ownership of Warrant 5282 in Howe township, which is valuable timber and oil land, and valued at about $100,000.00.

The town is well filled with jurors, and principals, witnesses and attorneys interested in these and other cases. The foreign attorneys present are, Hon. S. S.
Mehard, of Pittsburgh; Hon. C. W. Stone, Hon. W. E. Rice, C. M. Shawkey, D. I.
Ball, L. W. Stone and W. D. Hinkelley, of Warren; Hon. R. P. Glenn and John L. Nesbit, of Franklin; H. E. Fish, of Erie; Thomas H. Murray, of Clearfield; Hon. P. M. Speer, W. J. Breene, Edward Breene, Geo. G. Snowden and John M.
McGill, of Oil City.
Action was taken on a number of motions and petitions, of which the following are the most important:

N. P. Wheeler was appointed and gave bond as guardian of Elsie and Melvin Brecht, minor children of John Brecht, late of Hickory township, deceased.
Charles Albaugh was appointed guardian of Mary T. Albaugh, minor child of Edward and Margaret Albaugh, deceased.
A sale of real estate by Jas. T. Rose, administrator of the estate of Sarah Groce, late of Jenks township, deceased, was confirmed.
In a lengthy opinion Judge Lindsey refused to open the judgment in the case of the Citizens National Bank of Tionesta vs. R. M. Herman. The defense filed exceptions to the opinion.

Investigating Barnes' Story.
Adam Ruth, alias Frank Barnes, has again made good a part of his story and the New Castle councils will, without doubt, appropriate the money necessary for investigating the case and trying the alleged murderers of City Treasurer John Blevins, over ten years ago. The Lawrence county officials, together with Sheriff Williams, Deputy Sheriff McInhenry and Barnes, on Tuesday drove over the Mercer road leading to New Castle. It was this road which Barnes alleges that Wilder and his companions took after the murder of City Treasurer Blevins.
On the way out on this road Barnes pointed out a number of houses where the three men stopped, and several places where they hid during the day. The localities were all of such a nature that Barnes' story was believed by those who accompanied him. So well did Barnes trace the men, that in every detail his story tallied with the localities along the road, and the New Castle authorities feel quite certain that at last they are on the track of the men who committed the shocking crime of ten years ago.

In this connection the Franklin News has the following: "C. H. Akins, of New Castle, the Blevins investigators, has published an announcement in the New Castle papers to the effect that he will be in his office this afternoon and evening to talk with persons who allege to have knowledge of the buildings and surroundings which Barnes tells about in his story of the Blevins murder. He makes an appeal to the people to give the story a fair and thorough investigation and not to condemn it until it has been proven unworthy of belief. The New Castle Herald regards the story as a fake and declares that Barnes is only trying to save himself another term in the penitentiary. The New Castle News takes the opposite view of the case."

Governor Stuart Calls for Thanks.
Governor Edwin S. Stuart has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation in which he uses the following language: In conformity with a well established and laudable custom, I, Edwin S. Stuart, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby set apart Thursday, Nov. 23th, as a day for giving thanks and praise to the Lord for His infinite goodness and mercy. For bountiful harvests, peace and returning prosperity, for protecting us from pestilence and famine, and for the manifold mercies we have received during the past year our people have reason to go to God in thanksgiving and prayer. For a land of homes, churches and schools and for things which make for happiness and contentment, we should never cease to be grateful. On this day let us assemble in our churches and places of worship and express our gratitude to Almighty God for the blessings we have received, and pray for a continuance of His Divine favors. Let us not forget that our Thanksgiving is merely lip service if we neglect the poor, the unfortunate and the afflicted.
