 education. Our fall attendance is excellent. Enroll any day.

The well being drilled for a Warren company on the Wats in lot, in the Mc-Kee field, across the river, was finished last Friday and was dry. We are told the company will drill another well.

Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., postoffice for week ending November 25, 1908:
 Mr. Albert J. Kropp.

D. S. Knox, P. M.
 The Franklin Oil Co. finished and shot their No. 3 well on the Robinson lot, in the McKee field, across the river, last Wednesday. It will make a good produer. They started work today on No. 4.

A stray dog, liver and white pointer, (female) came to Mr. Lawrence's premises, across the creek, a few days ago, where the owner can find his property, and is requested to come and take same away.

A fire at the home of E. W. Bowman Friday destroyed a valuable mattress and considerable bed clothing before it could be extinguished. The cause is somewhat of a mystery, but may have been from a small gas stove which stood near the bed.

H. Mims, the famous goosebone weather prophet, of Reading, Pa., state, announces that the breast bones of the geese is marked very peculiarly this year. There is a dark spot here and there, making an accurate prediction difficult, but indicating that the winter will be generally an open one with a very cold spell now and then. December will be very cold, but there will be little snow.
 January will have some snow with a warm spell during the middle of the month. February will be a severe month with plenty of ice and snow. March will be open with a warm spell, and plenty of rain and hail, and a late spring will follow.

The board of pardons has again recommended the commutation of the death sentence of James Strail to life imprisonment, and the man who shot his wife in an Oil City a year ago last September, is likely to end his days in the penitentiary instead of the rope's end.

The Atchison Globe makes this wise assertion: "Not too a man of whom it is generally said, 'He is successful; he is getting along.' Notice that he attends to his work; he is polite; he doesn't drink; he is honest and pays his debts. No man ever succeeds without these qualities."

If it's a nice, clean up-to-date job of printing you are looking for call at the REPUBLICAN office. We are prepared to do anything in that line, and it will be a credit to your business when it is done—something you need not be ashamed to send to your most critical customer or friend.

The five-year-old daughter of W. W.
 Carl, of German Hill, sustained a fracture of the right thigh bone by falling on the floor Monday. The child had just recovered from a stroke of infantile paralysis sustained about a year ago, and was again able to use its limbs. Dr. Bovard rendered the necessary surgical attention.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Presbyterian church to-morrow, Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.
 This hour has been chosen for the service that all may have an opportunity of attending, and all our people are urged to be present. Rev. E. L. Monroe, pastor of the Free Methodist church, will preach the sermon.

Duke W. Emmett, a Ridgway laborer, 48 years of age, about 5 1/2 feet in height, rather slightly built, of sandy complexion, sandy hair and stubby mustache, has been missing from his home for more than two weeks, and his family, consisting of wife, daughter and son, are almost frantic with grief. The man was dressed in a black suit with cut-away coat and wore a black soft hat.

Ambitious young men and ladies should learn telegraphy; for, since the new 8-hour law became effective there is a shortage of many thousand telegraphers. Positions pay from $50 to $70 per month to beginners. The National Telegraph Institute of Philadelphia, Pa., and five other cities, is operated under supervision of R. R. officials, and all students are placed when qualified.
 Write them for particulars.

Thanksgiving day tomorrow, and may every one have something to be sincerely thankful for, and be able to enjoy the quiet, restful peace of mind that comes of some generous act performed or good deed done toward a worthy fellow creature. Likewise, may every reader of the REPUBLICAN (whose subscription is fully paid up) enjoy a splendid dinner, be it turkey, chicken, goose, duck, or whatsoever, if that shall contribute to his happiness.

Leroy Connors, the 17-year-old Tionesta youth who did such a rushing business in forged checks in Oil City a few weeks ago, pleaded guilty to the charge before the court in Franklin last week, and Judge Criswell, after giving him some fatherly advice for wrong doing, sentenced him to pay a fine of $1, costs, and be sent to the Pennsylvania Industrial reformatory at Huntingdon until duly discharged by law. The young man was taken thither last week.

The Christmas number of the Ladies' World has a very beautiful cover by Frank X. Leyendecker, and inside it is filled with good things. The number is beautifully illustrated throughout, and the various departments are full of practical suggestions for the various seasonable doings. The publishers say that next year the magazine will be even better than it now is, which in our opinion is promising a good deal, for it is a marvel for the price. New York; fifty cents a year.

New York girls are making for Christmas presents this year fascinating little rooster heads in flannel of two colors," reports the Woman's Home Companion for December. "Each head is cut double and wadded on the inside with cotton batting. The roosters are invariably white, with a comb and wattles of scarlet. When completed, Sir Chanti-cleer makes a novel egg cozy to slip over the breakfast egg in the egg cup when cereal or some other breakfast preliminary is to be eaten first."

Work on the M. E. church has progressed so well that the handsome new edifice is now entirely enclosed, the exterior being practically completed, so that the inside finishing and decorating may be carried on during the winter.
 Since the completion of the tower and the removal of the scaffolding the building presents a magnificent appearance and is admired by all who see it. The flag walk fronting the property has been laid, closing the gap which has long existed in the stretch of substantial cement and stone walk extending almost the entire length of Elm street on the east side. The congregation expect to dedicate their new church home on Easter Sunday, and from appearances now it will be amply ready by that time.

Considering the great egg famine now holding the entire country in a death grip the following from the Washington Post on the hen is peculiarly pathetic as well as most thoughtful: "Yet what, what more faithful friend of man? And what so amiable in her work? She lays her egg, not with the sullen languor of the hired man faring to the field, but with cackle and joy and triumph, a true song of prosperity, chanting the story of that national product which annually reaches a value greater than the combined capital of all the banks in the union. We outrage her motherly longing with an incubator and delude her maternal hopes with a doorknob. And after this unselfish existence, what? She is incontinentally seized by the neck and hurried to the barnyard guillotine against the day when the person is invited to dinner."

 ing friends in Venango and Crawford counties over Sunday.
 Mrs. Lee Davis left Monday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Alfred H.
 Bates, in New York City.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. D. W. Reck went to Pittsburg last week, going from there to Alliance, Ohio, for a visit with relatives.
 Mrs. Fogle of Kinzua, and Mrs.
 Peck of Ohio, were guests at the home of their niece, Mrs. Isaac McCoy, during the past week.
 Mrs. A. C. Dunkle and son Willard, and Miss Ida Whisner, of Oil City, were guests of Mrs. G. H. Killmer, Thursday and Friday.
 J. L. Klinefelter of Hickory township was a caller at this office Monday and we are indebted to him for a basket of fine apples.
 W. H. Brazee, superintendent of the extensive kindling wood factory at Kel-lettville, was a welcome caller at the REPUBLICAN office Thursday.
 Miss Luella Handy, of Harmony township, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever, at her home, is improving now and it is thought her complete recovery is assured.
 Mrs. Charles Hinkle and her guest, burgh the first of the week to attend the U. S. Court as jurors. Geo. L. King, of West Hickory, was in attendance at the same court as a juror during the past two weeks.

 Rev. E. L. Monroe is conducting a very successful revival at the Newmann-ville Free Methodist church. The meetings have been in progress for the past ten days, and much interest is manifested by the large congregations that are nightly in attendance.
 Mrs. Leonard Agnew was taken severely ill on Wednesday evening last, and on Saturday morning her physicians decided on an operation as the only means of relief. This was accordingly performed by Dr. Siggins of Oil City, and Dr. Dunn of this place. The delicate operation was a complete success, Mrs.
 Agnew being relieved of upward of fifty gall-stones, ranging in size and shape from a grain of buckwheat to a hickory nut, and the patient has since been progressing nicely toward recovery, which her many friends will be greatly pleased to learn.

RECENT DEATHS.
 HEPLER.
 Katherine C. Hepler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Hepler, was born in Tionesta, Pa., Aug. 17, 1879. While in attendance at the teachers' institute at Marienville early in October it is believed she contracted the disease of typhoid fever, which caused her seemingly untimely death, Thursday evening at four o'clock, November 19, 1908, at her home in Tionesta. "Kittie," as she was en-dearingly known to friends, possessed in a marvelous degree a quiet and pleasing manner, which won for her many true and lasting friends. She always manifested the same even and gentle disposition. There was nothing repulsive in her nature, but she possessed many attractive qualities equaled by few.
 She was converted to God in the year 1895, in a revival held in the Free Methodist church in Tionesta by Rev. F. E.
 Glass, who was pastor of the church, and united with that church soon after her conversion, to which she remained a faithful member until her death. During her last sickness, although suffering severely at times, she retained a firm, steady faith in her Saviour. Often during her illness, while prayer was being offered in her presence, she would give her sanction to the truth of the words uttered. She continued in this condition of faith in the Saviour of her first love until her earthly life had ended. Such is the closing scene of the life of a true christian. While we shall ever miss her in this earthly life, we are confident that our loss is her eternal gain.
 As a school teacher she was especially efficient and was highly esteemed by her associate teachers and will be much missed by them. In her school work she was also very much appreciated by the patrons of her school and much loved by her scholars. As an expression of their love and high esteem they furnished a very beautiful wreath of flowers for the funeral.
 In her death the community has lost an estimable young lady. The church to which she belonged feel that their loss is irreparable. She leaves to mourn her loss a father and mother, three brothers and one sister, and in the family after all is where her departure will be most keenly felt and deeply mourned.
 Funeral services were held at the home Saturday, Nov. 21, at 2:00 p. m., and were largely attended. They were conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. L. Monroe, assisted by Rev. R. A. Zahniser, of Oil City, a former pastor. Interment in Mt. Collins Cemetery.
 Those in attendance from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Turner, of Rixford, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. P. Agnew, of Youngsville, Pa.; Mrs. Geo. Schnell and children, of Oil City; Mrs. A. M.
 Saylor, of Ridgway, Pa.; Mrs. Alice Sutter, of Fryburg, Pa.; Mrs. Emma King, of Franklin, Pa.; Mrs. James Ferringer, Mrs. Stocum and Mrs. Blum, of Por-key, Pa.

WOODCHOPPERS UNEARTH POT OF GOLD.
 Edward Woods and Thomas Dickinson, of Oleopolis, are said to be the luckiest rabbit hunters in all this section of the state. They are credited with having unearthed an iron kettle containing $3,550 while trying to dig a rabbit out of a rock pile.
 The two men are employed by the Reid Lumber Company, of Oleopolis, and were felling timber on Pitchole creek, out two miles from the Allegheny river and near the right of way of the old Pitchole railroad, when one of the men saw a rabbit run through the woods and take refuge from a pursuing hound in a great pile of rocks that had evidently been there for many years. The men threw down their axes and attacked the stone pile, intending to get the rabbit. They went into the heart of the pile of rocks and came upon an iron kettle that was corroded by time and the elements. They dragged it out and surprised by its weight, they turned it over on the ground. A shower of coins poured out. The men counted the money and found it amounted to nearly $4,000, all of it being gold except $25, which was in silver.
 They made even division and decided to tell no one of their find, but the luck was too good to keep to themselves and they told of finding the treasure trove and the manner in which it had come to them. The money was discovered nearly a month ago, but it was not until yesterday that the facts were made public.
 There is naturally considerable excitement in that neighborhood and it is highly probable that a systematic search for more wealth will be made by neighbors of the two lucky men.
 It is recalled by some of the old time residents of that section of the country, that during the early oil excitement a farmer named Caldwell, sold his farm in Plumer for $10,000. As banking was on a very unstable foundation in those days, the old man, so the report has it, insisted in having the purchase price paid to him in gold coin and he hid it away. He was seized with paralysis and died without being able to give his family any information as to the hiding place of his hoard.
 It is thought that the money found by the two men might have been a part of this lost money, but there is, of course, no way of identifying it. The coins all bear dates previous to 1862 and some of them are old enough to have an extra value in the eyes of collectors. The rabbit got away.—Oil City Derrick, 19th.

THANKS.
 We desire to publicly express our thanks to the many kind friends who gave us aid and comfort during the illness and after the death of our beloved daughter, Kittie. Especially do we appreciate the love and esteem shown by her scholars and friends at Porkey in the bestowal of a beautiful wreath of flowers for her casket. M. L. AND MRS. M. HEPLER.

WORTH CONSIDERATION.
 When buying from a jewelry store wouldn't you consider it very important to feel there is absolutely no question about quality. When you buy here you don't pay any more, perhaps less, than an indifferent store, but you are

CERTAIN ABOUT
 QUALITY.
 That point alone is more important in choosing Diamonds and Jewelry,
