votes to defeat the bill. The Republicans of the state, as a party and organization, have not taken sides and every member of the Legislature has been encouraged to act for himself in this particular matter.

The House has passed finally the McClain bill providing that 95 per cent of the personal property taxes shall be returned to the counties from which that tax was collected. The bill was a very popular one in the House Two years ago, however, it was de feated on the Senate side and there is ground for the belief that it will again meet that same fate when it reaches the Senate this year.

No Legislature within a quarter of a century has disposed of its work with more harmony and intelligence than has attended every move thus far made in the present session. There have been no scandals. There have been no charges against the integrity of the membership or the management of the several important committees. and it is a marked feature that each individual member has been allowed the pleasure of exercising his own best judgment, recordless of whatever influence has been brought to bear in favor of any of the measures under consideration.

The Republican leaders of the state have determined that there shall be no profligacy, no reckless or selfi-h legislation, yet it has been made plain that any economies practiced shall not extend into the realm of stinginess. Only the best interests of the state are Leing considered, and with this important object constantly in view it is not probable that any freak legislation will stand any show during the remaining days of the short but skillfully managed session.

HOUSE SAFE ROBBED; STEPSON MISSING Owner Finds Boy and $725 Gone----Two Chums Arrested.

Pittsburg, March 2 .- Oliver Wood worth, aged 17, is missing following the robbery of the home of his stepfather, Charles Muth of 410 Madison avenue, North Side, of $725 in cash. Two chums of young Woodworth, Joseph A. Garborine, aged 21, and Samuel Rhodes, aged 19, living in the neighborhood, have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the robhery. Two other friends of Woodworth also are missing.

While Muth, who is a bartender, was at work and his wife was visiting friends on Perrysville avenue, a small fron safe in which Muth has been in the habit of keeping considerable money, was broken into and the cash taken. Muth and his wife reached home about the same time to find the money gone and no trace of young Woodworth. Muth at once informed the police telling his suspicions re-

President-elect Taft made a vigor ous protest against what he said was an absolute misrepresentation in certain New York newspapers as to what he had said recently in answering questions regarding tariff revision.

He had stated, he said, that the pres ent business depression was undoubtedly due in a large measure to the fact that the la iff is to be revised at an extra session of congress to meet March 15; that it was of the highest importance that this work of revision should not be delayed but executed with all possible diligence.

Mr. Taft also said he favored the idea of a permanent tariff commission, the plan for which should be worked out with deliberation, the dutles of such a commission to be to make a careful study of the operation of the proposed new tariff law, to the m. Mr. Taft was particularly perturbed wer what he called a misrepresentation, particularly in view of the weight which is now given his words because of his official position. He had, he declared, changed his position in no way and held the same views he had publicly announced during and since the

a process going on in the country now to which political organizations should give heed. "I think," he said. "that there has been for some time past an indication, that there have been many indications of a widespread feeling among the people of the United States that the political organizations are not truly representative of them." Mr. Root said he did not intend to discuss any question of primary nominations or whether nominations should be made by political committees with a referendum or any question as to nominations by committees. "Every man who swerves from the high duty of truly representing the people by whom he is constituted an officer," said Mr. Root. "a member of any body, any convention, any com-

For the first three years of his service Dr. Dixon was actually ham pered for funds with which to carry out his splendid system of work. Later, however, he became better known, because of his works and now the Legislature seems willing and anxious that he shall be given all possible 'at itude in the important labor he has undertaken. Notwithstanding the gracious sup port extended to Dr. Dixon, he is not in favor of having the hospitals of the state hampered to the end that his own particular work may be extended. He is opposed, however, to having the general hospitals equipped so that tubercular patients may be treated in them. Such a proposition does not appeal to Dr. Dixon.
