INDIANS ON WARPATH

VOL. XLII. NO. 4.

Crazy Horse Heads Band of Outlaws In Frontier Trouble.

First Real Indian Uprising For Years Started Last Thursday When Attempt Was Made to Arrest Cattle Thieves-Marshal and Deputy Killed. Desultory Fighting Between Special Officers and Indians - Chief's Son Forced to Tell Father's Whereabouts.

Five companies of Oklahoma militia marched Sunday night against Crazy Snake's band of Creek Indians, half breeds and negroes, entrenched in the Hickory hills, seven miles from Henrietia. A battle is regarded as inevitable, as the heavily armed troops set out either to capture or exterminate the murderous band, which since Thursday has caused the death of six men, the wounding of many others and brought about a condition of terror in Henrietta, Pierce and all the surrounding country.

Crazy Snake is in personal command. This was established by the testimony choked out of his college-bred son by means of a new inch-rope. Young Harjo was strung up by the determined deputies until nearly dead. Then he gasped out that his father was in command, named the Indian who killed the deputies, told the officers how to trail the band, and did everything which a stoical red man is supposed not to do when in the hands of his enemies.

This first real Indian uprising of years has held this region on edge for three days. It had been plotted and prepared for two months. It broke out last Thursday when several deputy sheriffs went to Henrietta to arrest negro cattlethieves. They were fired on by negro and half-breed friends of the criminals. In a fight which ensued three negroes were killed and five wounded, according to the official reports, although it is thought many more Indians were wounded, as scores of shots were fired at close quarters. This clash resulted in 41 arrests.

In the meantime Crazy Snake's followers determined on an aggressive campaign. Saturday night part of his band was run to cover by deputies in a search for leaders of Thursday's fight. Marshal Baum of Checotah and Deputy Odom of Eufala paid their lives as a price. Governor Haskell then ordered out the militia and the word was passed out that the band must be captured or killed.

SOCIETY WOMAN'S SUICIDE

Fragic Death of Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., In Washington.

Weary of society life and face to face, as she believed, with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorrillard. Jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxicion at her home near the fashionable Dupont circle in Washington. Her tragic death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as nothing else in years.

In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, members of the family declare that Mrs. Lorillard died of heart failure. The death was made more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home at 2030 Hillyer place, shortly after midnight, she began to prepare for her death.

The Lorillards have lived at Hillyer place, which is only a stone's throw from Dupont circle, and in the heart of the fashionable community between Dupont and Sheridan circles, since January. Immediately preceding that time, Mrs. Lorillard was in Europe and while in France consulted an eminent physician in regard to her silment. The family has been prominent each summer for several years past at Tuxedo Park, and they have spent their winters in Washington.

Mr. Bryan says they voted with Speaker Cannon, and they must justify their position.

ROOSEVELT ORDER REVOKED

President Taft Directs That Marine Be Restored to Ship Duty.

The last vestige of the Roosevelt or der taking marines off the battleships and cruisers of the United States navy was swept away when President Taft, after the matter had been considered at a cabinet meeting, directed that an order be issued restoring the marines to exactly the same duties that they performed prior to their be ing ordered ashore.

After congress had placed a provision in the pavy bill to the effect that a certain percentage of the marine corps should be assigned to ship duty. an order was issued the day before President Roosevelt went out of office, restoring the marines to ships but placing them under the orders of the captains of the vessels on which they were to serve.

Under the old order of things the marines were given specific duties. One of these was to fight certain guns of the secondary battery. The order placing them under the direction of the ship's captain made it possible to assign the marines to any sort of duty and to deprive them of fighting any part of the ship's battery. In restoring the old regulations, the president acted upon the recommendation of the general board of the navy.

BILL TO AID THE BABIES

Measure to Prevent Landlords Barring Families With Children.

A movement in the Illinois legislature to remove the embargo placed upon children by the owners of flat buildings and to save the heads of families from being driven from pillar to post when they try to find new habitations for their broods, has been started by Frank J. McNichols of Chicago. He has introduced a bill in the house making it "unlawful and opposed to public policy" for the owner or agent of any dwelling house, flat or apartment to require as a condition for renting that the tenant has no children under 14 years in his family.

The measure also makes it a misdemeanor for an owner or agent to insert in any lease or agreement a condition terminating the lease "if there are or shall be any such children in the family" of the tenant. A fine of from $50 to $100 for each offense is the punishment the bill provides for violations.

Mr. McNichols, who lives on the West Side in Chicago, is a bachelor, but some of his friends are wondering when he is going to be married.

SECOND WIFE WANTS DIVORCE

Alleges That Artist Earle of Affinity Fame Is of Unsound Mind.

Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, poet and exponent of the "affinity" idea, was served with papers in an action brought by Mrs. Earle, formerly Miss Julia Kuttner of New York city. for annulment of their marriage. The papers were served on Earle at his home near Monroe by Sheriff Decker of Orange county, N. Y.

Mrs. Earle alleges that Earle is of unsound mind and was so at the time of their marriage, although she did not become convinced of this until about Jan. 12 of this year.

Furthermore, she says, Earle was incapable of legally contracting marriage because at the time he had a wife living, to whom he was married in Paris in 1903. The plaintiff at the time believed Earle's assertion that he had secured a divorce from a court of competent jurisdiction, but she is now convinced that the first marriage is still valid and in full force.

COUNTERVAILING OIL DUTY

Mr. Vreeland Says It Is Retained In

Interest of Producers, Not Refiners. Admission by Mr. Vreeland of New York that he was to some extent responsible for the retention in the Payne tariff bill of the countervailing duty on oil was the climax of the day's discussion of the tariff in the house Mr. Vreeland had sat for some time and heard various insinuations that that duty, which some have character ized simply as a "joker," was to be levied solely in the interest of the Standard Oll company. This he denied and explained that his action was in response to requests from thousands of his oil producing constituents and in behalf of 500,000 others engaged in the same business. The dehate on the oil schedule called forth some bitter criticism of the Standard Oil company.

DUTIESONNECESSITIES

Should Be Lowered, Is President Taft's View.

Favors an Inheritance Tax Because It Is Easily Collected and Comes From Unearned Money-Prefers a Stamp Tax to Imposition of Duties on Foodstuffs-Mr. Barrett Points Out Bad Effects of Proposed Countervailing Duty on Coffee.

Washington, March 30. - President Taft, it is stated, intends to leave all congressional matters to congress and does not intend to dictate to that body what it shall do. At the same time he takes advantage of the calls made upon him by senators and representatives to state anew, in response to their requests for suggestions, his own position and the policy to which he believes the Republican party is committed.

Representative Hinshaw after his interview said that while he was not at liberty to quote the president he feit sure that the chief executive would not object to the statement that he favors the lowering of duties on important necessaries of life

Growing Treasury Deficit.

President Taft, it is said, believes that the system of taxation to be adopted to meet the growing deficiency in the treasury should be one calcul ated to cause the least friction. It is for this reason that he strongly favors the inheritance tax idea. The collection of such a tax is easy and comes from unearned money. 'The fact that several of the states have gotten ahead of the national government in adopting the idea is the only drawback to the scheme. The government's adoption of the principle would mean double taxation in some states and might cause some friction between the national and state governments. This is the argument made to the president against It.

The president does not believe that a stamp tax would be a great burden upon the people. A stamp tax at this time would not go to the extent of the war tax imposed in 1898. Such a tax would be far better, it is declared at the White House, than the imposition of such a tax or duty on foodstuffs as would cause unrest and anxiety on the part of the general public.

President Taft has let it be known that he approves the Payne bill in principle and that he believes more schedules in the Dingley tariff should be re vised downward than upward if any should go apward at all.

President Taft does not share the general belief that the senate is opposed to the principle of a maximum and minimum tariff as proposed by the Payne bill and he appears to be confident of the ultimate outcome.

Countervailing Duty on Coffee. Mr. Barrett presented to the president his views as to the effect of the proposed new tariff bill on the export trade of the United States with Latin-America, with especial reference to the proposed countervailing duty on coffee. He said he believed that the imposition of this tariff and a further tariff on the raw products of South America which are not produced in this country will set at nought all the recent efforts to build up an increased trade with Southern republics.

Brazil, it is declared, with an annual foreign commerce valued at $500,000,-000, feels that the new tariff bill strikes a vital blow at her prosperity and practically dictates to her, Mr. Barrett says, how she ought to raise her own revenue, in that it declares that a duty on coffee is to be collected in the United States provided that the country of its origin applies an export tax.

"When it is understood," said Mr. Barrett, "that Brazil is absolutely dependent upon its export tax on coffee for its revenue; that such a tax has been imposed for years without objection upon the part of the growers or buyers, and that now in some cases it is guaranteed as security for foreign loans, it will be seen that Brazil cannot possibly remove its export tax except by great embarrassment and international complications."

The opinion is spreading that Mrs. Boyle will not be prosecuted, but will very soon be quietly eliminated from the case and allowed to depart. This is borne out by the delay in arraigning her.

It is said her prosecution is not eagerly desired by Mr. Whitla.
