Announcements.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE. We are authorized to announce John G. Watson, of Kingsley township, as a candidate for Associate Judge, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries June 5, 1909.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

We are authorized to announce M. A. Carringer, Esq., of Tionests, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Forest county at the primaries June 5, 1909.

THE House at Harrisburg has passed the Reyburn soldiers' pension bill, the vote standing 187 to 2. The bill carries $1,700,000 for pensions to soldiers of the Thursday, April 15, when the session Civil war who served 60 days or more. The rate is $6 per month.

THE call for the Republican state convention has been issued by Chairman Andrews, who names Harrisburg as the place and June 19th as the date. Candidates for auditor general, state treasurer No necessary legislation will have been and one judge of the supreme court are to be nominated.

received one day over 400 telegrams from ment of the state's affairs. different parts of the country in regard to a tariff item all urging the came thing. But all made the middle initial of his to some extent, the revenues of the name B instead of E. Tols spontaneous state for the next two years. The board outbreak was so unanimous that it led to of public charities gave to the claims the discovery that one string had set the of the various institutions - state, whole operation going.

House bill making October 12 a legal holiday, to be known as Columbus Day, ment of every institution asking state the idea being that Christopher Columbus was born on that day. And this calls tions had done with the money approforth the sensible remark by the Oil City | priated to them two years ago. From Blizzard that "we need more holidays in these statements recommendations Pennsylvania just about as badly as a toad needs a tail, or a female seminary a the range of the revenues. The Genvania," declared Health Commissioner ernor will be compelled to shave the Dixon recently, when asked about the statistics that have been sent out from Washington showing a decreased birth rate over the country at large. "There were 190,000 births in Pennsylvania during 1908, as against 112,000 deaths; that is, 78,000 more births than deaths. It is most encouraging, also, to find that the deaths in Pennsylvania in 1908 decreased by 3,000 over 1907, in spite of the increase in population.

THE Governor's pet road measure, providing for a great boulevard between Philadelphia and Pittsburg at a cost of many millions, got through the House at Harrisburg by barely enough votes, having 107 to 82. It is gratifying to note that Forest county's member voted against this "white elephant," as did most of the country members, but the weight of the Governor's influence was potent in bringing enough support to squeeze it through. Of course it will slide through the Senate as though greased.

THE Philadelphia Press, commenting on the fact that the kidnapper of Willie Whitla once escaped from the very jail in Sharon to which he was brought back, after his arrest for kidnapping a child, says such a crime is never a man's first offense. If every man who has twice served a sentence were locked up indefinitely for his third crime, violent and planned crime would disappear. Only fail-birds take these risks and plan reckless, perilous crimes. No such man should be at large. He should lose his liberty for the rest of his days.

Onto like Illinois, reports an increased rallroad net revenue under the operations of a 2-cent passenger rate law. It is strange that the 2-cent fare law will not work in Pennsylvania when every other state in which it has been allowed a fair test before the supreme court knocked it out reports an increase in revenues. The editor of this paper was told on the best of authority that a certain railroad in Forest county was making more money at the 2-cent rate than it did under a 5cent-a-mile fare. If a small road like this could make a better profit under a 2-cent rate, why cannot the big systems do the same thing? There is no prize offered in connection with the solution of this problem, but it would be mighty edifying, just the same.

ADMIRAL CERVERA, the Spanish naval commander who made a brave dash for liberty from the harbor of Santiago during the little unpleasantness between his government and Uncle Sam in 1898, died on Saturday last. When he met disaster and had his fleet completely annihilated he was made a prisoner of war, but the brave old admiral was so royally treated by his captors while he was a prisoner that he fell in love with our government and praised its magnanimity and greatness ever after. Rear Admiral Schley, who was in command of the American fleet when the Spaniards were wiped off the sea, pays this tribute to the gallant officer; "A grand old man, a brave and gallant officer, and in his death Spain loses one of her most heroic paval fig-

THERE is a strong disposition on the part of Congress to put hides on the free list in the new tariff bill now under consideration, and this in deference to the demand from all sections of the country for such action. It is contended, and properly too, that great meat packers get all the benefit of the tariff. The packers in turn contend that a tariff on hides is a than nine out of every ten cases of the benefit to the farmer, but the fact is that disease are of one or the other of these benefit to the farmer, but the fact is that the farmer has no hides to sell, as he sells all his bides on the back of the steer and only gets five cents a pound for them. The packer, it is contended, takes hides from the steer and sells them for fourteen cents a pound, or a profit of nine cents a pound. The tannery industries of Pennsylvania are among its greatest and most potent enterprises and should be fostered on account of the immense sums of money paid to labor in the conduct of their business. This country does not and cannot produce one-half the hides necessary to keep the tanneries going, and this being the case it seems like folly to place a duty upon heavy hides. If the banefit were going to the farmers or cattle raisers the question would be different, but such is not the case.

SENATOR WALTON's anti-treat bill was passed finally by the Senate last Wednesday. It is not a revolutionary measure, In fact it is so mild in its provisions that it met with no opposition at all. It simply makes it unlawful to treat minors or intoxicated persons and prohibits minors from entering places where liquors are sold unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. Whether it will pass the House or not is a question, but it matters little, as it is already unlawful to furnish liquor to either a minor or to an intemperate person, so that the Walton bill adds little as a restrictive measure.

Harrisburg Correspondence.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 5, 1909.

The General Assembly at Harrisburg is on its last lap and the legislative hopper is practically overflowing with appropriation bills, which will have the right of way until noon on will be adjourned without day. There has been some talk of extending the time for final adjournment, but unless some condition, absolutely unforseen at this time develops, the session will not be extended and a record-breaking Legislature will dissolve on April 15. neglected and no hurtful legislation enacted, and consequently the Republican party is certain to get full credit CONGRESSMAN PAYNE relates that he for sensible and conservative manage-

The indications are that the appropriations for that period will exceed, when they are finally sent to the governor, $65,000, 000, so that he will be called on to reduce the total of the appropriations over ten million dollars.

Two years ago the total of the ap propriations was about $70,000,000 and the governor reduced the amount to about $51,000,000. It is entirely safe to assume that the appropriations will be kept within the revenues, for Governor Stuart has often demonstrated his ability as a business man who always looks before he leaps and he can be counted on to do his part to keep the enviable record of the majority party where the party managers have placed

It is about settled that the revenues of the state will be appropriated during the next two years as follows: State institutions, $13,084,728.61.

Semi-state institutions, $2,717,628.57. Private hospitals, homes and educa ional institutions, $7,507,950.

Monuments, memorials and miscellaneous, $44,754.25. Roads-Jones bill, $1,000,000; Carothers bill, $4,000,000; governor's bill, $3,000,000; total, $8,000,000. Soldiers' pension bill, $1,700,000.

Capitol park extension, $2,030,000. Expenses legislature session 1909, General appropriation bill (about) $28,300,000 Total, $63,953,672.13.

To Republicans generally it is gratlying to watch developments in congress in so far as the majority party is working for the redemption of pledges made during the recent presidential campaign. The extra session was called promptly, as was promised. A tariff bill generally accepted as being fair to all interests, yet in harmony with preelection pledges, is being carefully worked through congress While there is no undue haste, there also is no unnecessary delay in preparing the ponderous legislation which bears with such important force upon the vital interests of this country, and within a comparatively short time after the proposed tariff bill has been enacted it is confidently believed conditions throughout the whole country will improve and prosperity will return. Boy Meets Horrible Death.

Eugene Sollinger, aged 15 years son of Orrie Sollinger, met a terrible death on Saturday evening on an oil lease in the vicinity of Mt, Hope, Rockland township, Venango county, of which his father has charge. About 6 o'clock his mother sent him to the engine house, a quarter of a mile away, to shut down the gas engine. When his father came home some time later and found that the lad had not returned he went to investigate. He found the wells still pumping. Outside of the engine house he came upon the dead body of his son, which had been horribly mangled. The boy's clothing had evidently been caught in a revolving grindstone that was operated by a shaft extending from the engine house. The boy's skull was crushed and both legs and both arms were broken. He had evidently been whirled around several times.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poi-sonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic and muscular rheumatism. For Sale by —Two years ago my daughter stepped on a needle, breaking it off in the ball of the foot, which swelled up very painfully swelling to the knee. The doctor at Go-wanda lanced the foot, but was unable to find the needle. The X ray was applied, and we could see the needle. We then applied Sau-Cura Ointment, thick as a poultice, and after four applications the needle made its appearance, (just as Mr. Thompson said it wauld) and was taken out to the great relief of my daughter, and all the family, as she had suffered a great deal, and every step pained her.
