—Jesse Burchfield, a lifelong resident of Crawford county, and well known to many of the REPUBLICAN'S readers, died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Pennell, at Titusville. His second marriage was to Miss Jane Neill, of Newelltown, this county, and of this union one son, Dr. S. N. Burchfield, of Titusville, proprietor of the Fieldmore Springs hotel, survives. The deceased was an elder of the Presbyterian church of Pleasantville. The funeral services were held yesterday with interment in the Newelltown cemetery.

—There is no excuse for a live man to live in a town if he does not like it. If you have no word of commendation to say for your town, its institutions or people, emigrate, scout, get out. You won't stop the town's growth if you go or stay because it has grown beyond the bad influence of any one individual. If you go away the church bells will have the same musical sound and the cheerful citizen will be just as happy after you have vanished. As a part of the community you cut out, but as an individual you are unimportant. Don't overlook these points when you are asked to talk for your town. A town is judged by its people, its progress in morals, improvements and advancement along the lines of modern thought and action.

—What is home without a paper? A home without a newspaper is no home at all. It is a kind of dreary den—a rendezvous of bed bugs and flies, where the inhabitants live in blissful ignorance of what the world is doing. It is inhabited by a class who do not know who is president or what he is president of—who never find out that a thing has happened until long after everyone else has forgotten it. The children grow up in rags and dirt, while the wife generally finds consolation in darning socks and lugging a pipe loaded with long, green tobacco, and the man generally lives because he can't die and he is too lazy to kill himself. He goes out on election days and does not know who he is voting for, but just takes the ticket bearing the name his great-grandfather voted for.—Ex.

—Farmers are turning up the sod in many fields; the early gardner is making beds of various sizes and planting the succulent onion, with lettuce and radish accompaniment, while the busy housewife sends the kid to the back yard with the brussels and whip to raise the dust. And yet the weather remains cold and sour—spring, with its disagreeable chill, lingers and is inclined to lap over into summer, and vegetation declines to vegetate to any appreciable extent. Trout don't bite yet with the avidity the festive angler could wish, and in short there's "nothing doing" in any particular line worthy of mention. Settle down and wait a bit. There's a better day coming, when all these industries can be carried on with some show of progress and advancement. Don't try to rush the weatherman.

—Henry M. Nevins, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, in his memorial day order to the organization, calls upon the veterans for a general observance of Mother's Day on the second Sunday in May. This is the first official recognition of the day by the G. A. R. The order says: "On the second Sunday in May this year the day will be observed universally throughout the land and will be a universal festive day for filial worship. The white carnation has been selected to be worn in memory of mother. Comrades, there is no class of men living whose mothers were as patriotic, loyal and heroic as your mothers from 1861 to 1865. No mothers ever made such sacrifices as our mothers did, and the commander-in-chief requests you on the second Sunday in May to wear in the lapel of your coat a white carnation or white flower to honor the memory of your own mother, if deceased, and in reverence of her if living."

The cards came from Mexico, New York, West Virginia and Mercer county, Pa. Mr. Zahniser continues to improve in health, his friends will be pleased to learn.

—David R. Walters, of Newmansville, was a pleasant caller at the REPUBLICAN office yesterday afternoon. Mr. Walters passed his 82d year on the 10th of last January, yet he seems like one ten years younger. He walked in from his home a distance of seven miles and expected to walk back in the evening in time to do up the chores and spend an hour or two before bedtime reading, which he does without glasses.

—Rev. A. A. Thomas, secretary of the Ohio Northern University, was the guest of Rev. W. O. Calhoun over Sunday, and very acceptably filled his pulpit here and at Nebraska on that day. The reverend gentleman was wonderfully taken with the grandeur of the scenery of this vicinity, and while he travels extensively in all parts of the United States, he declared that in no place did he find nature so beautiful and pleasing as along the Allegheny river and Tionesta creek.

With the opening of the trout season our anglers have become quite active in the pursuit of the speckled beauties. We have personally viewed some very nice ones already but while there is some little satisfaction in looking at a lot of 12-inch trout, the feeling is not so sensitive as other things that we know of.

Kellettville has always been a very busy little burg and is so yet, but somehow recently we have had our share of Weary Willies. They go about the houses during the day and always solicit the best eatables and at night they usually find lodgings at the boiler houses. They sometimes succeed in persuading the watchmen to give up their lunches.

Several petty thieving operations have been reported about town the past two weeks and some people are inclined to think that it is the work of yeggmen. Whether this is so or not we can not say. It may be the work of some one more familiar with the surroundings and an expectant chance to lay the blame on some innocent party. We are not in sympathy with this tail-end of prosperity business and would like to see everyone at work.

L. J. Catlin and family of Sheffield are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Tobey.

RECENT DEATHS.

John Casey, for more than 35 years a highly respected resident of West Hickory, Pa., died at his home at that place Monday evening, April 25, 1909, at 6:30 o'clock, after an illness of two months of heart trouble. Mr. Casey was born in County Cork, Ireland, 65 years ago, and came to this country nearly 40 years ago, locating, soon after his arrival in the United States, at West Hickory, and entering the employ of the railroad, now a part of the Pennsylvania system. Afterward for a number of years he was employed at the Hickory tanning company's plant, and for several years past being with the firm of Wheeler & Dusenbury. He was a man of steady, industrious habits, greatly esteemed by his fellow citizens for his good moral worth and upright Christian life. He leaves surviving his wife, three daughters and two sons, namely, Mrs. Geo. L. King of West Hickory; Miss Mary A. Casey, a teacher in the West Hickory school; Mrs. Wm. Hafel of Titusville; John Casey of Washington state, and Miah Casey at home. Funeral services will be held to-morrow, Thursday, morning, with interment in the Catholic cemetery at Tidouate.

MEALY.

William Mealy was born in Clarion county, March 19, 1845, and died at his home in Tionesta, April 24, 1909. Mr. Mealy had been in poor health for the past year and for several months it has been evident to his friends that the end was near, yet his death was a shock to the family and friends for it was expected that he might rally from this attack. He was the son of George Mealy, who came from Bedford county, Pa., and settled on the farm now owned by his two brothers, Frank and Oliver Mealy, nearly seventy years ago, so that his entire life has been spent in this community. On September 2, 1869, he was united in marriage to Patience Host. Eight children blessed this union, seven of whom with their mother survive him as follows: Mrs. Philip Wolf, Newmansville; Wallace, of Tionesta; Merton, of Oil City; Mrs. C. F. Feit and Mrs. C. A. Childs, of Tionesta; Mrs. E. M. Boyd, of Warren, and Miss Marie at home, also two brothers, Oliver and Frank, who live on the homestead, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Painter, of Butler, and Mrs. John Berry, of Tylersburg. In his youth Mr. Mealy united with the United Evangelical Church and proved true to his faith through life. Brief funeral services were held in the new M. E. church in Tionesta, Monday at 9 a. m., after which his body was taken to the Washington church, near Lickingville, where a large congregation of friends and relatives gathered to show their respects to the memory of this good man. Revs. Calhoun, Feit and Monroe conducted the services.

Mrs. Mealy, who has been critically ill with pneumonia for two weeks past, is recovering slowly, many anxious friends will be relieved to know.

Webster Lucart, Richard Frill and others of Tylersburg have found a good well on the Wm. Morgan farm, in Farmington township, Clarion county, a mile and a half from Tylersburg. The pay streak was developed in the fourth sand at 1639 feet and after being shot last Thursday the well is reported to be making a showing that would indicate an eight or ten barrel well. It is now being tubed. A well formerly drilled on this farm was a good gasser and was pumping a barrel and a half of oil per day, natural.

—Two years ago my daughter stepped on a needle, breaking it off in the ball of the foot, which swelled up very painfully swelling to the knee. The doctor at Golmansville lanced the foot, but was unable to find the needle. The X ray was applied, and we could see the needle. We then applied San-Cura Ointment, thick as a poultice, and after four applications the needle made its appearance, (just as Mr. Thompson said it would) and was taken out to the great relief of my daughter, and all the family, as she had suffered a great deal, and every step pained her.
