HUNDREDS DEAD AND INJURED

Storm Wave From the North Swept Four Southern States.

The storm wave seems to have had its or in in the north and swept from the lake region south in irregular fashion, now moderating its force as if spent, now growing more turbulent and angry.

The state of Tennesse was an especially heavy sufferer. Estimates show that at least 50 people were killed in that state alone, while the loss will not fall short of a million. At Franklin and in Hillsboro there was loss of life. The latter town is said to be practically destroyed. Near Pulaski, in Giles county, the death list reached 12 and many were injured.

The tornado swept over into Arkansas and killed eight persons near Mammoth Springs.

Atlanta and most of Georgia escaped with only slight property loss. But two young people, a brother and sister, lost their lives at Atlanta by the capsizing of a rowboat during a sudden

ICE UP 66 2-3 PER CENT

Notice of Increase Sent to All Consumers With Monthly Bill.

Action that had been generally expected in New York city in view of increases by other concerns was taken by the American Ice company by advancing the wholesale price of ice 66 2-3 per cent. Notice of the increase was sent to all customers with the regular monthly bills. Large consumers who have enjoyed contracts at 20 cents a hundred have been unable to renew them. The American Ice company controls half of the ice trade in the city. Most of the other ice interests have been awaiting the move of the American Ice company, and other increases will follow now.

Conditions in the ice trade are similar to those of 1906, according to officers of the American Ice company, but they predict that the wholesale figure will not go above $5, nor the retail price above 40 cents a hundred.

Guests of Aeronautical Society of Great Britain.

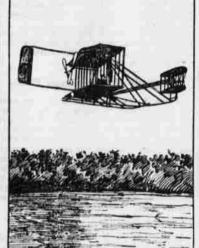

War Office Not Likely to Conclude Ar rangements With the Inventers Until Their Aeroplane Has Been Given a Trial In England - Engagements

In United States and Germany Will Prevent This For Some Months-Expect to Sell Privately. London, May 4.- There was a demonstration of enthusiasm, remarkable in its character, at the institution of civil engineers when the Aeronautical society of Great Britain conferred on Wilbur and Orville Wright, the aeroplanists of Dayton, O., its first gold medal. Those who had gathered at the institution to witness the presentation cheered and applauded repeatedly, while the Wright brothers blushingly bore their honors through an hour of the warmest enlogies.

Finally the entire assemblage rose up and gave three cheers for each of the brothers. They sang "For they are jolly good fellows," and ended by cheering Miss Katherine Wright.

Sir Hiram Maxim, Lieutenant Gen eral Baden-Powell, Captain F. S. Cody, an American who is struggling, but thus far unsuccessfully, to perfect his own aeroplane for the British army, and a large number of scientists and ladies were present.

Speeches were made by Major Ba den-Powell, Colonel J. E. Capper, the war office's aeronautical expert, who referred to the V ght brothers as "unspoiled, as the h they were nobodies," and declared that the nation which failed to keep pace with the flying developments might get badly left in war, and the chairman of the gathering, Edward Purkis Frost, who presented the medal.

Both Wilbur and Orville Wright made brief speeches, tersely expressing their thanks. A reception was then held and the brothers were surrounded, questioned and besieged for autographs. Earlier in the evening they were given a dinner at the Ritz hotel by the Aeronautical society. They were the guests at lunch of the leading aeronautical experts, including seven Englishmen who had accompanied them in different flights in Franco.

The war office is not likely to conclude arrangements with the inventors until their aeroplane has been given a trial in England in the presence of experts. Their engagements in the United States and Germany, however, preclude the possibility of their being able to attend to this personally for some months, but they have made arrangements with a builder here for the construction of machines and have appointed an agent for Great Britain. Their patents, therefore, will be protected and they expect to sell privately, even if the government does not purchase.

COMMODITIES DECISION

Coal Carriers Practically Unaffected by New Interpretation.

New York, May 4.-With railroad attorneys expressing satisfaction rather than disapproval of the United States supreme court's decision in the so-called cormodities clause case, the stock market, and railroad interests Albany, May 4 - William Scott, generally, after a forenoon of uneasiness, adjusted themselves quickly to the situation with the conviction that the coal carriers will be practically unaffected by the interpretation of the law barring "legal ownership only." When the real meaning of the decision was understood here the stock market quickly rallied and Philadel phia and Reading, which declined three points on first reports from Washington, almost immediately recovered its loss, as did Delaware and Hudson and Pennsylvania, which lost 114 and 1 point respectively on the first break. Thereafter with the receipt of more assuring news steady advances were recorded. Reading reaching 151%, its highest point since 1905, and making a range from 143%, its lowest point for the day.

Capablanca Three Games Ahead. Wilkes-Barre, Fa., May 4.-Jose B Capablanca, the young Cuban chess expert, increased his advantage over Frank J. Marshall, the veteran American champion, in their match of eight games up, by defeating him again after 31 moves. This leaves the score at four games to one and three drawn, in favor of the Cuban player.

LACK OF PREMEDITATION

Sought to Be Proved In Hains Trial Through Real Estate Man.

Flushing, L. I., May 4.-With thir teen of the defense's witnesses disposed of, the Hains trial started on its third week before Justice Garretson in the supreme court here. Perhaps the most important bit of testimony in be half of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., the defendant, charged with the murder of William E. Annis, came when Leo Bugg, a real estate dealer and a member of the Bayside Yacht club, where Annis was shot, testified that he had discussed the merits of certain prop erty adjoining the yacht club with Thornton Hains, the defendant's brother, and at one time made an appointment with Thornton Hains to meet him at the yacht club.

Bagg's testimony tends to show lack of premeditation on the part of the defendant and to corroborate that of Thornton Hains, who testified that he and the captain went to the vachi club on Aug. 15 last, the day on which Annis was killed, for the purpose of finding Bugg or his partner, Jesperson, to inspect the Bayside property.

Most of the day's session was occupied by the examination of officers of the United States army and govern ment employes, stationed at Fort Ham ilton and Fort Hancock, and the negro servants who were employed in Captain Hains' household at Fort Hamiltor at the time he was in the Philip pines. The army men testified to conversations with Captain Hains at varl ous times during July and August, 1908, and characterized his speech and conduct upon these occasions as "irrational."

Emma Lavelle, the Hains' cook, and Lillie Sawyer and Minnie Bohme, negro maids who were in the employ of Mrs Claudia Hains, caused considerable amusement in court by the characteristic manner of telling their stories of the alleged "antics" of "Billy" Annis and Claudia Hains at the Hains Fort Hamilton home during the captain's absence.
