—Fred S. Frank of Sugar Grove caught a six pound brown brook trout that measured 27 inches long, in the Cold Brook Creek, about a mile east of Sugar Grove, Monday of last week. It is one of the largest trout that ever was known to be caught in Warren county.

—Insurance Adjuster Burchard of Erie, representing the different companies having policies on the county home through the Arner agency, was here the day following the fire, and satisfactorily settled the county's claim with the commissioners, the loss amounting to $178.40.
—"I am not much of a mathematician," said the cigarette, "but I can add to a man's nervous troubles; I can subtract from his physical energies; I can multiply his aches and pains; I can divide his mental powers; I can take interest from his work, and I can discount his chances for success."—Ex.
—We had a very pleasant visit on Wednesday from J. A. Walter, of Tylersburg. Mr. Walter is an old timer having carried mail from Tionesta to this place over 30 years ago. The trip took two days allowing him every night at home and was known as the tri-weekly mail route.—Clarion Republican.
—Jacob Wagner, of Harmony township has purchased of Mrs. John Wilson, a tract of 123 acres of land lying next to his farm, and will begin soon to improve and clear it up for pasture and farming purposes. This makes quite a good sized farm for Mr. Wagner, taken in connection with what he already has under cultivation.
—A bay mare of the following description was stolen from Harvey Hughes in Cranberry twp., Venango county, Friday night: White strip on face and white hind feet; 16 years old and weighs about 1,150; right eye affected by a "moon." A buggy taken at the same time was an open one, though it had formerly had a top, and one wheel was in bad shape.
—A trio of our young men who have a boat-house located on the bank of the river at the foot of Hillsdale street, have flung a large banner to the breeze on which they have inscribed in artistic fashion the name of their organization—"The Big 3 Canoe Club." The banner is a large one and makes up for any lack in membership of the club that may be noted.
—The Tionesta Summer Normal started yesterday with an enrollment of fifty-six students, most of whom were from out-of-town. It is expected by the last of the week to increase this number to 75 or 80. The faculty consists of F. W. Gill, principal, D. W. Morrison, county superintendent, and C. F. Feit, of the high school faculty. That the school will prove a complete success goes without saying.
—The state dairy and food division collected $2,243.92 in fines and license fees during April. The new law prohibiting the watering of milk contributed $261.34, eleven dealers having been caught serving diluted milk to their customers. One milk dealer was convicted of using preservatives in milk and was fined $50. Oleo licenses contributed $566.71, four cases of adulterated vinegar $200, and 21 oleo fines $2,165.57.
—Some time ago mention was made that the Chamberlain Military Institute, located at Randolph, N. Y., would possibly be moved to Lakewood-on-Chautauque. It is now stated Colonel Dunn, of the institution, has purchased the Kent House, at Lakewood, and expects to move the school to that place about the first of June. One object of moving the institution to the shores of Chautauque Lake is to give the 200 or more pupils a naval as well as military training.
—Henry Yarnell and a friend or two, over in the southern portion of Harmony township, have been making it unpleasant for the rattlesnakes already this spring. Sunday they visited a den and captured five of the repulsive reptiles, the largest of which measured over five feet in length, and the hide of this monster can be seen at Hotel Weaver, although in skinning it about eight inches of the hide was torn and had to be cut off. We doubt whether this record as to size will be equalled this season.
—A dispatch to the Derrick from Titusville has it that "A cow owned by Mrs. Mary Archer, of East Troy, Crawford county, died today from hydrophobia, which developed Saturday. The mad dog owned by John Lander, of Tionesta, which ran amuck in that section about two months ago, was seen in the yard with the cow, and it is believed that the cow was contracted from the canine at that time." Doubtless that dog of Joe's will be held responsible for the death of all the cattle in Crawford county for the next decade or two.
—All the early fruit bearing trees are showing up well with blossoms this season, and with favorable weather from now on there should be an abundance of peaches, pears and June-berries. But "jack frost" is yet to be reckoned with, and if we are to believe the weather sharks the store said "jack" will be in evidence all right before the month is far waned. A few over-anxious gardeners have lettuce, onion and radish beds started, but the fellow who waits till conditions are favorable will not be much behind hand when it comes to the eating of the vegetables.
—Russell J. McQuillen, 39 years ago editor of the FOREST REPUBLICAN, died at the home of his brother in Butler, Pa., on the 3d inst., aged 89 years. The deceased will be remembered by those who resided here at that time as a man of jovial, pleasant disposition, and above the average in brilliancy and ability. He remained with this paper a little more than six months, being succeeded in the capacity of editor and manager by the late W. R. Dunn. He was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting in the 57th regiment, P. V., in 1861, and serving gallantly till the close of hostilities. He is survived by one son. The burial took place at Mercer, his native home.
—Ned Turner, who will be remembered as a member of the Modern Comedy Co., which showed here for two weeks the latter part of March, was found dead at West Bingham, Pa. Mr. Turner left here April 12. In the Wellsville, N. Y., Daily Reporter of May 6 we find the following account of his death: "The body of an aged man was found at West Bingham, Pa., this morning, and it is believed that he died from natural causes, but no one has been able to identify him. He was a short, heavy built man, between sixty-five and seventy years of age, and from papers found in his pocket it is thought that his name was Ned Turner. Word was sent to Wellsville, as it was thought that the man had some relative in this section, and unless some one comes to claim the body, it will probably be sent to the medical college at Philadelphia."

—Work on the new road at Oldtown flats, in Tionesta township, has commenced, and will be done under the supervision of the road commissioners with Wm. H. Harrison as the superintendent of construction. This piece of road is to take the place of the old one, which follows the creek bank, and will run along the hill back of the Kelly farm on almost a level grade. It will be a trifle over two miles in length extending from the watering trough near Charles Bush's place to the Green township line. The new road will obviate the overflows of ice and water which has always been a menace to travel, and will not be so sandy in the summer time.
—"Mothers' Day" services at the Presbyterian church on Sabbath morning were attended by a large congregation, and the white carnation worn in honor of "Mother" was the adorning feature of every attendant. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Bailey delivered one of his best sermons, paying many eloquent tributes to the memory of the mothers of our land, and attributing to them and their influence the good, the true and the noble that is found in the manhood and womanhood of every generation. The singing was good at this meeting, and the solo by Prof. Gill, "My Mother's Beautiful Hands," was exquisitely sweet and touching, moving many in the congregation to tears.
—Though not given to spread eagle speeches, our present representative in Congress, Hon. N. P. Wheeler, of Edinboro, Forest county, is making a fine record in Congress for hard work and tenacity of purpose. The heads of the Departments in Washington have learned to know Mr. Wheeler as a man who never gives up till he has won the case for his constituents or found that there are obstacles in way that can not be surmounted, and hence when they see him coming now they commence to get ready to grant his wishes. His tenacity of purpose and persistent activity have won him many a case, and this accounts for his wonderful success with the pension Department.—Ridgway Advocate.
—The Tidoute News still places some confidence in the rumored change of management of some of the branches of the old W. N. Y. & P. road, according to the following: "A story has been going the rounds that the P. R. R. has leased its lines from Oil City to Buffalo and from Oil City to Stoneboro to the Lake Shore Ry. A special dispatch of Tuesday to the Franklin Evening News from New York denies that the N. Y. Central had made such a lease. As the Lake Shore and Central are one and the same in fact, while maintaining separate managements, the denial does not count for much. The public will know as to the facts when the railroads choose to announce them and not before. However, one fact is known and that is that the P. R. R. has been losing good money in running those branches, and that the River Division, with poor train service as to connections, has been making up the losses."
—The twenty-eighth convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church met in Tidoute, May 6th and 7th, and was very interesting and instructive. The first session began Thursday morning at ten o'clock, Mrs. A. S. M. Hopkins, Mrs. T. N. Rodgers and Miss Ina Wilhelm conducting in their usual efficient manner. The lecture Thursday evening by Mrs. Flora Chew deserves special mention; her ten years missionary life in India made her able to picture vividly the life they live in India from childhood to old age and some of her pictures were heart rending. After Mrs. Chew's lecture the ladies of the M. E. church gave a reception to the delegates of the convention. They served light refreshments, after which a social half hour was spent. The music of the convention was exceptionally good. The organ was ably presided over by Ralph Siggins of Tidoute and a dozen special numbers were well rendered by ladies of Oil City, Franklin and Tidoute. The convention closed Friday afternoon, all feeling the time had been profitably spent. Mrs. McKEEN, Press Com.
—The Oil City Blizzard gives this graphic description of one of the most sublimely beautiful sunrises that has ever been witnessed in this latitude, on Thursday morning last: "Oil City residents who believe in the early bird theory were repaid for their efforts this morning by witnessing one of the most beautiful sunrises that ever mortal eyes beheld. It was a dawn triumphant over an emergency, from a night in which the moonlit sky was laden with billowy masses of clouds, broken up into innumerable portions, resembling a river filled with various sized cakes of ice. This morning's Aurora Borealis threw out an amber glow that apparently bathed the whole world in its great flood of color, diffusing over everything until the sun arose majestically to claim its own, causing the amber glow to become submissive to its own immense radiance. The phenomenon, it is believed, arose from atmospheric conditions, and was a sublime spectacle." At this place the wonderful beauty of the heavens was still more enhanced by the appearance of a gorgeous rainbow in the western sky, the rim of which extended almost to the zenith.
—In the spring time it is apropos to militate the moon superstition, for it is nothing else. The Department of Agriculture states: "There is nothing in the believed effect of the moon on planting. The farmer or gardener may plant his crop any time the ground is ready and weather right, without regard to the conditions of the orb of night." The experts of the agricultural department made a special investigation of the moon myth and find it one of the few myths dating back to pure savagery and has not a fact to support it. The field workers of the department of agriculture found that 75 per cent. of the farmers put in their crops and do other things about the farms, governed by the moon's phases, instancing the planting of potatoes in the dark of the moon. The experts' verdict is that the moon difficulty about this theory is it is not true. Not only do some farmers go by the moon as to planting their crops, but they also believe of pork, when hogs are killed under certain conditions of Luna, that the fat, when cooked, all goes to water. This theory, though it seems ridiculous, is believed in by many persons, and they follow the superstition when ready to butcher.

—Mrs. Anna Stitzinger was brought to her home here last Sunday and is now in a fair way to recover from her severe attack of pneumonia. She had gone to the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Wert, near Nebraska, three weeks ago to be with her in her illness from pneumonia and was herself stricken.
—Word comes to the many Forest county friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Stover, of Siverly, Pa., that their home was blessed with the arrival of a pair of beautiful little girls, weighing six pounds each, on Sunday last, and our genial and twice happy friend "Gill" informs us that mother and daughters are doing well.
—J. G. Terrill of Tylersburg, was a visitor in Tionesta Monday. He informs us that a company of Tylersburg operators struck what is considered a good well on the Frill tract, not far from that place, recently, and that the probability is that a nice field will be opened. The well put fifteen barrels in the tank the first day it was pumped.
—J. A. Turner, for many years a leading merchant and business man of West Hickory, has disposed of all his interests at that place to Harry Smith & Son, owners of the tannery, and will again move his family to Tidoute. The departure of these excellent people is very much regretted by the people of West Hickory, where they have been held in highest esteem for a long term of years.
A Splendid Exhibition of School Work.
The school display Friday was well attended by the patrons and friends of the school. At two o'clock the doors of the school building were thrown open and from that time until four o'clock a constant stream of people beginning at Room No. 1 passed through all the rooms, and lastly in high school, where dainty refreshments were served by the members of the senior class.
In former years there have been displays in the primary departments but this display showed the work from Room No. 1 to the high school and was well worth a visit. New lines of work were brought out, particularly the water color work in Rooms No. 1, 2 and 3, the colored maps and drawing in No. 4 and the free hand drawing in No. 5. Add to this the display of the written work and Tionesta has cause to be proud of its teachers as well as its children. All this meant an immense amount of hard work and study, which we believe all those who saw the display fully appreciated. A large part of the work of the teachers was done out of school hours and they certainly are entitled to the full meed of praise for their efforts.
The decorations throughout the building, which consisted of bunting, flags and potted plants, were very pretty and brought forth many compliments from the visitors.
It is only fair to add that the past school year has been a very successful one and that much of the success is due to the untiring efforts of the Board of Directors, and to the Principal, F. W. Gill, who has proved himself thoroughly up-to-date in everything pertaining to school matters.

County Home Affre.
The Forest County Home caught fire shortly after one o'clock last Wednesday and for a time was threatened with total destruction. Mrs. R. P. Bender was driving past the building, which is located a few rods from the river road in Hickory township, made the discovery of the fire and gave the alarm, which was quickly responded to by the few men in the vicinity. The County has a good water plant in connection with the Home with a good pressure behind it, and a stream was brought to play on the blaze as quickly as could be, some difficulty being experienced in getting next to the fire owing to its peculiar location. Commissioners' Clerk Henry was notified by telephone as soon as the discovery was made and in less than thirty minutes a number of men from Tionesta were at the scene and helping to extinguish the flames, the distance being something over four miles. The roof of the building was considerably damaged as were also the walls and ceiling inside, by fire and water.
The fire caught in the cornice of the chapel roof, or main part of the building twenty feet from any chimney and far removed from any fire in the building, and it is impossible to account for the origin except on the theory that mice, having a nest in the box-like cornice had carried matches to the spot and gnawed them into a blaze.
The home was erected about ten years ago at a cost of something like $30,000, and the insurance carried is about half that amount. An adjuster was here Friday and figured the loss at a little less than $200.
Caleb Powers' Lecture.
The audience which listened to Caleb Powers, the distinguished Kentuckian, deliver his lecture at the court house last Wednesday evening was not a large one, but we doubt whether Mr. Powers ever talked to a more attentive gathering. The small attendance was entirely attributable to the lack of advertising, the people having had but a few hours' notice of the speaker's coming, a fact which, though unavoidable, was very much regretted. The story of Mr. Powers' awful persecution in Kentucky is quite familiar to the reading public, but a recital of the details and his graphic, though unimpassioned, description of it is so intensely interesting and thrilling as to almost rack one's nerves. Beginning with his boyhood days and coming quickly to the stirring events which resulted in his election as Secretary of State, along with Governor Taylor and the rest of the Republican ticket in 1829, he gave the details of his arrest, incarceration and four trials on the charge of being implicated in the killing of Senator Goebel; his more than eight years' imprisonment, and his final pardon by Gov. Wilson. The portrayal of the events of these years of awful suspense was given without coloring and in a manner to convince his hearers that every word spoken was the truth, and that no taint of guilt attached to the speaker. At the conclusion of his speech an opportunity was given to ask questions, and many availed themselves of the chance to get information on some phase of the tragedy not already touched upon.
Mr. Powers is still a young man; in manner polished and gentlemanly, in education scholarly and refined. All the world loves a courageous man, one who can bear his troubles, unjust though they be, without murmuring, and some day Caleb Powers will be heard from in the broader fields of national affairs.
Porkey.
Mrs. Jessie Barnes visited at the home of Mrs. Wm. Parke over the Sabbath. A number of the Porkey people attended the ball game at Mayburg Saturday afternoon.

The pound party for the Widow Johnson and children at Lynch was well remembered by all. Mrs. Johnson received a nice lot of groceries, over one hundred yards of muslin, dress goods, gingham and shirting, and some ready made clothing for the children. The people of Bluejay also had a pie social Friday evening, the proceeds of which, amounting to $30.15, were given to Mrs. Johnson. She wishes to thank everyone who lent a helping hand to her in time of need.
Wm. Blum visited his sons George and Charles Blum the past week.
Our school will close Saturday with a picnic in the afternoon.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me, I lost my usual force and vitality. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by Dunn & Fulton.
