

Calendar for May 1909 showing days of the week and dates.

Announcements.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE.

We are authorized to announce John G. Watson, of Kingsley township, as a candidate for Associate Judge, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries June 5, 1909.

We are authorized to announce Samuel Aul, of Jenkins township, as a candidate for Associate Judge, subject to the decision of Republican voters at the primaries June 5, 1909.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

We are authorized to announce M. A. Carlinger, Esq., of Tionesta, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Forest county at the primaries June 5, 1909.

STATE DELEGATE.

We are authorized to announce James C. Welsh, of Howe township, as a candidate for Delegate to the Republican State Convention, subject to the action of the Republican voters at the primaries, June 5th.

We are authorized to announce George Crider, of Hickory township, as a candidate for Delegate to the Republican State Convention, subject to the action of the Republican voters at the primaries, June 5th.

At Fishing, Long Island, Monday, Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., was sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence of eight to 16 years in prison for the killing of William E. Annis.

In cutting the appropriation for general road improvement in half leaving the amount two million instead of four, as passed by the legislature, Governor Stuart, while actuated by a desire to keep the expenses within the revenues, has to a large extent impaired the work of the highway department in its desire to extend Macadam road making throughout the state, and it will doubtless be impossible under the circumstances to take up any new work in that line. It is probable, however, that the work now under way can be furthered to considerable extent with the funds that will be available under the reduced appropriation, and that will help some.

The criminal insane in state and county asylums will from this time on have to be maintained by the treasuries of their home counties. Heretofore the state has made no distinction between criminal and indigent insane, both being maintained alike out of the state treasury. Auditor General Young has directed his traveling auditors to eliminate the criminal insane from their returns, as he has decided that the law does not authorize him to approve state maintenance for these any more than it would for other criminals who are kept in the state penitentiaries at the expense of the counties from which they were sentenced. At the Auditor General's office it was stated that there is no way of estimating what the saving will be to the state, owing to the fact that both kinds of insane were classed together in the returns of previous years.

JOHN H. SANDERSON of Philadelphia, the contractor who was indicted in connection with the alleged frauds in building and furnishing the capitol at Harrisburg, died at Sherry's hotel, New York, on Thursday night last, of heart failure and Bright's disease. Sanderson had the contract for furnishing Pennsylvania's $12,000,000 capitol building and together with former State Treasurer William L. Mathews, former Auditor General William P. Snyder and former Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings J. M. Shumaker was indicted for conspiracy in the erection and furnishing of the building. The four men were placed on trial during the spring of 1908 and each convicted of "conspiracy to cheat and defraud the state in furnishing the new capitol." On Dec. 1 the four men were sentenced to pay a fine of $500 each and undergo a two years' sentence in the pen. An appeal was taken to the superior court and each of the convicted men was released on $25,000 bail, pending the appeal. Sanderson's death is the fourth that has occurred of principals and witnesses in Pennsylvania's capitol graft scandal. George F. Payne, contractor for buildings; James J. Jeffries, a warrant clerk who paid the bills, and former State Treasurer William L. Mathews have all died since the trial began.

New Laws Approved.

Governor Stuart's time limit for acting on the legislation left on his hands expired Saturday. Among the bills approved in the last few days are the following:

The Tustin bill for a parolement of convicts was approved. It provides that the court may suspend sentence of a convict and place the prisoner upon parole in charge of a probation officer in all cases, except where the prisoner has been convicted of murder, administering poison, kidnapping, incest, sodomy, rape, assault with intent to rape, arson or burglary of an inhabited dwelling house.

Providing for the parole of prisoners in the Eastern and Western penitentiaries is another radical departure of the act. Instead of sentencing a prisoner to a penitentiary for a definite term, judges are to sentence them for an indeterminate period, stating the minimum and maximum term prescribed by law. Prisoners can then apply to the board of inspectors at the monthly session at the penitentiary and if it appears to the board of inspectors that parole should be granted they shall so report to the Governor; if the board of Pardon's recommend the parole the Governor is to grant it.

Other bills were approved as follows, and are now laws:

Fixing the salaries of county commissioners in counties of less than 70,000 population as follows: From 75,000 to 50,000, $1,200 per year; 50,000 to 25,000, $1,000 per year; less than 25,000, $800 per year.

year. This law does not apply to county commissioners now holding office, but those elected hereafter in Forest county will receive $800 instead of $500, the present salary.

Authorizing a commission to revise the election laws of the commonwealth.

Authorizing the state highway department to have seven thousand additional copies of the report of that department printed.

Authorizing the Salisbury monument commission to provide transportation for such guests as the commission may designate and for surviving honorably discharged soldiers to Salisbury, N. C., from points in Pennsylvania and return.

The pure food bill which was the object of one of the bitterest contests of the recent legislature. In a general way the bill makes the federal food law in this state except that it prohibits the use of certain chemicals.

BILLS VETOED.

The Governor found it necessary to make heavy cuts in the appropriation bills, and many of the largest were vetoed outright, in order to bring the expenditures within the State's revenues. Among the number thus disapproved was his own project, the big road bill connecting Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. It carried an appropriation of $5,000,000, and in withholding his signature he says: "As I have been compelled to make large reductions in the appropriations made by the legislature for the reason that they are in excess of the revenues of the state I have concluded after serious consideration that in order not to interfere with the appropriations for the maintenance of the public schools, the indigent insane, the charities of the commonwealth and the consumptive poor, and as it has been necessary for me to withhold my approval from other meritorious appropriation bills, this bill is not approved."

Other measures vetoed are the capital park extension bill, carrying a $2,000,000 appropriation, and the big school code. The latter bill was so changed in its course through the legislature as to defeat many of the very objects which it originally sought to attain that in the opinion of the Executive the bill was rendered of little value. And aside from this there was evidence that the word "district" had been substituted for "city" in one section of the bill after it had passed the legislature and before it reached the Governor.

The New Fish Law.

William E. Meehan, Pennsylvania state fish commissioner, defines the Pennsylvania fish laws for 1909, the bill that Governor Stuart recently signed, as follows: Open seasons are:

Trout, April 15 to July 31, inclusive; black bass, June 15 to November 30, inclusive; other game fish, June 15 to December 31, inclusive.

Size of fish which may be taken: Trout, six inches; bass, eight inches; muscalonge, 24 inches; wall-eyed pike, striped bass and pickerel, 12 inches; rock bass, white bass, yellow perch, calico bass, six inches; measurement of fish to be taken from tip of nose to tip of tail.

Number of fish to be taken each day: Trout, 40; black bass, 12; muscalonge, 4; other game fish, 25 of each. Game fish same as the act of 1901, with the exception of the sunfish, which has been stricken out of the game list.

The devices allowed by the new bill are as follows: Number of rods in a stream inhabited by trout, one; number of rods in stream uninhabited by trout, unlimited. Number of hooks, three. A burr hook, or three-pronged hook, is a single hook. A hook with three prongs or burr hook for suckers is permitted. Giggling for carp, suckers, mullets and eels is permitted in streams containing no trout during the months of September and October. Fike nets and dip nets for carp, suckers, mullets and eels have a closed season for the month of June. No device except specifically mentioned is to be used. For game fish, rod and line exclusively. Eight tip-ups allowed for pickerel and yellow perch. For minnows any device is allowed except dynamite and poison. For carp, suckers, mullets and eels, dip nets, fyke nets and an unlimited number of outlines with an aggregate of not more than 100 hooks or less than four hooks to each line. A seine is allowed for shad. Fish baskets are allowed for eels in streams not inhabited by trout. The same restriction applies to outlines.

The new act states that owners of land along streams stocked by the state shall not have the authority to forbid angling, but the fishermen so offending shall be liable for any and all damage.

Important Lumber Suit.

The Derrick's Franklin correspondent writes, under date of 13th inst., concerning an important suit that has been instituted in Venango county, as follows:

"A bill in equity was filed with the prothonotary this afternoon which represents a suit of some magnitude. The paper was filed by attorney J. S. Carmichael representing the plaintiff, the President Oil Company, of Emontion, composed of T. B. Gregory and H. J. Crawford in trust for T. B. Gregory, H. J. Crawford, J. J. Grosser, E. O. Crawford, T. B. Grant, C. E. Henry, D. L. Taylor and S. Trueman. The defendants are W. J. Grandin, Jr., and C. F. Bucklin, doing business as the Grandin Lumber Company. The bill states that the plaintiff company came into possession of 12,000 acres of timber land in President and Pinegrove townships, Venango county, formerly a part of the J. M. Clapp estate, and they entered into agreement with the defendant company in 1903 to cut and market the timber for a term of five years, paying the plaintiff company 60 per cent of the net proceeds. Under the agreement the lumber company was to furnish the oil company a correct monthly statement relative to the amount of lumber cut and sold. It is averred by the plaintiff that during the period covered by the contract over $500,000 worth of lumber was manufactured and sold, but that the defendants did not make a correct accounting, the monthly reports being incorrect and kept for the sole purpose of misleading the plaintiff. The case is an important one and will be vigorously fought. W. A. and W. W. Hindman, of Clarion, are associated with Mr. Carmichael in the plaintiff's case."

RECENT DEATHS.

BROOKHOUSE.

Albert Taylor Brookhouse was born in Millville, Mercer county, Pa., April 23, 1819, and died at his home in Tionesta, May, 13, 1909. August 28, 1870, he was married in marriage with Miss Augusta Spencer, who with their nine children survives him, as follows: Edward N. and Frank of Oil City; Mrs. W. E. Smith of Utica; Mrs. L. W. Randall of Girard; Mrs. Chas. Cox of Albion; Fred of Parker; and Charles, Bessie and Marie at home. He is also survived by three brothers and two sisters: G. W. of Edinboro; R. F. and L. M. of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. J. D. Sherrad and Mrs. E. L. Minium of Venango, Pa. Mr. Brookhouse, like his father, was a miller by trade and was thoroughly competent. He was interested in grist mills in Venango, Crawford, Erie and Forest counties, and in two instances was a heavy loser by fire. After his health began to fail so that he was unable to manage a mill he spent some time as a traveling salesman for a western milling company. For the past three years he had been able to do but little work of any kind, having suffered a stroke of apoplexy. He was a good citizen, an ardent supporter of every movement which promised aid to the temperance reform. For a number of years he was a member of the M. E. church and died in the faith. Funeral services were conducted at his late home Friday evening by Rev. W. O. Calhoun and the body was taken to Venango, Crawford county, where the burial took place on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Whig Hill.

Once more the sun is shining and things have taken on a spring look. Vegetation is beginning to start and unless Joshua refuses to shine and frosts come there will be an abundance of fruit in this section. Already the farmers are planting corn and hustling with their work between showers, which are many. It seems the rains and floods have been quite destructive, some gardens being almost washed away.

"Blessed are the peacemakers" is a fine motto which ought to hang on the walls of every home. There are a great many people who don't read their Bibles, or they don't have the right conception if they do. We are here for a few days to live in harmony and be good, not to lack-bite and devour. Will some traveling evangelist with a voice like thunder come this way and preach from the text "The tongue is an unruly member, full of deadly poison and no man can tame it." A good collection is promised to the minister who is not a pious coward and declares the whole counsel of God.

No large trout catches yet. It is thought the high waters drowned the trout or washed them away.

Many people of this place, young and old, are courting this week.

O. L. Fitch of Chicago was a caller on the hill a few days this week. The roads are in terrible shape. They very much need a good old scrape. Snakes, snakes, snakes! Not snakes in the boots nor snakes in the grass, but real rattlesnakes. Fifer Miller and his two sons of Beaver Valley, O. Highfield and a Mr. Kilfer went to the rattlesnake den last Sunday and killed 22 rattlesnakes. Three days before 5 were killed and during the same week Saul Mealy and Mr. Highfield killed three, making a total of 30 reptiles. People ought to be encouraged to visit the dens often and kill them off and then berry pickers would not need to wear joints of stove pipe on their legs to keep from getting bitten.

Pleasant Grove.

There was quarterly meeting at the F. M. church here over last Sabbath. The presiding elder being absent, Rev. M. man of Kane conducted the service. Willard Secor, of Forest City, Iowa, and Mr. McClain, of Clarion, were in our town last Saturday on business. Chas. Moore and J. K. Cosgrove attended the funeral of Mrs. Mattie Lindemont, at Scotch Hill, Monday of last week.

Mrs. Mary Maze had the misfortune of getting her right shoulder very badly hurt last Tuesday.

Harry Silvis and Jennie Smith of Hall-ton attended prayer meeting here last Sabbath evening.

The farmers here all have their oats in now, and are preparing their ground for potatoes and corn.

Howard Cassatt, who had the misfortune to run a rusty spike through his foot a couple weeks ago, is able to be around again.

Jonah Gadley, who has been keeping boarding house for Mr. Crossman, has moved to Redelyffe to farm this summer.

John Hoover has purchased a farm in Clarion county and intends moving on it soon.

Alex. Caughy has purchased a farm near Greenwood. Alex. has commenced to look like a farmer already.

Guy Leslie was over to Sigel on business last Saturday evening.

Letter From an Old Tionestian.

From a letter of J. D. Hulings, dated May 12, to his old friend, Wm. Lawrence, we are privileged to make the following extracts. "Dad," as we "old codgers" best know him, and who left here some 22 years ago, is located at Ward, Colorado, where he is nursing several promising gold-mining claims. He says:

"Your postal card came to hand last evening and I was glad to hear from you, and much obliged for the paper. I have had good health since I have been on the mountains, but it is not a good place to spend the winter. This country has been dull the past winter, not much doing, while the weather has been cold and snow very deep. I expect to dispose of my interests this summer and get out of the mountains. It has been lonesome here since 'Davey' Hilland left us. He went to stay with his sister in Kansas. It seems a long time since I left old Tionesta, and I want to be remembered to all of the 'old boys' in town."

Memorial Day at East Hickory.

ELI BERLIN POST, No. 629, DEPT. OF PENN'A, G. A. R.

Memorial service at East Hickory, Sunday, May 23d, at 11 o'clock, in the M. E. church, by Rev. W. E. Davis.

General service at Whig Hill on May 29th, beginning at 9:30 a. m. The regular G. R. R. ritual will be followed at the cemetery, after which services will be continued at the grove, consisting of patriotic singing, music and orations. Able speakers have been engaged for the occasion. Our friends young and old will participate in recitations, etc., for which all will receive from the Post a beautiful souvenir. The ladies of Ell Berlin W. R. C. will constitute a committee on flowers. All recitations should be handed promptly to Post Commander J. H. Berlin, or to the Marshal, J. Albaugh, or W. R. Small. Don't forget the eating part. Bring well filled baskets. Rigs will leave East Hickory at not later than 7:30 a. m. You will miss the band wagon if you report later. A general invitation is extended to everybody by the Post.

Neighborhood Notes.

PURDUMWAYNE has started the ball arrolling for an "old home week," the time set for it being the fourth week in August.

Two Italians were fined $100 each by Justice Wheeler, of Warren, recently for dynamiting fish. They paid the fine and costs too.

Oil City councils are arranging to install an automobile hose carriage with which to "run to the fires." It will cost about $8,000.

Charles Gibbs Carter, a prominent Pittsburgh attorney died suddenly in that city Friday, and was buried at his former home, Titusville, Sunday. He was a son of Col. J. J. Carter.

During the severe storm of Saturday evening lightning struck a barn at Custer, Crawford county, belonging to Frank Stock. It was destroyed with all of its contents. Two horses and a cow were crumpled in the burning structure.

By the blowing over of the large tent of the Cole circus at Corry Saturday evening during a heavy thunder storm, the 700 people gathered to witness the performance were thrown into serious panic, and a score or more injured, four of them seriously. A large elephant broke loose and threatened to stampee the crowd, but was finally subdued. The tent was on fire while the crowd was wrapped in its heavy folds but the drenching rain extinguished the flames thus averting a possible holocaust.

Executive Meeting, W. C. T. U.

The executive meeting of the Forest County W. C. T. U. will be held at Nebraska, Thursday, May 27th, at which all the members of the executive committee are most cordially invited to be present. A picnic dinner will take place at noon, which will be followed by the meeting. By order of the President, Mrs. Sue M. Sharpe.

MRS. ELLEN B. CATLIN, Sec'y.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and curing the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
