HOLD-UP NEAR OMAHA

Engine Crew Forced to Leave and Train Stopped.

Eight Clerks on Mail Car Were Forced to Open Door and Chief Clerk Was Asked to Point Out the Registered Mail—Robbers Gathered Up Seven Pouches, Two of Which Were Found Empty Near Scene of the Robbery. The Conductor's Experience.

Although the police and the sheriff have had large forces of men scouring the country around the scene of Saturday's hold-up of a Union Pacific passenger train three miles west of Omaha, little progress has been made toward tracing the escaped robbers.

Two of the seven mail pouches believed to have been taken from the train were found some distance from the point where the robbery occurred. They had been cut open and their contents removed, the outlaws overlooking only one package.

That the robbers had laid their plans well is apparent. Two of the men climbed onto the engine with drawn revolvers and forced the engineer to stop the train. The engine crew was ordered from the cab and two of the robbers stood guard while the other two escorted the engineer and firemen to the rear. The quartet were apparently well acquainted with the ground, as they forced the train to stop in a deep cut.

There were eight clerks on the mail car and they were forced to open the door. The chief clerk was singled out and asked to point out the registered mail. This he did and the robbers gathered up seven pouches. The leader then remarked: "This is all we can get into our automobiles."

A continuous fusillade of shooting was kept up during the robbery, evidently to intimidate passengers and crew. A flagman who went to the rear narrowly escaped being shot. Several passengers who had not retired started to get out of the vestibules, but in no uncertain tones the robbers ordered them back into the cars.

The spot where the holdup occurred is only two blocks from where Eddie Cudahy was kept a prisoner after being kidnapped several years ago.

Conductor Wallace said: "I got out of the rear sleeping car when I heard shooting and the robbers promptly began using my lantern as a target. I walked forward to the next car and one of the robbers yelled at me. Get inside there, before you get your head shot off. It did not take me long to obey. I went forward inside the train. When I got to the dining car, just behind the baggage car, the robbers had about finished their job."

LOOSE STEERS CAUSED PANIC

Broke Away From Bunch Being Unloaded From Boat.

Five steers broke away from a bunch of 200 being unloaded from a cattle boat in the North river Sunday night and created a panic on the West side in the vicinity of Sixty-ninth street, New York. Four of the animals leaped into the river and started swimming for the Jersey shore, while the fifth ran wild for many blocks knocking down pedestrians and spreading terror in its path until brought down by a bullet fired by a policeman. More than 50 shots were fired before the animal was killed.

Of the other runaways, two swam across the river and were captured at Hoboken. The third was killed in midstream after being injured and the fourth was caught after swimming a quarter of a mile along the water front.

SUSPECTED HOUSEBREAKER

Hitherto Respected Citizen Shot by Police Watching a House.

Phillip A. Swackhamer, a hitherto respected citizen of Syracuse, was probably fatally shot there by detectives who were watching a house they believed was about to be robbed. Swackhamer during the day followed Sumner A. Gillette, it is said, from a grocery store where the latter had a large check cashed to his home. Gillette grew suspicious and asked the police to watch his house. At night while hiding in the bushes they caught sight of the man. He saw them and started to run. Several shots were fired at him, two taking effect.

EDUCATOR OF HELEN KELLER

Rogers Long Kept Secret His Aid For the Unfortunate Girl.

One of the least known and most touching of Mr. Henry Heddleston Rogers' many charitable deeds was his care of Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind girl, whose prodigies of learning have astonished the world.

Mr. Rogers had his attention called to Miss Keller when the girl had hardly reached her teens. Her case, a pitiful one, at once touched his heart. Secretly and through agents he interested himself in the girl and provided funds for the early attempts to bring knowledge to the then darkened mind.

Miss Keller showed such aptitude for learning that Mr. Rogers continued his benefactions and saw that the best experienced and skillful teachers in the land were provided. As she advanced beyond the scope of the average instructors of those afflicted as she was, Mr. Rogers searched about and found mentors for the girl who have been able to make her, without doubt, one of the brightest and most charming personalities in the world today, even when pitted against persons whose faculties are in no way impaired.

For more than a quarter of a century Mr. Rogers, as with all his deeds of charity, kept the secret of his interest in Helen Keller. The fact that one of the wealthiest men in the world had made himself practically the girl's foster father was not even known to many who were Helen Keller's associates.

The story did not come out until Mark Twain, long one of Mr. Rogers' most intimate friends, revealed it when the Virginia railway was opened a short time ago. On that occasion Mark Twain, in an address at Norfolk, Va., related the then unknown story of Mr. Rogers' benefactions to the girl, who, through an attack of scarlet fever, had been deprived of sight, speech and hearing.

COLOR LINE IN COURT

Negro Cannot Recover as Much Damage as a White Man.

A negro and a white man do not suffer equal humiliation in the eyes of the law for false arrest, according to the appellate division of the supreme court in New York, which sustained an order of Justice Drugo of the supreme court reducing the amount of damages awarded to George Griffin, a Pullman porter, from $2,500 to $300.

The negro was arrested in Montreal, charged with stealing a pocket-book, but the charge was not substantiated and he was released. He brought suit against Daniel H. Brady, a New York manufacturer who caused his arrest, and obtained the $2,500 verdict, which was set aside and the order upheld.

In his decision Justice Drugo said: "While in some senses the negro under the law is just as good a man as the president of the United States, it would be a bad argument to say he is just as good in all respects. The damages in a case of this kind depend upon a man's standing in society. He is colored and that fact should be considered. If you were to take the mayor of this city and arrest him, he would suffer far more humiliation than this porter. If the mayor were a colored man, he might not feel as much humiliation and shame."

ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION

Commemorated in a Window in Metropolitan Temple.

Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, appointed ambassador to Turkey, was the principal speaker Sunday night at the dedication of a window in honor of the Roosevelt administration at the Metropolitan Temple in New York. Mr. Straus' speech was principally a review of the administration and the achievements of Theodore Roosevelt. The service began in the morning and will be held every night this week, culminating in the dedicating of the Lincoln memorial window on Sunday next.

GAS FROM PEAT

Colonel John Jacob Astor Has Applied For a Patent.

Colonel John Jacob Astor of New York city has applied for a patent for a machine which it is hoped will make possible the utilization of peat deposits as fuel for power. Colonel Astor intends to present it to the public in the hope that it may be of general use.

AGAINST FREE LUMBER

Senator McCumber's Amendment Lost by Over Two-Thirds.

Dolliver Votes Against Free Lumber but Said Industry Would Not Suffer From Reduction From Dingley Rates — Senator Heyburn Spoke of Mistakes of Republican Platform and Senator Bailey Repeated the Denver Platform.

Washington, May 25.—The lumber schedule of the tariff bill was under consideration almost the entire day with Senators Root, Heyburn, Borah and Dolliver contending on the one hand for a protection for the industry and Senators Clapp, Burkett and McCumber arguing as strenuously against that policy. The day closed with a more than two-thirds vote against Senator McCumber's free lumber amendment, the ballot showing 25 for and 56 against.

The surprise of the day was the attitude of Senator Dolliver, who heretofore has stood with the progressives, throughout the present fight. He took position against the radical demand for free lumber, but expressed the opinion that the industry would not suffer from a reduction of the Dingley rates.

Senator Root opened the proceedings with a close argument in favor of a differential on dressed lumber. Senators Borah and Heyburn of Idaho contended for the highest duty on lumber and Mr. Borah entered upon an argument to show that the policy of protection is a "system" and cannot be maintained if there are to be constant exceptions to it as is desired in the interest of free lumber.

On the other hand Senators Clapp and Burkett argued that lumber can be produced as cheaply in the United States as in Canada, and contended that the lumber industry of this country would not be endangered by the free admission of the Canadian product. Incidentally Senator Clapp paid a glowing tribute to the Canadian government, saying that it was equal to the best.

During the day Senator Heyburn spoke of the Republican platform of the last campaign in a way that brought down some criticism on his head, and Senator Bailey declared that he did not propose to be bound by the tariff plank of the platform adopted by the Democrats at Denver, which favored free lumber.

Mr. Bailey made a speech of some length towards the close of the session in which he expressed the opinion that the enactment of the pending tariff bill would see the disintegration of the Republican party.

Of the 25 affirmative votes 15 were cast by Republican senators and 10 by Democratic senators. The Republicans were as follows: Beveridge, Bristow, Brown, Burkett, Burton, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Curtis, Dupont, Gamble, Johnston, LaFollette, McCumber and Nelson, and Democrats, Clay, Culberson, Frazier, Gore, Hughes, Newlands, Paynter, Rayner, Shively and Stone.

SALE OF EXAMINATION PAPERS

Transaction Stopped by Two Policemen Concealed in a Closet.

Cambridge, Mass., May 25.—A little financial transaction in a Harvard student's room concerning the sale in advance of alleged examination papers, was about to be consummated when two policemen stepped from a closet and arrested F. H. Steele of Charlestown, who had offered to procure the papers.

The amount involved was $750, which the student agreed to collect from 75 other students in order to obtain copies of the examination papers in an economic course.

REGISTRATION FRAUDS

Former Tammany District Worker Begins Serving Sentence.

New York, May 25.—Frank Duffy, a former Tammany district worker, convicted of registration frauds in the election of 1907, surrendered himself today and will begin serving in Sing Sing the prison term of from three and one-half to four and one-half years to which he was sentenced nearly two years ago. Duffy's case has since been pending on appeal and he has been at liberty on bail. Last week the appellate division of the supreme court confirmed the conviction.

FALL ON MOURNERS.

Guests Drop Through Ceiling and Eat Funeral Feast.

Hamburg, Pa., May 25.—Three women and a boy plunged through the floor of a second-story room in the home of William Kaufman in Centerville and fell on the dining-room table below at a time when the table was surrounded by guests. One of the diners, Mrs. Elias Balthaser, was bending over the table at the time and one of the women fell on her neck causing probably fatal injuries.

Kaufman's little daughter had just been buried and the funeral party returned to his house for dinner. Pastor D. P. Derberich and a dozen others were gathered around the table. A number of women mourners were assembled upstairs.

BASEBALL FAMILIES

Teams Composed of Relatives to Play Unique Series.

Pittsburg, May 25.—William Haslet, representing a baseball team that includes his seven sons and a cousin, has accepted a challenge from the Olive family of Beaver avenue, Northside, consisting of nine sons, to play a series of three games to decide the supremacy on the diamond of the two families and for the benefit of dependents of the men who recently were drowned in the Ohio river ferry disaster.

All of the members of both families are good players, and lively games are expected. The time and places for the games have not yet been decided upon. Robert Simpson of Verona, father of seven sons, may challenge the winner of the series for the same benefit.

FINALLY ENDS HIS LIFE

Family Troubles Drive Dr. Fisher to Suicide.

Lebanon, Pa., May 25.—Dr. A. M. Fisher of McAllisterville, Pa., committed suicide by swallowing prussic acid as he sat on the porch at the home of his wife's father, John Fox.

Dr. and Mrs. Fisher parted two years ago. Shortly thereafter she brought suit for divorce for "cruel and barbarous treatment." He tried to effect a reconciliation and failing in this, he attempted suicide but was prevented by his brother-in-law, Luther Fox, who knocked a phial of acid from his hand as he was about to drain its contents. Sunday night, however, he was successful in his second attempt.

BRAKEMEN HEAD LIST

Furnished Most of Killed and Injured in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 25.—The state railroad commission's investigations into the causes of numerous accidents to employes of railroads during the first quarter of this year show that brakemen, section hands and firemen furnished most of the killed and injured in order named.

The total number of fatalities for the quarter was 74, of which 21 were brakemen and 20 section hands. Most of the brakemen were killed by falling or jumping from trains. The number of brakemen hurt reaches 423 in a total of 1,369 persons injured.

LOSES ONE CHILD BY FIRE

Williams Rescues Seven of Family From Burning Home.

Columbus, O., May 25.—Mabel Williams, 3-year-old daughter of A. F. Williams, was fatally burned in a fire which destroyed the family home, following a gasoline explosion.

AMERICAN WON

Knocked Out English Heavyweight Champion In Fourth Round.

London, May 25.—Sam Langford, the colored heavyweight of Boston, knocked out Ian Hague, the heavyweight champion of England, in the fourth round at the National Sporting club here last night. The fight, which was for a purse of $9,000, was scheduled to go twenty rounds.

Langford was at a disadvantage as regards weight, height and reach, but his superior knowledge of ring tactics and his quickness overcame this, and what was expected to be a long contest proved to be a very brief one.

In the first round Hague was slow to start. Langford had a shade the better of it until the end of the round when Hague reached him with a hook to the jaw. This seemed to encourage the Britisher, and although no damage was done in the second round he showed more cleverness than the colored man.

Langford opened the third round with a hard left to the face and he used this blow effectively several times before the going sounded. Hague, however, partially closed the American's eye with a hard right swing.

The men came together in a fast mix-up at the opening of the fourth and Langford put a terrific right on the Yorkshireman's chin which ended the contest.

A record crowd saw the fight, and the American was a warm favorite, considerable money being bet at 2 to 1 and 5 to 2 on him to win.

COLLISION IN HARBOR

Tug Princeton Sunk by Passenger Steamer Western States; Three Men Drowned.

Buffalo, May 25.—Raymond Norbury, 21 years old, was on the dock yesterday morning when the tug Princeton of the Great Lakes Towing company's line prepared to cast off to tow the big sidewheeler lake passenger steamer Western States, inbound from Detroit, to her dock in Buffalo harbor.

"Where are you going?" yelled Norbury to Captain James Sullivan of the Princeton.

"After the States; come and take a ride," called back the captain, who knew Norbury well and liked him, as all the waterfront people did.

"Yes, come along," shouted Frank Tranter, fireman of the Princeton. And when William McClure, deck hand of the tug, added his invitation, Norbury jumped aboard and the tug put off.

Ten minutes later Tranter, Norbury and McClure were dead. The Princeton had been run down by the Western States, and only Captain Sullivan and Thomas McMahon had managed to escape.
