You may now swear in Wisconsin without fear of the law, as the Governor has vetoed the bill making it a misdemeanor. But your conscience is still supposed to be working.

A MAJORITY of the Democratic Senators having voted for protection, we should like to know what the next Democratic convention will have to say on the subject when it comes to making a platform.

THE famous "peach orchard" of the third day of the battle of Gettysburg has long since rotted down. The Gettysburg Battlefield Commission has determined to replant the spot, placing the trees in the same position the originals occupied, and has asked the State authorities to lend their aid to get good trees and keep them so. State Zoologist Surface has promised to help keep the trees free of pests.

TREASURY officials have made the announcement that a counterfeit $2.00 silver certificate, of the series of 1899, has made its appearance. It bears the check letter "A," and face plate is No. 110. It has the portrait of Washington and the signature of W. T. Vernon, Register of the Treasury, and Charles H. Treat, Treasurer of the United States. The bill is printed from etched plates and is on a good quality of bond paper, but no attempt has been made to imitate the silk fibre effect. The green ink used is also very dark.

In announcing the re-appointment of State Highway Commissioner Joseph W. Hunter and Chief Factory Inspector John C. Delaney, Governor Stuart has filled all vacancies existing among state officials to date except that of Insurance Commissioner David Martin, whose term expired on May 3. Mr. Martin will hold over until fall as he is a candidate for register and recorder of wills in Philadelphia and his successor will be named after the election. The governor has yet to name the state board of examiners for nurses and members of the election law commission.

OWING to the failure of the last legislature to make an appropriation to pay the bounty on noxious animals for the two years beginning June 1, 1909, there is only about $13,000. It is believed that this sum will be exhausted in paying outstanding claims and the various counties, if the commissioners decide to pay the bounties, will be compelled to draw from their own treasuries and wait two years for the legislature to make an appropriation to reimburse them. Bounties are paid on weasel, mink, fox and wild cat. On the two former the bounty of $1 each, and on the two latter $2 each.

GROCKERYMEN complain that persons are finding fault with them for not furnishing their customers with white flour, such as they have been in the habit of buying. Those who are finding fault do not know that under the pure food laws millers are no longer allowed to whiten the flour. The reason probably for this law is that the operation of whitening the flour is injurious, affecting the value of it as a food product and being deleterious to the public health. The yellow colored flour, such as our grandfathers only knew was always pronounced the best by the old fashioned housekeepers, who when shown flour that looked extra white, condemned it believing it to be adulterated as all flour when ground is not pure white and it must undergo some process to bleach or color it.

SO FAR as my observation goes, I feel certain that emigration has been of inestimable value, economical and ethical, to the three great monarchies chiefly concerned, namely: Italy, Austro-Hungary and Russia. It has withdrawn inefficient labor, and has returned some of it capable of more and better work. It has lifted the status of the peasantry to a degree which could not have been achieved even by a revolution. It has educated its neglected masses, has lifted them to a higher standard of living, and has implanted new and vital ideals. So far as the emigrant himself as a person is concerned, I have not seen one who, if he escaped the dangers of our industrial activity, has not been bettered by his contact with us. From "How Returning Emigrants Are Americanizing Europe,"—Review of Reviews for June.

ONE reason why so many girls and boys, men and women, too, are uninteresting, is because they try so hard to be like somebody else rather than to content to remain himself or herself in life. In nature you don't see an oak posing as a willow, or a black duck as a yellow leg, or a horse as a cow, or a lily as a rose, or a lilac as a peony, or a dog as a cat. Be natural and you'll be all right. Many a girl without the slightest talent for music is running a piano who should be making bonnets or bread; and many a boy is studying for a learned profession whose proper sphere is the machine shops or the mill; many a man is splitting up churches who ought to be doing good service in some institution of learning, teaching, or working on a farm, and many a woman is trying in vain to be a leader of society when she should be a model housewife in her own home.—Ex.

Primary Election Next Saturday.

It is hoped no Republican in Forest county will absent himself from the primaries next Saturday afternoon. The ticket to be nominated is not a large one, but it is one of importance to the party and the county. The office of Associate Judge is one which vitally concerns every citizen of the county, and the selection of a candidate for this important post should be participated in by every member of the party. Turn out, then, and vote your choice next Saturday, and whatever the result, be in a position to help elect the ticket in the fall. A delegate to the Republican State convention is also to be elected, and each member of the party should have a hand in the selection of the man who is to represent it at the convention. Let there be a full turnout.

WHEN the veterans of the 6,037 posts of the Grand Army of the Republic assembled for the roll call on Memorial day the gap in the ranks were greater than ever before for records in Chicago show that since May 30, 1898, nearly 15,000 "comrades" have passed to the last rest. The Army now numbers barely 200,000. Less than twenty years ago there was double that number and even on Dec. 1907, the various departments showed a total membership of 225,157. One by one, however, and two by two, the men who fought at Gettysburg and Chancellorsville and Antietam have dropped from the ranks and each year fewer voices have answered to the roll call. The death rate that twenty years ago was less than 1 per cent. now increased to 5 per cent. Not all the survivors are included in the organization, however. The rolls of the government still carried on the first of May the names of 601,699 veterans of the Civil war.

The New Game Law.

The important provisions of the new game law, recently approved by the Governor, are of interest to the sportsmen of the state. The open seasons, as fixed by the statute, are as follows:

Woodcock—October 1 to December 1; ten only in one day, twenty in one week or fifty in a season.

Ruffed grouse or pheasant—October 15 to December 1; 5 in one day, 20 in one week or 30 in a season.

Wild turkeys and quail—October 15 to November 15; one turkey in one day, two only in a season; ten quail in one day, forty in a week or seventy-five in a season. No Hungarian quail shall be killed for two years from May 1, 1908.

Plover—July 15 to December 1. Rail, coot, mudhen, dove, redbird, blackbird, sandpiper, tattler, curlew or any shore bird—September 1 to January 1. Wilson or Jack snipe—September 1 to May 1 following.

Deer—November 15 to December 1, must be a buck with horns showing above the hair; buckshot prohibited, and no gun shall be used firing more than one ball at a single discharge. Limited to one deer a season. Gray or black squirrels—October 15 to December 1; limited to six in one day. Rabbits—November 1 to December 15; limited to ten in a single day.

Beet—October 1 to January 1; unlimited. Sunday hunting is prohibited under a penalty of $25.

All fines mean a day in prison for each dollar unpaid. Fines must be paid within ten days after being imposed or an appeal taken by certiorari to a higher court.

Game may be removed from the state by any non-resident bearing a license to hunt if tagged with the name and address of the owner, together with the number of his license. Licenses can be obtained from county treasurers as heretofore at a cost of $10.

Ferrets and steel traps, snares and other devices are prohibited, as is also hunting or shooting deer in the water.

All guns and other equipment of a hunter arrested for violation of the law will be forfeited to the state and taken by the officer making the arrest. Game may be sold only during the open season.

Why He Did the Washing.

A man came up out of one of the little roof houses across from the woman's window with a big basket of clothes. He was followed by two small boys, carrying more clothes and clothebins. The man put the basket of clothes down and began to sort them out preparatory to hanging them on the line. The boys helped, handing him the clothebins and some small pieces, one at a time. They were a long while hanging out the clothes because of their awkwardness. It was evidently work they were unaccustomed to, but at last it was finished, and the boys went down into the little roof house, leaving the man on the roof. He stood for a moment looking at the clothes, then going over to a parapet, sat down between two tall chimneys. The woman could see him from her window lean against one of the chimneys and by and by throw his arm across his eyes.

She found out afterward that his wife had died the week before.—New York Press.

Only a Misunderstanding.

Several years ago in a well known wholesale house in a big manufacturing town an old bachelor bookkeeper, who had been many years with the firm, suddenly announced that he was to be married.

The partners gave him a week's holiday, and his fellow clerks raised a little purse and presented it to pay the expenses of his wedding trip.

A couple of days after the wedding one of the members of the firm went down to a seaside resort, and there, lounging about the parade and apparently enjoying himself immensely, he saw his recently married old bookkeeper, but alone.

"Where's your wife?" asked the principal.

"She's at home," was the reply.

"But I thought you had money given you for a wedding trip?"

"So I had," was the reply, "but I didn't understand that it was intended to include her."—Pearson's Weekly.
