NEVER was a bigger job undertaken in this country than that of crowding the trusts to the wall. Trusts seem to have no affinity for walls.

We can state with absolute positiveness that Chinaman King, the murder of Elsie Sigel, has not been seen in Tionesta up to the hour of going to press.

As a means of evading the prohibitory law liquor is being sold in Kansas in tablet form. Hereafter no particular uneasiness need be felt over the announcement that a bullet lodged in a Kansas man's neck.

SENATOR BAILEY seems to be issuing a challenge to Roger Q. Mills to come out of retirement and fight him for the control of Texas. If the old man should accept, there would be a renewal of politics in this country.

It is now believed that no appeal will be taken, either by Mrs. Gould or her husband, from the decision of Justice Dowling recently granting Mrs. Gould the separation for which she sued and $36,000 a year alimony.

THE Atlanta Constitution says if its contemporaries persist in inquiring, "What is whiskey?" it may report that, in prohibition territory, like faith, it is "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things unseen."

It is now pretty well authenticated that mysterious air craft, floating at night, have been seen along the east coast of England. But since then one of our local contemporaries, in a very good way, has shown how to make a gun that will blow any airship out of the sky.

THE philosophical editor of the Bradford Era offers this nugget of advice: "Life is full of vexations for the man who has no bank account. Moral: Save your spare dollars and put them to work, on interest, in a good substantial bank. A rainy day is coming, sooner or later."

THAT Sigel murder case raises the question: How many genuinely converted Chinamen did you ever see or hear about? A lot of them like the chance to meet white women, be treated like Christians, etc., but how many care a cent about our Bible, faith or hope? To a good many this attempt to teach the "heathen Chinese" anything new seems a wasted effort, in the opinion of the Franklin News editor.

THE ladies of Pittsburgh are at work on what is to be the biggest National flag in the world. It is to be 80 feet wide and 180 feet long. The work of sewing on the stars has to be done by hand and sixty women work together, the blue field being stretched on a table in old city hall, the room being 50 by 120 feet. The flag is to be unfurled on the coming Fourth of July and is to hang from a cable suspended from the court house tower and the Frick building, and its width will nearly fill up the space between those two structures.

DISCUSSING on the subject of gout the London Telegraph says: "Of all articles of diet those most likely to bring on gout are alcoholic drinks of all kinds, although there are a few that are comparatively harmless in this respect, such as whiskey and light Rhine wines. It may be noted in passing that gout is comparatively uncommon in Scotland and the Rhine provinces, where, respectively, whisky and light beers are popularly consumed in preference to heavy malted liquors. The late Sir Alfred Garrod, who was an acknowledged authority on gout, very strongly expressed his opinion of the part played by alcoholic drinks in the production of gout in the following terms: "There is no truth in medicine better established than the fact that the use of fermented liquors is the most powerful of all the predisposing causes of gout; nay, so powerful that it may be a question whether gout would ever have been known to mankind had such beverages not been indulged in."

THE Lewiston Journal, which is an expert on Prohibition matters, discusses the Kansas brand in the following terms: "Speaking of prohibition, the Maine brand is a mild article compared with the new Kansas law which has just gone into effect. There was a report a few weeks ago that this law was so severe that it made it a crime for a man to drink his own liquor from his own bottle. It is not quite so harsh as that, but it comes near. He may drink in the privacy of his home so far as appears, but not at his club or in a railroad train or other public conveyance or public place. According to a synopsis of the law at hand, no alcoholic liquor can be sold in the state for any purpose, not even on a physician's prescription or to save your life. No public agencies are provided for supplying liquors for medicinal purposes. The old law allowed druggists to sell for such purpose, but they cannot now legally fill a prescription calling for alcoholic liquor as an ingredient. Not only is the sale of it absolutely forbidden, but the display of liquor on the shelves is made prima facie evidence of intent of unlawful sale and the keeper is subject to arrest. It is reported that the state association of druggists proposes to test this provision in the courts."

Mr. Randall having a majority of all the votes cast he was declared duly elected by the Chair. He was employed in the engineering department of the M., K. & T. railroad and had been at Belle Isle, a short distance from Oklahoma City. He missed the last car and started to walk home when he met a man who demanded his money. Instead of holding up his hands as demanded, Parshall turned and started to run and the highwayman shot him in the back, the bullet going entirely through his body. He was wounded about midnight and it was 3 o'clock the next morning before he was able to reach, by crawling, a house a short distance away from the shooting. He was given prompt assistance and sent to a hospital, where his death occurred on Thursday, June 17. The Auditor's report in the estate of Sarah Groce, late of Jenks township, was confirmed nisi.

Exceptions taken by heirs at law to the Auditor's report in the estate of Mary Ann Gloss, late of Tionesta borough, were argued by M. A. Carringer for the plaintiffs and A. C. Brown for defendants. The Court took the papers for consideration.

J. J. Brewer to use of H. L. Agnew vs. W. S. Henry. Motion for judgment granted for want of an appearance and affidavit of defense.

A. F. Hoy and Geo. W. Wright vs. B. A. McCloskey. Motion for judgment and liquidation granted for want of an appearance and affidavit of defense.

T. D. Collins et al. vs. L. S. Clough et al. Motion granted to amend plaintiffs' abstract of title, etc.

In the matter of the application and petition of twenty-nine taxpayers of Kingsley township for the appointment of two deputy constables to act as policemen in said township, and more especially in Mayburg, the Court appointed Charles Deshner and Nicholas McManagle, of Mayburg, for a period of two years.

August Turnvall and Oscar Ernest Dase, natives of Sweden, and Mike Kosinski, a native of Poland, all residents of Brookston, appeared before the Court asking for final naturalization papers. The first two were readily granted but Mr. Kosinski was refused because he could not read or write and had made no effort to inform himself as to what our system of government was. Judge Rice gave him some good advice and told him to study up and appear before the next naturalization court.

The Court dismissed the exceptions filed last year to the report of the viewers for a new road up Little Hickory creek, in Hickory township, to replace the old road washed away in the flood of July, 1908. The report of the viewers was then confirmed absolutely.

Court adjourned to meet on the fourth Monday of September at 10 o'clock a. m.
