Out Go All Our Best Wash Goods

Never mind at what prices. We'll take our loss. A little early yet for such a general slaughter of prices on the very best wash fabrics we have in stock, but we have decided to make a rapid clean-up. You can't get away from such offerings as these:

Scotch Ginghams, Mercerized Poplins, Batistes, Silk Mixtures and all fabrics originally priced 25c, 35c and 40c. Now marked 19c.

Scotch Ginghams, Side Bands, Figured Foulards and fabrics originally priced 50c and 60c, at 29c a yard.

Double width Linen Suitings, lavender, rose, Copenhagen and blue, 45 inches wide, originally priced 75c. Now marked 39c a yard.

We Have Found Children's Hosiery We Can Guarantee.

We do not limit the time of trial, we do not compel you to go or send to the makers to get satisfaction for anything wrong. Our guarantee is the fairest, though the shortest in words, of any guarantee you could possibly have.

We say: "Buy them, wear them, return them if not satisfactory."

If, for any reason, you are not entirely satisfied with the service they give, we will give you new pairs until you are satisfied you have your money's worth. We have waited several weeks to have such confidence in this hosiery as to warrant us in making the guarantee we do. We had many customers try them and give them the most strenuous service and the reports received are all in favor of the hose. The dye is thoroughly sanitary and absolutely fast, removing the necessity of wearing white foot hose. Sizes 5 to 9½, black or tan. 25c and 35c pair.

New Line of Colonial Rugs.

The gratifying success which met our earlier installments of these rugs induced us to place our order for a complete line of all sizes in the four different grades. Any size from the small bathroom to a 9x12 feet dining or living room carpet.

Four grades—Fireside, Priscilla, Martha Washington and Colonial Poster. Prices are moderate—75 cents for smaller rugs up to $10 for 9x12 feet.

For Bath Rooms, Sleeping Rooms and for Summer Cottages there is no line of rugs equal to this.

FIGHTING TO KEEP BARS UP

Pennsylvania Senators Stand Firm Against All Efforts to Permit Foreign Goods to Enter

ATTITUDE OF THE DEMOCRATS

Review of Situation in Senate Gives Encouragement to Those Who Hope For Continuance of Great Prosperity Marking Country's Growth Under Republican Administrations.

The principal feature of the long drawn out debate in the United States Senate over the tariff which it is hard for Pennsylvanians to understand, and for that matter it is equally hard for most of the West Virginia and Ohio neighbors, is that a handful of professing protectionists from the west outdo the Democrats in demanding that the tariff bars be let down so that the workmen of this country shall find themselves in the same position that tens of thousands of British workmen are—denied work because of the "Made-in-Germany" inundation of cheap goods.

Goods "Made in Germany" are ruining England.

Goods "Made in Germany" would have ruined America long ago but for the tariff.

There is one thing to be thankful for, however, and that is that the patriotic Republicans in the Senate under the leadership of Senator Aldrich have brought out in bold relief the difference between patriotic Senators and statesmen who stand for the general welfare of the whole country and the American people, and the blatant political demagogues of that body who, as the Keystone Gazette of Bellefonte tersely puts it, "are willing to sacrifice the welfare of the people and the prosperity of the nation in order to keep themselves in the limelight and exhibit their wonderful wind power, and who by so doing hope to advance their own selfish political ambitions and peculiar state interests."

Since March 15 last the stanch and loyal Republicans have been working assiduously and incessantly on the great question of a wise and effective tariff bill. They have long been familiar with the effect and results of wise tariff legislation upon the interests of all classes in the country—wage earner, farmer, manufacturer and transportation companies. To preserve the idea of protection has been one of the cardinal and fundamental principles of the Republican party since its organization over half a century ago.

The final success of the party in getting into the control of the administration of government affairs and the enforcement of its tariff principles, has given the country an unexampled degree of growth and prosperity. Whenever the policy of protection was temporarily reversed then prosperity fled, business and industry were paralyzed and financial distress and ruin, poverty, pauperism and crime dominated the land. "Yet," quoting from the Bellefonte Gazette again, "despite the splendid history of the past half century of the nation under Republican rule, we have a gang of pseudo Republicans such as La Follette, Dooliver, Cummins and Beveridge, young as senators, ignorant as national legislators, great in their capacity to emit words and wind, generally meaningless and ineffective, and who possess an overweening political ambition to run things and to play the role of obstructionists for purely selfish purposes. Men who hold up the legislation on the tariff and thus keep in suspense the rapid resumption of the manufacturing industries of the country would for their selfish purposes inaugurate a reign of soup houses, bring upon the country a paralysis of business, financial ruin and distress. But they will fail. And they and their skyrocket speeches and careers as Senators in relation to the tariff legislation, in a short time will sink into oblivion, and the place that knows them now will, ere long, know them no more forever."

"They cannot succeed because patriotic Senators and Representatives will enact a proper law that will preserve protection to the American wage earner and thus preserve the dignity and honor of American labor and citizenship and secure our own markets for the products of our mills, our manufacturing and our farms."

"All honor to the Republican Senators who are working so faithfully and patriotically for the best interests of the country; and especially do we approve and commend the faithful and effective work of Senator Penrose as one of the members of the finance committee in behalf of a proper protective tariff, as well as the support given the committee by Senator Oliver."

"When the bill is finally passed the people will proudly acclaim their hearty approval of the work well done by the Republican Senators who have stood up so staunchly and made this long contested struggle against political demagogues in order to secure the greatest good to the greatest number and the general welfare and continued prosperity of the nation."

In connection with this great debate going on in the Senate it is pertinent to inquire what has become of the Democratic policy of free trade, of free raw material, of a tariff-for-revenue-only? Gone a-glimmering! Unconsciously the Democrats of the Senate have abandoned the free-trade doctrine—the doctrine that was so deadly in its effects upon Hancock as a candidate for President—that the tariff is a local issue. Hancock said "only" a local issue. That is where he made his mistake. He had got hold of a half truth. The tariff is a local issue, and Senator Talliferro and Senator Bailey and Senator McHenry and Senator Tillman and the Senators from other states where Democrats still exist are so entirely convinced of that fact that they not only vote for but insist upon protective duties for the products of their respective localities.

Send for our new catalogue—beautifully illustrated—full in detail. Proper training for life in its broadest sense. Ideal location, 1300 feet above the sea. Perfect modern equipment. Scholarly, Christian influence. Dr. JAMES E. AMENT, Principal, Indiana, Pa.

By the whole, and as all of the states are necessary to make the tariff, and as it is impossible to discriminate and declare that Senator Taft's bill is a good and much prized piece of legislation in the United States, while denying equal protection to the holly mills of Pennsylvania against the "Made-in-Germany" stockings, the Republican party insists that the policy of protection shall be applied as generally that not only the parts but the whole of the United States shall come under its way. Here is where the modern Democrat fails. He wants to protect his own, but he has no use for protection when others are concerned.

In brief, the motto of the Democratic party as adopted by the Democrats in the Senate seems to be this: "Grab everything that you can for your own district. Down with everybody else!" And this being an apparent fact it would certainly seem to be the part of wisdom for all who wish for a continuance of the wonderful prosperity the United States have enjoyed under Republican rule, to support the Republican policies and principles as they are being contended for by those Senators who are setting under the leadership of Senator Aldrich, prominent among whom are the two Senators from the Keystone Commonwealth.
