Wheeler's Loyalty to Oil Producers.

The tariff bill is now in the hands of a conference committee of the two houses of congress where it is likely to remain for some time, perhaps weeks, as the committee has 87 schedules or changes to deal with. The one subject of most interest to this particular section is crude oil, and on that product there should be a reasonable protective duty, but whether such an amendment can be incorporated in the measure is a matter of grave doubt. When the bill was before the House the clause admitting oil free of duty was carried by a large majority, but it is a gratification to be able to say that our member, Hon. N. P. Wheeler, stood loyally with the oil producers of the country in working and voting tenaciously for a protective duty on their product. No man on earth could have done more in this direction than Mr. Wheeler did. He was one of the immortal forty-six members that voted and stood out boldly for the producers interests, and judging from the many letters and telegrams which he received endorsing his course they fully appreciate his efforts in their behalf. And there's where Nelson P. Wheeler may be found every day in the week—supporting and defending the interests of the common people against all comers, a stalwart of the stalwarts in his loyalty to the principles protection to American institutions and products.

The principal objection to the corporation income tax seems to be that it would reveal the secrets of corporation management. And is one of the very best reasons why it should become a law.

It will require a year or more, following the disappearance of Leung Ling, for the American people to recover their former liberality in the matter of foreign missions, and yet the need of missionary work was never so great.

The Texas Brewers Association offers to give $100,000 to charity if it cannot prove conclusively that more beer is sold in prohibition states than in states without prohibition. No wonder the brewers are such enthusiastic advocates of Prohibition—Oil City Blizzard. Thus is a good-looking argument knocked in the head by a single sentence.

The new Lincoln pennies coined at the United States mint in Philadelphia are ready for delivery. There are now 150,000 of the pennies in the vaults of the mint and they will be placed in circulation as soon as orders are received from Washington. The new pieces are much like the old ones, with the exception of the Indian head. In its place is a profile of Abraham Lincoln.

A new feeding stuffs law was enacted by the last legislature to take effect the first day of August next. This new law limits the amount of ground corn cobs and oat hulls that can be used in mixed feeds; prohibits the use of rice hulls and weed seeds as adulterants in concentrated commercial feeding stuffs, and so makes it possible to free the markets of Pennsylvania from undesirable feeds. The co-operation of all manufacturers of and dealers in feeding stuffs, is solicited in the effort to carry out the provisions of this new law.

"TWELVE years ago," said Senator Perkins in the debate on the tariff bill the other day, "layer raisins were worth from 10 to 15 cents a pound. We succeeded in getting a duty of 6 cents a pound placed upon them under what is known as the 'Dingley law.' We were then producing no raisins, comparatively speaking, in the United States. Today raisins are selling for 3 and 3 1/2 cents a pound in California, and we are producing enough layer raisins of the best quality to supply every person in the United States with them."

A MILL for the weaving and manufacturing of silk is soon to be one of Punxsutawney's new industries, and the Spirit is moved to say of it: "The silk mill site is now being surveyed, and work will begin immediately on that structure, which will add materially to the employing capacity of Punxsutawney's industries. In the mean time we should keep up a vigilant lookout for more. It is our business to build a city and we must fulfill our mission." There's nothing too good for old Punxy—not even a thing as fine as silk—and we're not envious of anything that goes to Bill Smith's town.

In a statement recently made by Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust, of the State agricultural department, he says in part: "Considerable agitation has recently been aroused owing to reported violations of the Oleomargarine Law in a certain section of the State. As Dairy and Food Commissioner, I desire to say that whenever and wherever violations of the Oleomargarine or other Pure Food Laws are discovered by this Bureau, or reported to it, they are prosecuted to the full extent of the law. The Oleomargarine Law, like the Liquor and other similar laws, is extremely difficult to enforce, and while violations occur now, and always have occurred, it is the purpose of this Bureau to reduce violations to a minimum and to punish to the maximum every violator of the provisions of the law. To this end I solicit information that will enable this Bureau to locate any violations of the Oleomargarine Law that may occur in any part of the State."

Kellettville.

Once more our citizens have celebrated the anniversary of our independence and with ideal weather and plenty of enthusiasm we no doubt had the time of our lives, so to speak. Beginning at an early hour the country around sent in about all its populace until at ten o'clock the streets were thronged with sight-seers. The fantastic parade, which is always a feature with us, was exceptionally fine and consisted of almost every conceivable makeup. With such notables as Geo. and lady Washington, the subjects numbered people in all walks of life down to and including his Satanic majesty. After the dispersion of the parade the people repaired to the beautiful grove where a short address was made by Rev. R. J. Montgomery. This was followed by a spread on the many tables already prepared that was most tempting to everyone present. There were twelve races of various kinds next on the program, all for prizes. At 3:30 the ball game drew a large number of fans to witness the home team defeat the fast Tyersburg team to the tune of 11 to 3. The merry-go-round, cane racks, confetti distributors and the ice cream stand all did their share towards adding to the comforts of the throng. Fireworks in the evening concluded the program as scheduled by the committee. A special train from Hastings brought down a good crowd, while the regular train did good service towards swelling the throng. A dance in Andrews' hall in the evening was well attended, there being upwards of 60 couple present. Artists Coulter, of Ridgway, and our own John H. Brennan, were on the job all day and secured good business.

On July 3d our town was well represented at Mayburg and Tyersburg. The ball team and the band were the whole thing at Tyersburg, having defeated everything they tackled.

Forest county having been on the map fifty years as a lumbering center, one would naturally form the opinion that but very little timber is left to manufacture and that of a small variety. On last Tuesday the Salmon Creek mill saw a poplar tree that cut over 7,000 feet board measure. There were several boards over 36 inches wide in the butt log.

George Zuendel has secured the contract to erect the new addition on the school building at a price of $1,950.00. The contract calls for the completion of the job by August 30th, so we are not going to be surprised any if we hear George at his labors before and after regular working hours.

John C. Lougee is keeping "bachelor's hall" during the prolonged absence of his family.

Mrs. Charles S. Andrews and daughter Emma of Collingwood, Ohio, are spending the summer with Mrs. M. Andrews. Martin W. Orn and family of Sistersville, W. Va., former Forest county citizens, are visiting relatives about town. Mr. Orn's health is somewhat impaired and it is hoped a visit among his old haunts will be the proper tonic.

D. E. Kessey, wife and three children are on a visit in Emlenton, where they have a daughter residing.

There will be a reunion of the J. G. Wolfe family at the home of S. A. Lyle this Wednesday. It is expected there will be a large number present. No doubt it will be a complete success.

As is usually the custom about this time of the year, there were several weddings since our last letter. They were: Edward Kelly and Ida Sallade; Harry M. Wilson and Lela Fitzgerald; Guy M. Hunter and Gertrude Shunk. The former couple have returned from an extended eastern trip where they visited Mr. Kelly's parents. The latter couple have gone to live in Mr. Whitehill's house until fall.

Professor F. B. Robbins is also a newly wedded man, having been married in Jamestown about two weeks ago. Upon their return they were met at the train by a lot of their friends, headed by the band, who escorted them very tenderly to their home.

O. E. Rupert is enjoying his vacation these warm days.

Misses Hattie and Nellie Card of Oil City are visiting their aunt, Mrs. E. T. Downey.

Mrs. R. Z. Gillespie and daughter Madge of Gallion, Ohio, visited H. E. Gillespie and wife over Sunday, returning home Monday.

The S. & T. railway bridge just recently repaired from damage done at the time of the flood, went down Saturday with two cars of railroad rails. Fortunately the engine did not go into the creek with the cars and no one was hurt. Mr. Pratt, being on one of the loaded cars, jumped into the dam above the bridge, but aside from getting his feet washed came out all right.

The Glorious Fourth at Mayburg.

The 4th of July was observed at Mayburg on the 3d. The day dawned bright and beautiful, and the first event was a sunrise salute which awakened the populace and forced us to realize that the glorious patriotic Fourth was once more upon us. The program for the day consisted of feasts of skill and endurance, such as hammer throwing, races, base ball, etc. Ed. Burch was an easy winner in the hammer throwing contest, while Johnnie Moore distinguished himself as a fast stepper, coming in so far in advance of the other contestants that the judges decided he had not gone over the entire course and would not reward him with the prize money.

The base ball games were Mayburg vs. Tionesta, both games being won by our team by scores of 14-11 and 12-5. The Tionesta boys were a gentlemanly set and played nice clean ball and the game passed off very quietly, without the usual wrangle and disputes. Our opponents showed they possessed skill and grit, but they were outclassed when they came up against Mayburg. Call again boys and we will always treat you right.

A. M. Patton Killed by Nitro-Glycerine Explosion.

Albert M. Patton, of Pleasantville, employed by H. C. Mapes, the torpedo manufacturer of Pleasantville, Venango county, was killed by an explosion of nitro-glycerine at the M. W. Tucker farm at Fleming hill, near West Hickory, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 30. Patton had been sent to the farm to shoot a well for the National Oil Company. He had lowered the shot into the hole and had dropped two squibs, both of which failed to set off the stuff in the abell. He had returned to the wagon to make the third squib and was tamping the fluid in the small case forming the squib when it exploded in his hands. There were several men on the lease about 100 yards away and they ran to the injured man as soon as the explosion occurred. They found his right leg practically torn off at the hip, his left leg was crushed above the knee and his abdomen was torn open and the bowels were protruding. He was alive and conscious. He looked one of the men who was trying to raise him in the face and said, "The shooting is all off now. What will my poor wife and children do?" Superintendent Hogue secured a rig, placed the injured man in it and started to drive with him to the Titusville hospital, but the injured man died when about two miles of the journey had been completed.

He was born in Hartford City, Ind., 36 years ago, and came from that place about three years ago and built the nitro-glycerine factory for Mr. Mapes and entered his employ as a shooter. He was a man of experience and a careful worker. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters, all small.

Mr. Mapes, having disposed of his interests, was about to retire from the business and this was the last shot the unfortunate man was to put in, having also determined to quit the hazardous employment. The Titusville Herald has inaugurated a movement to raise a fund for the widow and children of the victim, and is asking for dollar subscriptions. The business in which Mr. Patton was engaged made it impossible for him to secure life insurance, thus he left his family practically penniless, a condition which appeals strongly to all citizens, especially the charitably inclined.

Again fine weather has come to delight the heart of the farmer and everybody seems to be busy, but it seems that even in a busy time there is once in a while one that takes time to mind other people's business. But never mind, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay," saith the Lord. Potatoes in this vicinity seem to look good and the bugs are plentiful. Corn is very short for this time of year, but very short the season hold off for a long fall we may have a few nubbins. The hay is very poor and unless some of the meadows pick up wonderfully people in some parts will almost have to set stakes to see where they have mowed when they get to haying. The grabbing farmers will have to grab.

The F. M. quarterly meeting was held in this place last Sabbath. Rev. Fox of Titusville officiated in Elder Miller's place and while some seemed to be disappointed at not seeing the elder they got wonderful help, Saturday evening Rev. Fox preached from a peculiar text found in Judges 16:22, "Howbeit the hair of his head began to grow again after he was shaven," referring to Samson, the strong man, who had long hair. He told the people that Samson's strength did not lie in his hair, but because he obeyed God he had great strength and slew many Philistines. Samson fell in love with Delilah and revealed the secret to her, contrary to God's will, and as a result she put him to sleep and he lost his hair and his power, his eyes were put out and he was made a grind for the Philistines at the mill. But Samson repented, his hair began to grow, they forgot to shave him and his strength began to come. The lad led him to the pillars of the great house of sport and festivities and he bowed himself, tore down the pillars and killed more at his death than he had done in all his life, showing when people obeyed God they had great strength, but when they disobeyed they are shorn of their power. No doubt many people promised to obey God before the service was over. Sunday morning found a full house. Prayers were made and good singing, then bread breaking and hand shaking commenced and old grudges were forgotten. God came and filled the camp with His holy presence and souls praised the Lord. Pilgrims having a hard time were helped, strengthened and encouraged and then they had another grand sermon. But lest I weary I will hurry. A collection was taken for the elder and $16.10 or so such amount was received from a happy people. Now comes the best. God stayed with his Israel and Sabbath night there was a fine sermon and one was at the altar for pardon. Two joined the church in full. So ended a blessed quarterly meeting, with a collection for the pastor, Rev. Horner.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

When six months old the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, a well known merchant of Agnewville, Va., had an attack of cholera infantum. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was given and effected a complete cure. This remedy has proven very successful in cases of bowel complaint in children and when given according to the plain printed directions can be relied upon with perfect confidence. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

RECENT DEATHS.

ALBAUGH. Catharine A. Albaugh, wife of Wm. Albaugh, of East Hickory, was born January 8, 1840, and died July 12, 1909, aged 69 years, 6 months and 4 days.

Decased was a great sufferer from rheumatism for more than eight years. All that was possible was done for her relief but with little success, and bearing her suffering with more than common patience she gained the sympathy of all who knew her. She leaves a husband and one son to mourn her death, besides a sympathizing community. Funeral services will be held on Church Hill this, Wednesday, at eleven a. m. Revs. A. G. Crill and W. E. Davis will officiate. From suffering she has gone to be with her Saviour. The lonely husband desires to express his thanks to all the many friends for their kindness and assistance in the past. J. A. CARSON.

Margaret Ann Steinbrook, widow of the late James Carson, was born in Venango county, Pa., March 18, 1837, and died at the home of her eldest son, Duran E. Carson, Stewart Run, Harmony twp., Pa., July 5, 1909, after an illness extending over a period of nearly a year. March 17, 1908, Mrs. Carson was bereft of her husband after which she made her home with her son. She is survived by three sons, D. E., of Stewart Run, Eugene E., of Hunter Run, and Simeon R., of Harmony twp. One sister, Mrs. Frank Vernepe, preceded her to the grave, and one brother, Riley Steinbrook, died in the civil war. The funeral services were held on the 6th inst. at 2 o'clock p. m., at her son's home, and were conducted by Leonard Mervin of the Saints Church, Endeavor, Pa., of which the deceased was a member. The interment was in Mt. Collins cemetery, immediately following the services at the house, attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbors. RECK.

Jennie K. Grant, wife of William R. Reck, died at the family home in Bradford, Pa., Sunday evening, July 11, 1909, after an illness extending over several months, of stomach and heart trouble. She was born at Alliance, Ohio, Aug. 2, 1846, and about twenty-five years later she was united in marriage with Mr. Reck, who, with one son, John F., and one daughter, Grace, survives. For a number of years after their marriage they resided in Tionesta, where the deceased is kindly remembered by many friends. Leaving here the family moved to Bradford which has been their home since. Mrs. Reck was a woman of rare good qualities of mind and heart, and endeared herself to all her neighbors and acquaintances, who will cherish her memory throughout their lives. In this great affliction the stricken husband and children have the heartfelt sympathy of all their friends in this community. The funeral services will be held today at her late home, with interment in the Bradford cemetery. FITZGERALD.

Words fail to express the sincere regret with which we are forced to chronicle the death of Mary Josephine Fitzgerald, daughter of A. W. Fitzgerald, of East Liverpool, Ohio, who was born in Oil City, Pa., April 17, 1896, and died at the home of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Fitzgerald, in Tionesta, July 9, 1909. The cause of death was peritonitis, an abscess, which baffled medical skill, having formed in the region of the groin a few days previous to her death, and God in His infinite wisdom claimed her as His own at about midnight on the date mentioned above. Since a child of three years of age her home has been with her grand-parents, and throughout those years she has received the same tender care that their own daughter would have received. To them in advanced years this death brings a dark shadow and a sorrow that is hard to endure. Mary was a girl possessing marked intellectual ability, as her standing in school proves. Quick to learn she was equally fortunate in retaining the knowledge acquired. Had her life been spared she might have stood high among those who have passed out from our public school. Her mind was easily impressed with religious truths and as an evidence of the supreme faith transplanted in her from her early teachings, she was numbered among the best of her age who was a consistent member of the church in which she was now. Bowel Complaint in Children.

When six months old the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, a well known merchant of Agnewville, Va., had an attack of cholera infantum. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was given and effected a complete cure. This remedy has proven very successful in cases of bowel complaint in children and when given according to the plain printed directions can be relied upon with perfect confidence. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.
