STATE.

Justice of the Supreme Court, ROBERT VON MOSCHZISKER, of Philadelphia. Auditor General, A. E. SISSON, of Erie.

> State Treasurer, JEREMIAH A. STOBER, of Lancaster. COUNTY.

> > Associate Judge, SAMUEL AUL, Jenks Twp. District Attorney, M. A. CARRINGER, Tionesta Boro.

> > > Coroner,

THE Court of Appeals of Iowa has decided that a telephone company cannot deprive a man of service on its lines because he swears at the operators. A telephone, being a public service corporation cannot make laws of its own, but must rely upon the acts of assembly. Nevertheless, it is not good form to cuss over the telephone, and the practice ought to be discouraged, in the opinion of the religious editor of the Punxy Spirit.

THE court at White Plains, N. Y., decided against liberating Harry Thaw from the assylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, where he has been confined since his second trial for killing Stanford White ended. Not many people believe Thaw is insane now, nor that he was when he shot White, but Judge Mills evidently thought him not yet sane enough to be at large and so sends him back. One thing is sure, however, in this connection, and that is that the people are getting mighty tired of this ever lasting and interminable Thaw business, and are hoping that it will have an end some day, and that soon.

WHILE many will take issue with Justice Mills as to the insanity of Harry Thaw, the probabilities are the prevailing sentiment will be that it is no more than right the slaver of Stanford White should suffer further punishment for his crime. There is little reason to believe Thaw is insane now or that he was when he did the shooting, but to release him would seem to substantiate the popular claim that a man who has sufficient money can commit murder with impunity. Judge Mills gave a forecast of what his verdict would be when, during the investigation, he pointed out to Thaw that he was excessively active in conducting his own mally opens the State Committee case. Just as if any sane man would not do the same thing, under similar circumstances.-Oil City Blizzard.

BETTER than all the cheering assurances of financiers that prosperity is again at hand, says the New York Tribune, better than the reports of great activity in steel and iron and the optimistic indications regarding other industries, is the Government crop report. Perhaps the Government's figures are too hopeful, but they are borne out by the information of grain dealers. Big crops this year are of great importance to the country. They are necessary to that complete restoration of prosperity which now seems to be in sight. More than once in the history of panies recuperation such as is now going forward on every hand has been checked by the failure of the barvests, and a period of depression has thus been extended to several years. No such untoward circumstances is likely to intervene this year. All conditions conspire to make recovery easy and swift.

THE Oil City Blizzard blows either hot or cold, just as the fit happens to be on. Here's one of the hot blasts: "It is certainly very considerate of the chappies who, after graduating from college tennis courts and golf links, rush to the newspapers to become editors. These Lilliputian specimens of shriveled-up humanity, with their little monkey hats on lard, where he resides while in Washthe back of their billiard-ball heads, and ington. In his botel he is not exclu-cuffs on their pants; these examples of effeminatized masculinity, whose knowl- meals in the grillroom, where any one edge of the world consists of an auto ride who wishes may approach him and rebetween the college and the newspaper ceive a ready and pleasant welcome. office, and who would no doubt try to He is reserved in his manner but does pump milk from a cow by utilizing her not avoid or repulse approach. tail as a pump handle; these illustrious sons of degenerate sires, who never knew any better than to work and earn money; public affairs, of being a tireless these boys, with imaginary bulging through college-these half-baked kids, interest to Pennsylvania. His counsel question their ability to direct mortals in the ways of life, These young men, without business experience, imagine all the great institutions of the world are in- roll is called. Yet when he went to iquitous, grasping affairs, transacting the Senate he had the reputation in their business operations without heart | Philadelphia and his State of being a or conscience. Their own lack of equipment does not admit of their knowing that great concerns thrive, if they last, through broadness of mind, the confidence of those with whom they do busi- on their oratory and so contents himness, energetic industry and, above all, self with a less conspicuous, though integrity. Without these qualities, no less influential role; yet when oclasting success does not exist. The great consolation to the business organizers of this country, the captains of industry— men who work to maintain big institu-tions—is the fact that newspaper belly-ache can only destroy confidence in an institution, or in the affairs of a business man, when that institution or man is wrong. The bankers, the merchants, the railroads who watch with keen eye the business morals of a man or an institu-tion, do not watch the newspapers as to whether or not that man or organization is entitled to credit. They keep their eyes on the institution."

BUSINESS BOOM ALREADY ON.

The prediction made by Senator Boles Penrose just after the adoption of the new tariff act, to the effect that by next fall there would be in evidence a tremendous business boom is already being fulfilled. According to reports now being received by the Bureau of Manufactures, at the capital, from all over the country, the prosperity boom resulting from the passage of the tariff bill is increasing daily in strength and volume. The customs receipts show that the wave is gathering force, but the definite data of orders filled by big manufacturing concerns in every section of the country give clinching proof that the boom is not a spasmodic gasp, but a thing of backbone that will last for a long time to come.

Senator Penrose said further There is hardly an item in the tariff bill in which Pennsylvania is not interested. The great iron and steel interests, the manufacturers of silk and cotton goods, the leather and lumber trades and the hoslery manufacturers will all benefit by the law. Already we have reports, from all parts of the State, of the resumption of plants that had long been idle, and I believe that before the November election Pennsylvania will witness the greatest prosperity wave in her his-

Senator Penrose intended after the adjournment of Congress to go to the Montana forests and mountains in search of the recreation he is so richly entitled to after his arduous labors during the extra session. But instead he has decided to divide his time between Philadelphia and Atlantic City until the opening of the campaign in September. In commenting on the political situation, Senator Penrose said the reports he had received all indicate the election of the full Republican ticket in November. "There are no dissensions among the active men in the Republican organization," said he. "Reports from every quarter of the State insure a sweeping victory for the candidates on the excellent ticket nominated by the Republican State convention." Senator Penrose does not expect to take the stump this fall, but he has engagements to visit Pittsburgh and other points in the State, where he will get in touch with Republican committeemen and others, This being an "off year" he remarked that he did not look for much of a speaking campaign.

While no plans for the State campaign have as yet been definitely de termined upon, it is probable that Senator A. E. Sisson, of Erie, the nominee for Auditor General, and former Senator J. A. Stober, of Lancas ter, the candidate for State Treasurer, will accept invitations which they have received to visit different counties in the State. Judge Robert von Moschzisker the nominee for the Supreme Bench, who is spending his vacation in Nova Scotia, will take no part in the campaign. He will return to Philadelphia in time to resume his place upon the Common Pleas bench on September 6.

Col. Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican State committee, has since the adjournment of Congress been making his headquarters at Atlantic City, and from that point has opened correspondence with the chairmen of all the Republican county committee, to the end that when he forrooms in South Broad street, Philadelphia, the first week in September he will have all the details of the political situation in every section of the Commonwealth well in hand.

At Williamsport, on Wednesday August 25, there will be "ceremonies" attending the formal notification of the Democratic candidates. And that will be about all there will be to that despite the usual Democratic chatter to the effect that an "energetic campaign" is to b waged. "A student of finance and a stalwart supporter of the industrial and commercial interests of the country" is how The American Lumberman characterizes Senator Penrose. This publication is the leading exponent of the American lumber industry. Continuing, The Lumberman has this to say of Pennsylvania's senior Senator: "Physically and mentally, Senator Penrose is a remarkable man. Outside the Senate chamber, on Pennsylvania avenue, wherever he may be seen, poople turn to look at him. He is a reticent man, somewhat abstracted in his manner, yet democratic. He cares for his health by an abundance of exercise; he scorns the street cars, carriages and automobiles which save steps for the ordinary public man, and walks the miles back and forth between the capitol and the New Wil-

"Senator Penrose has the reputation in the Senate of being a student of worker on committees and in the brows, whom the old back number father study of any subject under consideraand mother struggled so hard to put tion, particularly if it is of special after being shut up in college for three or is highly valued and he is emphatifour years, upon coming therefrom never | cally a leader, yet he is not considered an orator, and day after day will pass with but one word from Senator Penrose except his 'yea' or 'nay' when the ready and convincing debator and an orator of no mean rank. "In the Senate he seems to feel that there are others who pride themselves in a way which makes the Senate, under the most oppressive summer conditions, 'sit up and take notice.'

place on a number of the most important standing committees. All his by Dunn & Fulton, committees are important and active. By virtue of his chairmanship of the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, he is a member of the great committee on public expenditures. He is too active and hard-working, at all times and under all conditions, to accept a place on ornamental or dormant committees. Senator Penrose is most likely to be the next chairman of the Senate committee on finance. He has an exceptional opportunity to prepare himself for the work. He is as industrious as a man can be, a great student always, and has familiarized himself with the schedules in the new tariff bill as few, if any, of the members, except the chairmen, have done "It is as one of the leaders in the committee on finance that Senator Pen rose during the special session per formed notable service to the indus trial and commercial interests of the country. He is a conservative and a loyal partisan, but he adds to these characteristics a knowledge of both principles and practical facts which makes him more than a partisan, prore than a part of the organization He is, because of his knowledge, experience and courage, a wise and safe

Horribly Hacked by Mower.

Fred Krauer, a farmer living a mile porth of Titusville, was most frightfully injured Friday afternoon when the team attached to a mower which he was driving became frightened, running away and throwing him in front of the cutting bar. He was dragged a distance of 20 rods, when the wheels of the machine passed over a large stone, releasing his body, but not before he had been horribly backed by the knives. His left thumb was cut off at the hand and the index finger of the left hand cut off at the middle joint. His neck and left side of the breast were horribly mangled, the wounds on the neck exposing the jugular vein. A patch of flesh, six by seven inches, was slashed from his breast and one of the pointed knife guards penetrated the chest to the lung. The muscles on the back of both his arms, from the elbows to the shoulders, were severed. He is in Titusville hospital and getting along so well that his physician expects him to recover, notwithstanding his terrible in-

RECENT DEATHS.

SHIPE. By the death on the 5th inst. of Abranam K. Shipe, Marienville lost one of its old and honored citizens. Mr. Shipe had not enjoyed good health for nearly five years past, his disease being one that puzzled the medical profession and terminated in something akin to dropsy. Through it all he was cheerful, and hopeful, and relatives and friends who ministered to him kindly and tenderly seldom heard him murmur or complain. December, 1863 Mr. Shipe was united in marriage with Miss Marietta Keller, in Northumberland county, where both were born. Mrs. Shipe died about 13 years ago. To this union was born four children, three sons, Keller, Leo and the Salvation Army in one of the cities of | Charley and one daughter, Daisy Iola two of whom survive, the older son, Keller, baving died two years ago and the daughter, a little over 13 years ago. Mr. Shipe was born Feb. 2, 1843, being therefore aged 66 years, 6 months and 3 days at the time of his death. Forty-three years ago he settled on a farm in Jenks township, and besides the avocation of farming he did blacksmithing, and was for a number of years engaged in lumbering, also merchandising. During his long residence in that community he had held about all the offices of trust in his township, and in 1902 he was elected to the office of County Commissioner for a term of three years. In politics Mr. Shipe was consistent and loyal Republican, and his devotion to the principles of his party never wayered or was called in question. He will be much missed by reighbors and friends in the community where so many years of his life were passed.

Mr. Shipe was a member of Jenks Lodge, No. 250, I. O. O. F., and of the Encampment, the former having charge of the funeral, after the religious service at the house, which were conducted by Rev. H. E. Phipps Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8th. The body was laid to rest in Marienville cemetery beside the remains

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrho Remedy Never Known to Fail.

"I have used Chamberiain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Okland, Ind. Ter. For sale by Dunn & Fulton.

—We met a poor old man today, says an exchange, who is dependent on his relatives, and they don't like the enforced relatives, and they don't like the enforced task of taking care of him. "Had I saved ten cents a day during my younger years," he said, "I would have been independent. I might have saved a dollar a day during all my working career and not stinted myself in the least," This old man's experience is worth thinking about. The trouble with American men is that they wested dimes while looking. is that they waste dimes while looking for a million dollars. At the end of life they have neither the dime nor the million dollars. More than half the men who die are buried by charity.
