THE citizen who wishes to be sure of his right to vote should see that his name is on the assessment list and that his county tax is paid in ample time to secure all the privileges of citizenship, matter attention.

VOTERS should keep in mind the fact that September 2nd will be the last day on which they can have their names registered as voters at the coming November election and October 2nd will be the last day on which they can pay a tax to qualify them for voting.

THAT Lincoln one-cent piece is making a lot of trouble. It has been discovered that it will do the work of a five-cent piece in the nickel-in-the-slot telephone boxes, and of course the corporations must devise a way to keep it from being substituted. However, it is probable that there are cities where the telephone attract them as they do the savage women monopoly would make good dividends on actual investment if the Lincoln coin were always used.

AT a monster picnic given by the business citizens of Emlenton last Wednesday James P. Whitla Esq., was perhaps the most popular speaker of all those who delivered addresses. Mr. Whitla, now one of the leading attorneys of Sharon, was formerly a citizen of Emlenton, where he spent most of his boyhood days, and his old friends gave him a wonderful ovation when he appeared on the rostrum and in response he made them a splendid

To se a real man or woman one must think for one's self, and must disregard those customs and conventions which common sense points out as useless or even worse. Such independence does not involve standing entirely aloof from one's fellow man, or in obtruding personal opinions or manners upon the world at large. It is merely necessary to learn to live one's own life in one's own way, to accept the best that the world has to offer, and reject those things which the sane and sensible mind knows are harmful or worthless,-September Physical Culture.

THE superstition that it is unlucky to start on a journey on Friday had its origin in early mythological priest-craft Freya was the name of the Saxon goddess corresponding to the Venus of the Romans, and the priests of mythology taught that Freys would be angry if any one began a journey on Friday, her festal day, and would visit some misfortune on the offender .- Punx sutawney Spirit. Strange, isn't it, that a superstition so ancient and so senseless should have as many "devotees" today as ever? And yet we have them among our otherwise common sense people.

CHICAGO sees one a week of its citizens killed by autos and five a day are injured in the same way within the city limits, Directly and indirectly, during the first seven months of this year it is estimated that five in a hundred of the deaths from accidents there were due to autos. The rest of the country is suffering from too many "joy rides" and drunken men at the steering wheel, and the sooner the right to use an auto is forbidden to the man twice convicted of fast driving the sooner we shall have a reform in that matter, is the sensible conclusion of the Franklin News,

THE Philadelphia division, No. 102, Order of Rallroad Telegraphers, has conferred an unusual honor upon State Treasurer John O Sheatz. The organization has passed a resolution "unanimously endorsing Mr. Sheatz for any elective office to which he may aspire." The resolution was introduced in a recent meet- 20th. Ask Agent or write J. C. Melening of the association by President J. J. backer, D. P. A., Erie, Pa. McLaughlin and approved by a committee composed of the president, Secretary H. O. Minnig and H. A. Ramsey. The resolution further provides that all members of the order do all they can to aid the president in aiding the state treasurer in any political way deemed advisable. When Mr. Sheatz was in the legislature he, upon numerous occasions, did favors | Fulton.

for the members of the order. The letter from Secretary Minnig, received this morning by Treasurer Sheatz, calls attention to these facts and compliments Mr. Sheatz upon the business-like way in which he has conducted his office.

A MAN named Basil Hydon, aged 85 years, has just died on a farm near Louisville, Kentucky, who lived to that extreme age without going outside of his house, and rarely outside of his own room, for 50 years. He was bitterly opposed to the election of Abraham Lincoln as President, and when he learned that Lincoln had been successful he went into his room and remained there from that day until his death. He was, no doubt, suffering from mental derangement. But the Punxy Spirit thinks the strange part of it is that a man could live to be eightyfive years old without playing golf.

ACCORDING to Professor Fredrick Stars of the University of Chicago, many modern husbands are closely related to that pride of the Missouri farmer, the jack. "The modern husband, in many instances," says Professor Starr, "looks upon married life as a joke. The way they run around, having a gay old time, is something terrible. Some of them have about as much sense of responsibility as the average jackass. I may be old-fashioned, but I believe when a man marries he ought to be glad. This thing of leaving wives at home, while the lord and master is out on a high old time, is disgraceful. The popular songs of the day show with what disrespect many husbands regard their home ties. Just think of a lot of husbands laughing at these two songs: 'I Love My Wife, But Ob, You Kid.' and 'My Wife's Gone to the Country; Hooray! Hooray!' This shows the way the modern husband regards his wife's vacation. He's glad she's away. I say down with the faithless husband. Men are getting too frivolous and inconsistent. The sanctity of the home is getting to be a thing of the past. Too many men think it is the height of en-And right now is the time to give the joyment to run around with giddy girls in their automobiles while their wives are at home attending to the babies," And then Br'er Bowen of the Oil City Blizzard proceeds to put the "cleaner" on the Professor in this artistic fashion: "While there is doubtless some ground for this censure of the bucks, it begins to look as if Professor Starr might be developing into something of a grouch himself. He is a bachelor and seems to have soured on the whole bunch of us, males and females alike, as it was only recently he referred to women as savages and barbarians, who had profited little from centuries of knowledge, science and invention. He said their intellects are deficient and that gay colors and tawdy adornment in the wilds of Africa. 'Can anyone, anywhere, actually point out a first-class schievement in literature, in art, in
