—The County Commissioners yesterday let the contract for a twenty-three foot iron span bridge in Barnett township to the Nelson-Merydith Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa. The contract price was $325.00. The bridge will span Maple Creek, on the road leading from North Pine Grove to old Redclyffe.
—Mrs. Harriet Kunaline Thomas, aged 57 years, wife of David F. Thomas, died at the family home at Diamond, Crawford county, on the 28th ult., of cancer after a year's illness. She was born in Tionesta in 1832, she being a daughter of the late James Shriver, a brother of our townsman, Z. T. Shiver. The family will be remembered by many of our older citizens.
—C. M. Arner was at Edeavor Monday adjusting a fire loss that occurred there on Saturday. Rooms in the second story of the Wheeler & Dusenbury office building are occupied by some ladies, and while they were preparing a lunch a large lace curtain became ignited and burned up in a flash, causing about $50 damage to the window casing and furniture in the room.
—Rev. Silas H. Frather, D. D., one of the best known preachers in the Erie conference of the Methodist church, died very suddenly of apoplexy at his home in Portland, N. Y., at five o'clock Monday afternoon. He is survived by his wife and one son. Also by one sister and two brothers, one of whom, John Frather, resides near Ross Run, Kingsley township, this county.
—Mrs. Robert Taggart, wife of Captain Robert Taggart, died Friday, at Tidouite, after an illness extending over a period of nearly four years. Mrs. Taggart had been a resident of Tidouite for 40 years and was well known throughout that section. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Benner, of Robinson, Ill. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon.
—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sigworth and son Herman VanClare, of Philadelphia, Pa., are spending a few weeks with relatives at Kellettville. Mr. Sigworth represents a large soap company in Camden, N. J., and spent the summer traveling through the New England states, while his family spent the time at various summer resorts in easy reach of his work. They will go south for the winter and expect to be located somewhere in Alabama.
—Excellent progress has been made in the paving work on Elm street within the past week, by the contractors, Messrs. Anderson & Putnam, who have bought all of the machinery of Chas. Ott and have been putting it to good use in their work. Mr. Putnam is right on the job, himself making a hand, and there is no time being wasted. It is believed before the week is out the block between Bridge and Walnut streets will be ready for the brick, with the concrete foundation finished up.
—In the Venango county courts Anna Osgood, administratrix of the estate of the late John R. Osgood, through her attorney has filed a bill of complaint in the case of Anna Osgood vs. Alfred Sperry, survivor and liquidating partner of the firm of J. R. Osgood & Co. The bill states that no settlement of the partnership business accounts has ever been made by the defendant, and the plaintiff prays that defendant be required to give the account. Another suit is on file between the same parties when the partnership was under the name of The Benton Lumber Company.
—Nearly fifty men were present at the meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood in the Farmers Bank hall last Tuesday evening. The speaker of the evening was Rev. H. A. Bailey, of Tionesta, a former Emlenton boy and member of the Emlenton church. He emphasized the need of power from the Holy Spirit in the lives of the members of the Brotherhood if they would accomplish the work they have undertaken both as an organization and individuals. The address was a most helpful one and was a fitting climax to one of the most enthusiastic meetings yet held by the Brotherhood.—Emlenton Herald.
—G. H. Lowe & Co. got a good producer in their No. 16 well on the McKee farm, which was finished and shot last Wednesday. They are drilling No. 17, Morrow, Carson & Co. have a small producer in their No. 2 on the Jacob Wagner farm, near the McKee field. It was finished and shot Friday. They are at work on the third well. R. M. Herman's test well on the Canfield lot, in the upper part of the Red Valley sand and was dry. Frill, Weber & Co. have a fine producer in their No. 2 on the Kelly lot, Tionesta township, which was put to pumping last week. They have another due on the same tract this week.

—Misses June Herman, Helen Smearbaugh and Blanche Pease, and Messrs. S. C. Seaton, John Ritchey and H. T. Klineviter attended the presentation of the play "The Servant in the House," in Titusville, last Wednesday night, which was admittedly the best thing produced there in recent years.
—J. D. W. Reek was in New York City last week, and had the great pleasure of witnessing the wonderful parade in connection with the Hudson-Fulton centennial, the like of which has probably never before been seen in this country. He also got a good look at Dr. Cook, the north pole discoverer, in whose honor a most inspiring demonstration was made by the thousands of people gathered to welcome the celebrated personage.
—Mrs. Ralph E. Haines leaves tomorrow noon for Los Angeles, California, after a summer pleasantly spent here with her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Thomson. After a trip through much of the west, Mr. Haines has located in Los Angeles, where he is engaged in the real estate business, and where they expect to make their future home. Their many friends will unite with us in wishing them a full measure of prosperity and happiness in their new home.
—James P. Whitla, Esq., of Sharon, and Hon. J. L. Mattox of Oil City, paid Tionesta a short visit Wednesday evening last, being accompanied by Hon. N. P. Wheeler and Gus B. Evans, whom they had visited at Endeavor. The two first named had spent the previous day in Warren county, where they met a number of old friends. Mr. Whitla expects to be a candidate for Congressional honors in the coming spring and he was doubtless taking a little look at the "lay of the land" in these parts.
—Daniel Stow Knox, the subject of this sketch, was born at Windsor, Broome county, N. Y., Nov. 8, 1831, and died at his home in Tionesta, Pa., at 4:20 o'clock a. m., October 4, 1909.
He was a son of William and Elmira (Stow) Knox, long ago deceased. Capt. Knox was born of patriotic ancestry, and it is no wonder that with the knowledge of his forefathers before him, he so valiantly defended the flag in the days of the sixties. He came of Revolutionary ancestry, for his grandfather, James Knox, born at Ashford, Conn., June 20, 1758, enlisted at Marblehead, Mass., in Capt. Samuel R. Trevett's Company, Col. Richard Gridley's Massachusetts Artillery Regiment, fought in the army of the patriots at the battle of Bunker Hill in June, 1775, when he was only twenty years of age. Subsequently he was transferred to Capt. Abijah Child's Company, 37th Regiment, Continental Infantry. He served continuously in the army till Dec. 13, 1779, when he was discharged.
Capt. Knox continued with his parents at the old home at Windsor until he was sixteen years of age, when he removed to Tionesta, Pa., and for some time clerked in the store of his uncle, Hamilton Stow, of blessed memory, and assisted him also in lumbering. Acquiring a knowledge of lumbering operations he after a time set out in business for himself in Clarion and Forest counties, until the breaking out of the war of the Rebellion, when he went to the front as the first Captain of Co. G, 83d Pennsylvania Volunteers, which he recruited. He served about two years, during which he participated in several battles, among which were Big Bethel, West Point, Yorktown, Hanover C. H., Gaines Mill, Malvern Hill, second battle of Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, and other notable battles, in one of which he was wounded severely, resigned and was honorably discharged. After his return he located at Oil City, engaging in the oil business and the manufacture of lumber for about two years, returning again to Kingsley township, this county, for a short time, and then removed to Tionesta, about 1855, embarking in the general merchandising business, at which he continued about six years. After this, about 1871, he built a saw and planing mill, manufacturing lumber, which was his principal business at Tionesta for several years.
The poet long ago said, "Man in his time plays many parts." Our subject was no exception to the rule, for his fellow-citizens, recognizing his sterling virtues, honor, capacity, sense of justice, coupled with good judgment and fairness, elected him at different times to fill most every important office that pertains to a borough. He held the office of justice of the peace for nineteen years, had also been Burgess, town councilman, school director, assessor, collector and treasurer, postmaster 1880-1893, and again continuously since 1897 to the time he left the scenes of earth, filling every office for the benefit of the people and to the satisfaction of the government. He had this characteristic—what he did, he did well. In all his business, and in his walks of life he ever evinced sterling honesty. He hated shams and loved the truth for its own sake.
Since the organization of Stow Post of the G. A. R. here in 1882, he has been a leading spirit, and in the order in the state was a burning and shining light, until prevented of late years through sickness, yet through all of it he never lost interest in the noble order based on Fraternity, Loyalty and Charity.
His home life was happy. On June 14, 1853, he married Elizabeth, daughter of Oliver and Mary O. Spence, of Clarington, Pa. She preceded him to the great beyond several years, and though he lamented the death of his companion in life deeply, yet his latter days were consoled by the love of his surviving children, and who now venerate his memory. In the last years of his life he was tenderly and faithfully nursed through many severe attacks of illness by his daughter, Mrs. Kate Green, who kept his home and ministered to his wants.
To him can be well applied the saying, "The memory of the just is blessed." Yes, blest by the warm affection of his children. He departed, too, from the scenes of life with the respect and confidence of the people he had served so well. His pathway from youth to manhood was strewn with the evergreens of self-reliance. True, his life was a struggle, but his high courage, manly endeavor, strong arm and steady heart faltered not at the appearance of difficulty, for he had a lofty purpose and before him difficulties vanished. The crowning glory of his life was perhaps the memory of his military service. It is doubtful whether a soldier ever took the oath of enlistment with more of the pure gold of loyalty, and less of the alloy of self, than Capt. Knox.
Both as a citizen and a soldier, it goes without saying, he stood high with his host of friends and acquaintances. Without making particular pretensions to any creed, he believed in and was grateful to his Creator. In short, believed in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

His children have as a priceless legacy a stainless name which as a bright splendor was never dimmed by the passing shadow of an unworthy act. His campaign is over; he sleeps near the banks of the beautiful Allegheny that he loved so well; sleeps peacefully there this autumn time, but when the balmy days of spring come again his comrades will gather the bright flowers and bedeck the grave of a loyal hero, one of the devoted sons of Pennsylvania and of the land we proudly call our own.
The deceased is survived by four children, Mrs. Wm. Smearbaugh, Mrs. Wm. H. Hunter, Mrs. J. W. Green, of Tionesta, and Mrs. John Seebeck, of Towanda, Pa. Also two half-brothers, William and Dallas Fish, of Centerville, Pa.
Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:00 o'clock at his late home, Rev. W. O. Calhoun officiating, assisted by Rev. H. A. Bailey and Rev. B. F. Feit. A large delegation of his surviving comrades attended, and the following acted as pallbearers: Wm. Lawrence, R. B. Crawford, P. S. Lindal, Samuel D. Irwin, J. B. Eden and Daniel Walters. The interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

—L. J. Catlin has resigned his position with the Pennsylvania Gas Company, and will shortly move to Ohio, where he has secured a more lucrative position.
—R. W. Whitehill left Saturday for Wenatchee, Wash., where he will be associated with the other hustling young men who went west from this place and are conducting a large department store. For the present his brother will be in charge of the store at Falls Creek.—S. M. Whitmer, superintendent of the Tionesta Tannery, has resigned his position with the Elk Tanning Company, and about the 15th of October will go to Richmond, W. Va., as the Richmond manager for the W. F. Mosser Company. This position carries with it a salary that justifies Mr. Whitmer in severing his pleasant relations with the Elk Tanning Company and his Sheffield friends. We understand that O. L. Johnson, Kellettville, will be the new superintendent of the Tionesta Tannery.—Sheffield Observer.
—James Swab, who expects soon to make a change of location, will, on Saturday, Oct. 16, at 12:30 o'clock p. m., offer a large list of personal property at public sale, on his farm at Hunter Station, three miles south of Tionesta. The list includes the following: Two cows, bay mare, 3-year-old light bay mare, well broken, 2-horse wagon, 2-seated hack, buggy, light bobsleds, team harness, plow, cultivator, 2 hogs, 50 chickens, 8 tons hay, potatoes, 150 shocks corn, skiff, Singer sewing machine, lot of household goods such as beds, furniture, stoves, carpets, and many other articles. Everything in this list goes at best bid. Mr. Swab will also offer his farm of 120 acres of land, with two houses and a good barn for sale. Don't forget the date, Saturday, Oct. 16.
—A Kansas editor says that "the head of Lincoln now appears on the new half dollars, the bust of Cleveland will be on the ten dollar certificate, and that of Grant on the fifty dollar ones. We'll get a sight of Lincoln now and then, occasionally scrape an acquaintance with Cleveland, but goodbye General Grant. God bless you."
The Durno Company.
At court house, Monday night, Oct. 18. Don't miss this treat. Reserved seats 50 cents.
Durno the sensation of thirty-one States and Canada. Is endorsed by both press and public to be the greatest comedy magician and illusionist America has ever witnessed. A jolly company of fun makers and a number of live animals, Durno carries his own special scenery.
Unlike other magicians Durno is a comedian and humorist, he uses a flow of language which is full of comedy, his voice is clear and distinct, and while listening to him one can see him produce different articles and cause them to vanish.
Carl Hermann prince of violinists with fourteen years' experience before the American public, together with constant practice and hard study, has won him the above title. Hermann plays classical and popular music, also produces from the violin sixty novelties and imitations.
