STEINHEIL ACQUITTED

Five Jurors Were Firm for Acquittal From the First.

M. Sprock, a Successful Music Composer, Was Impressed by Accused's Apparent Sincerity—Length of Jury's Deliberation Explained by Obscurity of Questions Put to Them to Answer—Belief That the Crime Was Committed by Burglars.

The members of the jury which acquitted Mme. Steinheil at Paris have of course been interviewed. M. Sprock, a successful music composer, who distinguished himself by the care with which he took notes throughout the trial, says he began the case without the slightest previous convictions about it. He was impressed by Mme. Steinheil's sincerity. He is professionally well acquainted in the theatrical world, and he became convinced that she was not acting.

Five of the jurymen were firm partisans of acquittal throughout. M. Sprock's notes show that he was especially impressed by Detective Papee's declaration that he was absolutely sure of Mme. Steinheil's innocence. He explained the length of the jury's deliberations by the obscurity of the questions they were to answer.

The first question, "Is Mme. Steinheil guilty of the voluntary homicide of her mother?" was negatived by a vote of 5 to 3, one juror not voting. The second question, "Is Mme. Steinheil guilty of voluntary homicide of her husband?" was negatived by a vote of 10 to 2. The third question, "Were these homicides premeditated?" required an appeal to the judge. It was then negatived 9 to 3.

The judge was again called on for the fourth question, "Did the second homicide precede, accompany or follow the fourth?" After being informed by the judge the jury negatived the question by a vote of 10 to 2.

The seven subsidiary questions tending to establish complicity in the crime took longer to answer. The first two, "Is it established that a voluntary homicide was committed on Mme. Japy?" and "Is Mme. Steinheil guilty of having wittingly aided in this homicide?" were each negatived by a vote of 9 to 3. The third subsidiary question, "Was Mme. Japy Mme. Steinheil's legitimate mother?" puzzled the jury, who thought it contained a trap of some sort.

Consequently the judge recalled and he explained that the code allows no extenuating circumstances in cases of parricide. The question was then ignored. The fourth question, "Is it established that a voluntary homicide was committed on M. Steinheil?" was negatived 8 to 4. The other questions, "Was there premeditation?" "Did the homicide of M. Steinheil precede, accompany or follow the voluntary homicide of Mme. Japy?" and "Is Mme. Steinheil guilty of aiding therein?" were all negatived 9 to 3.

M. Sprock believes that the crime was committed by ordinary burglars, who left Mme. Steinheil alive in order to incriminate her. Another juror confessed that he was greatly influenced by the fact that he has a daughter of about the same age as Marthe, Mme. Steinheil's daughter.

PEARY'S FIRST LECTURE

Proclaimed Himself North Pole Discoverer and Did Not Mention Cook.

Before an audience of some fifteen hundred persons, representative of official, social and scientific Washington, including members of the Taft cabinet and ambassadors and ministers of foreign nations, Commander Robert E. Peary of the civil engineer corps of the United States navy, Friday night delivered his first public lecture since his return from the polar regions. He proclaimed himself discoverer of the North Pole and did not mention the name of Dr. Frederick A. Cook.

Commander Peary lectured under the auspices of the National Geographic society, of which he and Dr. Cook are members.

Commander Peary gave a large measure of credit for the success of his expedition to the Peary Arctic club of New York, to the members of the party and the hardy Esquimaux who stuck to him loyally from start to finish.

ROOSEVELT VS. TAFT

Champ Clark, minority leader of the house of representatives, in an address before 1,000 students in University hall at Ann Arbor, Mich., said Roosevelt would be back soon in the United States running against Taft for the nomination for president. "It will be the hottest time in a Republican convention since the defeat of Grant," he declared.

Brandenburg Convicted of Kidnaping. Broughton Brandenburg, charged with enticing James Shepard Cabanne, Jr., away from his home in St. Louis, was found guilty by a jury in the criminal court and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500. It is said that he will appeal the case at once.

Kaiser and Empress to Visit England.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The Hamburger Nachrichten states that Emperor William and the empress will visit England next year. They will spend the time with King Edward at Sandringham and Windsor.

HYPNOTIZED JAILER

Professor Everton Waits in Vain For Friend to Bail Him.

Professor Arthur Everton, the hypnotist, held for manslaughter, waited in vain in the Somerset county jail at Somerville, N. J., for his friends to come from Newark with $4,000 cash bail to secure his release.

He hypnotized Keeper James P. Major of the county jail. Keeper Major had just led the doctors into the witness room in which Everton is imprisoned, and stood near the door with a bunch of keys in his hand when Everton stood motionless before him and looked him squarely in the eye for a few seconds, after which he calmly remarked: "Major, you are falling forward." Major's body stiffened and he leaned gradually forward and would have fallen face downward on the floor had not Everton caught him and supported him in his arms.

Everton next took Major in an upright position until he recovered his normal condition, when he got behind him and, making a quick pass down the keeper's spine with his hand, said in easy tones: "Major, you are falling backward."

Major's eyes closed as if in slumber, and he leaned backward until he lost his balance and was again caught by Everton, who would have experienced no difficulty in laying him on the floor and relieving him of the keys he had in his hands, after which he could have made an easy escape from the jail.

SITE FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

Donated by Mrs. Thompson of Canandaigua and She Also Furnished the Plans.

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson, whose philanthropy has done much for Williams college and the town of Canandaigua, N. Y., where she lives, has the unique distinction of having plans submitted by her own architects, Allen & Collins of Boston, adopted by the treasury department at Washington for the new public building at Canandaigua.

Mrs. Thompson, who has been the "good angel" of the Canandaigua public building, donated the site. The treasury department accepted the donation. Then Mrs. Thompson inquired whether the government officials would consider plans for the building if she submitted them, and Acting Secretary Hill decided that no statute forbids the acceptance of donations.

The plans proved to be attractive and original, having been made after suggestions submitted by Mrs. Thompson. The only obstacle was the discovery that the appropriation of $75,000 authorized by congress was not sufficient to construct a building after the plans submitted. She was not daunted by this suggestion and directed the department to proceed and build after her plans and if Uncle Sam did not relax she would see that the necessary funds were produced to complete the work.

MOB HANGED TWO MEN

Negro Suspected of Murder and White Man Accused of Killing His Wife.

A mob numbering about 10,000 persons on Friday night in Cairo, Ill., lynched Will James, the negro suspected of being the murderer of Miss Annie Peley. He was hung up in the largest public square in the city. The rope broke and hundreds of shots were poured into his body. The mob then dragged the body through the streets for a mile to the place where the murder was committed.

James had made a partial confession. The mob looked for Alexander, whom James implicated.

The murderer was caught Thursday afternoon near Karnak, Ill., and taken from the sheriff and brought to Cairo.

Later Henry Sulzer, white, a photographer, who killed his wife last July with an ax, was taken from jail and hanged to a telegraph pole and his body riddled with bullets.

FEAR OF GHOULS

A Watchman Stationed Every Night at Grave of E. H. Harriman.

Fearing ghouls may try to desecrate the grave of the late Edward H. Harriman in the graveyard of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church at Arden, a watchman has been stationed there and is on duty every night. A time clock is stationed at the Harriman grave and the watchman has to visit it every little while during the night.

Contrary to reports at the time of the funeral the Harriman grave is not blasted from solid rock. Only a portion of it is in rock, considerable soil having been removed before rock was found. The sides of the vault are laid in cement and the top sealed by a heavy chain, which was formerly used as a derrick chain at the Harriman mansion, and there is little chance for ghouls breaking in.

No Chance For Suffrage Plank.

The Earl of Crewe, lord privy seal, told a deputation of Liberal women at London that there was no chance of the government supporting a woman suffrage plank in the next election. There were, he said, sharp differences of opinion on the question among the members of the cabinet. He was convinced as the question stood now that the house of commons would defeat such a proposal by a very large majority.

FRESH FIRE IN MINE

By Order of Mine Experts Main Shaft Was Sealed Again.

Experts Believe It Will Be Several Days Before Further Effort to Reach the Entombed Miners Can Be Made. Water Supply Is Low and Tank Trains and Fire Fighting Apparatus Are Being Rushed From Neighboring Towns.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 16.—Fire has broken out afresh in the St. Paul mine and fire engines and fire fighting apparatus are being rushed here from LaSalle on a special train.

By order of the mining experts and inspectors, after a conference with G. S. Rice, chief of the field work of the United States geological survey, the main shaft was sealed again in the hope of smothering the flames sufficiently to permit of fighting the fire when the special engine arrive. The fire broke out with great intensity after the rescue workers and inspectors had thrice descended into the shaft to the bottom.

On the first two trips no sign of fire was detected near the shaft and there was little smoke. Then the fans were started in the hope of clearing the galleries that search for the bodies might proceed. Suddenly the flames were rekindled, the fire pouring out of the stables, where it started.

Inspector James Taylor and R. Y. Williams were being lowered into the shaft when they discovered the flames about 100 feet from the bottom of the shaft and towards the exit shaft. They signalled for an ascent and ordered a call for the fire department. The water power proved insufficient and within a short time the shaft was sending forth volumes of smoke and the heat became excessive.

The water supply here is low and officials of the company are ordering tank trains from nearby towns.

All hope of further exploration in the mine was abandoned and experts believe it will be several days before any further effort to reach the entombed miners can be made. Shortly after the mine was resealed the officials announced that carbonic gas or steam would be forced through the pipes to the bottom of the mine. President McDonald of the United Mine Workers said, if this was done, every man in the mine would be dead within a few minutes.

384 DEAD IN MINE

Fire That Guttled Two Shafts Has Been Extinguished.

Three hundred and eighty-four men are dead in the mine of the St. Paul Coal company at Cherry Hill, where they were trapped by fire on Saturday afternoon. All efforts to rescue have failed. Not a sign of life has been received from the imprisoned men.

The fire which gutted the two shafts has been smothered, but it is feared that the men's lives have been snuffed out by that effort to save them from being roasted alive.

Mine experts in Draeger oxygen helmets have made five trips down in the air shaft. They reached the second vein level but not one of the miners has been reached.

MRS. EDDY'S COMMAND

Obedied by First Church Scientists and Charges Dropped.

New York, Nov. 16.—Twelve hundred members of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, fortified themselves with five minutes of silent prayer in the congregational meeting before proceeding to vote on the question of removal of First Reader Virgil O. Strickler on charges preferred by all the trustees of the church except one. Ten minutes after that time the meeting was declared adjourned, the trustees' charges dropped without even a vote and the first reader was secure in his position through the unexpected intervention of Mrs. Baker G. Eddy herself.

A personal message from the leader of the church herself had been delivered to the chairman of the board of trustees by special messenger. The trustees had construed the message as a command, and when the first reader opened the meeting which had been presumed to be the crucial test of the belligerent factions that have split the First Church on the issue of Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson's orthodoxy, he knew that those who prayed already had their minds made clear to them.

Mrs. Eddy exhorted all to support the mother church. Since Mr. Strickler has been in the position of supporting the mother church against the advocates of Mrs. Stetson, she herself could read but one injunction in the twelfth hour message from their leader and in obeying they gave up the fight against Mr. Strickler.

Memorial to Late Justice Peckham.

Albany, Nov. 16.—Arrangements have been made for a memorial meeting to commemorate the life and services of the late Justice Rufus W. Peckham of the United States supreme court to be held in the assembly chamber on the evening of December 9. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the State Bar association and a special committee to be appointed by President Adelbert Moot of Buffalo, will be in charge.

WEST INDIAN HURRICANE

Loss of Life in Jamaica Known to Be 20; Banana Crop Destroyed.

Kington, Nov. 16.—The loss of life during the recent hurricane and torrential rains is now figured at about twenty. It is known that one family of ten was lost in the interior.

Communication by cable was restored today, but the land lines are still down in many directions and communication with the interior is interrupted.

In a general way it may be stated that 40 per cent of the banana crop of this year is lost, a number of vessels are ashore and the property loss to private individuals and public roads is figured at $5,000,000.

The British bark Carpathian is a total wreck at Opaca Bessa. The Norwegian bark Westland is ashore at Port Maria. Her mate was drowned when the vessel went ashore.

The wrecking steamship Premier is still working on the steamship Bradford of the United Fruit company which is ashore in a dangerous position at Port Antonio.

The family of ten referred to above as having been lost were drowned when their home was carried away during the night by flood.

CLOSE WATCH ON PALADINO'S WORK

Keller Will Come On If His Agent Can't Detect Her.

New York Nov. 16.—Eusapia Paladino was such a wreck after the seance which she gave to the newspaper men Sunday night that she had to stay in bed all day. She will probably be in shape for another seance tonight.

She will do her work this evening before Dr. Saram Ellison, who is the representative here of Harry Keller, the magician, and another physician. They will watch the actions of Paladino in order to find out if it is worth while for Keller to come from Los Angeles to look her over. Ever since Keller has been doing slight-of-hand feats he has held out a standing offer of $1,000 for any piece of necromancy which can't be explained on purely physical grounds. If Dr. Ellison and the other physician decide that Eusapia's work is beyond their powers of explanation they will telegraph Keller to come east and be present at some of the seances.

Another man who will be at the seance tonight and who is capable of picking flaws, is David P. Abbott of Omaha, who wrote a book exposing tricky clairvoyants, "Behind the Scenes with the Mediums." None of the psychologists such as Professor Muensterberg and President Stanley Hall, will be there and probably they won't attend any of Eusapia's seances until after the first of the year.

FOREIGN MISSIONARY WORK

Methodist General Committee appropriated $1,036,288.

Albany, Nov. 16.—The Methodist general missionary committee adjourned after a session lasting from Wednesday and during which $1,036,388 was appropriated for foreign missionary work. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the church known as East Baltimore Station, in Baltimore, Md. The discussion over the proposition to combine the foreign and home missionary magazines, "Worldwide Mission" and "Christian Republic" was settled by putting the matter up to the two boards with the recommendation that they devise means for cutting down expense.

STATE CANALS CLOSED

Season Was Shorter but Average Carrying Charges Were Higher.

Albany, Nov. 16.—The state canals closed at midnight last night after a shorter season by about a month than the average length owing to the need for making way for the barge canal construction work.

For the same cause there has been a marked falling off in the total tonnage carried but as an offset to this it is believed that the average carrying charges received by boatmen will figure up the best in 25 years.

Brother-in-Law of Emperor Here.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Baron Laing Kuei, son of the late Grand Secretary Jung Lu and brother-in-law of his imperial highness, the Prince Regent of China, arrived in Washington. Baron Laing is commissioned to investigate and report upon topics connected with government reform, government finances and other subjects of importance during the present period of reorganization in China.

Death of Norman M. Allen.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Former State Senator Norman M. Allen died at his home in Dayton, N. Y., nearly 81 years old. He was the son of Luther Allen and Hulda Benedict Allen. His grandfather Benedict and his mother's eldest brother were Revolutionary soldiers.

MUST REFUSE WORK

Jones & Laughlin Taking No New Orders.

Pittsburg, Nov. 16.—The Jones & Laughlin Steel company is now refusing all orders at its plants owing to the demand for its products being greatly in excess of the possible supply. Many orders have been placed for future delivery and until the company is able to catch up with its orders all new work will be refused.

Announcement was made yesterday that the company had let a contract for the erection of a wharf and ice breakers at Alliquippa to the Enterprise Contracting company of Pittsburg to cost about $25,000. The work is to be completed within 100 days and will afford facilities for extensive shipments by water.

The Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad has agreed to build a subway under its tracks at the Alliquippa station to run into the Jones & Laughlin plant.

PUBLICLY ADMITS

CHURCH LARCENY

Former Organist Released on Agreeing to Leave Ford City.

Ford City, Pa., Nov. 16.—Publicly acknowledging his guilt, agreeing to pay the court costs and to leave Ford City, John Petruska, formerly organist of Holy Trinity Slavish Roman Catholic church, charged with larceny, has been released from jail. Petruska was a leading member of the congregation.

Recently small amounts disappeared regularly from contribution boxes in the church. Evidence against Petruska is said to have been found and he was placed in the county jail for court trial. Recently his friends have been interceding for him and the church officials finally agreed to withdraw the charge with Judge Willis D. Patton's approval. Signing the following statement, Petruska was discharged:

I, the undersigned, John Petruska, having been charged with larceny, hereby acknowledge my guilt, agree to pay all court costs and all other costs of prosecution and agree that this statement be made public. I agree to leave Ford City as soon as possible, but not later than Nov. 29, 1909. Larceny having been committed in the Holy Trinity Slavish Roman Catholic church at Ford City, Pa.

GOAT TREES A COP

Rescued After Giving Signal to Brother Officers.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—Policeman Mulholland, known as the "millionaire cop," had a thrilling experience with a goat yesterday morning. While he was patrolling his beat he noticed a large gray goat lazily eating the grass in Logan Square.

The officer advanced to chase the animal away, and the next moment Mulholland felt the goat's horns against his anatomy. With a cry of pain he hastily climbed a tree and from that point blew his whistle for help. Brother policemen came to his assistance and after some difficulty made the goat a prisoner.

Three Wounded at Wedding.

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 16.—In a fight at a wedding celebration at Jamison No. 2, Sam Kovatch, aged 19, was shot in the left lung and is in a critical condition. Another foreigner was stabbed in the shoulder and another was clubbed. Eight prisoners were brought to jail here.
