Monday night was perhaps the coldest of the season. At the mouth of the creek, where the water is still, a thin sheet of ice covered the entire surface yesterday morning.

When thoughts of Christmas come to your mind, remember that Dunn & Fulton's Pharmacy is the one store which can satisfy your every want in the way of gifts. A visit will pay you.

If anybody saw the eclipse of the moon Saturday morning the fact has not been reported. Shows of this description in order to attract an audience, will have to be pulled at a more reasonable hour, free and all as they are.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

Attention is directed to the ad. of D. Padoll, O. R., Eye-sight Specialist and Refracting Optician, which appears in this issue. He expects to make regular visits to Tionesta and asks the public to keep the dates in mind.

The Excelsior Entertainers—the second attraction on the Lecture Course—will appear in the court house next Monday evening, Dec. 6. Admission 50c. A few reserve seat tickets for the course yet at $1.00, at Dunn & Fulton's.

If you are thinking of making yourself or some one else a Christmas present of a package of handsomely engraved calling cards, a box of initialed stationery or the like, now is the time to place your order. The REPUBLICAN office is the place to get them.

The second number of the lecture course will be given next Monday evening at the court house. The bill is The Excelsior Entertainers, consisting of Misses Elizabeth Woodman, Grace Smith and Clara Lynes, all artists in their line. Go and hear them.

A. V. Lammers, the well known and reliable shoe man of Oil City, is one of the REPUBLICAN's new advertisers, and attention is called to his ad. on the first page today. Don't fail to read his shoe story each week, and if he doesn't live right up to what he talks tell us about it.

The Kane Daily Republican has installed a new linotype machine and is doing good work with it. Glad to note this evidence of prosperity, and to commend Editor Godding on his enterprise and effort to give the people of the hustling mountain city the best that's to be had in the way of a newspaper.

Mrs. Lucy August, widow of the late Benjamin August, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Snyder, Titusville, Pa., Thursday, Nov. 25th, Thanksgiving day. She was aged 68 years, and is survived by several grown children, among whom is Mrs. Robert L. Hunter of Nebraska, this county.

Quarterly meeting will be held in the M. E. church at Nebraska, Friday evening and Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Dr. Platt will preach Friday evening and Sunday evening. In consequence of these meetings no preaching service will be held in the M. E. church in Tionesta Sunday evening.

Messrs. Wheeler & Dusenbury made their annual distribution of Thanksgiving turkeys last Wednesday to the families of their employees at Endeavor. The birds were of the choicest variety, numbering over one hundred and fifty, and the combined weight was considerably more than a ton. Not a family was missed.

There is much of the wisdom of a Solomon in the action of a judge out in Sacramento. He sentenced a chauffeur to ten years' imprisonment for running over and killing a man, and then suspended sentence upon the chauffeur agreeing to pay the family of the man $25 a month for ten years. This makes the punishment for the accident, or crime, of some practical benefit.

The Audit Company of New York has just issued a reference book "American Trust Companies, Their Growth and Present Wealth." The volume lists every trust company in the United States, and shows its total resources. The Oil City Trust Company ranks 239 in a list of 496, having resources of over $3,000,000.00. The total resources of the trust companies of the United States aggregate $4,600,088,800.50.

The Stranburg Music House, Oil City is offering some rare bargains in pianos and other musical instruments these days, as will be observed by their broad-gauge ad. on the fourth page of today's REPUBLICAN. Coming just at the holiday season this special sale means lots to those contemplating an investment in anything in the musical instrument line, and the wise choice buyer will not fail to take note of it. Read the ad.

The well owned by Tionesta parties on the Frank Robinson lot, up town, was drilled to the Red Valley sand, at a depth of a little over 200 feet. It was treated to a shot Monday and is showing up for a small producer. It will be put to pumping as soon as tubed. We hope the boys have struck it rich. R. M. Herman is installing a power this week on his lease on the Kelly lot, adjoining the Robinson, where he has two small producers. The stuff produced is heavy oil.

The days of the "rat" and the "f-umf" are numbered, according to Dame Rumor, General warfare against these handy accoutrements of women's headgear has been declared by most of the big department stores of Pittsburgh and January 1 has been fixed as the date for their relegation to the ash barrel. The one-piece dresses which have enjoyed more or less popularity also have been placed under the ban, and must be discarded by the maidens behind the counters of the big stores.

The last February election will be held three months from now. Since the constitutional amendments providing for the abolition of the election in February and the schedule for the extension of terms of office of men now holding places are apparently ratified by the vote of the people, the so-called spring primary and election will be done away with after those held in 1910. There will be no more standing in the shivering blasts of January at primaries and no hustling in the keen winds, snows and rains of February. All elections will be held in November and all primaries in April in Presidential years and in June in other years.

The residence of George Hillard of Sawtown, Pine Grove township, Venango county, was destroyed by fire Saturday evening, and his two sons, Roland, aged 7, and Oscar, aged 5, were badly burned. Oscar has inhaled the flame and cannot recover. In a room adjoining that in which the little boys slept a young woman overturned a kerosene lamp. The fluid ignited. She was badly frightened and forgetful of the boys rushed down stairs screaming. The little lads, opening their door, were driven back by the flames. They got into bed and covered themselves with the bed clothing. Rescuers with a ladder took them from the window when the clothes had nearly been burned from the bed. The loss upon the property will be $2,000 and there is no insurance. Since the foregoing was put in type Oscar, the 5-year-old lad, died from his burns, and the physicians give little hope of the recovery of Roland, his 7-year-old brother.

Remember the bazaar at Bovard's Fall Friday evening of this week. Should you be casting about for an appropriate Christmas gift the problem can be easily solved at this bazaar. The most exquisite fancy work, embroidered handkerchiefs, linen, aprons, and a hundred other useful articles will be on sale, and you are sure to get just what you are looking for at prices far below the cost of making. Oysters, sandwiches and coffee will be served during the evening. Don't miss it.

The larger first-class postoffices being swamped with mail in the holiday season the department has issued an order to the effect that all post cards—that is picture and season cards—that are sent through the mail in such large numbers during the last few weeks are to be separated from the regular first-class mail, which include letters and government post cards, so that the legitimate first-class and other mail will be handled as it comes. This means that picture cards are laid to one side until the Christmas rush is over, so it will be well if anyone wishes to say anything of importance that a legitimate post card be used or better still a letter be written, which will obviate many complaints of broken engagements on account of the "card that never came" on time.

A fine doe deer, knowing that the majesty of the law protected her from all harm from the man behind the gun, came into town last Saturday afternoon and for nearly an hour was quietly grazing in the Robinson fields back of the borough school building. The animal, which was a very fine specimen of its kind, was first seen by Henry Grubbs on the German Hill road, about three o'clock, where it had just jumped the fence, coming from the Haslet pasture field. About four o'clock it was seen in the Robinson field by Mrs. Aronson and Fred Glasner, the lady mistaking it for a calf until she saw it jump nimbly over the fence. The animal disappeared in the woods back of the fields. The lack of snow the last few days of the open season has been very favorable to the deer and we hear of only one being killed in this vicinity.

Among the very handsome and interesting publications that have reached this office of late is a special edition of the Franklin Repository, published at the historic and bustling little city of Chambersburg, Pa. This edition is in the form of a magazine, covering 32 pages, and exploits in a very entertaining manner the industrial status of the wide-awake city which it represents. Chambersburg is one of Pennsylvania's oldest towns, and yet one of its most progressive and beautiful, and this effort upon the part of the enterprising editor and proprietor of the Repository, Hon. A. Nevin Pomeroy, to give the outside world a peep into the inner life of the beautiful city is most praiseworthy, and no doubt greatly appreciated by its large constituency, as it should be. As a work of the printer's art this magazine takes rank among the very first.

The hunting season for all game, excepting rabbits and bear, closed yesterday, and well it did, for the slaughter has been fierce and merciless, especially as to pheasants. The "hogging" has not been carried on by our local sports, be it said to their credit, but by the hordes of foreign hunters who invaded the land much as a band of Modoc Indians might have done in western frontier days. It is estimated that not less than a thousand pheasants were carried away from here and at Hickory by outside hunters, hailing mostly from Pittsburg and vicinity. No amount of legislative enactment could afford protection to game under such onslaughts, which mean nothing short of complete extermination. We have an idea that many of these "game hogs" will find the ominous "no trespassing" signs staring them in the face when they return at another season to begin their swinish work.

The Northwestern Anti-Tuberculosis League has charge of the distributing of the Red Cross Stamps, in Tionesta, in fact, in the several counties, in which they are working. The Northwestern Anti-Tuberculosis League was organized in Bradford recently, to fight consumption in Northwestern Pennsylvania, and are under the wing of the Pennsylvania and National Societies. A large number of members have already been received from McKean County, and it is the intention to canvass each of the Northwestern counties for memberships at $5 a year. At the Sanatorium, at Belle Camp are already seven patients and it is hoped that by next fall thirty or forty patients will be cared for. Patients are taken at $5 a week, which is about one-half the cost of keeping. The difference it is hoped will be made up by memberships and donations. This institution offers a place for consumptives to take cure without going so far from home, and at a small cost to the citizen who joins. Anyone anxious to become identified can send $5 to Mrs. Kate L. Berry, Treasurer, Bradford, Pa., or write to M. F. Melvin, for information.

Some of the "keep off" notices posted by land owners throughout this section are decidedly interesting, both as works of art and as specimens of remarkable orthographical contortions. And many of them are just about as useful, for the purpose intended, as they are ornamental. The posting of these notices is largely in the nature of bluff, on the part of the farmers, but some of them, who think they mean business, in reality know little about it. The law now in force in this state defines trespass as entering upon another person's posted premises, and imposes a penalty of $10 for so doing. However, it is necessary for the notice to contain the words "This is private property" and also giving warning against trespass under penalty of law. Damage is not necessary as a basis for action for trespass, but there are some peculiar conditions at present which are unfavorable to the farmer. Among these are the following: To do this he must know the name of the trespasser. He does not receive any part of the $10 fine if the suit is successful, but if he should lose he must pay costs. The fine goes to the school fund instead of the Game Commission.—Oil City Blizzard.

If you are suffering from biliousness, constipation, indigestion, chronic headache, invest one cent in a postal card, send to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, with your name and address plainly on the back, and they will forward you a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. In a recent letter received from Mrs. Phoebe Woodford Parker, of San Diego, Cal., we are pleased to learn that she, and her also her father, known and loved by us all as "Uncle" John Woodford, are prospering and in the best of health. They regularly read every word of the REPUBLICAN and always receive many reminders of old friends through its columns, and always send kindest regards to all in every letter to their Forest county friends. "Uncle" John is past eighty-one but often walks a distance of two miles to his church services, in preference to riding, and then insists that he is not tired. His friends all unite in wishing him many more happy years, and although he cannot make us glad by his presence, we are glad because of all the good he has left with us.

Gill; piano duet, Mrs. J. D. Davis, Miss Marie Smearbaugh; piano solo, Miss Olive Lanson; piano solo, Miss Edith Hopkins; vocal solo, Mrs. Cora Feit. Samuel D. Irwin, Esq., gave a very interesting verbal sketch of the life of Paganini, whom he declared was the greatest violinist the world has ever known or ever would know. Mrs. Sharpe, the President, gracefully expressed her thanks to the club for its floral gift to her, a bouquet of beautiful chrysanthemums. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Kelly.

Fourteen Horses Cremated.

Marienville experienced a veritable holocaust of horses at an early hour last Wednesday morning, when the livery barn occupied by John Oudett was consumed by fire. The proprietor was sleeping in the office of the barn and about 3 o'clock was awakened by something resembling an explosion. On arising he found the whole inside of the building a seething mass of flame, and he was obliged to make his escape through the office window. He gave the alarm, but before help arrived the possibility of saving anything was passed, and his entire livery outfit, including eleven horses owned by himself, and three transients, were consumed, only a few robes and the office safe being taken out of the building. Mr. Oudett kept a large number of rigs, harness, and other equipment, some of them nearly new.

County Commissioner McClellan owned one of the horses, and the two other transient rigs were owned by strangers who had put them up at the barn for the night.

The barn was a large one, very substantially built, and estimated to be worth $3,000. It was owned by John Hoover, and there was no insurance on it.

Mr. Oudett estimates his loss at $5,000. He carried $4,500 insurance.

John Baughman's barn, which stood next the large one, took fire and was also burned to the ground. His loss is $500, with no insurance.

The grist mill of Sigworth & Keating was damaged to the extent of $150, fully covered by insurance.

STILL ANOTHER.

At 2 o'clock Thursday morning, at almost the same hour as the Oudett fire, the dwelling of H. E. Groce, located on South Forest street, Marienville, was discovered to be on fire, and before assistance could reach the place the flames had so far progressed as to leave no chance of saving it.

With the exception of a few articles of furniture on the first floor, nothing was saved. The loss on building and furniture is estimated at about $1,500, on which was an insurance of $500. The origin of this fire is also a mystery, none of the family having occupied it for a week prior to its burning, and no fire was left in the house when the family left it, and the conflagration savors strongly of incendiarism. Mr. Groce was at the Kane hospital undergoing treatment and had been for several weeks, while Mrs. Groce and child were visiting friends out of town. The loss falls heavily upon Mr. Groce, who is convalescing from a long illness.
