No Paper Next Week.

In accordance with our annual custom and to give the printer man a little breathing spell from the weekly grind, no paper will be issued from this office next week. The office will be open all week, however, for the transaction of business. Our next issue will be on Jan. 5th, 1910. And to all we extend the felicitations of the season, a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

—We understand Mrs. A. W. Cook has sent up from Pittsburg a large quantity of toys to be divided among the poor children of Brookville.—Brookville Democrat.

—A Christmas entertainment will be given in Mt. Zion Lutheran church, German Hill, tomorrow, Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

—When thoughts of Christmas come to your mind, remember that Dunn & Fulton's Pharmacy is the one store which can satisfy your every want in the way of gifts. A visit will pay you.

—For the second time this season the river at this point is closed with ice. This is rather an unusual caper for the old Allegheny to perform before the holiday season, and is worthy of note in weather annals.

—Many who have tried the plan say that a year's subscription to the REPUBLICAN to an absent friend makes the most acceptable present they have yet found. Have you a friend from home whom you would like to remember in this way?

—Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending December 22, 1909: Mr. George Thompson, Mr. A. J. Bogart, D. S. Knox, deceased, P. M. M. A. MORGAN, Assistant.

—The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

—An epidemic of something resembling the grippe has had hold of most of the children and a few of the grown folk at Newtown Mills during the past week. While none are seriously ill, it is quite annoying, coming as it does in the midst of the Christmas rush.

—Ira J. Himes, whose arrest for assault and battery on oath of Mrs. Elizabeth Swyers, was mentioned last week, was given a hearing Wednesday afternoon before Judge C. A. Randall, after which his bail was placed at $500. Not being able to procure the amount he was returned to jail.

—Thousands of letters are going to the Dead Letter Office because the purchaser of Red Cross stamps act as if that kind of a stamp were good, when sending a letter, and no other need. Of course, this bothers Uncle Sam some, but if he will be patient people will learn to remember the regular postage.

—All the railroads operating east from Pittsburg on January 1 will grant special excursion rates, the same as they did several years ago. When the legislatures of the different states fixed a lower passenger rate the railroads announced that all low rates including those for ministers and associations would be abolished.

—The sale of the Red Cross stamps continues to be large. Everybody is urged to spend their pennies for the stamps and to assist the fight against consumption. Many of the mercantile firms have ordered a few hundred of the stamps, to use on their correspondence. Buy them, and ask your friends to do likewise.

—George R. Dawson has purchased the Gerow sawmill at the mouth of Hunter run. Mr. Dawson owns a number of tracts of hardwood timber in Harmony township and has quite a force of men and teams at work bringing the timber to this mill to be sawed into lumber. He will also make a specialty of veneer logs, piling, switch and cross ties.

—Tuesday morning of last week six men employed by the Pratt Lumber Co., on Still Run, near Warren, caught a big black bear helping himself to a breakfast from a pork barrel in their cook tent. They killed him with axes, but before bruin gave up his life nearly every dish in the tent was broken and several of the men were badly bruised and scratched by the enraged animal.

—Rev. George B. Robinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Parker, Pa., died suddenly last Saturday morning, of neuralgia of the heart. He was well known throughout this section, having been pastor of the Presbyterian churches in Brookville and Clarion, before going to Parker eight years ago. His wife was 63 years. He is survived by his wife and three daughters.

—Last Saturday night Charles Carnahan went off the walk in lower town, badly smashing his right leg at the ankle joint. He was alone and painfully climbed to the home of W. S. Sweeney where his hurts were dressed, and he was subsequently taken home. He will be housed up for a long time and will play a great luck if he comes out with just a fairly good ankle joint.—Tidoute News.

—The Red Cross stamps, which are on sale at the various stores in this place, are sold for one cent apiece, the proceeds from the sale to be used in the fight against consumption. In this district the money will be used by the Northwestern Anti-Tuberculosis League for the support of the sanatorium they are now operating. It already has nine patients. Every stamp you buy helps in this fight. It is the hope of those interested that the sale will be very large.

—Herman Peterson, track foreman of sub-division 22, in Supervisor Hilliard's division of the Pennsylvania railroad, which is part of the Allegheny division, has been awarded the prize of $50 for maintaining the best track in Mr. Hilliard's division for the year ending October 21st. There are seven supervisors on the Allegheny division and a number of foremen under each. The inspection is made in a special car, equipped with mechanical devices which indicate the condition of the roadbed—the uniform evenness, right grade, etc. The appearance of the tracks, as a whole and their surroundings, are also taken into consideration in awarding the prizes. The inspection committee consists of the division and assistant engineer, the supervisors and the road foremen. Great rivalry exists among the track foremen and the inspection is an incentive to them to each try to outdo the other.

—The teachers of rooms No. 1, 2 and 3 of the Tionesta schools, Misses Pease, Osmond and Herman provided handsomely decorated Christmas trees for their scholars at the close of school for the holiday vacation, Friday afternoon, not the least enjoyable feature of the occasion being the fact that the real Santa Claus appeared on the scene, visiting each of the rooms and distributing a treat. The pupils of No. 1 gave a short program of songs and recitations.

—Word has been received in Clarion of the marriage of Miss Jennie Eminger, of Tylersburg, who formerly lived in Clarion for some time, and was well known to many people, and Mr. Fred Knupp, of Duhring, Forest county, Pa. The wedding took place at Jamestown, N. Y., last Wednesday, Dec. 8, 1909. Mr. and Mrs. Knupp will make their home in Duhring and will begin housekeeping at once. The Clarion friends of the bride wish them abundant happiness and prosperity.—Clarion Democrat.

—The Oil City Trust Company annually remembers its patrons and friends with a Christmas gift. We have received a copy of a book sent out this year, which makes a souvenir that will be read and appreciated. It is "Colonel Crockett's Co-Operative Christmas," a true story of how Colonel Austin Crockett Waco, Tex., rented Madison Square Garden in New York and invited in all the lonely people of that great city on Christmas eve. It is well worth reading, a good story well told. It is prettily bound and with advertisements.

—It was 55 years ago that C. E. White put his name at the head of the Tidoute News. Commenting on the anniversary he says: "In that time he has seen the babes of yesterday develop into the fathers and mothers of the now. He has seen the young grow middle aged; the middle aged old and into grandfathers (we're there) and grandmothers; and the old lay down life's burdens and welcome eternal rest. Has chronicled joy, sorrow, failures, calamities, successes, marriages, births, deaths, week by week, until The News has become a history of Tidoute that is invaluable."

—Dr. W. J. McKnight, the historian, in the Brookville Republican of last week, gives an account of how the various townships of Jefferson county acquired their names. The following concerning Barnett township, which is separated from this county by the Clarion River, may be of interest to our readers: "Barnett.—Named for the Patriarch, Joseph Barnett. Organized in 1833, and was taken from Ross. Barnett originally contained Jenks and Tionesta townships and all that part of Jefferson county lying north of the Clarion river. In 1838 the two above-mentioned townships were organized out of it. Population in 1860, 303."

—Did you ever pass a hat in a small town for the relief of an afflicted family? You go to the merchants and they pungle up well. The leading property owners residents in the town will generally come through. The farmer in with a load of produce will chuck in a heavy plunker or two. The banks and the clerks in the railroad station, if there is one, will take pity on a woman in distress. But there are two parties that the writer has never seen pitch a cent into a hat for any cause of local human misery. One is the department store catalogue and the other is the empty lot. Both stand ready to milk the energy and industry of the town, but neither helps make it, or help it in the least.

—Monday evening Paul Amann's overcoat was stolen from the rack in the roller rink, and no trace could be found of the person who took it. This morning Paul's father, who works for Schelhammer & Son, went to the Revere Hotel to do some repair work. In passing through the office he glanced into the coat room and saw his son's coat hanging there. In an excited tone he asked: "Where is the man who left that coat here?" The man, who registered there Monday evening as Fred Howe, of Youngsville, was in the office at the time and when he heard the inquiry he darted through the door and started on the run up the street with Mr. Amann after him. The Chief of Police was notified and assisted in the chase, but Howe made good his escape.—Warren Mirror, 14th.

—Scarlet fever in virulent form has broken out among the children of some of the foreign residents of Brookston, this county, and three deaths occurred within a few days of the time the children became ill. A two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sadiak died Saturday. The second death occurred Sunday, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hudjak being the victim. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ackard lost their two-year-old son Willie on Monday. A trained nurse was secured from the Warren hospital for the Ackard child and on Monday evening the nurse was reported to have also contracted the fever. No other cases had been reported among the children. A rigid quarantine has been established on the infected houses and it is hoped to hold the disease in check.

—Rev. Roger Charnock, Ph.D., pastor of the Episcopal churches at this place and Indiana, was yesterday ordained to the priesthood of the Episcopal church of the Calvary Episcopal church, of Pittsburg. Rev. Perry, of Bradford, was his presenter. Rev. Charnock was one of a class of five yesterday ordained by Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead. Three of the class were formerly ministers in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Charnock being one of those. It was the largest class ever passed to the priesthood in the history of the Pittsburgh diocese. Rev. Charnock, with his wife, arrived home from Pittsburg this morning.—Punxsutawney Spirit, 18th.

—A short session of argument court was held Monday with President Judge W. E. Rice and Associate F. X. Kraitler and P. C. Hill in attendance. S. D. Irwin was appointed artist and Wm. Smearbaugh and Joseph M. Morgan viewers to change the road in Tionesta township, beginning at the watering trough at the foot of Noble hill, on Forest creek, running back of Chas. Bush's house and connecting with the new road now being built around the Oldtown flats. James D. Davis was appointed auditor to examine the accounts of the various court officers. A rule was granted on a petition to open the judgment in the case of Wm. Fogle vs. R. P. Bender. H. M. Foreman was appointed guardian of Wm. F. and Paul Sigworth, of Baltimore, who are beneficiaries under the will of the late Capt. D. S. Knox, of Tionesta.

STOLEN PAPERS RECOVERED.

Leon Watson Recovers Papers Stolen at Kellettsville, Sept. 19th.—Found By Three Boys—Other News.
W. Leon Watson met with a very happy surprise Sunday by having his lost papers that were taken at the time the railroad station was broken into and the S. & T. railroad's and Mr. Watson's safes were burglarized last September, returned to him. On Sunday two of Fred Graham's boys and Joe Forbes, all boys about 13 years old, were playfully tracking rabbits on the A. L. Weller farm, when one of the little bunnies ran into a small sewer to elude his pursuers. When the boys came up and saw the little fellow was "in a hole," they secured a pole and on making exploration of the cavity the weapon struck some metallic substance and upon fishing out the object they were surprised to find it was the safety box of safe. The iron band encircling the top had been opened by some heavy sledge and the contents were visible. It was only the work of a minute to learn that the papers and valuable notes were the private property of Mr. Watson. The boys were not long in delivering the valuable package to its owner, who upon looking over the notes was surprised to learn that there seemed to be more papers in the package than he thought he really owned. The notes were O. K. and had been working overtime drawing interest that was almost prohibitive by our state laws. It is now believed that the burglars when they left town went down the railroad tracks as far as Harry Watson's automobile garage, where the fumes being too much for them they crossed the creek on the foot bridge and when a safe distance away they examined the contents of their find and placed what they did not want where it was discovered as above narrated.

The new steam skidder was hauled to the scene of operations at Hastings last week and with no preventing providence the machine will be ready to operate by the coming Thursday. The derrick has been adjusted and wires are placed, so but a very short time will see the first skidder of this kind in Forest county at work. To operate a skidder like this one requires seven men and the usual work accomplished in 10 hours is 40 thousand feet. First before the machine is put in place to skid, a loader has made each side of the track for a distance of 100 feet clear of all logs, so a place is ready to haul up the trees just as they were cut down, minus the bark, which was removed in the proper season. A derrick is anchored 1500 feet from the skidder and any timber in this distance is hauled up to the track, where it can be cut into the proper lengths and loaded by one of the American log loaders, of which this company has three. When the land is stripped of timber along the line, a new location is secured and so on until the forests are denuded of their timber. The working of this machine is being watched with much interest by the company and employees alike.

The largest 16 foot log that has found its way into the new mill was delivered one day last week. The log was of hemlock and scaled 1900 feet with a Dusenbury rule. This is the same tree or the largest part of it that was reported in one of the local papers last week as cutting 1900 feet.

Miss Kate Guenther was compelled to close her school at Brookston on Friday for an indefinite period, owing to an epidemic of scarlet fever having broken out among the foreign colony which resides at that place. Up until Saturday two deaths had occurred. The last one dying Saturday had been in attendance at school the previous Thursday. Miss Guenther, after thoroughly going through the first degree of a complete disinfection, came to Kellettsville on the evening train Saturday.

Jack Swartz returned home Saturday after spending a few days in attendance at the meeting of the National base ball association in New York. Jack reports having received several very flattering offers from other clubs to join them this coming season but he remains true to his first love and will cover the initial sack for our own team.

Kribbs & Ray had their new roadster out Sunday with King Burdo, for the first time. Your correspondent was an eye witness to the speed shown by this pair and we think when you hear a honk, honk behind you you had better leave a clear track and take to the tail timber.

The Kellettsville Concert Band gave an oyster supper in Andrews' hall, Saturday evening. Ice cream, cake and coffee were also served, as well as some very fine music.
