Did you ever see anything like it? -All members of the W. R. C. are requested to be present at the regular meeting, Feb. 23 as there is business of importance. By order of the President. -The roof on the back porch at the home of James Canfield, on Vine street, went down Sunday afternoon under the weight of snow but the damage was slight. -The contract for the erection of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Brookville, which will be built this summer, has been awarded to Kenyon and Hart, of Clearfield, at $53,462. -Rev. J. G. Glander of Sherman, N. Y., will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. church in Nebraska and Tionesta next Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present and listen to this talented speaker. -Licenses were granted in court at Brookville last week to 39 hotels in Jefferson county; also two wholesalers and four breweries. There were no new applications, the licenses granted being renewals. -M. M. Shepard, of Oil City, was a visitor in Tionesta Friday and made arrangements whereby anyone wanting upholstering, etc., done can leave orders at Haslet's Furniture Store. See his ad. in this issue. -We are told meat is higher because we eat so much of it. And shoe manufacturers say shoes are high because people eat so little beef, and consequently beef hides are scarce and higher. These stories don't agree. -Rural Valley is the center of a movement to be known as the Civic Federation, having as one of its aims the abolishment of treating in barrooms. The Armstrong county court will be asked to make a rule against this practice. The non-treating law is regarded by many as the best solution of drunkenness.

-P. J. Hare, one of the best known hotel proprietors in the state, and the owner of the Hotel Bellevue, at Oil City, died at that place Saturday from Bright's disease. He leaves a widow and family of six grown children. -The Choral Society of the Presbyterian church met with Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Bailey at the manse, Tuesday evening of last week, and decided to present an Old Folks' Concert in the near future, the music for which has been ordered. -Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung trouble, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerously sounding cough which indicates congested lungs. Sold by Dunn & Fulton. -One of our exchanges advises its readers to not put salt on cement sidewalks to remove the ice, as the chemical action of the salt has a ruinous effect on concrete. We don't know whether it's true or not, but we pass the tip on for what it's worth. -Rev. Dr. C. W. Foulke, one of the most widely known ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church in Western Pennsylvania, died Jan. 14 at his house in New Castle, aged 71 years. He was the father of Rev. Roscoe L. Foulke, formerly stationed at West Hickory. -Eden Lodge has issued invitations to the Odd fellow lodges of Tionesta and Grand Valley for a banquet and exemplification of the work for Wednesday night, the 26th inst. Tidouste News. About twenty members of Tionesta Lodge, No. 399, will go to Tidouste this afternoon. -We still have a good supply of the government garden seeds at this office which we will be glad to give out to all grown persons who care to call for them. We will not give them to children for the reason that last year the "kids" took the seeds out and scattered them about the streets or used them to play with. -The ladies of the Presbyterian church will collect the newspapers, magazines, old books and rubbers, Saturday, January 29th. Newspapers should be tied in flat bundles, books in bundles with covers removed, magazines in bundles, wire staples not removed. Please be prompt and have them ready for the collectors. -The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give a chicken supper in the basement of the new Presbyterian Church, Friday evening, Feb. 4th, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. Please remember the date and be on hand early for a good supper. Prices, 35 cents for adults, and 25 cents for children under 12 years. -At a meeting of the stockholders of the Redbank Telephone Company, held in Brookville Tuesday of last week, the following officers and directors were elected: President, E. A. Hamilton; vice president, C. E. Carner; general manager, J. A. Byerly; directors, H. H. Harp, C. G. Ballers, J. K. Campbell, H. T. Baker, J. G. Maze, Andrew Wolf, J. F. Moore. The yearly rental was placed at $6.00. -Alfred Spetz, of Duhring, a supervisor of the T. V. Ry., was accidentally struck on the head by a sledge wielded by one of his men Wednesday morning, and his skull was fractured. He was brought to the office of Dr. Cass, and later taken to the hospital at Warren. The accident happened while the men were working on a bridge. Mr. Spetz is expected to recover. -Sheffield Observer. -A kitchen and dining room shower will be held in the dining room of the new Presbyterian church next Friday evening, Jan. 28, at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the congregation are asked to contribute something toward the furnishing of the new kitchen. Mrs. Wenk, president of the Ladies Aid society, has a list of the articles needed, which can be seen by those who desire to contribute. -Mrs. George Horton and sons Byron B. and Harry H. Horton, of Sheffield, have notified the school board of that town that they propose to present to Sheffield free of cost a modern high school building, plans for which are now in preparation. The building is to be as good or better than any high school building in this section, will accommodate 200 pupils, and is to be erected as a memorial to George Horton, deceased. -Brier J. B. Borland, of the Franklin News, was an easy winner Saturday in the contest for the Republican nomination for Mayor of the city of Franklin, his vote being 551 to 517 for Leroy G. Miller, son of Gen. Chas. Miller. Mr. Borland knew the needs of his city from a to iZZard and ought to win as easily in February. The Democrats and Prohibitionists have fused with Hon. Robert F. Glenn as their candidate. Here's hoping that brother Jim can knock that combination galley west. -The average, healthy child of ten or twelve should be able to eat of pure candy the equivalent in weight of two or three lumps of sugar after his mid-day meal. This, however, should not be given him unless other proper foods, in sufficient quantity, are eaten, and should never be allowed between meals. Butter-taffy and molasses-candy, made at home of pure materials, are especially to be recommended, and may be considered valuable articles of food. -Jean Williams, M. D., in Woman's Home Companion for February. -Just listen to this: There was consternation today at the Scranton poultry show when it was discovered that an egg laid by the $12,000 prize winning Orpington hen "Lady Washington" had been stolen from the coop in which she is kept. It had been laid only a short time before. P. O. Megargee, the owner of the hen, has offered a large reward for the return of the egg and the police are searching for the thief. A special policeman guards the hen and it is believed that several people laid a plot to steal the egg and that they crowded around the coop so that the man who took it could not be seen by the watchman. -The new Free Methodist church on East Bridge street is practically completed and will be occupied next Sunday for all the regular services of the church. It is not the intention to dedicate the structure at this time but that ceremony will take place some time in May, when a general quarterly meeting for the Oil City district will be held here. The new church is a handsome and commodious one, built of red brick veneer, 32x45 feet in dimensions, with a vestibule 8x9 feet, and a basement for the furnace. The cost will be about $2,500.00. We expect to have a cut and description of the building to be published together with a history of the society at the time of the dedication. -Medical men, alarmed by the many fatal cases of pneumonia occurring at present, are sending out warnings it would be well to heed if one would avoid this dangerous disease. First in the cautions given is the importance of keeping the system in good condition, ready to repel disease germs; to beware of over-eating and under-sleeping; to keep the feet warm and dry, and to avoid drafts and sudden changes of temperature, and to apply remedies promptly should symptoms of cold appear. These are the "pouces of prevention" that may save "pounds of cure." -After reading the stories of big loads of logs, Edward DeWoody, of Golintz, stocker for Collins, Darrah & Co., of Nebraska, started out last Thursday to bring in a big load and incidentally smash the record. With one of his teams driven by Bert Nichols a trail of logs was brought in from the hill toward Fox creek, a distance of about two miles, which contained fifteen hemlock logs-ten 40-foot logs and five 36-foot logs. The monster load was scaled by Frank Staab and measured up 12,347 feet. And the man who beats that record will be going some. There is considerable danger to both driver and team in handling such a large trail of logs but the feat was accomplished without a mishap. -That the stories of the present severe winter weather causing the death of pheasants and other game birds in the woods are not idle dreams was amply proved last week by C. F. Yall, foreman on the Homestead Oil Co. lease, on the headwaters of Jamieson run, who found five dead pheasants right after the thaw the first of the week. The birds were sitting on the ground and had evidently been smothered in the snow and starved to death, as they were very poor. As is well known in times of deep snow the pheasants will dive under the snow to roost at night and it is presumed that the birds were imprisoned in the wet snow that fell on the Thursday night previous and smothered. They were found by Mr. Yall in traveling about a mile from well to well. Mr. Fleming, the manager for the company, states that during the last few winters the men on this lease put out over twenty bushels of buckwheat to feed the pheasants about the lease and the birds would come in for it like chickens. Preparations for the Farley-Wheeler Nuptials. The Washington, D. C., society correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch of last Sunday makes the following interesting observations on the approaching marriage of Miss Rachel Wheeler and Mr. Joseph Allen Farley: Ever so many things are going on for Miss Rachel Wheeler, whose marriage is to take place next Saturday. In the long string of things already announced for Miss Wheeler are the luncheon which the Misses Libbey and Mrs. A. A. Hoeling are to give. Mrs. Carl Joerisson is to have a tea for the church rehearsal on Friday and in the meantime a lot of doings are on for the entertainment of the list of house guests who are to arrive with the incoming week. The wedding itself is to be a very handsomely arranged event. The old New York Avenue church, which has always been the church of the "Presbyterian Presidents," is to be the scene of the event, which will be followed by a large wedding reception and dinner at the Willard, where the Wheelers have a suite of apartments this season. Pink and white is to dominate in the decorations and as the gowns are all "Callow models," everybody is willing to vouch beforehand for the beauty of the ceremony. Miss Wheeler will have for her matron of honor her cousin, Mrs. John Egbert Wheeler of Portland, Ore., while her maid of honor will be Miss Eleanor Wheeler of Portville, N. Y., another cousin. The maids will include Miss Eleanor Cannon of Boston and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Emily Farley of Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Farley's best man will be Charles Morse of Rochester, and the ushers will include William Wheeler of Buffalo, N. Y., a cousin of the bride; Freeman Allen, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Wheeler's three brothers, Nelson P. Wheeler, Jr., William Reginald Wheeler and Alexander Royal Wheeler. Representative Wheeler will give his daughter away and the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe will officiate. Among the large house party that will be entertained during the week will be Mrs. Morse, Charles Morse, Mrs. Allen and Miss Allen, all of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wheeler, Miss Eleanor Wheeler and Miss Lila C. Wheeler of Portville, N. Y.; Mr. James Marks of Tidouste, Pa.; Mr. Alton Warden of Endeavor, Pa.; Miss L. T. Edwards and Miss Marsh Rees of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Fuhlhart of Endeavor, Pa.; the Misses Skinner of Westover, N. Y.; the Misses Cannon of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler of Buffalo, N. Y. The wedding dinner is to be served in the red dining-room of the Willard, and the guests are to be received in the yellow room adjoining. Mr. and Mrs. Farley are to sail within a week for a two month's wedding trip, and much of their time will be passed in Italy. Miss Wheeler, who is the only daughter of Representative and Mrs. Nelson P. Wheeler, is one of the best liked girls in town. Amiable and sweet tempered, jolly and friendly, she has had much attention. She is an Ogunt alumna, has traveled much both on this and the other side of the water, and is pretty generally well equipped for any position she may have to fill. Mr. Farley is an alumnus of Yale, and with his father owned and supervised the manufacturing plant for which the town of Rochester is famous. STATE OF OHIO CITY, OF TIONESTA, ss. All the students of the college were taking an enforced vacation owing to high water flooding the basement of the building and making it impossible to hold the regular sessions. -Miss Mertie Eschbaugh, who spent the past nineteen months at Battle Creek, Michigan, arrived home Friday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary VanCamp. She is much improved in health. H. C. Eschbaugh, of Brookville, a son was also a guest at Mrs. VanCamp's a few days the last of the week. -Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lindel and Frank Lindel and family are preparing to move to Sherman, N. Y., this week, where next Tuesday they will take charge of the farm of Rev. W. O. Calhoun for a period of five years. We are sorry to lose these good citizens but wish them happiness and prosperity in their new home. -A souvenir card from J. D. W. Reek at St. Petersburg, Fla., shows a map of the city and vicinity. He says the weather is fine. "Mercury stands 79 in the day time and 59 in the evening. Oranges on sale for 25c per 100, grape fruit 40c per 100." Send some of that good weather up here right away. We need it in our business. -J. N. Gerow, of this place, is seriously ill at his farm at Grand Valley, Pa., where he went the last of the week, having sustained a stroke of paralysis on Sunday. He is aged about 62 years. His sons, G. E. and John Gerow are with him. G. E. Gerow returned home Tuesday evening and reports his father somewhat improved. His entire right side is affected. -Mrs. Jennie E. Agnew attended the January meeting of Tidouste Chapter, D. A. R., at the home of Mrs. Julia Jones, in Tidouste, last Wednesday. The meeting was largely attended and was a very enjoyable event. At this meeting Mrs. Agnew, with her two daughters, Misses Christine and Edna Agnew, became members of the Chapter, joining on the record of Mrs. Agnew's great grandfather, Lieut. Neal McKay, who served in the Revolutionary war. -Friday evening Misses Janet Jamieson, Margaret Haslet, Glenna Weaver, Eva Hunter, May Lanson, Marie Mesly, Fern Dunn, Florence Maxwell, Frances Grove, Ruth Foreman, Mildred Thompson and Grace Monroe entertained sixteen of the young people of Endeavor, who came in a sleigh load, and about twenty of the young men of Tionesta, at the home of Miss Fern Dunn. The leading amusements were music, singing and puzzles. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present. RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS WANTED. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one doesn't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by Dunn & Fulton.

A Terrible Snow Storm. The worst snow storm in recent years swept over western Pennsylvania last Saturday. The storm really began with a wet snow Friday morning which turned to rain and again to snow shortly after midnight Saturday morning. All day the country was in the grasp of a howling blizzard which kept up far into the night and when the storm finally subsided measurements indicated that from 16 to 18 inches of snow had fallen on Saturday alone. The high winds caused huge drifts and nearly every country road was practically blocked. Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitants has there been such a severe storm or so much of a snowfall in one day. National Transit gaugers out from Oil City, who have taken accurate measurements with instruments, report 27 inches of snow on the level. Train schedules were badly disarranged on all railroads in the western end of the state, except the River division of the P. R. R., which seemed to escape the big drifts and had all of its trains on time. The B. & O. was completely snowed in, at least from Kane to Foxburg, from Friday night until Tuesday, when the snow plow went down the road and back. The S. & T. trains were laid out Monday by the breaking down of the snow plow in the Nebraska yards. The heavy snow broke down the telephone wires in all directions, and with the exception of one Forest Telephone wire to Nebraska and Marienville, Tionesta was completely cut off from the outside world. It will take weeks to repair the damage. The Kellettsville overland mail did not get through from Friday until Tuesday, when John Cunningham was eight hours in making the trip of 15 miles. He says the roads were never so badly drifted as now. The Tylersburg mail failed to get through on Monday, but was about on time Tuesday. Rural route carrier S. C. Johnston could not get through Saturday and Monday, but covered his route Tuesday, many of the drifted roads being shoveled out. Altogether the storm will not soon be forgotten in this section. Many Ice Gorges in Tionesta Creek. The ice in the Allegheny river broke at this point last Wednesday morning and after gorging for a short time below town, moved on without doing any damage. The river is now clear for many miles above. We learn of very little damage along the river. Jack Brown's boat house, "The Fishermen's Home," broke away from its moorings at Thompson's eddy, but was landed safe and sound on the shore ice three miles below. The Forest Barge Co., of West Hickory, had the hull intended for the steamboat "Nellie Hudson" tied up in the ice at East Sandy, a few miles below Franklin, but saved it apparently without damage by means of a large number of river lines. The boat was left high up on the shore ice. Tionesta creek is filled with dangerous gorges from Nebraska to Sheffield, and train crews on the Sheffield & Tionesta railway have been having a strenuous time in getting their trains through during the past week. The ice started Tuesday night on the upper end of the creek, but there did not seem to be enough water behind the heavy ice to force its way through. There is a small gorge just above the Nebraska dam and a large one extending from Joshua Thompson's to Devil Hollow. Between Kellettsville and Sheffield the creek is reported to be gorged in three or four places. Wednesday morning the ice passed out of the creek from as far up as the Nebraska dam. As usual the ice got over the banks of the creek on the Oldtown flats, completely blocking the old public road. Beginning near the Oldtown school house Supervisor Henry Sibbe soon opened a passage way around the ice to the new road, which was not completed last fall, but it makes a pretty fair road. The ice in the Clarion river went out Tuesday night. Lumbermen who were caught with flat boats in the ice escaped with comparatively slight losses. Bell Bros., of Millstone, had 50 boats, partially loaded with lumber and pit posts. Two of these were lost. The firm considers that they escaped with light losses, as they expected to lose many more of the boats. W. A. Crossman, at Maple creek, had 20 boats in the ice but saved all of them. A. R. Braden also had a number of boats at Clarington, but all were saved. We did not learn how the lumbermen below those points fared in the break-up. Nominations for February Election. Following are the nominations made in some of the townships of the county for the February election: TIONESTA BOROUGH.
