 —Young man, you had better go to school while you now have an opportunity, and thus secure an education that will enable you to command a little more than common wages when you grow up to manhood. It is the fellows that play "hooky" in their boyhood who will grow the most about hard times and work for a dollar a day. Go to school there to learn and not for the purpose of getting a degree.

—Miss Mary Crawford, aged 50 years, was fatally injured Sunday afternoon while attending Sunday school at the First Baptist church at Franklin. Her head was terribly crushed beneath a drop door and she died Monday afternoon.
 —Jacob L. Klinefelter, of Church Hill, Hickory township, lost his best team horse Monday night. The horse had been sick for two weeks and nothing could be done to save its life. It was valued at $250 and the loss is one which Mr. Klinefelter can ill afford to sustain.
 —Alfred Westerville, of this place, who is working at West Hickory, Forest County, sent the editor of the Daily Record a picture post card this forenoon bearing this message: "7:15 Saturday morning, Feb. 19, 21 degrees below zero at West Hickory."—Ridgway Advocate.
 —The Lock Haven State Normal School continues to offer the best educational advantages for the training of teachers. The opening of the spring term, April 4th, is a good time to enter. The teachers of this important Normal School have no difficulty in securing schools because of their admirable professional training. Address for illustrated catalogue, The Principal.
 —The snow blockade on the B. & O. railroad has been partially broken and on Monday passenger trains were run on regular schedule between Foxburg and Leeper. If the weather remains as mild as at present it is expected to have the road open to Kane before the end of the week. A resident of Tylersburg, who gave us these facts, says they have plenty to eat now.
 —The Tylersburg mail carrier could not get to Tionesta Monday and Tuesday on account of the soft condition of the roads. John Cunningham got here Monday with the Kellettville mail but has not yet attempted the return trip. Rural routes carrier Chas. Johnston could not cover his route Monday and Tuesday. It extremely dangerous to put a horse out on the road.

 —From a private letter received by a friend here, we learn that Mrs. G. F. Watson, who went to Lamson, Alabama, January 8th, with her husband, daughter and grandson, is ill and in a hospital at Selma, Alabama. The letter does not state the nature of her illness. The information was also given that Master Lewis Feit had entirely recovered from an attack of scarlet fever.
 —A fire was started Wednesday in the retort building of the Forest Chemical Company plant at Barnes, and for a time the plant was in danger of being destroyed. The fire engine of the tanning company was taken down by a T. V. Ry. engine and did good service in putting out the fire. The loss is estimated at about $900 and is covered by insurance.—Sheffield Observer.
 —The dime social given by the Christian Endeavor society in the basement of the new Presbyterian church last Friday evening was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The net proceeds were $38.45, over $30 of which came from those who had earned dollars for the society. Refreshments were served. The Ladies' Aid Society at their social last night realized $52.90.
 —Two freight trains on the P. R. R. came together Monday afternoon for a slight head-on collision, at the lower end of the Tionesta passing siding, with no more damage than smashing the cow catchers of the two engines. The south bound train was backing into the siding and did not get into the clear when the north bound train came around the bend and ran into the open switch.
 —Weezy Zuck, of Tionesta township, while driving from his home on the E. E. Patterson farm to the home of his mother for a load of hay, last Friday forenoon, crippled one of his team horses so badly that he was obliged to shoot the animal. The horse stepped from the beaten track into the deep snow and fell. The weight of the sled came onto the horse, breaking its right hind leg. The horse was a very good one and the loss is a heavy one to Mr. Zuck.

Owing to its fine location and excellent sanitation, epidemics are unknown. The spring term beginning April 4th is an excellent time to enter. Write for its handsome catalogue.
 —A properly ventilated house is essential to good health, and proper ventilation means windows open at top and bottom, so that the air in all the rooms and halls is stirred and changed at least once a day. There should always be a window open in the bedroom summer and winter. Begin with a few inches at a time, if you are not used to it, but by all means have some pure air in the room at night. Night air is purer than day air because there is less dust in it, and during or after a rain the air is purer because it has been washed. We need sunshine in our rooms, all we can get of it, and especially in the rooms that are used by old people, invalids and children. It is the best and cheapest tonic in the world, and one of the best disinfectants. No disease germ can live long on exposure to direct sunlight. When you add plenty of good water, good soap, elbow grease and fresh air to your sunlight, you have a cleanliness that cannot be beaten anywhere, although chemical disinfectants are sometimes necessary.—"The Household Interest," in The Ladies' World for March.

—The publication in numerous exchanges of an item stating that the sale of tobacco was prohibited by law to persons under 21 years of age has caused a lot of dealers to wonder where they were at. The item is not correct. The Act of July 10, 1901, prohibits the sale or gift of tobacco, in any form, to any person under 16 years of age, under penalty of $100 fine or 30 days in jail, or both. The Act of March 16, 1905, prohibits the sale or gift of cigarettes or cigarette paper to any person under 21 years of age, under penalty of not more than $500 or less than $100 fine.
 —"A charming hat from the Maison Lewis shows in its shape another of the spring notions," says Marie Doubles in the Woman's Home Companion for March. "This is the sharp angle, which, as in this case, sometimes takes the form of a peak in a flaring brim, sometimes that of a dip in a broad brim with high, sharply upturned sides. This graceful hat is a symphony in tones. Of natural straw color, the under brim gives a harmonizing note of brown. The crown is draped with dull gold tissue that is so fashionable this year, and the significant touch is given by the large yellow rose."
 —G. W. Osgood's weather report for February is an interesting document and should be preserved for future reference. The month came in cold, 5° above zero, and went out warm and rainy. Total rainfall, 1 1/2 inches, as follows: 9th, 1/2 inch; 10th, 1/2 inch; 21st, 1/2 inch; 27th, 1/2 inch; 28th, 1/2 inch. Total snowfall, 3 1/2 inches, as follows: 2d, 2 inches; 5th, 1/2 inch; 6th, 1/2 inch; 9th, 1/2 inch; 10th, 1/2 inch; 11th, 5 inches; 12th, 5 inches; 13th, 1 1/2 inches; 14th, 1/2 inch; 15th, 2 inches; 17th, 8 inches; 18th, 4 inches; 22d, 1 inch; 23d, 1/2 inch. The 28th was the warmest day, 46° in the shade; the 19th was the coldest day, clear and 16° to 20° below zero. There were seven zero mornings during the month. The river closed at Tionesta on the 18th, for the third time this winter, and the ice went out on the 28th. In February, 1909, the total rainfall was 6 1/2 inches, total snowfall, 11 inches. For the benefit of those in other localities who have been boasting about an immense snowfall of 75 inches for the winter, we submit the following figures from Mr. Osgood's report: November, 7 inches; December, 1909, 24 1/2 inches; January, 50 inches; February, 1910, 3 1/2 inches; total snowfall, 114 inches.
Dwelling House Burned.
 The dwelling house of James Albaugh, located on his farm on Albaugh Hill, in Hickory township, was totally destroyed by a fire which broke out about ten o'clock last Friday morning, Feb. 23th. The flames are supposed to have originated on the roof, catching from a stove-pipe, the building having no chimney. When discovered the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the house and it was reduced to ashes in a short time. Mr. Albaugh's loss is total, as but very few of the household goods could be saved. There was no insurance on the property and the loss which is estimated at $1,000 to $1,200, falls very heavily upon Mr. Albaugh. He and his aged wife are now making their home with their son Forest Albaugh, who resides near their former home.

Ice Gorges Cause Trouble.
 After the all day and night rain of Sunday, the ice started in the Allegheny river shortly after five o'clock Monday morning, it being the third break-up of the winter. The ice gorged in the bend below town and in a short time had backed the water over part of the flats in town. The cellars of many houses were flooded and those who were caught unawares lost some produce and canned goods. Harry Potter's house was flooded and he had two good sized pigs drowned at the little barn. Mrs. Mary Giening's house was also flooded. Fred Shifford had nine chickens drowned at his home up town. The gorge did not hold for more than an hour and the water receded as quickly as it came. A big gorge formed above the mouth of Tionesta creek at the same time and remained till eleven o'clock Monday night. The slash bridge and a part of the old Lawrence & Smearbaugh dam went out with the ice. Wm. Lawrence's suspension foot bridge at the mouth of the creek was badly damaged, about a hundred feet of the flooring being torn out. Fred Reib's farm up the creek was under water and he lost a lot of buckwheat, oats, corn, and chop feed which he had stored in his barn, also some canned goods and produce in his cellar. He had to hustle to save his horses from the barn. His loss will amount to nearly $100.
 Farther on up Tionesta creek conditions were very alarming to many residents, particularly at Kellettville, where the ice was still holding late last night and the lowlands in town were under water. The trouble began early Tuesday morning when the ice moved a short distance above town and then stopped. The office and residence building of Dr. Harry Davis, which stands on the bank of the creek, was moved from its foundation and quite badly damaged. It will take $200 to repair his damage. All his furniture had been removed. All the industries of the place were compelled to suspend operations. About twenty of the householders on the low ground abandoned their homes and took to higher ground, but were returning to their homes last night, the waters having receded somewhat. An attempt was made Tuesday afternoon to dynamite the ice, but without success. The ice is very heavy, in some places being nearly two feet thick. To add to their other troubles one of the gas lines is broken and many are without gas. The S. & T. railroad has not had a through train since Saturday and it may be several days yet before the road will be open and safe for traffic. On the branch railroad up Salmon creek three or four bridges were carried away. Tionesta creek is clear of ice from the mouth to the Nebraska dam, but there are big gorges at Devil Hollow, Fork Run, Buck Mills, Fools Creek, and at Hastings. The last three are above Kellettville and the residents of that town are awaiting the breaking of these gorges with fear and trembling, especially if the break occurs before the ice lets go at Kellettville. At Mayburg Monday the families of Frank Burrows and Charles Deshar were chased from their homes by backwater.
 A message from Kellettville this morning says the ice started Tuesday night about 11 o'clock, but lodged again about a mile below town, backing up the water and leaving it about the same depth as formerly in the flat portion of the town. The S. & T. railroad started a train out this morning and will try to open the road.

A lot of you men are twenty years behind the times in clothes-buying; you don't know what's going on; you're out of date. If you did all your business as you buy clothes, you wouldn't last a year.
Many Men
 Will not buy ready-made clothes; they think good fit, good fabrics, good tailoring are not to be had, ready-made. You may feel that way yourself. If you can afford to pay the good tailor anywhere from $35 to $50 for a Suit or an Overcoat, do it. That's a form of luxury you may feel entitled to. But if you pay less than these prices to the ordinary tailor, you'll be money and satisfaction ahead to wear
