Call for Republican State Convention. HEADQUARTERS, REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 16, 1910. To the Republican Electors of Pennsylvania: I am directed by the Republican State Committee to announce that the Republicans, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in convention at the Majestic Theatre in the City of Harrisburg, on Wednesday, June 22, 1910, at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

As interesting political rumor float in Harrisburg last week was that ex-Congressman Charles W. Stone, of Warren would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. Mr. Stone was formerly Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of the Commonwealth. He was an aspirant for the nomination for Governor eight years ago.

According to an item in the Pittsburg Dispatch, Mercer county may have a candidate for Governor at the next contest for that office. The item says: Believing that Major Alexander McDowell is being groomed for Governor of Pennsylvania to succeed Edwin S. Stuart, a well known politician who claims to "be on the inside" is willing to wager money on the outcome of the gubernatorial contest.

BECAUSE Congressman Wheeler called upon Mr. Stibley in Washington after the latter had been operated upon at the hospital, and because he subsequently visited him at his office in Franklin, some persons have been talking about the probability of withdrawal of one or the other of the gentlemen from the Congressional contest.

RECENT DEATHS.

HALL. Rev. Hiram G. Hall, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Brookville, died last Thursday morning at eleven o'clock. He was stricken with typhoid fever about three weeks ago and in his overworked condition was not able to endure the disease. He had served some of the largest churches in the conference, among them Franklin, Grace church at Oil City, Brookville, and was superintendent of Jamestown District 1901-1903. As a preacher and brother, a strong executive and general worker he was considered one of the leading men in Erie conference.

WEBER. Joseph R. Weber died at his home in Tylersburg, Pa., at 9 o'clock a. m., Sunday, April 17, 1910, of hemorrhages of the stomach, after a short illness. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weber, who conducted a hotel at that place for many years. Practically all of his life had been spent there. He was a general, whole-souled man and had many friends, who will sincerely regret his untimely death. He was aged 43 years and by occupation was a drifter. Mr. Weber is survived by his wife, who was Miss Nora Butler, and one daughter, Miss Fannie. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. M. B. Riley. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

POWER. John Conrad Dower died at his home in Marienville, at 10:30 a. m., Monday, April 18, 1910, of ailments incident to old age, after an illness of about a year. Mr. Dower was aged 81 years and 28 days. He was born in Germany and came to America when he was thirteen years of age. He had resided in various parts of the country, but for the past seventeen years had lived in Marienville, where he bore the respect and esteem of all as a good citizen. Previous to that time he lived at State Line, N. Y. His wife, who was Miss Clara Sigworth, died two years ago. He is survived by three sons and one daughter, as follows: W. F. Dower, of Chipmunk, N. Y.; J. E. Dower, of Olean, N. Y.; John H. Dower, of Bruin, Pa.; and Mrs. T. J. Reyner, of Marienville.

LYONS. Hiram Kingsley Lyons was born near Franklin, Pa., and died April 13, 1910, at the home of Milton Tucker, who lives near the Fogle Farm, Harmony township, aged seventy years and two months. For the greater part of the time for the past twenty years he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Tucker. On April second he suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never recovered, yet was conscious to the last. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted in Co. G, 83rd Reg., Pa. Vol., and was a brave and true defender of the flag of his country. He is survived by his two brothers, Washington, of West Hickory, and John, of Pleasantville; also two children, Herman, of Rocky Grove, Pa., and Mrs. Anna McGraw of Hartstown, Pa. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. O. Calthoun at the home, after which the body was taken to Plumer for burial.

STAFFORD. Mrs. Isabella Dawson Stafford, of Ripley, N. Y., died suddenly in Jamestown, N. Y., Thursday evening, April 7, 1910, aged 67 years. Mrs. Stafford was the daughter of the late James and Elizabeth Dawson, and was born on the old Dawson homestead, at Stewart Run, Harmony township, this county, where she was reared to womanhood. She was twice married, her first husband being John Beatty, of Stewart Run, long since deceased. Her second marriage was to A. E. Stafford, of Westfield, N. Y., who died in June, 1909. They removed to Ripley in 1896, where they had since made their home. Mrs. Stafford had been in good health on the day of her death but had been shopping with the relatives with whom she was visiting, and about nine o'clock in the evening was suddenly stricken, expiring in a few minutes, presumably from heart trouble. She is survived by one brother, John A. Dawson, of Collinswood, N. J., and one sister, Mrs. Nancy Watts, of Jamaica, N. Y. The funeral was held at her late home at Ripley, Monday, April 11th, at 3 p. m., conducted by Rev. George S. Switzer.

JOHNSTON. Stephen Criswell Johnston, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of this section, died at his home in Tionesta, at 7:15 a. m., Sunday, April 17, 1910, of liver trouble, after an illness of two months. For a number of years he had not been in robust health but was always bright and cheerful, making a brave fight against adversity, as becometh a good soldier. He was conscious to the last moment and conversed with those of his family who were enabled to be with him at the end, which came peacefully. From an autobiography written by his own hand a short time before his illness, we gather these facts of his life: He was born near Calvary Junction, Butler county, Pa., Feb. 28, 1834, where he was reared to young manhood, his parents being John and Anna (Crawford) Johnston. Came to Tionesta in 1850 and worked in the lumber woods, taking up the trade of millwrighting. At the age of twenty he went to Maple county, Iowa, and also lived in Bloomfield, Davis county, where he learned the trade of a carpenter. He returned to Forest county in 1859, locating in the lumber woods in Hickory township, where he was employed on the operations of J. V. and T. D. Collins, and Joseph Green. He also lived in Oil City and Siverly. While there he built the first bulk-head oil boat used for the purpose of boating oil out of Oil Creek. On Aug. 23, 1862, he enlisted in the service of his country for the term of three years or during the war. He was a member of Co. H, 83d Pa. Vol. Inf., which was later, on account of being reduced by death and sickness, consolidated with three other companies into Co. B. Mr. Johnston was soon promoted to 2d Sergeant of Co. H, and participated in every battle fought by the Army of the Potomac until the war closed. He was honorably discharged June 20, 1865. His brother, James, was also a member of Co. H. Another brother, Wm. B., a member of the 188th Pa. Regt., was killed at Drury Bluffs. After the close of the war Mr. Johnston returned to Tionesta and except for a few years spent near King City, McPherson county, Kansas, and in Butler county, Pa., had been a resident of this county ever since. On Oct. 16, 1906, he was appointed R. F. D. mail carrier out of Tionesta, which position he held at the time of his death. He was a consistent and faithful member of the Presbyterian church, a member of the U. V. L., and of Capt. Geo. Stow Post, No. 274, G. A. R., being a past commander and its present quartermaster. He had also been elected to various township offices of trust. He was married three times. His first marriage was on March 18, 1861, to Almira Stroup, who died March 15, 1882. In August, 1866, he was married to Janet C. Grubbs, who died in Kansas in 1872. In 1875 he was united in marriage with Elizabeth Hepler, who survives him, with these children: Homer C., of Pittsburg, Johnston, of Pittsburg; Mrs. S. T. Hood, of McKeesport; Mrs. George Henshaw, Harvey W. and Charles M. Johnston, of Tionesta. Two children born of the second marriage also survive, Mrs. George Grove, of Titusville, and Mrs. Charles Wright, of Newton, Ill. He is also survived by two brothers and two sisters, as follows: James Johnston, of Tionesta; Joseph Johnston, of Mars, Pa.; Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. James Pinkerton, of Jeannette, Pa. The funeral was held Tuesday at 4 p. m., in the Presbyterian church, the services being conducted by Rev. H. A. Bailey, who was assisted by Revs. W. O. Calthoun, E. L. Montoe and B. F. Feit. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

When Merkle failed to touch second, in the memorable game between Chicago and New York in 1908, it was Johnny Evers who called the umpire's attention to the blunder that cost the Giants a championship. This was characteristic of the Chicago second baseman. He is conceded to be one of the greatest tacticians of the game. Nobody knows more about inside baseball. In collaboration with Hugh Fullerton, Mr. Evers has just put this knowledge into a remarkable book, called, appropriately enough, "Touching Second." The serial rights have been purchased by the Philadelphia North American, and "Touching Second" will appear in The North American prior to its publication in book form. Seldom have instruction and entertainment been so cleverly combined as in this work. The diamond star who wants to play the game better, the youngster who wants to learn from the ground up, the fan who seeks to improve his knowledge of baseball, and wants a thousand questions answered, while at the same time reveling in hundreds of entertaining stories of diamond heroes, can all get what they want in this important contribution to baseball literature. The history of the game, baseball law, personality of the players, how the various positions should be played, stories of notable games, explanations of the rules and a host of other themes are treated. The first installment will appear in The North American of April 24, and thereafter it will be a regular Sunday feature. Order your North American from your newsdealer now.
