Such Beautiful Hats

Selling at Lowered Prices.

$10, $12.50, $15, $18 and $20 hats now $7.50, $9.50, $12, $14 and $16.

Not so many of them as there was when we first advertised them, but there still remains a handsome assortment.

The highest class hats we have had this season will be found now among those we are selling at such radically reduced prices. Bear in mind, please, every one of our early patterns are included.

100 Trimmed Hats for Children,
25 and 50 Cents.

Two lots, one at 25c and the other at 50c. All ready for the youngsters to put on and wear. If we were to tell you that these prices asked do not represent one-fourth their worth, you'd hardly believe it, would you? Yet it's a fact. A big lot from a large wholesaler happened to come our way at a ridiculously low price. That's why you get such a chance at them.

Another Remarkable Ribbon Sale.

Many of you will remember the Ribbon Sale we gave a few weeks ago. Wide sash ribbons worth 75c were sold at 39c. But the trouble was there was not near enough to go around. Many of our friends did not get here soon enough and were disappointed. This sale we mention this morning is fully as attractive as the other was. There are two numbers—one at 25c and the other at 39c.

The 25c lot—White, Pink and Light Blue Taffeta, with embossed figures, very dainty and pretty widths, 4 to 5 inches. The 39c lot—White, Pink and Light Blue Sash Widths, very handsome and of excellent quality.

Both of these lots are from Smith & Kautman, Spring Street and Broadway, New York City, makers of only the finest grades of ribbon.

The Stone of Infamy.

In many Italian cities there formerly existed what was called "pietra d'infamia," or a stone of infamy for the punishment of bankrupts. In Venice one stands near the Church of St. Mark, and in Verona and Florence they are near the old markets. On a day in carnival week the old time custom was to have all traders who had become bankrupt in the preceding twelve months led to the stone, and one by one each stood on its center to hear the reading of a report of his business failure and to endure the reproaches heaped on him by his creditors. At the end of a certain time each bankrupt was partly undressed, and three officers took hold of his shoulders and three others of his knees and, raising him as high as they could, humped him on the stone deliberately twelve times, "in honor of the twelve apostles," the creditors crowing like cocks while the humping proceeded.

The Only Difference.

Clorinda was as black as night and of heroic proportions, but in every possible way she copied her slender young mistress, for whom she had a great admiration. "I like to look jes' as much like you as I can," she often said, "'cause you looks jes' like a lady orter look. Mis' Hend'son."

Clorinda trusted all her shopping to Mrs. Henderson and scorned the bright colors and pronounced styles affected by her own friends. One day she asked her mistress to buy her a pair of low shoes. As she made the request she glanced with admiration at the slim little foot showing beneath the edge of a dainty skirt.

"An' I want 'em jes' exactly like yours, Mis' Hend'son," said Clorinda. "no diff'ence 'cep'tin' dey's gotter be wide nites, so maybe de buckle might 'pear better if 'twas a twenty mite larg'n yours."—Youth's Companion.

Mother Earth.

When Junius Brutus and the sons of Tarquin asked the famous Delphic oracle who was to succeed Superbus on the throne of Rome they received for an answer, "He who shall first kiss his mother." As the two princes were hastening home to fulfill what they thought was meant Brutus fell to the earth and cried out, "Thus do I kiss thee, O Earth, the mother of us all!" This is perhaps the earliest recorded instance of the use of the term "Mother Earth."—Exchange.

The Trust Company

or the Individual

as Trustee.

The service of the trust company is always available, for it takes on vacations and is never absent from the city—something that cannot be said of the individual.

Another point which must be properly considered in this connection is that an individual trustee may die during the period of trust and quite possibly leave his affairs in such shape as to require a great deal of expense to the estate before they can be properly readjusted and his duties performed by someone else.

The Franklin Trust Company, if named in your will as executor, guardian or trustee, assures faithful attention to the provisions which you make therein for the future comfort and welfare of your family or heirs.

Lingerie Exposition.

Sometime during May of each year we hold a Lingerie Exposition. Lasts one week.

At this time all the center aisle tables and fixtures are utilized for display of the new undermuslins.

The most important Underwear Sale of the year occurs during this exposition.

Every drawer, skirt gown and corset box is gone through carefully.

Each garment is closely examined and any of them not in perfect condition is thrown out to be sold at a reduced price.

Some are a trifle discolored, some ever so slightly stained, while others have been hurt from constant handling or show the effects of having been displayed.

In some instances they are quite badly soiled, while in others the imperfection is very slight. The reduction is graded accordingly.

For example: Some 50c Drawers only slightly soiled are marked 40c; others in worse condition are marked 33c.

A $1.25 gown hurt only a little is marked $1.05, another not in as good condition is marked 85c.

Several hundred garments, Gowns, Corset Covers, Drawers, Skirts and Chemise and the introduction of a little soap and water will restore any of them to perfect condition.
