TO ADJOURN JULY 1

Unless Plans Fail End of Congress Is In Sight.

Many Members Anxious to Return to Their Homes For the Warm Weather—Conference of Senate and House Leaders to Arrange Comprehensive Program.

The senate and house leaders believe that congress will adjourn on or about July 1st, unless some difficulties now unforeseen present themselves. With a view to expediting business, it is the purpose of the leaders soon to hold night sessions. With night sessions the advent of hot weather and desire on the part of members to get back with the home folks, no doubt is expressed that the lawmakers will be ready to quit certainly by July 1st, and possibly the last week in June.

After the railroad bill has been passed by the senate that body will get down to the consideration of appropriation bills. Up to date not a single administration bill of the first importance has been passed by the two houses of congress. The house it is true has passed the railroad bill but it has taken no action on the postal savings banks bill which will however soon be reported. It has also put through the statehood bill.

The anti-injunction bill will follow the postal savings banks bill in the house. A conference of house and senate leaders will be held this week in an effort to fix up a comprehensive program under which the various administration bills shall be hastened to conference. As things now stand the administration insists upon the passage of only five bills, namely, the railroad bill; the postal savings bank bill; the anti-injunction measure; the withdrawal bill and the statehood bill. The belief is general that compromises will come out of conferences on the railroad and postal savings banks, and that the anti-injunction measure will pass substantially as it has been reported by the house committee on judiciary.

VAN CLEAVE DEAD

Enemy of Unfair List Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

J. W. Van Cleave, stove manufacturer, died at his home in St. Louis early Sunday morning of heart disease. He had been ailing about three weeks of organic heart trouble. Mr. Van Cleave became prominently known to the public at large, when as president of the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis he joined forces with D. E. Loewe of Danbury, and carried through the courts the fight to restrain President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, and ex-President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison from interfering with the Bucks company and the Danbury Hat Manufacturing business by carrying on an boycott by publishing a so-called "unfair list."

Mr. Van Cleave was born in Marion county, Kentucky, July 15, 1849. When the war broke out he entered the confederate army and served as a colonel under General Morgan. After the war he began in 1867, the manufacture of ranges in Tennessee. He later came to St. Louis and formed a partnership with Mr. Bucks who died some years ago, and has continued as head of the firm for many years.

The news of the death of Mr. Van Cleave came as a shock to the delegates of the National Association of Manufacturers who were gathered in New York for their three days convention this week.

KILLS DAUGHTER; SUICIDES

Mrs. Chapman Was Released From Insane Ward at Hospital Only Two Weeks Ago.

After murdering her 15-year-old daughter Hazel, Mrs. Emma Chapman, aged 47 years, wife of Chief of Police Chapman of Baldwinville, near Syracuse, at an early hour Sunday morning committed suicide. The tragedy was enacted at the Chapman home at Baldwinville, with a revolver. Until two weeks ago Mrs. Chapman was under the care of Dr. H. G. Locke, a specialist at the Syracuse hospital for women and children, almost hopelessly insane. While the chief and his sister, Miss Chapman got the revolver and going to her daughter's room, fired a bullet into the girl's left temple. Then she fired another into her own right temple. She died instantly, but the daughter, a high school graduate, lived two hours.

Coroner George R. Finne, after his investigation, said the case was one of hereditary insanity, having found that some of the woman's relatives were in insane asylums.

Armour Keeps Away From Jersey.
J. Ogden Armour and Mrs. Armour, who sailed from New York on the Mauretania, took precautions despite a decision in his favor to keep out of the jurisdiction of New Jersey. No one here but intimate friends knew of his departure on a train which landed him in New York just before calling time. This train did not enter the state of New Jersey. Mr. Armour will be abroad until late in the summer.

SEATS PRETTY STEEP

Ten Americans Pay $1,000 For Good View of Edward's Funeral.

Uppermost in the minds of the English people now is the funeral of King Edward VII., which will be held on May 29, and all points of vantage along the route of the procession are being sought eagerly. As a result large prices are being exacted by those who have space to let from which the cortege may be witnessed. Some of the sums asked seem to be ridiculously high. Ten Americans are said to have paid $1,000 for a small balcony. An owner of a house in Piccadilly is reported to have refused $1,500 for a single window. As a general rule the prices asked are far above those demanded on the occasion of Queen Victoria's funeral.

A good deal of interest centers on Colonel Roosevelt as the special ambassador to the funeral from the United States. Colonel Roosevelt on his arrival went to Dorchester House, Ambassador Reid's residence, where he will remain until after the funeral of King Edward.

Colonel Roosevelt will ride with the kings and other notable mourners behind King George.

PEARY HONORED AT ROME

King and Duke of the Abruzzi at His Lecture.

The hall of the Roman college at Rome was decorated with American and Italian flags for Commander Peary's lecture Sunday. The hall was overcrowded. The king and the Duke of the Abruzzi attended. The explorer was presented by the president of the geographical society. It was announced that the society had awarded its gold medal to Commander Peary, and a silver replica to Captain Bartlett, the Nova Scotian who commanded the steamer Roosevelt on the expedition.

Commander Peary in acknowledging the honor said he had merely profited by the experience of his predecessors, among whom the Duke of the Abruzzi and Cagni were foremost. Hence his success was shared by them. The secretary of the geographical society's address. The audience followed the reading with close attention and frequently interrupted with applause.

FIRST AERIAL AUCTION

Effects of Louis Delagrang, Recently Killed, For Sale at Hotel Drouot.

The famous auction rooms in Paris known as the Salle Drouot are accustomed to receive in value from 10 cents to millions of dollars. They have seen belongings owned by emperors, world renowned painters and other notables, but they witnessed for the first time in their annals the sale of the belongings of an aviator.

Huge posters announced a sale of the effects of the late Louis Delagrang, the French aviator, who was killed near Bordeaux on Jan. 4 by the fall of his aeroplane.

ROWBOAT ACCIDENT

Six Girls and Two Boys Drowned While Out For Pleasure.

Six girls and two boys, members of the graduating and the junior classes at the Huntington Mills high school, 15 miles from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., were drowned last week in a millpond located near the school and four other boys managed to reach shore and save themselves. The drowned were all between 16 and 18 years old and had been busy during the morning preparing for the graduation exercises.

The pupils came to the school from miles around and carry lunches. After these had been eaten at noon, a party of the older ones, six girls and six boys, proposed to go for a row on the old mill pond. They embarked in two boats about 1 o'clock, 15 minutes to two boats a few minutes afterward eight of them were dead.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

Body of King Edward Removed to Westminster Hall.

After the Casket Came King George and Male Members of Royal Families of Europe, Followed by Queen Mother and Imperial and Royal Ladies—Body to Lie in State Until Friday.

London, May 17.—Amid impressive ceremony and grandeur, the body of the late King Edward was today removed from Buckingham palace to Westminster hall, where the body will lie in state until Friday.

The procession itself was an awe-inspiring sight attended by military splendor seen only on such occasions. Following the casket, drawn on a gun carriage, walked King George, the princely guests, together with the members of the late king's household, the lords and grooms-in-waiting, court dignitaries, naval officers and the Queen Mother's household. Following them was a procession of nine carriages, with the Queen Mother and all the imperial and royal ladies.

When they reached Westminster hall the late king's company of Grenadier Guards, who had charge of the casket throughout the ceremony, placed the body upon the catafalque for lying in state. All the regalia being placed upon the casket, the archbishop of Canterbury conducted a solemn service in the presence of the royal mourners, after which the public lying in state began.

BRYAN TO TALK TEMPERANCE

Will Deliver Lecture For Catholic Total Abstinence Union.

Chicago, May 17.—A temperance rally under the auspices of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of America will be held tomorrow at the Auditorium, when William Jennings Bryan will be the principal speaker and will give his first platform lecture on temperance.

Mr. Bryan is going to attend a missionary congress in Edinburgh, Scotland, and will stop over in Chicago to speak at the Auditorium meeting.

Various temperance bodies, including parish total abstinence societies, uniformed temperance cadets, Hibernian temperance cadets and the Knights of Father Matthew, headed by the cadet drum corps, will meet with Mr. Bryan and escort him to the La Salle hotel, where he will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by local temperance workers.

FULFILLS AN OLD VOW

Gives 2,000 Loaves of Bread to Poor as He Promised 16 Years Ago.

Gloucester, Mass., May 17.—Fulfilling a vow made 16 years ago, when a sudden shift of wind saved his storm-beaten vessel from driving onto a lee shore off Cape Cod, Captain Joseph Mesquita, one of Gloucester's best known fishermen, gave away to the poor 2,000 loaves of bread. The gift was made at the Church of Our Lady of Good Voyage, after a special mass, attended by the captain and his crew of 16 men.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN

Ties Placed on Track to Derail Chicago Limited Express.

Utica, May 17.—An attempt was made near Fort Plain to wreck west-bound West Shore train No. 1003, known as the Chicago Limited express, one of the fastest trains on the West Shore division.

The attempt nearly succeeded. One mile west of Fort Plain while running at a high rate of speed the engine ploughed into a great heap of ties that had been piled upon the track. Engineer Garvey saw the obstruction just in time to apply the emergency brakes.

There is no clew to the perpetrators.

WIFE "RUNS AWAY" AT 74

"Wouldn't Stay Where I Wasn't Liked," Explains Aged Woman After "Flyup" With Husband.

Pittsburg, May 17.—"My husband said he didn't like me any more, and I ran away. Wouldn't stay where I wasn't liked," said Mrs. Jane Car, a little white haired woman, 74 years old, of Trenton, N. J., who was found wandering about the Union station.

Only after a night in the care of a police station matron would she tell her name. She had a "flyup," as she termed it, with her husband, who is two years her senior, and came as far west as her money would take her.

When found she did not know she was in Pittsburg. Word was immediately sent to her husband, and he came to Pittsburg to reclaim his aged spouse.

ADMINISTRATION FORCES WIN

Senate Accepts Interstate Commerce Court Provision.

Washington, May 17.—The interstate commerce court provision in the administration bill was accepted by the senate. The administration forces twice demonstrated that they were in control of the situation.

The first vote was taken on an amendment offered by Senator Cummins of Iowa, to strike from the bill the authorization for the court. Thirty-seven Republicans voted against the amendment and 29 Democrats and insurgents for it.

The second roll call also came on an amendment by Mr. Cummins to limit the number of judges of the court to three, five being the number provided in the administration bill and to reduce their term of service from 5 to 3 years.

Thirty-four Republicans and one Democrat, Senator McEnery of Louisiana, voted against this amendment and the combined Democratic and Republican insurgent strength in favor of it was 25.

After disposing of the three amendments the senate took up the provision of the bill which confers upon the attorney general of the United States the power to conduct the defense in courts of all orders made by the interstate commerce commission when such order is resisted by the railways. Senator Cummins offered an amendment to this provision which would practically re-enact the existing law.

It is expected the vote on Senator Cummins' amendment will be a very close vote.

STATUE OF CARNEGIE

Mrs. Burns, Seventh Daughter of a Seventh Daughter, Passed Away.

Salem, Ohio, May 17.—The death of Mrs. Louise Burns, aged 70 years, of this city, closes a unique career. Mrs. Burns was said to have been the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter and the mysterious power by which she claimed to be governed was attributed to this. Many were her reputed cures of diseases that had baffled skilled physicians.

ADMIRAL MELVILLE'S WIFE

Her Death Occurred Yesterday After Several Weeks' Illness.

Philadelphia, May 17.—Mrs. Estella Polli Melville, the wife of Rear Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., retired, died yesterday at her home on North 18th street. She had been ill several weeks.

Mrs. Melville was the daughter of the late George S. Polli. She was married to Admiral Melville only three years ago and was 20 years his junior.
