Malignant Circular Nailed.

Attention has been called to a circular letter that is being sent out in the interest of Mr. Sibley, in which the statement is made that "twenty-five years ago hemlock lumber sold at from $8.00 to $10.00 a thousand and the lumbermen were getting rich and making fortunes at the price, etc." The above statement is not only false, but to anyone familiar with the history of the lumber industry, silly as well.

About 1895 stumpage began to advance in price. In 1900 the price of hemlock lumber, log run, f. o. b. mill, was $11.00 per thousand. In 1905 the price was $16.36 f. o. b. cars at mill, an increase of a little less than 40 per cent.

From the above statement anyone who reads can see that again the Sibley boomers are trying to deceive the people. If this contention is true, why do they not come out with it in the newspapers instead of using dark lantern methods, sneaking it to the voters in the hope that it would not come to light where its falsity could be shown up?

Again, Mr. Wheeler is charged with belonging to a lumber trust, which is equally false. Mr. George W. Warden, who has been Superintendent of the Wheeler & Dusenbury lumber plant in Forest County for thirty-three years, in reply to this statement said: "We are not, never have been and never will be a member of a lumber trust, and so far as we are concerned know of no trust or combination in the lumber business. We are simply selling our product at the market price."

Everyone knows that the price of lumber is high; so is every other commodity—butter, eggs, meat and grain are high and for the same reason that lumber is, because relatively the demand has increased away beyond the supply. If Mr. Wheeler had been a farmer, he would doubtless be charged with getting illegitimate profits from his farm, but they wouldn't send the circulars secretly to the farmers—oh, no! Like Dickens' Joe's Bagstock, "your uncle" is "devilish sly" and the circulars would be sneaked to the men in the lumber woods. But the day has gone by when farmers are considered green and "easy marks," and everybody has learned that they read the papers and are among the most intelligent of people. This specious "green goods" circular will bring ridicule instead of support to the man whom it was intended to benefit.

After the exposure of the famous Archbold letters, Mr. Sibley in his letter dated October 6, 1908, says that three Presidents of the United States and approximately 500,000 people in two congressional districts "knew of my business connection with the Standard Oil Co. for thirty years." Now Mr. Sibley, talking of trusts, this is one that there is no question about. If you have been connected with this trust for thirty years you must have some influence with it, and if so, why don't you use it to lower the price of gas? This is a commodity that every household uses and knows that the price has increased not 42 per cent., but more than 100 per cent. in the last ten years.

EVERYBODY knows also, that Mr. Sibley's trust, the Standard Oil Co., fixes the price of crude oil, and if he is so anxious to help the people in this district why doesn't he have the price of petroleum advanced to what it is worth and thus help out the producers whose welfare he pretends to have so much at heart? But of course nobody expects anything from Mr. Sibley except honeyed words about the dear people before election, and after election we may again look for him to refer to the voters who supported him as the "rabble," as he did in his famous Archbold letter.

—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the annual commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College, which will be held during the week of June 11th to 15th.

More Testimony for Mr. Wheeler.

The charge made by Mr. Sibley that Congressman Wheeler neglected the oil interests of his district when the tariff bill was up for consideration has flattened out so completely that it seems hardly necessary to refer to it again, but we give below the testimony of just one more witness who was on the ground and knows all the facts in the case. It shows that Mr. Wheeler was alive to the interests of his constituents and that his good work is appreciated by all who were in a position to know the facts. Read the letter:

CLEVELAND, OHIO, April 16, 1910, HON. N. P. WHEELER, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR:—I am very glad indeed to note that you are a candidate for re-election to Congress in the 28th District of Pennsylvania, and from my intimate acquaintance with the oil men in that district as their Secretary, I can say that your nomination will be not only satisfactory but pleasing to the Independent Oil Interests in that State.

While serving as Secretary to the Independent Oil Men's Committee at Washington last year in their efforts to secure a duty on petroleum, I fully realize the value of your services in your attendance upon the committee meetings, your work among other members of Congress, and your loyalty and fidelity to the interests of the oil men in that regard, and I feel that it was appreciated by all of the members of that committee.

I think it goes without saying that your opponent for re-election on the Republican ticket in your Congressional District would not be satisfactory to the oil interests that I represent, on account of his connection with Standard Oil interests, nor do I know of any aid that was extended by him in furtherance of the interests of the oil men in their endeavor to secure a duty upon petroleum and its products while the question was before Congress about a year ago.

Wishing you every success in securing the nomination and re-election for your District in Congress, which you have heretofore so ably and satisfactorily held, I am, Yours very truly, THE NATIONAL PETROLEUM ASSOCIATION By C. D. CHAMBERLAIN, Sec'y.

Made a World's Record.

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., May 15, 1910.

DEAR EDITOR:—I was born and reared at Mayburg, Forest county, until I was twenty-three years old. My parents were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deshner. I went to work at Mayburg when I was thirteen years old and spent most of my time in the woods as a log train conductor. I left Mayburg in the spring of 1908 and moved my family to Vandergrift, where I went to work for the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. as a matcher in a sheet iron mill. I held that position for seventeen months and then was promoted as a doubler on No. 28 sheet mill. May 7, 1910, the crew which I work with made the biggest turn of sheet iron that was ever made in eight hours. It is the world's record and perhaps will never be broken. The turn consisted of 14 gauge 36 inches wide and 98 inches long, and 16 gauge 36x76. The turn weighed 50,530 pounds. The names of the crew which made this record are: Roller, G. W. Dawson; heater, E. P. Foster; pair heater, U. G. Simpson; rougher, Harry Hannah; catcher, Wm. Jasper; doubler, G. H. Deshner; g. m. e. Himes; second catcher, T. W. Gray. Vandergrift is proud of having men right in their own town who hold the world's record and we were congratulated by the foreman. The mill I work in is 2,100 feet long and 200 feet wide. It contains 37 rolling mills. Well, I must close. I will be back to old Forest this fall to see all of the boys for a couple of weeks. GEO. H. DESHNER.

"DYNAMITE is not essential to patriotism, but neither is total abstinence from fireworks necessary to a sane Fourth," says Woman's Home Companion for June. "Washington, for instance, had, in 1909, a municipal fireworks display conducted by experts, lasting two hours, witnessed by forty thousand people, and will have another this year. The money was subscribed by business men, fireworks bought of a firm willing to send men to set them off and the exhibition held in an open space where no damage to life nor building could, nor did, result. An automobile parade, with prizes, was arranged by a local newspaper, boat clubs held regattas, and a general exodus for a picnic day and a day in the country occurred. For those who had a mind for it, patriotic assemblies were held, the Declaration read and music played its part. And Washington found it worth while, as Toledo has, and Chicago and Cleveland, New York City joins the procession this year. There will be no going back to the old ways. The new way has been tried and found admirable. What Washington has done on a large scale you, in your family and in your neighborhood, can do with equal effect. You may not be able, this first year, to change public sentiment in your community, but you can change it in your own circle."

—Sneak thieves got away with a package of cash containing $12,024.24 and a package containing two cancelled pay rolls of the P. R. R., each valued at $10,000, from the office of the Adams Express Company in Oil City, early last Thursday morning. The cash was also owned by the P. R. R. The packages were being shipped to Philadelphia after the paymaster had completed his rounds of the divisions in this section. They were too large to go in the safe and were stored under a desk. While the night agent, John J. Truby, was absent about five minutes meeting the 2:50 a. m. train from Pittsburgh, the thief or thieves unlocked the front door and got away with the packages. Not the slightest clue has been found.

JOKES AND BOIL DOOM HIM

"Highwaywoman's" Victim Chaffed by Comrades, Ends Life.

Pittsburg May 24.—Unable to stand the ridicule which was heaped upon him by companions, after he had recently been held up on the street and robbed of $3 by a woman, John Denhard committed suicide by taking carbolic acid.

Denhard was a city water inspector. He was continually chaffed by his fellow employes in the water bureau about his experience with the "highwaywoman." When, in addition to this, he began to suffer from a boil a few days ago, it was the last straw.

Hearing a fall in his room, his landlady broke in and found him dying.
